| 1. Arizona Illustrated | Rescuing Cacti                  | 01/07/2024at 6.30pm | 00:28:00 | The Tucson Cactus and Succulent Society has one mission-- to save and protect cacti and other succulents. Since its founding in 1999, the society has saved over 120,000 plants. We meet society members as they work with landowners to remove the cacti from a large family-owned property turned subdivision and replant the succulents at the Waterman Restoration Site. |
| 2. Arizona Illustrated | Desert Plants:Desert Willow | 01/15/2024at 6.30pm | 00:28:00 | The desert willow is a thornless, deciduous tree native to the Sonoran Desert that provides flowers much of the year. Experts say it is a fantastic choice in landscaping settings because it is decorative, helps wildlife and doesn't "bite back" with thorns or needles.  |

| 6. Arizona Illustrated | Happy Tuesday            | 02/04/2024at 6.30pm | 00:28:00 | More than likely, you've crossed paths with the Tuesday Night Ride, a mass of cyclists upwards of two hundred in number, who take over the streets in and around downtown Tucson. Collectively riding for about 15 years, the group meets weekly at the same time, same place without fail, rain or shine. Learn why this weekly meetup is so important to this community why they have sustained it for so long.  |
| 7. Arizona Illustrated | Bobcats among us         | 02/11/2024at 6.30pm | 00:28:00 | A group of scientists /volunteers has been conducting an extensive research project to find out the numbers and facts about bobcats on Tucson's westside, west of I-10. The study involves trapping the animals and then finding out details such as confirm the sex, checking on body condition, and taking DNA samples. So far, the group has captured and released 53 different bobcats on 63 occasions and the collared bobcats have been spotted at nearly 50K locations. |
| 8. Arizona Illustrated | Santa Cruz River Cleanup | 02/18/2024at 6.30pm | 00:28:00 | The Sonoran Institute hosted an event to clean up 2000 pounds of trash from the Santa Cruz River. Hundreds of volunteers turned up and greatly exceeded that goal. After removing the refuse, they spread wildflower seeds. A strong sense of community and love for the river was in abundance.   |

| 9. Arizona Illustrated  | Electric Brewing | 02/25/2024at 6.30pm | 00:28:00 | Most people who visit Bisbee stay in the city's old historic downtown, but those who venture to other locations will find new places to explore or relax. One such place is a microbrewery that has been around since the 1980s, prior to the surge in these establishments around the state.   |
| 10. Arizona Illustrated | Charles Mingus   | 03/03/2024at 6.30pm | 00:28:00 | Charles Mingus is one of the most influential figures in 20th-century American music. He was born in Nogales, AZ to a father who was a Buffalo Soldier stationed at Camp Little in 1922. He later became known as a virtuoso jazz bass player, band leader, and composer. Although Mingus' time in Nogales was brief, his Southern Arizona roots are still a sense of pride and celebration for the community. His 100 th birthday was celebrated with concerts in Phoenix, Tucson, and Nogales by the quintet Mingus Dynasty before being finalized with the unveiling of the Charles Mingus Memorial in Nogales. |

| 11. Arizona Illustrated | Hotel Congress  | 03/10/2024 | 00:28:00 | The historic Hotel Congress celebrated its 100th anniversary in 2019. To mark the occasion, we documented the iconic Tucson hotel/restaurant/nightclub/music venue over a 24-hour period, from midnight to midnight on Friday, October 4, 2019. We captured early morning pie-making and late-night liveliness; supernatural goings-on and the reflections of long-time regulars; a series of lovingly delivered headbutts and an Australian's exuberant love for bacon and eggs—all of them just part of a day in the life of this unique cultural hub. |
| 12. Arizona Illustrated | Halfway Home    | 03/17/2024 | 00:28:00 | More than 650,000 Americans are released from prison every year. They face an uphill climb when transitioning to civilian life, including barriers to employment and housing that leave many unmoored, unsupported, and unable to move forward. Danny Howe made that climb himself after serving time in prison—and now he's helping other formerly incarcerated people rebuild their lives too. 2019 Rocky Mountain Regional Emmy Award for Human Interest   |

| 13. New Frontiers       | SPACEWATCH                       | 03/19/2024at 6.30pm | 00:28:00 | SPACEWATCH is a NASA-funded program at the University of Arizona's Lunar and Planetary Lab that was founded in 1980 to keep track of hazardous asteroids and comets in our solar system that might pose an impact threat to Earth. The program, led by Principal Investigator Melissa Brucker, makes observations 24+ nights a month from Kitt Peak National Observatory in Arizona. Their most recent headline-grabbing collaboration was with the NASA DART mission, which smacked a small spacecraft into an asteroid to see how well it could deflect the rock from its orbital trajectory, as a test for planetary defense. |
| 14. Arizona Illustrated | Ellen and Laci – Bulldog therapy | 03/24/2024              | 00:28:00 | "She failed at agility and she failed at obedience, but she's a great therapy dog." That's the statement from Ellen Morell, a former dental hygienist, planned giving consultant and current ordained Episcopal priest who now works at Harmony Hospice in Tucson. Eight years ago, Morell obtained a bulldog puppy named Laci and they've become great friends. Together, they've become a popular team that visit nursing homes and other facilities to provide company and comfort to residents. 2019 Rocky Mountain regional Emmy for Religion.  |
