3/3/2024 (Sun)	12:00	52:00	31042	12:00	Jeremy Powell, a pastor and teacher in Union City, Tennessee, was born with an autoimmune deficiency that rendered his body incapable of defeating bacterial and fungal infections. As the COVID-19 pandemic spread around the world, Powell contracted fungal meningitis. Given only an 18% chance of surviving the infection, his doctors at the National Institutes of Health recommended a bone marrow transplant as a last-ditch effort to clear the meningitis and save his life. Powell survived the transplant, and his rehabbed immune system even fought back the infection in his spine and brain. He was healed of his autoimmune deficiency and the fungal meningitis it caused. However, it left him completely paralyzed from the neck down, as he found himself dangerously close to having his breathing permanently compromised.	Discovery Park of America, Union City, TN Host Scott Williams
3/10/2024 (Sun)	12:00	55:00	31043	12:00	Ann Martin is a leader of one of the most unique attractions in the nation, Patti's 1880's Settlement in Grand Rivers, Kentucky. A cancer survivor, businesswoman, entrepreneur, and recent TikTok star, she led the organization through a devastating fire, the many negative impacts of the Covid-19 pandemic and now, unprecedented growth. In this episode, she shares the inspirational story of how their attraction's restaurant- now serving over one million dollars in pork chops every year-began when one courageous woman, the late Patti Tullar, transformed her love for cooking and family into an award-winning business in a tiny town of 350 located between Kentucky Lake and Lake Barkley. Today, with its beautifully landscaped gardens, wedding chapel, water wheels, gift shops and boutique stores, Patti's 1880's Settlement, just an hour from Discovery Park, draws more than 300,000 visitors each year.	Discovery Park of America, Union City, TN Host Scott Williams
3/17/2024 (Sun)	12:00	44:00	31044	12:00	Sean Gasaway is an entertainer who wears many hats. His titles include songwriter, producer, music mogul, record producer, actor and entrepreneur. On this episode, the two-time Native American Music Awards Song of the Year winner shares more about using music to change young lives as education coordinator with the Mississippi Songwriters Alliance and some of the exciting things happening with arts and entertainment down in the historic Mississippi Delta.	Discovery Park of America, Union City, TN Host Scott Williams
3/24/2024 (Sun)	12:00	48:00	31045	12:00	Documentary filmmaker Randall Kendrick grew up in Brownsville, Tennessee in the shadow of The Mindfield, a "you-have-to-see-it-to-believe-it" outdoor art installation created by Tennessee outsider artist Billy Tripp. The artist has been constructing a massive steel sculpture for the past 33 years, and is finally setting his sights on retirement. In his documentary, "The Steel Garden: A Documentary" Kendrick examines Tripp's life and work as he builds one of the final pieces of his ever expanding sculpture. In this episode, Kendrick shares more about the inspiration for his documentary, the process he went through to get the story on film and the early response from the documentary film festival circuit, Brownsville residents and Billy Tripp himself.	Discovery Park of America, Union City, TN Host Scott Williams
3/31/2024 (Sun)	12:00	36:00	31046	12:00	Filmmaker Derek Purvis is the producer-director of the just released action pic "The Ballad of Davy Crockett." In this episode, Purvis shares a little about the early inspiration that led him to a career in filmmaking along with a few stories that take listeners behind the scenes of his production. Filmed in Tennessee, "The Ballad of Davy Crockett" is an action-packed Western featuring William Moseley who is known for his portrayal of the fictional character Peter Pevensie in the "The Chronicles of Narnia" trilogy. Set in 1815, the film focuses on Crockett's fictional adventures while fighting his way through the wild frontier to save his children from the clutches of an evil land baron (Colm Meaney of Hell on Wheels).
