DATE AIRED	NAME OF PROGRAM	BROADCAST TIME	DURATION	DESCRIPTION
Issue #1: Weather. It's winter, and KUNC served the listeners of Weld, Boulder, Larimer, and surrounding counties by delivering weather updates and forecasts during our hourly newscasts. We also dug deeper into weather issues with feature reporting from reporters at our Water Desk.
1/18/2023	All Things Considered	4pm, 5pm, 6pm	1 minute	There's a very high risk of avalanches in most of Colorado's backcountry. An avalanche warning continues for much of the West Slope, through this evening.
1/19/2023	Morning Edition	6am, 7am, 9am	1 minute	A huge winter storm has hit northern Colorado. Much of the area is under winter weather advisories and warnings until this evening. KUNC delivered hourly updates from the National Weather Service in Boulder
2/9/2023	Mornign Edition / All Things Considered	7:45am 9:45am / 4:44pm	4 minutes	New data show a snowy start to 2023 for the Colorado River basin. Inflows into Lake Powell, the nation's second largest reservoir, are currently projected to be 117% of average during spring runoff thanks to heavy winter precipitation in the Rocky Mountains.
Issue #2: State Capitol Reporting. KUNC has a reporter stationed at Colorado's capitol. During the legislative session, we report daily to our audiences in Weld, Larimer, Boulder, and several other counties about the legislative session. This is a crucial service to our audience, especially those in rural areas. KUNC is a member of Capitol Coverage, a collaborative public policy reporting project, providing news and analysis to communities across Colorado for more than a decade. Fifteen public radio stations participate in Capitol Coverage from throughout Colorado.
3/21/2023	Mornign Edition / All Things Considered	7:30am 9:30am / 4:30pm, 6pm	1minute, 30 seconds	A bipartisan bill to expand access to prosthetic devices for sports and physical recreation in Colorado sailed through its first legislative committee hearing. House Bill 1136 would require health insurers to cover additional prosthetics for people under 26 years old if it will help them participate in certain physical activities including running, cycling, swimming, climbing, skiing, and other sports.
3/29/2023	Mornign Edition / All Things Considered	7:30am 9:30am / 4:30pm, 6pm	1 minute	Governor Jared Polis and Democratic state lawmakers unveiled the most significant land-use reform in decades last week. The sweeping new efforts to address Colorado's housing crisis are focused on increasing residential density in the state's cities and towns.
3/14/2023	Mornign Edition / All Things Considered	6:30am, 8:30am / 3:30pm, 4:30pm	1 minute	Governor Jared Polis and a bipartisan group of lawmakers unveiled two new bills in an effort to expand access to job training and education. One would create a new scholarship program that would target industries with worker shortages, such as mental and physical healthcare, manufacturing, construction, finance, engineering, STEM fields, IT and education. High school students graduating in 2024 would be eligible for about fifteen hundred dollars each, which could be used to pay for an apprenticeship, trade school, community college or university. A second bill would cover the cost of tuition, fees and materials for certain associate degree and industry certificate programs.
Issue #3: Gun Safety Measures and Mass Shootings. Colorado recently expereinced another mass shooting. KUNC reporters and hosts were physically on the scene to keep our audineces in Weld, Larimer, Boulder, and the surrounding counties informed. KUNC also continued follow up coverage with the Colorado legislative session, which included proposals for fireare reform.
3/22/2023	Mornign Edition / All Things Considered	7:30am 9:30am / 4:30pm, 6pm	45 seconds	The police have identified the suspect of a shooting Wednesday at East High School as 17-year-old Austin Lyle. Denver Public Schools Superintendent Dr. Alex Marrero issued a letter to parents stating that he has directed the Denver Police Department to bring armed officers back into comprehensive public high schools for the rest of the school year. According to the Denver Police Department, the suspect's car was found in Park County Wednesday evening. The suspect was found dead near the car. The cause of death is
03/24/203	Mornign Edition / All Things Considered	6:30am, 8:30am / 3:30pm, 4:30pm	45 seconds	After several hours behind closed doors and in an executive session Thursday afternoon, the Denver Public Schools Board of Education unanimously voted to approve the re-introduction of school resource officers back into schools district-wide through the end of the school year with a directive that Superintendent Dr. Alex Marrero also work to create a
3/25/2023	Mornign Edition / All Things Considered	6am, 7am, 9am	45 seconds	There are currently five gun-related measures being considered by the legislature, each focused on different firearm and gun industry regulations. One measure would impose a three-day waiting period on all gun purchases. Another would raise the gun-purchasing age to 21. There is a measure that would make it easier for gun-violence victims to sue gun stores and manufacturers. Another bill would expand Colorado's red flag laws, also called Extreme Risk Protection Orders, or ERPO laws. A fifth bill would essentially ban assault weapons in the state.
3/28/2023	Mornign Edition / All Things Considered	7:30am 9:30am / 4:30pm, 6pm	45 seconds	Gun reform legislation is slowly advancing at the Colorado State Capitol despite outspoken—and sometimes contentious—Republican opposition. GOP delay tactics last week led to an unusual weekend meeting of the state House of Representatives and prompted Democratic leadership to invoke a rarely-used rule to limit debate. The meeting came after GOP filibusters over gun reform delayed the House's course of business last week.
3/29/2023	Mornign Edition / All Things Considered	6:30am, 8:30am / 3:30pm, 4:30pm	1 minute 30 seconds	In the wake of another deadly school shooting in Colorado, a new study shows that Colorado teens have easy access to firearms. The study, published Monday in the journal JAMA Pediatrics, relied on data from the 2021 Healthy Kids Colorado Study. It surveyed teens and included the question, "How long would it take you to get and be ready to fire a loaded gun without a parent's permission?" One in 4 teens said they could do so within 24 hours. One in 10 said it would take them less than 10 minutes.
Issue #4: Environmental Issues. In addition to our Water Desk, other KUNC reporters also take on environmental reporting. KUNC delivers in depth reporting on local and regional environmental issues for our listeners in Weld, Boulder, Larimer, and surrounding couunites.
3/21/2023	Mornign Edition / All Things Considered	7:45am 9:45am / 4:44pm	4 minutes 30 seconds	KUNC's Northern Colorado Center for Investigative Reporting (NCCIR) is dedicated to investigating topics, issues and stories of concern to the people of Northern Colorado. Ythis included a 3 part series on air quality in Northern Colorado. When there's poor air quality in Colorado, it can be a nuisance for residents. But for some, the bad air cancels plans and changes lives.
3/15/2023	Mornign Edition / All Things Considered	7:30am 9:30am / 4:30pm, 6pm	1 minute 30 seconds	The Environmental Protection Agency proposed new drinking water standards this week for the increasingly pervasive toxic chemicals known as PFAS. The new standards would substantially lower the threshold for six per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances, or PFAS. Once the rule is finalized, water systems will have three years to comply. The EPA believes it will prevent thousands of deaths and PFAS-related illnesses.
3/23/2023	Mornign Edition / All Things Considered	6am, 7am, 9am	45 seconds	Members of Congress from six of the seven states that use Colorado River water are convening a new caucus. The group aims to help rally federal funding for water projects along a river that supplies 40 million people and is shrinking due to climate change. The House of Representatives caucus was formed as the Southwest grapples with a growing supply-demand imbalance along the vital river.
1/4/2023	Mornign Edition / All Things Considered	6:30am, 8:30am / 3:30pm, 4:30pm	1 minute 30 seconds	Researchers have developed a snow and rain tracker that gathers data from citizen scientists in an effort to improve the accuracy of avalanche warnings, road conditions and water management.
