

The Beat

Short-form (5 minutes or less) weekly program
Premieres Thursdays on KLRN

Each week, KLRN shares stories—from street art to fine art—in support of the local arts community in San Antonio.

Program number: 4
Program length: 4:29
First air date/time: January 10, 2019

The Cave Without a Name hosts musical events that use the natural limestone for perfect acoustical sound.

Program number: 5
Program length: 3:04
First air date/time: January 17, 2019

Originally San Antonio's "secret garden," Miraflores is a piece of history that is a snapshot in time of a private estate garden.

Program number: 9
Program length: 3:29
First air date/time: January 24, 2019

Becky Crouch Patterson wrote a book on Luckenbach Texas named "Luckenbach Texas The Center of the Universe"

Program number: 10
Program length: 3:25
First air date/time: January 31, 2019

Artist Anastasia Pelias created “Mama” an outdoor work of art that sits out on the beautiful McNay Art Museum landscape.

Program number: 11

Program length: 4:59

First air date/time: February 7, 2019

Lila Cockrell was a two time Mayor of San Antonio, and has been a civic leader since the 1960’s. She recently celebrated her 97th birthday and the release of her book “Love Deeper than a River”.

Program number: 13

Program length: 4:04

First air date/time: March 30, 2019

A silver plate made as a thank you gift from Queen Victoria to a family friend as part of a payment and gesture of gratitude can be found at the San Antonio Museum of Art. The plate has a meaningful story that brings to light Queen Victoria’s honest and caring character.

Program number: 14

Program length: 3:31

First air date/time: February 28, 2019

AHISD Art Program paired young artists with high school art students to collaborate on a joint project that is currently on display at the high school.