Issue- Health

Radio Health Journal 10/1/17 at 5:00AM (13 minutes)

Fetal alcohol spectrum disorder affects around five percent of the US population with mental disabilities and behavioral problems. Researchers explain experiments on animals with a new treatment that could eliminate the disorder, perhaps even after birth.

Radio Health Journal 10/1/17 at 5:13AM (7 minutes)

Birth rates in the US are at an all time low, and fertility for all age groups under age 30 is dropping. Experts explain that it may not be as good a thing as we may think, and cite nations like Japan and Italy which are facing labor shortages and elderly populations as a result of less-than-replacement-level fertility.

Radio Health Journal 10/8/17 at 5:13AM (7 minutes)

Pregnancy and early childhood are the most common time for a strange disorder that prompts people to eat non-food items such as clay or ice. Experts discuss its mysterious history.

Radio Health Journal 10/15/17 at 5:13AM (8 minutes)

Women undergoing cancer treatment often suffer hair loss and other impacts on appearance. A noted beauty expert discusses best ways to deal with it.

Radio Health Journal 10/29/17 at 5:13AM (7 minutes)

A sleep disorder strangely named "exploding head syndrome" may keep more than 10 percent of people awake at night by inflicting them with crashing sounds that only they can hear. A sufferer and an expert discuss.

Radio Health Journal 11/5/17 at 5:13AM (7 minutes)

Some people who seek repeated plastic surgery are afflicted with a mental illness, body dysmorphic disorder, which distorts their view of their own appearance. Experts discuss symptoms and how the disorder may be treated, though few with the disorder agree to psychological treatment..

Radio Health Journal 11/26/17 at 5:00AM (11 minutes)

Spouses of Alzheimer's disease patients often struggle with depression while caregiving and are desperate for support. Some have started new relationships while their loved one is still alive but no longer recognizes them. Acceptance of such infidelity is highly individual. Experts and a woman involved in such a relationship discuss how it can benefit even the incapacitated spouse, as long as families find it acceptable.

Radio Health Journal 11/26/17 at 5:13AM (8 minutes)

Researchers have found that severe emotional trauma in childhood triggers physical disease later in life, and has a cumulative effect. An award-winning science writer who has researched the topic discusses findings.

Radio Health Journal 12/3/17 at 5:13AM (8 minutes)

Survival rates for pancreatic cancer remain extremely low due in part to the lack of screening tests for early detection. An advocate and a genetic counselor discuss the state of pancreatic cancer screening and the few alternatives available.

Radio Health Journal 12/10/17 at 5:00AM (13 minutes)

Thirty-five percent of children receiving treatment for mental health issues are treated only by a primary care physician, due in part to a shortage in pediatric mental health care providers as well as a stigma in consulting them. Experts discuss readiness of pediatricians to treat mental illness in children and efforts to be sure they're prepared.

Radio Health Journal 12/17/17 at 5:00AM (12 minutes)

Meditation and mindfulness could be in even more demand as civility declines and stress increases. An expert explains how it works.

Radio Health Journal 12/17/17 at 5:13AM (7 minutes)

Hiccups are annoying and uncomfortable, and doctors don't know why we (and most other species) get them. An expert explains what hiccups are and why most home remedies actually work.

Radio Health Journal 12/24/17 at 5:13AM (8 minutes)

When a person suffers a severe emotional shock, they may suffer what looks like a heart attack but is actually what doctors call "stress cardiomyopathy." Most patients recover but the condition can be fatal, confirming that it is possible to die of a broken heart. An expert explains.

Radio Health Journal 12/31/17 at 5:00AM (13 minutes)

Polycystic ovary syndrome affects about 10% of American women, but has such a wide variety of troubling symptoms that it's often misdiagnosed. Experts discuss the disorder and what women should know.

Issue – Public Safety

Radio Health Journal 10/8/17 at 5:00AM (13 minutes)

With the federal government's crackdown on undocumented immigrants, many of them are skipping going to the doctor or the emergency room for fear of deportation. Experts discuss.

Radio Health Journal 10/22/17 at 5:00AM (13 minutes)

Scientists are learning the specific workings of the brain when it is addicted to a substance or behavior, and showing that all addictions are similar. This gives hope of one day developing a drug to combat many addictions. However, the stigma of addictions—that they are a moral failing—still looms over the field.

Radio Health Journal 10/22/17 at 5:13AM (7 minutes)

Many people will have to deal with a natural disaster at some point in their lives. Two civil defense experts discuss how to be ready before it comes.

Radio Health Journal 10/29/17 at 5:00AM (12 minutes)

Only about a third of research subjects in clinical studies are women. In basic research on animals and cells, female models are even more poorly represented. This results in poor understanding of how new drugs work on women and occasional drug recalls when major side effects are discovered after the fact. Experts discuss why such an imbalance occurs, its results, and how the problem is being addressed.

Since 1992, the John Theissen Children's Foundation has collected over one million new toys, donating them to sick and underprivileged children in hospitals and child-care facilities throughout Long Island. Donations have enabled them to provide therapeutic and recreational equipment, televisions, video game systems, arts & crafts supplies and more. The John Theissen Children's Foundation Holiday Toy Drive is on now and they need your generous support. Go to JTCF dot org to find out how to donate toys or make a financial contribution.

Between now and December 31st, look for the "Check Out Hunger" donation slips near the checkout counter of your local grocery store. When you spot them, simply tear off a $1, $3, or $5 slip and hand it to the cashier to add a donation onto your bill. 100% of the donations collected in Nassau and Suffolk counties will be donated to Long Island Cares to assist the 316,000 Long Islanders who struggle with hunger and food insecurity every day. For more info visit www dot LIcares dot org slash check out hunger.

Kids Need More is a nonprofit charitable organization dedicated to enhancing the lives of children, families & young adults coping with cancer and life-threatening illness. One of the most special Kids Need More programs is Camp Adventure, a sleep-away camp on Shelter Island that offers children fighting cancer and their siblings the opportunity to celebrate life in a safe and positive environment. Kids Need More believe that children and families coping with life threatening illness and trauma deserve to do more than just survive. They deserve to thrive! For details visit kids need more dot org.

It's the season for giving and no child should be without a new toy during the holidays. Let's join together and put a smile on a child's face. Bistro Ete on Montauk Highway in Water Mill is offering a complimentary glass of wine for each toy donated to the Marines Toys For Tots Program. Please drop off a new and unwrapped toy Wednesday through Saturday after 5pm to give joy and toast to a great cause.
