- 3. On Air Job Fair-MacDonald Broadcasting is aggressively trying to help local businesses find and hire people, an initiative designed to offer the local business community a platform to widely publicize employment opportunities to our audiences. Recruitment advertising on the radio allows these employers to reach the passive job seekers and their family members who act as advocates for the open position. The Job Fair on the air is supported by a significant amount of advertising directed at potential employees AND local companies looking for a better way to find candidates. We are running a script for employers and a second script targeted to job seekers. We run 49- 60 second announcements per week for this outreach. There is also a digital component to the project which includes a listing of each participating business' opening and a hyperlink back to that company's website/application.

4. Mentoring program for On-Air personnel Weekly Airchecks- As part of our commitment to Equal Employment Opportunity, we have implemented a mentoring program for our On-Air personnel. Our Operations Manager is responsible for conducting evaluations and providing weekly training to our On-air staff. During the aircheck sessions, the air talent has their on-air shows from the previous week critiqued. Freshmen talent are reviewed by senior staff, while senior talent are evaluated by the Operations Manager. Mentors then send follow-up emails detailing the areas that need improvement. In addition to the airchecks, these sessions also provide opportunities for air talent to cross-train in operational duties such as music placement software, website management, and social media practices. Through this mentoring program and weekly airchecks, we aim to improve the skills and performance of our On-Air personnel while promoting a culture of learning and development. This initiative also helps to ensure a diverse and inclusive workplace where everyone has the opportunity to grow and succeed.
