

KFCF FM Fresno 88.1 FM

Quarterly list of Programs serving Public Interest Jan-March 2020

This list is representative, not comprehensive

Immigration/ICE

UpFront

01.28.20/7:35AM/10 minutes

Immigrant rights activists say ICE wrongfully deported gay asylum-seeker Oumar Yaide to Chad in 2019. A federal judge has ordered the Trump administration to return him to the United States. Pangea Legal Services is representing Yaide in court, and has organized rallies and a petition to put pressure on lawmakers to force the Trump administration to comply with the judge's orders. They are asking supporters to appear at the February 4 SF Board of Supervisors meeting to pass a resolution to #BringOumarHome.

UpFront

02.06.20/7:08AM/20 minutes

A new Human Rights Watch report the cases of 138 Salvadorians killed after being deported from the United States. We're joined by co-authors Elizabeth Kennedy and Alison Parker.

UpFront

03.19.20/8:08AM/18 minutes

ICE continues deportation machine, highly concerning for spreading coronavirus.

Guest: Patrick Michels (@PatrickMichels) is a reporter with Reveal, covering immigration. His latest piece with Aura Bogado and Laura C Morel is 'How federal agencies put immigrants and immigration workers at risk amid coronavirus'

The Pacifica Evening News

03.26.20/6:23PM/11 minutes

Immigrant advocates call on state coronavirus relief for undocumented workers.

San Francisco D.A. says California Governor should close immigrant detention centers.

Lawsuit seeks release of detained immigrants vulnerable to coronavirus.

UpFront

03.31.20/7:17AM/17 minutes

People in ICE detention have no protective supplies, and fears of an outbreak grow. A look at what's happening inside this country's

POLITICAL GOVERNANCE

3.27 4:00 PM 59 min Commonwealth Club

KFCF FM Fresno 88.1 FM

Quarterly list of Programs serving Public Interest Jan-March 2020

This list is representative, not comprehensive

Rahm Emanuel: "How Mayors Run the World" At a time of anxiety about the effectiveness of our national government, Rahm Emanuel believes local government offers a clear vision, for both progressives and centrists, of how to get things done in America today. In his new book, The Nation City, Emanuel, the former two-term mayor of Chicago and President Obama's first White House chief of staff, offers a firsthand account of how cities, rather than the federal government, stand at the center of innovation and effective governance. Drawing on his own experiences in Chicago, and on his relationships with other mayors around America, Emanuel shows how cities are improving education, infrastructure, job conditions and environmental policy at a local level. With Dan Ashley ABC7 TV News Anchor; Member, Commonwealth Club Board of Governors. (Recorded 3/18/20)

1/10 4:00 PM 59 min Commonwealth Club

Christine Pelosi: "The Nancy Pelosi Way" Ever since Nancy Pelosi won a special election for a seat in the U.S. House of Representatives in 1987, she has built a reputation for hard work and an unparalleled command of the legislative process. However, people who only know her through her political appearance often do not have a good understanding of how she does what she does and why she has been so successful. To get some insight on the current House speaker, we turned to her daughter, Christine Pelosi. Christine came to The Commonwealth Club to share her unique understanding of her mother, as well as her thoughts on how Nancy Pelosi's approaches can be used in other walks of life. Christine Pelosi was in conversation with Marisa Lagos, a correspondent for California politics and government at KQED. (Recorded 12/2/19)

Business Responsibility

3/20 4:00 PM 59 min Commonwealth Club

Susan Fowler: "Uber Whistleblower" Revelations about misconduct at the biggest startups and tech companies seem to saturate today's news cycle-but it wasn't always this way. In 2017, when penning her now famous 2,900-word blog post about the pervasive culture of sexual harassment at Uber, soon-to-be whistleblower Susan Fowler was stepping into uncharted territory. Her decision to share a blog post about her "very, very strange year at Uber" with the public would open the floodgates for women to share similar experiences of systematic sexual harassment in Silicon Valley and beyond. In her new memoir, "Whistleblower: My Journey to Silicon Valley and Fight for Justice at Uber," Fowler details how this courageous act was entirely consistent with her life so far-a life characterized by extraordinary determination, a refusal to accept things as they are, and the desire to do what is good and right. With Mina Kim, News anchor and Host of Forum, KQED. (Recorded 3/5/20)

3/13 4:00 PM 59 min Commonwealth Club

KFCF FM Fresno 88.1 FM

Quarterly list of Programs serving Public Interest Jan-March 2020

This list is representative, not comprehensive

Rumman Chowdhury: "Finding the Humanity in AI" Dr. Rumman Chowdhury is a data scientist and A.I. developer who is optimistic about the good that artificial intelligence can do for us, everything from identifying cancer cells to helping people clean their apartments. She is encouraging companies and consumers to take active roles in recognizing the real-world problems that result in misuse and abuse of A.I. With Moira Weigel, a researcher at Harvard University and a founding editor of Logic magazine. (Recorded 1/29/20)

Criminal Justice and our Political System

The Political Mind of Jerry Brown thur 5 pm Jan 8-30

Before Jerry Brown was a political chessmaster, he was a political novice. In 1960, Brown advises his father, Governor Pat Brown, to delay the execution of Caryl Chessman -- advice Pat takes while nearly derailing his political career. But how would young Jerry know anything about politics? Jerry Brown's political ambitions could not have come from less humble beginnings. Years before Watergate, Brown pushes to clean up government in Sacramento -- and rides that message to the governor's office.

2/28 4:00 PM 59 min Commonwealth Club

"Patrick Kennedy and an Expert Panel: Mental Health, Youth and the Justice System" What role should America's criminal justice system have in handling youth with mental health issues? It is not an idle question. Seventy percent of young people entering the juvenile justice system are said to have a diagnosable mental health need. Join us for an expert discussion of the role the justice system can and should play in helping youth with mental health issues. Our panelists included Dr. Anton Nigusse Bland, the director of mental health reform at the San Francisco Department of Public Health; Nicole Elmore, a community youth activist; former U.S. Representative Patrick Kennedy of Rhode Island; and Dr. Marina Tolou-Shams, professor of psychiatry at the University of California San Francisco. (Recorded 1/15/20)

2/21 4:00 PM 59 min Commonwealth Club

Ezra Klein: "Why We're Polarized" Political journalist Ezra Klein does not believe America's political system is broken. In his view, the truth is scarier than that: he says the system is working exactly as designed. Over the past 50 years, he says partisan identities have merged with racial, religious, geographic, ideological and cultural identities, and this has created a toxic system that is tearing at the bonds that hold together the country. He recently sat down with Anna Sale, host of WNYC's "Death, Sex & Money," to discuss our gridlocked political system and what it means for our future. (Recorded 2/6/20)

2/7 4:00 PM 59 min Commonwealth Club

Keith Hennessey and Christina Romer: "Bank of America/Merrill Lynch Walter E. Hoadley Annual Economic Forecast" What lies ahead for the economy in 2020? Join us for a bipartisan discussion with two former top presidential economic advisors, Christina Romer and Keith

KFCF FM Fresno 88.1 FM

Quarterly list of Programs serving Public Interest Jan-March 2020

This list is representative, not comprehensive

Hennessey. Find out how politics and economic trends will impact your business and your wallet this year. They were in conversation with Evelyn Dilsaver, former executive vice president of Charles Schwab and the current chair of The Commonwealth Club's Board of Governors.

(Recorded 1/24/20)

1/31 4:00 PM 59 min Commonwealth Club

Ayesha and Stephen Curry: "The Commonwealth Club Equality Series" Ayesha Curry and her husband Stephen Curry live much of their lives in the public eye. Ayesha Curry is a best-selling author, restaurateur and television host who teamed up with Ellen Degeneres for a new online series in which she mentors female entrepreneurs. Stephen Curry is in his tenth year as a star of the Golden State Warriors. He is also an entrepreneur and investor, who founded the film and television company Unanimous Media. The Currys came to The Commonwealth Club to discuss their careers and lives, as well as their new organization, the Eat. Learn. Play. Foundation, which focuses on youth in underserved communities. With Michelle Meow (Recorded 1/17/20)

Commonwealth Club

1/3 4:00 PM 59 min

Microsoft President Brad Smith: "The Promise and Peril of the Digital Age" For many years, consumers, critics, technology gurus and policymakers have all cataloged the problems that have arisen in the digital age, even as we enjoy the benefits of advances in high technology. The Commonwealth Club invited Brad Smith to share his thoughts on the responsibilities that technology companies have for addressing their impacts on society. Since 2015, Smith has been president and chief legal officer of Microsoft, where he has worked in various capacities since 1993. He plays a key role in spearheading the company's work on critical issues involving the intersection of technology and society, including cybersecurity, privacy, artificial intelligence, human rights, immigration, philanthropy and environmental sustainability. Brad is in conversation with Molly Wood, Host and Senior Editor, "Marketplace Tech." (Recorded 12/5/19)

Mayor Race

Climate Politics 2/28 5:00 PM 47 min

Interview with Mayoral Candidate Andrew Janz for the primary for Mayor of Fresno

Coronavirus-19

Letters and Politics

03.12.20/10:06/24 min

How To Handle The Coronavirus. We hear an epidemiologist talking about what policies should be put in place to minimize the effects of pandemic with guest: Dr Eric Feigl Ding (@DrEricDing). He is an award winning epidemiologist, health economist and nutrition scientist at the Harvard School of Public Health. He is also an advocate for public health and health justice.

KFCF FM Fresno 88.1 FM

Quarterly list of Programs serving Public Interest Jan-March 2020

This list is representative, not comprehensive

UpFront

03.11.20/8:08 AM 1hr 08 min

Coronavirus Q&A: What do we know now about coronavirus that we didn't know last week? With guest John Swartzberg, MD, is Clinical Professor Emeritus of Infectious Diseases and Vaccinology Division at UC Berkeley School of Public Health (@UCBerkeleySPH).

The Pacifica Evening News

03.17.20/6:02PM/6 minutes and ongoing coverage on various newscasts @ 8 AM and 5 PM

White House announces $1 trillion stimulus package to prop up coronavirus battered US economy.

Democracy Now!

03.19.20/6:27AM/22 minutes & 9:27 AM

Earlier this month, Trump signed into law an $8 billion coronavirus response package and has laid out the first details of a third, $1 trillion economic package and invoked the Korean War-era

Coronavirus Briefings from Governor Gavin Newsom

Mon-Friday March 18-31 12 Noon 60 Minutes

Updates from California Governor on the Covid-19

Climate Politics

3/27/20 59 min 5:00 pM

The national and international response to the coronavirus pandemic has been an acid test of this issue, and so far -- it burns. The impacts of the Trump administration's failed response, delayed by two full months of denial and political ideology, are now hitting cities and regions across the country with growing force.

On today's show we'll explore local impacts with two of Fresno's finest community leaders, Veva Islas, CEO of Cultiva la Salud and Sandra Celedon, CEO of Fresno Building Healthy Communities.

They're with us tonight to share information and resources on the crisis.

Coronavirus Briefings Press Conference – Fresno County Dept of Public Health

Mondays, Wednesday, Fridays at 4 PM March 20-March 31 59 minutes

Updates on local Covid-19 regulations, lockdowns and health care

Corona Virus Call-in Special

3/23/20-3/31/20 1 hour various times (11 AM, 1 PM, 4 PM)

The entire state of California is to shelter at home in order to slow the spread of COVID-19. Californians are grappling with a crisis of unprecedented scope, and coming to grips with a new social reality. In this daily hourlong special coverage, KQED's Forum will focus on the state's response and how residents are coming together, including interviews with state and national experts, and fielding phone calls from across the state. The hosts will be KQED's Scot Shafer - Education, restaurants , ppe and other issues.

KFCF FM Fresno 88.1 FM

Quarterly list of Programs serving Public Interest Jan-March 2020

This list is representative, not comprehensive

Covid-19 Coverage (on-going)

Newscasts, talk shows, pressers, call-ins and more

Environment

Terra Verde

03.06.20/2:00PM/30 minutes

'Forever Chemicals' in Our Drinking Water Per- and poly- fluoroalkyl substances (PFAS) have become an increasing public health concern. This multi-billion dollar family of chemicals — that has been widely used in firefighting foams, and to make water-, grease-and stain-repellent coatings in many, many consumer goods — is notoriously persistent in the environment and the human body. Several of these compounds have been linked to serious health effects, including cancer. Health experts and environmental groups are now pushing for more stringent regulations on the use and clean up of these chemicals, that have contaminated drinking water supplies across the US.

So just how harmful are PFAS? What can we do to avoid them? And what efforts are underway to reform the inadequate laws regulating chemical use in this country? To find out, Terra Verde host and Earth Island Journal editor Maureen Nandini Mitra talks with three guests — Dr Tisha Stoiber, a senior scientist with the Environmental Working Group; Pat Elder, an environmental and anti-war activist who has been researching PFAS contamination from military sites; and Lisa McCrae, an environmental and human rights activist, who, along with her family have suffered, first-hand the impact of PFAS contamination while they were stationed at the now defunct George Air Base in Victorville, California.

UpFront

01.29.20/7:54PM/6 minutes

Ever since endangered Gray Wolves were reintroduced to Yellowstone National Park, they have thrived and spread throughout the West, including in California's Lassen and Plumas counties. In 2018 a Gray Wolf known as OR-59 was shot and killed in Northern California. The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service is investigating the incident and has offered a $2,500 reward for information leading to the shooter. KPFA's Vic Bedoian reports from Fresno.

Against the Grain

02.04.20/12:00PM/55minutes

Ecological Crisis and Environmental Justice

The planet is getting hotter and the effects of global warming are compounding. The crisis of all ecological systems are becoming more evident. And yet so are environmental movements, which have become larger and more visible than ever. Scholar Julie Sze reflects on the history of struggles for environmental justice and the movement that we are living through.

Housing

KFCF FM Fresno 88.1 FM

Quarterly list of Programs serving Public Interest Jan-March 2020

This list is representative, not comprehensive

UpFront

01.16.20/8:34am/25 minutes

This week Rep. Maxine Waters presided over a special hearing on homelessness in the House Financial Services Committee. We're joined by Karen Chapple, professor and chair of the department of city and regional planning at UC Berkeley, and the faculty director of the university's Urban Displacement Project. She gave testimony to the House committee on gentrification and displacement

Housing-It's The Law

Feb 20, March 19 1 PM (1 hr each)

A summary of housing rights, homelessness issues and current rent payment delays as enacted by law.