Racial Bias	BIN Public Affairs - Civic Cypher [10]	1/14/23 - What Intelligence Tests Say About Race / What is Code-Switching? Today's episode we discuss the bias that is found in some far-right conservative circles and pockets of the internet that suggest that White people are intellectually superior to Black people. We examine the origins of this myth, explain how dangerous and divisive it can be, and remind you to look beyond the numbers published in reports. The second half we discuss code-switching or 'talking White' as well as why Black people will sometimes switch up their dialect, cadence, tone, and even posture when interacting with White people or people in positions of authority. We give insight into this phenomenon and why it's necessary for Black people to be bilingual in America.	Ramses Ja and Q. Ward	01/15/2023 06:07 AM	050:00
Dr. MLK Jr	BIN Public Affairs - Civic Cypher [11]	1/21/23 - The Conservative Rebranding of Dr. MLK Jr./The Tasing Death of Keenan Anderson Today we look back on last week's holiday for Reverend Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and cite several examples of conservative hypocrisy. Many on the right use bits and pieces of Dr. King's legacy and quotes to gain clout and give the appearance of brother/sisterhood when, in fact their policies stand in direct contrast to what Dr. King stood for. We also discuss the viral interaction of police and Keenan Anderson which led to his death. We describe the video, the	Ramses Ja and Q. Ward	01/22/2023 06:06 AM	050:00

		triggers, and naturally, the aftermath. We also spend some time reviewing one of Dr. Martin Luther King's letters and charge everyone with doing more research into the great reverend.
Police Reform	BIN Public Affairs - Civic Cypher [11]	1/28/23 - How Do We Reform These Police? / Florida Says Black History Lacks Educational Value In the first half of today's show, we look at some recent instances of police violence and try to identify how 'reform' never seems to work. One instance of an officer punching a Black woman in the face at a McDonalds, and another where 5 Black officers needlessly ended the life of a young Black man gives us a framework to ask this critically important question. In the second half of the show, we discuss the response from the Florida Board of Education / Ron DeSantis after examining a potential AP course on Black history in the United States. Their response stating that the course "lacks educational value" provoked a strong reaction from Black people, educators, and us too.	Ramses Ja and Q. Ward	01/29/2023 06:06 AM	050:00
Police Reform	BIN Public Affairs - Civic Cypher [11]	2/4/23 - It's Not Black and White...it's Blue! A Real Story of How the Police Treat Us. In the first half of today's show, we tell a foundational story of how we were pulled over in 2020 in Mississippi, harassed, profiled, and humiliated by law enforcement only to be released after no usable evidence was able to be procured and used against us. In the second half of the show, we finish the story of us getting pulled over and draw some parallels to a significant amount of police interactions with Black and Brown people. We make a case that the system in place	Ramses Ja and Q. Ward	02/05/2023 06:04 AM	050:00

		benefits White people in society more than everyone else and often comes at the expense of those of us who are non-White.
Black community	BIN Public Affairs - Civic Cypher [13]	2/11/23 - A Time for Ebony Excellence / A Discussion of Standpoint Theory In the first half of today's show, we discuss the many accomplishments of Black Americans that have made the news in recent weeks! We take a break from the norm to highlight some of the trailblazers and history makers to show that we aren't just victims of police shootings. In the second half of the show, we discuss a mental framework known as Standpoint Theory. This theory suggests that we understand that we can only thoroughly articulate the perspectives we have witnessed firsthand. Our Way Black History Fact is dedicated to the first Rosa Parks...named Elizabeth Jennings Graham. 2/	Ramses Ja and Q. Ward	02/12/2023 06:06 AM	050:00
Justice	BIN Public Affairs - Civic Cypher [14]	2/18/23 - What's in the News? / Race and Wrongful Convictions in the U.S. In the first half of today's show, we cover some recent news stories that we feel might be overlooked by mainstream media and give our thoughts on how they impact our realities. In the second half of the show, we review some of the points made by a report called Race and Wrongful Convictions in the U.S. 2022 from the law school at the University of Michigan. In reviewing cases where people have been exonerated for crimes they didn't commit; we look at the disproportionate amount of Black people who are affected by a criminal justice system that purports itself to deem everyone equally under the law	Ramses Ja and Q. Ward	02/19/2023 06:10 AM	050:00 to be 'innocent until PROVEN guilty.'

Black community	BIN Public Affairs - Civic Cypher [15]	2/25/23 - The National Museum of African American History and Culture The first and second halves of today's show are a recap of our recent visit to Washington D.C. to the National Museum of African American History and Culture. In short, it was incredible! Also, discussed is our visit to Norfolk State University, and a spotlight of Benjamin Banneker on our Way Black History Fact!	Ramses Ja and Q. Ward	02/26/2023 06:08 AM	050:00
Black community	BIN Public Affairs - Civic Cypher [16?]	3/4/23 - Why Certain Foods are Associated with Racism / Why is Church Still So Segregated? Today's episode we discuss the history of certain foods that have been negatively associated with Black people and the impact that it can have. We share some personal stories and provide some historical context and examples to flesh out the roots of this form of ignorance. Race Relations	BIN Public Affairs - Civic Cypher	3/11/23 - Dilbert Creator's Thoughts on Race Relations / CPAC- Republican Presidential Candidates The first part of today's show deals with the comments made by the creator of the Dilbert comic strip who suggested that White people should "get the hell away from Black people!" We dig a bit deeper to find the source of his discontent and examine how that came to be. We also share some thoughts on how you can challenge this argumentative framework in your own life. The second part of the show is	Ramses Ja and Q. Ward	03/12/2023 06:07 AM	050:00 dedicated to educating you about the Republican nominees for the presidential race in 2024. We discuss some of their platforms, plans, and how they relate to each other. Our Way Black History Fact covers the MOVE bombing in Philadelphia in 1985.

Race Relations	BIN Public Affairs - Civic Cypher	3/18/23 - What Does it Mean to Be an Ally? We were recently asked 'What is Allyship and why is it important?' This question sparked a stream of consciousness that we tried to capture in today's episode. Often many folks consider themselves to be allies or are trying to learn and do more, but we break down our thoughts on what this means and just how far allyship can go!	Ramses Ja and Q. Ward	03/19/2023 06:12 AM	050:00
Black community	BIN Public Affairs - Civic Cypher	3/25/23 - What's Wrong with Being Woke? / DeSantis and Florida H.B. 999 In the first half of the show, we take back the term "woke" by defining it properly for everyone and by examining the attacks against the term and the people associated with it. We shout out Gayle King for our Ebony Excellence segment. In the second half of the show, we discuss Florida's H.B. 999 / S.B. 266 and the attacks on education and educators in the state. Our Way Black History Fact tells the story of Kalief Browder.	Ramses Ja and Q. Ward	03/26/2023 06:09 AM	050:00
