WMCA RADIO

ISSUE / PROGRAM LIST

WMCA radio on a continuing basis seeks to stay informed regarding the issues, problems and needs of its service area. This is accomplished in part through meetings with prominent and informed leaders in the community. WMCA also utilizes informal contacts with community leaders and general media sources outside of our organization (i.e. TV, radio and print media), WMCA management, through membership in civic and charitable organizations maintains active involvement dealing with problems and issues confronting our community. Information is also obtained through general issue-oriented material sent to the station and to station personnel. In this report, WMCA will list the issues it has determined to be of major local concern and will list some of the programming avenues taken to address those issues.

Station Management Editorials

Various Times

The station airs editorials dealing with relevant issues. Information detailing topics, specific dates and times aired is attached.

Editorial Friday	04/01/23	8:02:58 AM	In sobering news for our country's future, a new Wall Street Journal poll says our national values have shifted radically over the last 25 years. In 1998, 70 percent of Americans deemed patriotism very important and 62 percent said the same of religion. Now, only 38 percent find patriotism very important, and only 39 percent said the same of religion.

Editorial Monday	04/03/23	2:06:13 PM	What really ought to be condemned is this sort of extremism, coming from leaders within today's Democratic party.

Editorial Tuesday	04/04/23	7:27:40 AM	A functioning representative democracy depends on citizens capable of more than insulting and shouting down others. A functioning legal system depends on lawyers capable of rational analysis and hearing opposing arguments.

Editorial Thursday	04/06/23	3:30:38 PM	Donald Trump attempted to pay off a porn star. That's quite sufficient as a national embarrassment, but sex scandals are not exactly new. What is new is the use of criminal prosecutions against political enemies, and Donald Trump certainly has plenty of them. But once this precedent is set, he will surely not be the last.

Editorial Friday	04/07/23	2:01:06 PM	But Jesus was executed by the state as an enemy of the state. The debates about resurrection in first century Judaism were intensely political. The Sadducees, defenders of the status quo, denied the resurrection. The more orthodox Pharisees affirmed it.

Editorial Monday	04/10/23	1:28:30 AM	Twitter engineered its algorithm to incentivize block lists and complaint campaigns, both of which got widely adopted on the Left. It would not take many blocks, mutes and especially complaints about inappropriate comments to get users locked out of any distribution and their input quashed on the broader platform.

Editorial Tuesday	04/11/23	4:26:34 PM	Americans easily forget how important the courts are, and this is a wake-up call for conservatives. If we keep losing elections like this one, we will see the Left take over the courts, seat by seat. Did we work so hard for 50 years only to surrender now?

Editorial Wednesday	04/12/23	9:56:46 AM	We've heard a lot about Joe Biden and Nancy Pelosi's Catholic faith. So where were they last week? During the holiest time in the Christian year, Walter Reed National Military Medical Center (America's largest military hospital) ordered Catholic priests to halt religious services on its grounds—right before Holy Thursday, Good Friday and Easter.

Editorial Thursday	04/13/23	12:49:30 PM	The notion of diversity has proven itself to be nothing more than code for its opposite: enforced consent—and the prevention of common sense and true equality. If we don't reverse this, the new word for "college campus" should be "asylum."

Editorial Friday	04/14/23	5:28:57 PM	It's high time that people who are actually investing their own money get into the game which up until now has been dominated by activists. Exxon also will have a similar proposal on the ballot. It's their chance to speak up and defend what they do every day: power the world.

Editorial Wednesday	04/19/23	3:30:52 PM	What this comes from is "moral poverty." Economics does not drive the lack of impulse control. The absence comes from not teaching young boys the habituations of right and wrong, and children without fathers, drenched in environments of drugs and resentment. What we adults teach and insist upon—or what we don't—is what matters. Until we get this right and reinstitute timeless and reliable standards of right and wrong in our youth, be prepared for more violence, death, and destruction.

Editorial Thursday	04/20/23	4:28:50 AM	The recent rash of personally motivated leaks for social media credibility raises significant questions about whether we have lost our ability to put national security ahead of personal gain. That starts at the top, however. The recent exposures of national leaders retaining classified material for their own commercial and/or political use is similarly damning.

Editorial Monday	04/24/23	3:29:36 PM	The next time you hear Democrats and their media allies say Republican governors and legislatures are trying to "ban books" in schools, ask them if they are prepared to allow five- and six year olds to attend Rated-R movies.

Editorial Thursday	04/27/23	12:35:00 PM	Take the new report from agencies affiliated with the United Nations. It calls for all forms of sexual activity to be decriminalized. Worse, it implies that sex regardless of age should be decriminalized, if the minors "consent" to the activity.

Editorial Thursday	05/04/23	12:08:30 PM	The left is trying to delegitimize the Supreme Court — one of the few areas of American life it doesn't control. It's the leftist playbook. Any American institution that stands in the way of the left-wing agenda must be destroyed.

Editorial Friday	05/05/23	4:28:12 AM	Weingarten's revisionism, along with Anthony Fauci's disclaimer of any responsibility for shutdowns, offers tacit admissions that their panicked COVID policies failed. They know school closures and business shutdowns didn't do anything to mitigate the pandemic and did a lot of damage to children and families. Instead of trying to gaslight America, Weingarten and the shutdown brigade should be offering apologies instead.

Editorial Monday	05/08/23	12:46:40 AM	Unelected federal bureaucrats in Washington, D.C. control too much of our lives. Part of the reason is because of the Supreme Court's Chevron decision. Nearly 40 years ago the court ruled that courts should defer to the federal agencies' interpretations of ambiguous laws, as long as their interpretations were reasonable. As a result, bureaucrats amassed A LOT of power.

Editorial Tuesday	05/09/23	10:57:48 AM	Green activists routinely try to cajole oil companies into trying to guess the effects of fossil fuel usage on the weather decades into the future. But one shareholder, the financial advisor David Bahnsen is asking the more relevant question. What would happen to our investment value if Chevron got out of the oil business?

Editorial Thursday	05/11/23	12:01:02 AM	So the Navy's decision to double down on woke signals one of two things: Either leaders are so buried in the Beltway Bubble they don't realize how unpopular the woke agenda is with regular Americans. Or there's an actual strategy to recruit only from one side of the political spectrum. Or: Perhaps both these things are true.

Editorial Wednesday	06/14/23	3:52:16 PM	Opinions vary on the legalities of President Trump's handling of classified documents surrounding his recent indictment. Federal Judge Aileen Cannon and a jury will sort through the charges, but most concerning is the unequal application of prosecutorial discretion in the dogged pursuit of President Trump. Hillary Clinton and Joe Biden both have had serious issues with mishandling classified documents and related legal violations—yet Trump is the only one so far being prosecuted.

Editorial Thursday	06/15/23	2:27:56 PM	Licht had implemented a strategy designed to return CNN to the center and oriented toward hard-news reporting. It became clear, even before a devastating profile in The Atlantic, that Licht never got his organization to buy into his strategy. His decision to air a town hall event with Donald Trump as a Republican presidential candidate provoked a rebellion among the staff. That—along with the lack of ratings—doomed Licht.

Editorial Monday	06/19/23	12:57:17 AM	The federal indictment of Donald Trump has prompted anger over the double standard employed by the Department of Justice. Trump followers see this as an extension of nearly seven years of politicized prosecutions, starting with the two-year Russia collusion hoax. The federal indictment of a political rival to a sitting president is not just unprecedented, but portends an endless cycle of vendettas in the years ahead.
