#203 Transcontinental

High in the Utah desert in 1869, two locomotives met and a golden spike was hammered into new rails: the first transcontinental railroad was complete. To mark the 150th anniversary of this feat, Utah organized a statewide effort called "Spike 150," with exhibitions and events engaging a diverse public. Host Ed Ayers visits to learn about the railroad's promise of prosperity. He considers the human costs, with a descendant of a Chinese American railroad builder and a Native American tribal leader. And he discovers how the environment and photography played key roles on the rails.

#204 School Interrupted

The Supreme Court decision outlawing school segregation began with a student strike in Prince Edward County, Virginia. Justice didn't follow that ruling - white officials in Prince Edward County closed public schools rather than integrate. Host Ed Ayers learns about the drama that unfolded through conversations with two of the student strikers. He discovers how black women activists defied the school closures by starting grassroots schools, and he meets an author whose grandfather helped start a whites-only "segregation academy." In a museum at the school that started it all, Ed talks with a descendant of strikers who inspires students today to take up the fight for justice.

Local Public Affairs Politics	GERRYRIGGED: TURNING DEMOCRACY ON ITS HEAD	5/5/20 6/16/20	5:00pm	60 min	Gerryrigged: Turning Democracy On Its Head -- Gerrymandering is the process by which political district lines are drawn by the very politicians who stand to benefit by them. This program shows how technology has made gerrymandering such an exact science that, in most cases, incumbents cannot lose and challengers cannot win. In this documentary, we see how non-partisan reform efforts now underway in Virginia and elsewhere can change this dangerous trend and return political power to the voters.

#104 Virginia Fights: World War II

Explore the transformative changes that Virginia experienced in World War II. Virginia mobilized hundreds of thousands of citizens during World War II and became the home base for a host of navy, army munitions, and defense industries. Virginia's soldiers fought in the Pacific and landed at Omaha Beach on D-Day. This two-part film follows the stories of everyday Virginians, those who fought at D-Day and those who patrolled Virginia beaches, worked in the munition plants, flew missions in Europe, and fell in love during the war.

Local History	LOCKED OUT: THE FALL OF MASSIVE RESISTANCE	6/24/20	5:00pm	60 minutes	In 1958, the Commonwealth of Virginia led other Southern states in refusing the U.S. Supreme Court's mandate to integrate its public schools in the aftermath of the Brown v. Board of Education decision. Several counties "locked down" or closed their public schools altogether — one for as long as five years — rather than allow black students into all-white schools. Locked Out: The Fall of Massive Resistance sheds light on this dark moment in history through interviews, academic commentary and archival footage from the era.

60 min

Thomas Jefferson: A View From The Mountain -- This acclaimed two-part documentary examines the life of Thomas Jefferson, focusing on his personal and public dilemma over race and slavery. It features voices of seasoned performers -- including Edward Herrmann, Sissy Spacek and Danny Glover -- reading the words of Jefferson, his daughter Martha, his slaves Isaac and Hannah, his plantation overseers, and others. The program integrates on-location views of Jefferson's mountain-top home, Monticello, and historic prints and graphics, with comments by Pulitzer Prize-winning historian Gordon Wood, civil rights leader and historian Julian Bond, former Congresswoman Barbara Jordan, U.S. Civil Rights Commissioner Mary Frances Berry, and others. It also candidly confronts the much-debated relationship between Jefferson and his Monticello slave Sally Hemings.

Local History War	VIETNAM: VIRGINIA REMEMBERS	5/25/20	Varies	30 min	Vietnam: Virginia Remembers is a multi-media educational initiative designed to educate our community about the Vietnam War and how it affected our neighbors and family members. Through community conversations and our partnerships with the Virginia War Memorial in Richmond and the Dogwood Vietnam Memorial in Charlottesville, we realized that minimal time is spent teaching about the Vietnam War in school and it's rarely talked about by the people who were there. Consequently, there is a great lack of understanding about a War that went on for 10 years that many of us experienced and are affected by to this day.
		5/25/20	7:00pm	30 min	#101 Virginia Remembers We visit the Virginia War Memorial and hear perspectives and stories of a variety of people in our community who experienced the War. The discussion includes a combat nurse, a South Vietnamese Veteran, a conscientious objector, Vietnamese refugees, and American veterans. Moderator: Robert Hodieme Chair of the Journalism Department at University of Richmond who began his journalism career covering the Vietnam War.
