AG DAY

MONDAY THRU FRIDAY

5:30 - 6:00 AM

The top story is that this week should bring a break in the recent cold weather pattern across the middle of the country, improving soil conditions. Meanwhile, drought still plagues cattle ranchers who are tight on cattle feed due to a lack of grazing feed. Thousands of dollars worth of Palm Trees & other plants die to the intense winter cold last week - the tropical plants could not survive the cold temps.

AG DAY MONDAY THRU FRIDAY 5:30 - 6:00 AM

The 12 Nation Pacific Trade Union has finally agreed on a way to eliminate some tariffs on trading between nations. Japan worries that any agreements would still be picked apart by USA'S Congress, and that nothing will become solid until after the midterm elections. The USDA released its cattle on feed report, a total of 10.9 million a head. Last week temperatures warmed up and many in the cornbelt have started planting.

AG DAY MONDAY THRU FRIDAY 5:30 - 6:00 AM

The 2012 census data of Agriculture has finally been completed. The results show that the amount of farms and land is stable. 30% are female operators & 28% are new farmers. The age breakdown shows increases in the younger age groups and very old age groups, meaning youth and old alike are getting more involved in farming. The lack of water in California is affecting much of the crops here.

AG DAY MONDAY THRU FRIDAY 5:30 - 6:00 AM

Cattle on feed has been decreasing slowly but steadily. Ranch lands have been assessed as increasing in value, lowering feed cost is in part attributable to increasing profit margins. Meat prices have risen 3% in just one month, the second highest in three decades. Droughts that affected cattle farm populations are in part a direct cause.

AG DAY

MONDAY THRU FRIDAY

5:30 - 6:00 AM

Young Americans are continuing to return to small rural communities in order to run historical family farms. The federal government is relying on seed banks to preserve crops as food sources into the future. Pests like the emerald Ash Borer are cited as capable of wiping out multiple crops entirely. Farming techniques are now also being taught to urban elementary school children, partially as a means of broadening their horizons.

AG DAY MONDAY THRU FRIDAY 5:30 - 6:00 AM

Russia has banned the import of American-produced pork. Despite claiming health concerns in wake of recent pig farm disease outbreak, the ban still creates friction between the two nations. A scientist has almost finished working a vaccine for the new disease that has ravaged pig farms nationally. Forecasts predict that American exports will see an increase of over 25% over last year.

Different areas receiving too much or too little rain has created a lopsided and problematic crop season nationwide.
