

In the first quarter of 2023, KMUW shifted focus to include more stories about the environment as well as continuing to cover education, health, and community in significant ways. There is a lot of activity at the statehouse this legislative session that has carried over from many of last year's biggest issues as well. This quarter, our news team made strides to cover what's happening at the micro-community level as well as what is of note around the entire state of Kansas, especially via our partnership with the Kansas News Service. KMUW coverage continues to extend from radio airwaves to the web with photos and links on our multiple platforms. Our news team is also supplemented by Wichita State interns, to continue informing the community while helping to educate tomorrow's journalists.

KMUW enables the community to access information about timely subject matter in a variety of ways. We continue to hold regular virtual or live Engage ICT civic engagement events as well as our Engage ICT Mini (weekly online discussions designed to offer more immediacy than the monthly events). In addition, KMUW has launched the Engage ICT Community Action Leaders group, to help inform our engagement efforts and reach into all communities within our coverage area. Overall, KMUW continues to cover topics that our community expresses a desire to understand or has a need to know about. We foster dialogue with our area's residents via community projects and listening practices that attract a variety of voices. Our projects, as well as one-on-one conversations, provide staff with input on topics relevant to Wichitans in order to best inform them.
