Cultural Understanding

7/7	21:00	1:35:31	Our Queen	D
-----	-------	---------	-----------	---	--

An in-depth portrait of the world's most famous woman by award winning producer/director Michael Waldman and bestselling royal writer Robert Hardman, Our Queen charts an extraordinary year in the life of Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth II. With unique access to her family, to her staff, to her prime ministers and to her palaces during the triumphal Diamond Jubilee year, Our Queen is an enthralling study of the Sovereign today. A world leader since the age of 25, how does she retain her hold on the nation's affections when political and social currents have transformed so much around her? How does she stay true to the past, yet adapt to the present? This fascinating, observational documentary series is a study of leadership, judgment and character, of spectacular pageantry but also of great warmth and poignancy as it shows what this truly modern monarch means to Britain and the world.

8/24	07:00	56:46	Adventists	D
------	-------	-------	------------	---	--

THE ADVENTISTS explores the realities, and some of the ironies, of one of the few American-born religions: Seventh-day Adventism. Historical re-enactments offer a glimpse into the church's beginnings, including its defining moment: the mid-19th century event known as the Great Disappointment. Several decades later, Dr. John Harvey Kellogg built a breakfast-food empire and pioneered a new kind of healthcare facility based on Adventist principles of a healthy lifestyle: a plant-based diet; regular exercise; the avoidance of alcohol, tobacco or illegal drugs, and a holistic focus on education and community life.

The ADVENTISTS 2 is the sequel to critically acclaimed The Adventists still currently available to Public Television stations nationwide. The new documentary tells the little-known story of the Seventh-day Adventists' medical mission work around the world and their more than century-old commitment to provide health and healing in some of the most remote regions on earth. It is filmed in Haiti, Brazil, China, Africa, Peru and the Dominican Republic. (The first film explored the story of Seventh-day Adventists - who they are and why they are among the healthiest people on the planet.)

9/22	04:00	56:45	Richard Bangs' Adventures with Purpose	D
------	-------	-------	--	---	--

Hong Kong: Quest for the Dragon—In the eighth installment of his ADVENTURES WITH PURPOSE series, renowned adventurer Richard Bangs ventures into the heart of Hong Kong to discover what forces drive a city in which the spiritual concept of chi and the worldly concept of wealth coexist. Bangs begins by taking in one of the most dazzling festivals on earth, Chinese New Year. Then, he wanders beneath the skyscrapers of Central District, meanders down the alleys of Western District and ferries across the harbor to Kowloon. Later, he sails the "dragon-infested" waters to the Geopark, an ecological preserve, before making his way to Lantau Island, and finally north, to the villages of the New Territories.

Civic Engagement

7/4 20:00 1:51:41 A More Perfect Union O
Witness a handful of brilliant men leading a political battle to create a new form of government in this BYU Broadcasting production.

8/10 14:00 56:44 Utah Lake: Legacy D
Utah Lake: Legacy explores the rich heritage of Utah Lake, how it has been a magnet recreationally and economically, how it has been abused, issues facing the lake today, efforts to restore its ecosystem and the need for stewardship.

9/5 21:55 01:37 Vote Utah – Voting Methods O
The numbers of voting age persons in Utah casting ballots has dropped by nearly 40 percent over the past 40 years. One reason potential voters give for not voting involves the perceived inconvenience of traditional voting at a polling location on Election Day. In Utah there are two methods voters can use to make voting more convenient for themselves. The first involves absentee voting, in which voters receive a ballot they fill out and return prior to election day. A voter must apply for an absentee ballot. The application is available online from the Utah Lt. Governor's website and at County Clerk's offices. Once filled out, it must be returned to the County Clerk's office for the county in which the voter resides. A voter receives the ballot in the mail and returns it postmarked no later than the day before Election Day. Special circumstances apply to voter overseas. The Federal Voting Assistance Program provides resources and information for members of the military, government employees, and citizens about voting while outside the United States. The other more convenient option is early voting. Counties set up locations where citizens can vote beginning two weeks before Election Day and continuing through the Friday before Election Day. Be aware that voters who desire to use early voting must be registered at least 30 days prior to Election Day. County Clerks will publish lists of voting locations as the early voting period nears.

9/6 10:57 01:25 Vote Utah – Voting ID O
In 2009, the Utah Legislature determined that state elections would be more protected from fraud if voters were required to provide identification at the polling place. The concept of voter identification laws is controversial. Several states have enacted such measures with the stated goal of making election results more reliable and trustworthy. Opponents, however, point out that such laws can disenfranchise those in society for whom obtaining official identification can be difficult, especially the poor and elderly. The Utah law makes generous provisions for satisfying the identification requirement. A photo ID such as a driver's license, concealed gun permit or a passport is accepted. In their absence, polling officials will accept two forms of identification which list the voter's name along with the address showing the voter lives within the precinct.

9/14 17:56 01:41 Vote Utah – Political Party Purpose O
Political parties are nearly as old as the United States. The founders did not specify that parties would be part of the government, but the necessity to organize around competing ideas in order to win elections and govern led to their formation. Parties define and express a group's needs and wants in a way that the public and political system can understand. A party brings together various viewpoints on an issue and develops enough common ideas among enough people so that pressure can be brought to bear upon the political system. Parties also serve to recruit candidates for office and raise the money necessary to seek elected office.
This process usually results in two major parties in the United States, but does not always work perfectly. The appearance of strong third parties is usually a sign that the major parties have become unresponsive to the public.

9/17 18:51 03:28 Vote Utah – Congressional District Borders O

The statewide redistricting process brought about following the 2010 Census made significant changes to boundaries for U. S. Congressional districts as well as state legislative and school board districts. Many Utahns find themselves in newly redrawn districts and will likely be voting for candidates they may be unfamiliar with from prior elections. Online and county clerk resources can help determine which legislative and school board districts you reside in.

Redistricting is a process that occurs at least every 10 years when the constitutionally required census tracks changes in population. Utah is required to insure legislative districts whether local, state, or federal be nearly identical in population size. The task falls to the Utah legislature to adjust U. S. Congressional, state legislative, and state school board boundaries in order to meet the requirement.

The process is complex and contentious. Politics enters into the process as parties seek to insure advantages for incumbent members of the legislative bodies and the majority party’s ability to win future elections. The 2011 redistricting effort in Utah was no exception with the state Democratic party threatening lawsuits to force changes in at least the U. S. Congressional Districts maps. But if and until the courts see fit to order changes, the maps drawn by the Utah legislature in 2011 will be the ones elections are decided by.

Online and county clerk resources can help determine which legislative and school board districts you reside in. It’s quite possible that legislative elected officials you voted for in 2010 or earlier will not appear on your 2012 ballot.

9/28 15:56 01:53 Vote Utah – Voter Registration O

Utah finds itself near the bottom of the list when it comes to the proportion of citizens who register to vote and the proportion of registered voters who take the opportunity to cast their ballot. A few decades ago, the state was near the top when it came to voter registration and participation in elections. While experts consider why this change has occurred, the obvious remedy is to take action. Registering to vote in Utah is straight forward and takes only a few minutes to accomplish. Beyond casting your ballot on election day, being a registered voter is required when participating in neighborhood party caucus meetings and as a delegate to state party conventions.

Financial Management and Planning

7/3 19:00 56:46 PBS NewsHour N

What’s driving the good job news for the month of June?—The unemployment rate in the U.S. dropped to 6.1 percent in June, its lowest point since just before the financial crisis of 2008. Moreover, a strong hiring report is lifting hopes that momentum is building in the jobs market. Economics correspondent Paul Solman takes a closer look at what, and who, is driving the numbers.

8/1 19:00 56:46 PBS NewsHour N

Economy hits sixth straight month of steady job gains—The economy added 209,000 jobs last month, slightly fewer than expected, but still making July the sixth straight month to add more than 200,000 jobs, which economists are largely interpreting as a sign of a steady recovery.

8/16 11:00 1:57:01 Suze Orman's Financial Solutions for You O
Suze's latest PBS special focuses on helping viewers find financial solutions that fit their unique situations. The special's central theme is that financial decision-making should be guided by an understanding of "the goal of money," which Suze perceptively defines as "to make you feel secure." Suze covers a wide range of financial topics including investing, buying versus renting a home, saving for retirement, and much more. And, as always, her advice is based not just on numbers, but grounded in a critical understanding of people and their emotional needs.

9/7 07:00 56:39 Small Fortunes: Microcredit and the Future of Poverty D
This program explores the issues of poverty and microcredit as it profiles numerous recipients of small loans in locales ranging from India to the Philippines to New York City. It tells the stories of how short-term loans of even a few dollars have resulted in dramatic lifestyle changes for families who otherwise would have no means of lifting themselves out of poverty. Those interviewed in the film include bankers, economists, scholars and other experts on past, present and potential successes of microcredit programs.

9/7 00:51 06:20 Beehive Stories #222 D
Emery County—Emery County has its County Seat in Caste Dale. The county was named for Utah's governor in 1875, George W. Emery. Emery County was the last settlement to be established under the direction of Brigham Young. For generations, Tim's family watermelon farm has been a pillar of Green River, famous for its "Melon Days" festival. However, after his oldest son is killed in a tragic accident and plans for a controversial nuclear power plant threaten to jeopardize his farm, Tim ponders leaving his hometown.

Education

7/3 19:00 56:46 PBS NewsHour N
Why more states are backing off Common Core—A growing number of states are dropping the Common Core education standards. And several states committed to keeping the guidelines have postponed implementation. Jeffrey Brown talks to Rick Hess of the American Enterprise Institute and Carmel Martin of the Center for American Progress about the backlash behind the standards, and the debate that lies ahead.

7/9 19:00 56:46 PBS NewsHour N
California school integrates play with learning—At first glance, it might seem like the students who attend the private K-12 New Roads School in Santa Monica, California, are simply playing video and computer games all day. But these students are actually taking part in a new experiment in educational innovation. The NewsHour's April Brown reports on one school's approach to keep students engaged all day.

In “30 Days to a Younger Heart”, Dr. Masley shares the surprising news that Metabolic Syndrome, also known as pre-diabetes – not high cholesterol – is the number one cause of cardiovascular disease. Since the term metabolic syndrome is new to most, the doctor describes how easy it is to determine your risk, and why so many Americans have it. Dr. Masley also educates viewers about the dangers of invasive, often unnecessary cardiovascular procedures. His 3 step Heart Tune-Up program is a guide to making lifestyle changes that significantly reduce the likelihood of developing cardiovascular disease. He specifically discusses the impact food, nutrients and exercise have on making a measurable difference in the reduction of arterial plaque. Discover five new categories of heart-healing foods, learn how the amount of time you exercise isn’t as important as you may think plus ensure you receive the five key nutrients many lack but are truly necessary for a younger heart. No matter how old you are, or how much you weigh or even the health battle you are facing, no one has to be on a one-way street to aging and disability. Patients’ lives every day have been saved and transformed with this heart tune-up program that explores the three easy lifestyle corrections that can take 10 years off of your heart’s age in just 30 Days.
