WETA-FM and WGMS-FM cover areas of interest for the greater Washington, Frederick and Hagerstown communities through broadcasts produced by NPR and PBS. These programs are selected for quality and appropriate content, presentation, and technical excellence, with our audience – real and potential – in mind.

We continue to broadcast NPR's "From the Top." From the Top is a non-profit organization that encourages and celebrates the commitment of young people to music and the arts through a variety of media, including nationally broadcast radio shows. The show aims to entertain, educate, and connect young musicians, their parents, and teachers. It features young musicians who demonstrate that classical music has a place in youth culture.

We also continue to broadcast PBS' NewsHour, a news program hosted by Amna Nawaz and Geoff Bennett that airs each weekday from 7-8 PM. The PBS NewsHour presents coverage of a wide range of subjects, as below:

In International News, a spokesperson for the White House said United States intelligence officials determined that Moscow has acquired ballistic missiles from North Korea and fired at least one of them into Ukraine on December 30.

The International Court of Justice in The Hague heard arguments from South Africa accusing Israel of committing genocide against Palestinians in Gaza. Nick Schiffrin reported how South Africa's preliminary ruling request, which could have far-ranging implications for Israel and the United States.

Nearly a half-century after its birth from a bloody civil war, Bangladesh has made significant strides in reducing poverty. One of the best-known architects of this progress is Muhammad Yunus, who popularized the concept of microfinance. However, Yunus has run afoul of his country's prime minister and faces criminal charges.

Sweden formally joined NATO as the 32nd member of the transatlantic military alliance, ending decades of post-World War II neutrality as concerns about Russian aggression in Europe have spiked following Russia's 2022 invasion of Ukraine.

Kate, the Princess of Wales announced she has begun treatment for cancer. The news came amid rampant and often irresponsible speculation about her in the British press and beyond. It came after missteps by the royal family itself about her whereabouts and condition. Amna Nawaz discussed the announcement with Jennie Bond.

There was a public break between the United States and Israel after the United States refused to veto a UN Security Council resolution that called for a cease-fire in Gaza. Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu accused the United States of changed policy on the war in Gaza and canceled the planned visit of his top aides to Washington.

March marked one year since the Wall Street Journal's reporter Evan Gershkovich was detained by Russian police. He has remained in detention ever since on espionage charges, an accusation both the United States and Journal strongly deny. Nick Schifrin spoke with Gershkovich's family and examined efforts to release him.

According to the United Nations more than 1,500 Haitians were killed so far this year in a situation it calls "cataclysmic." For nearly a month, the country has been engulfed in another wave of brutal gang violence.

In National News, migrant children in the United States are working some of the most dangerous jobs in the country and private auditors assigned to root out unlawful labor practices often overlook child labor. Laura Barrón-López discussed more with Hannah Dreier.

The January 6 investigation has been one of the largest FBI operations in history. More than 1200 people were charged and over 900 convicted. It has stretched the bureau's resources and they have had to rely on the work of citizen investigators, known as 'sedition hunters.' Judy Woodruff spoke with one of these anonymous sleuths as part of her series, "America at a Crossroads."

Wayne LaPierre, the longtime leader of the National Rifle Association, has stepped down after more than three decades. His announcement preceded a civil corruption trial brought by the New York attorney general with allegations of fraud and mismanagement. Amna Nawaz spoke with Mike Spies regarding what it means for the future of the NRA.

The discovery of 215 bodies buried in unmarked graves behind a jail outside of Jackson, Mississippi, has left a community in disbelief. The families were angry they were not notified of the deaths and how their loved ones have come to be buried in graves marked by just a metal rod and a number. Amna Nawaz discussed the disturbing details that have emerged with Bettersten Wade and attorney Ben Crump.

Federal housing assistance has shrunk to its lowest level in nearly 25 years, amid homelessness and rental prices at historic highs. While only one in four households eligible for federal housing assistance have received it. Stephanie Sy examined the whys in our series, "America's Safety Net."

For the first time, a parent has been convicted in a mass school shooting. Jennifer Crumbley was found guilty of involuntary manslaughter after her son, Ethan Crumbley, killed four students and injured seven others in 2021 at Oxford High in Michigan. The gunman was sentenced to life in prison without parole. His mother faces up to 60 years in prison.

The Biden administration finalized the toughest standards for vehicle emissions that limit the amount of greenhouse gasses allowed from tailpipes. The new rules were designed to accelerate the transition to electric vehicles but have not come without pushbacks. Geoff Bennett and David Shepardson of Reuters discussed the details.

Former cryptocurrency mogul Sam Bankman-Fried was sentenced to 25 years in prison for what prosecutors said was one of the biggest financial crimes in United States history. Bankman-Fried was found to have stolen at least $8 billion from FTX customers.

Baltimore's Francis Scott Key Bridge collapsed March 26, 2024, after being struck by a cargo ship. Two bodies have been recovered as the initial search and rescue mission has turned to a search and recovery mission.

An investigation found that between 2012 and 2021, more than 1,000 people died after police used physical force that was considered non-lethal: batons, stun guns, physical restraints, and chemical agents. Only 28 of the officers involved faced criminal charges. Reese Dunklin of the Associated Press was part of the team leading the investigation and discussed the report with John Yang.

The Supreme Court ruled unanimously that individual states cannot remove former President Donald Trump from their ballots based on the 14th Amendment. In an unsigned opinion, the court said only Congress, not states, can disqualify presidential candidates under the Constitution's so-called "insurrection clause."

A decision from the Alabama Supreme Court has alarmed doctors, patients, and reproductive rights advocates. The court ruled that frozen embryos, created through in vitro fertilization, are legally children and thus protected. Stephanie Sy discussed the questions raised by the ruling with Mary Ziegler.

The First Amendment was at the center of two key Supreme Court arguments, on March 18, 2024. One on social media companies' handling of misinformation while the powerful gun lobby, the National Rifle Association, was at the center of the other.

Geoff Bennett spoke with NewsHour Supreme Court analyst Marcia Coyle about how the way was cleared for Texas to enforce a controversial immigration law that allows state officials to arrest and deport migrants who cross the border illegally. The justices sent the case back to a lower court.

Arguments were heard in a major case that could further limit when and how women in America can get an abortion. William Brangham discussed them with NewsHour Supreme Court analyst Marcia Coyle.

In Politics, Nikki Haley suspended her presidential campaign after being soundly defeated across the country on Super Tuesday, leaving Donald Trump as the last remaining major candidate for the 2024 Republican nomination.

Senate Majority Leader Chuck Schumer called on Israel to hold new elections, because he believes Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu has "lost his way" in the Israeli bombardment of Gaza and the growing humanitarian crisis there.

For decades, their mission during World War II was a secret. The American military units that became known as the Ghost Army and helped outwit the enemy have been honored with the Congressional Gold Medal.

The United States imposed sanctions on a collection of fintech firms and people, mostly in Russia, accused of enabling digital currency sanctions evasion.

Former Vice President Al Gore and other politician dignitaries remembered the late Joe Lieberman as a “mensch” who both bridged partisan political divides and was not afraid to go against mainstream political currents, during a packed funeral service for the four-term United States senator, Friday, March 29, 2024.

In Health News this quarter, PBS Wisconsin, Steven Potter reported how peer support, school staff and psychology researchers have kept up with the growing rate of mental health issues among students, especially in the pandemic.

A study published in the New England Journal of Medicine reported the drug Xolair allowed people with allergies to tolerate higher doses of allergenic foods before developing a reaction after accidental exposure. Dr. Robert Wood of the Johns Hopkins Children’s Center joined Geoff Bennett in a discussion.

There were 58 reported cases of measles in the United States during all of 2023 and 41 cases across 16 states in the first quarter of 2024. Dr. Paul Offit, a pediatrician specializing in virology and immunology at Children’s Hospital of Philadelphia, discussed the highly contagious virus outbreak with William Brangham.

In February of 2024, a cyberattack on a little-known health care company caused major trouble and serious financial consequences for hospitals, doctors, and patients around the United States. Stephanie Sy spoke with Dan Diamond, who covered the story for The Washington Post.

Bree Campbell and James Kim spoke with the United States Surgeon General Dr. Vivek Murthy in the PBS NewsHour’s Student Reporting Labs podcast “On Our Minds.” The episode focused on mental health challenges among young people.
