

REAL LIFE EPISODE SYNOPSIS

170-181

Episode #170

We'll kick off the season with some of last year's viewers' favorites. We'll start with Gracey's visit to the lab of a medicinal chemist and see how he researches ways to develop new medications that will benefit people with cancer and diabetes. Then we'll take a look back at Shawn's meeting with a lobbyist and learn how she advocates for causes to get laws passed. Plus, we'll bring you Gracey's interview with an Orthopedic Surgeon and see why he enjoys fixing people's broken bones and other muskulo-skeletel issues.

Episode #171

Gracey's going to take us to the Country Music Capital of the USA – Nashville, Tennessee! We'll start off at LP Field, home of the Tennessee Titans, where their mascot T-RAC welcomed Gracey with open arms! After that, we'll meet an entrepreneur who owns mobile kitchens to feed the people that work on the sets of movies and concerts. Then, it's onto Music Row, where Gracey will talk with the CEO of a music publishing company and gain some insight into the world of music producing and publishing.

Episode #172

Shawn will take us to a high school where he will learn from a math teacher why she is so passionate in her career of teaching. Then it's off to the ball park for Gracey where we will meet a Major League public relations coordinator. Ever wonder how they use intelligence to find the bad guys and lower crime rates? Shawn will find out when he talks to a criminal intelligence analyst.

Episode #173

Gracey's going to take us to a 4 year arts and design school where you can get a well-rounded education while pursuing your passion in the arts. Then Shawn will head to the soccer field where he will meet up with a professional soccer player to learn about his career. If you are interested in going into the health field and would like to help people regain their mobility, you'll want to see Gracey's interview with a physical therapist.

Episode #174

Today, Lee Corso, will stop by the studio and talk to Shawn about his career as an ESPN sports broadcaster and football analyst. Then Gracey's going to sit down with a man who makes his living behind the mic as a voice-over artist. And you've seen bronze or marble sculptures before, but have you ever seen one made of chocolate cake? Shawn will meet a sculptor who uses his artistic and culinary skills to do live cake sculpting!

Episode #175

Gracey will put on her special operating room attire where she'll enter an O.R. and learn how a certified surgical technologist assists doctors . . . and robots . . . during surgery. And Shawn will talk with a sheriff's deputy to learn why his passion lies in his career of law enforcement. Then it's off to a marine laboratory where Gracey will talk to a marine biologist involved in helping sick and injured animals in the Gulf of Mexico.

Episode #176

Gracey will speak with an E.N.T. doctor and hear what else his specialty entails. And Shawn will meet with a home inspector who detects problems with homes so buyers will know what they're getting into before they move in. Plus, for all you outgoing music lovers, you may have found your dream job when you see Gracey's interview with a creative director for a music publishing company.

Episode #177

Shawn starts us off at a barbeque restaurant where he meets up with a man who tells him about his passion for creating mouth-watering barbeque and out of this world baked goods. And Gracey will talk with a costume designer who creates those beautiful costumes that bring audiences back to different periods in time. Plus, Shawn will visit a utility company and learn how an environmental engineer is working to keep the environment safe for us and future generations.

Episode #178

For all you aspiring musicians out there, Gracey is going to introduce us to Jack Sizemore, a guitarist who plays with Jason Aldean. Then we'll change gears and Shawn will learn how law enforcement intelligence analysts are becoming vital to solving and preventing future crimes. Plus we'll visit a hospital lab and examine the career of a medical technologist. . . aka. . .clinical laboratory scientist.

Episode #179

Gracey will talk to an air traffic controller who will give us a look into her career of controlling flights in our busy skies to make sure everyone arrives at their destinations safely. Then it's off to Daytona International Speedway where she learns how IT is vital in not only managing the Speedway's information and telecommunications service but how innovative technology is used to energize the fan experience. While there, she will also talk to the Speedway's Director of Emergency Services and see how he ensures that any unforeseen problems will be handled quickly and efficiently.

Episode #180

Like cookies? You'll get your fill when Gracey talks to the owner of a booming cookie factory where thousands of creative confections are made and shipped out to customers around the country. And Shawn will meet up with a floral designer who uses his talents to create beautiful décor for weddings and other events. Plus Gracey will visit with a voice coach who has coached many of today's top singing artists and helped them to perfect their voices.

Episode #181

Shawn will introduce us to a criminal defense attorney and see why he chose this specialty of law. Then, Gracey makes an office visit to a physician assistant and learns how she treats patients under the supervision of an MD. Plus, Shawn will meet up with an exercise physiologist who helps people with severe spinal injuries and disorders to restore their strength.