Issue: covid and the economy

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Here and There

Date: Oct 11 Time of day: 4:06pm Duration: 51 min

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): As the coronavirus pandemic threatened to crash the global economy, the American central bank, the Federal Reserve stepped in, opened the taps, and saturated the other banks and nations of the world in US Dollars. Our guest Adam Tooze's brilliant new book, Shutdown explains how it was done and looks at what might happen next. Tooze shows how lessons were learned from the austere response to the financial meltdown of 2008 and a different course was taken.

Issue: cannabis legalization

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Noon News

Date: Oct 12 Time of day: 12:36pm Duration: 5:34

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): Time's a ticking until New Mexico can finally start the recreational sale of cannabis next year, but the sole regulator behind the budding industry is already under fire from several of its employees.

For this week's deep dive into New Mexico's political world, KSF's Interim News Director Bryce Dix is joined by New Mexico Political Report journalist and Growing Forward podcast host Andy Lyman to discuss his reporting on a new development in an existing lawsuit against the Regulation and Licensing Department and the Cannabis Control Division that now alleges the department violated the state's Whistleblower Protection Act.

Issue: welfare

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Here and There

Date: Oct 12 Time of day: 4:06pm Duration: 51 min

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): The American approach to welfare could hardly be more negative. Not only is what welfare recipients receive considered "good enough for them," the humiliations they have to go through to get their pittance are even worse. Eli Hager of Pro Publica on the hoops some single mothers had to jump through to feed their families. Dollars that could go to relieve financial distress get diverted to pay for the investigations and interrogations that precede the first grant.

Date: Oct 18 Time of day: 4:06pm Duration: 51 min

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): More than anything else, the future of New Mexico depends on water, how much of it climate change will leave us and how we will use what we have. Laura Paskus of Our Land on NM Public Television ... on a once in a generation examination of NM's water resources. One thing the experts found was that the State needs better collection and analysis of ongoing climate and water data. Otherwise, policy-makers are drilling in the dark

Issue: public health

Date: Oct 19 Time of day: 4:06pm Duration: 51 min

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): Waiting for our boosters to be approved and distributed as the pandemic grinds on. Meanwhile, Yale School of Public Health epidemiologist and columnist for The Nation Gregg Gonsalves has some survival suggestions and policy prescriptions for us to think about. Here are 2 ideas to start with ... the crisis isn't over and the coming winter could be a testing time.

Issue: public health

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Noon News

Date: Oct 21 Time of day: 12:36pm Duration: 6:28

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): So, we've all probably wondered... Is it okay to mix and match COVID-19 vaccines?

And that answer is: yes! That's according to University of California San Francisco professor and infectious disease specialist, Dr. Monica Gandhi and both the Federal Food and Drug Administration and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

This is especially true for those who received the Johnson and Johnson vaccine. The J&J jab has been shown to be less effective than the mRNA vaccines of Moderna and Pfizer.

KSFR sat down with Dr. Monica Gandhi to get more specifics for next steps and why she recommends J and J'ers get a Moderna or Pfizer booster shot in the wake of recent clinical trials.

Issue: redistricting

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Morning News

Date: Oct 21 Time of day: 8:06am Duration: :59

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): An advisory panel on political redistricting has advanced three proposals for overhauling district boundaries in New Mexico's Democrat-dominated House of Representatives, with special deference to Native American communities.

Two of the endorsed redistricting maps conform to proposals from Indigenous nations and tribes in northwestern New Mexico, a celebrated cradle of ancient civilization where a recent decline in population threatens to disrupt and dilute majority-Native American voting districts.

Issue: water/environment

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): morning news

Date: Oct 21 Time of day: 8:06am Duration: :49

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): Federal water managers say the Pecos River Basin in New Mexico is likely to experience growing water shortages as temperatures continue to rise over the next century. The U.S. Bureau of Reclamation on Wednesday discussed the findings of a recently completed study on the basin.

Issue: environment
WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Here and There
Date: Oct 25 Time of day: 4:06pm Duration: 51min
BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): With oil, you get gas. That's just how nature works. With access, you get influence. That's just how politics works. Cody Nelson has reported for Source NM on how access and influence, spiced with healthy splashes of campaign contributions, works for New Mexico's oil and gas industry. State revenues from taxes on oil and gas extraction mean even more. Environmentalists say state officials are less open to them than they are to lobbyists from the energy industry, and they have evidence.

Issue: criminal justice
WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Here and There
Date: Nov 10 Time of day: 4:06pm Duration: 51:00
BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): The US Constitution guarantees all people accused of crimes the option of a trial by jury. But is part of that guarantee that it takes a unanimous vote to convict? The Supreme Court says the answer is yes -- from this day forward. But what about Louisiana's 1500 prison inmates convicted by less-than-unanimous juries? And does it matter that 80% of those people are African-American. Jeremy Young of Al Jazeera English's Fault lines has the story, of Jim crow justice.

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Here and There

Date: Nov 22 Time of day: 4:06pm Duration: 51:00

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): The COP 26 climate change conclave is over. Most of the world's most powerful leaders dropped by Glasgow, leaving people wondering why Chinese leader Xi Jinping didn't, and wondering what that signaled. Meanwhile Xi and President Biden had private talks, some also focused on climate change. But what did COP 26 accomplish? And what's supposed to happen next? Talk is cheap, but real fixes are very expensive. Is there a plan to pay for saving the planet? Andrew Freedman covers climate issues for Axios.

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Here and There

Date: Nov. 23 Time of day: 4:06pm Duration: 51:00

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): When climate change hits the top of a mountain, a lot of things happen -- less snow, faster melt and more degradation of the rocks themselves. Elizabeth Miller has written in Scientific American about how this climate-driven process is putting more heavy metals and rare earths into less water headed for people's drinking supplies. We know some of the heavy metals, like lead and cadmium can endanger human health, but what's scary is what we don't know about rare earth

Issue: labor

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Here and There

Date: Nov 24 Time of day: 4:06pm Duration: 51:00

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): The migration of blue-collar jobs to non-union or lower-wage destinations on both sides of the Texas-Mexico border have left Indiana hollowed up. Indianapolis is a graveyard of abandoned factory buildings and hundreds of left behind workers. Farah Stockman's new book American Made is focused on a question: "What happens to people when work disappears?" She follows 3 skilled, but unemployed former factory workers --one woman, 2 men, one White, one African American. But they're all human and all wondering what happens next.

Issue: criminal justice

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Here and There

Date: Nov 29 Time of day: 4:06pm Duration: 51:00

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): When it comes to sentencing, how much consideration should be given to the age of the convict when the crime was committed? Special consideration for people under 18? Austin Fisher of Source NM has reported the case of a woman, just 17 when she was holding the bag that held a murder weapon. She got 30 years to life. Her defense was inept and her sentencing hearing took 19 minutes.
