GLENS FALLS ANNOUNCES CHAMPIONSHIP PARADE ^{3/27/24}

Blogs HomeMore Posts

Posted by Rick Harrington at Wednesday, March 20, 2024 at 4:01 PM

The Glens Falls School District announces a parade to honor the district's State Champions over the past Winter Sports season.

The "City of Champions" parade will honor the Boys Basketball team, who won the Class A State Championship after beating Section 5's Wayne this past Saturday at the Cool Insuring Arena; the Adirondack United Girls Hockey team, who won the State Regional Championship title last month out in Utica, and Piper Dock, who claimed the Alpine Ski championship.

The Parade will step off at 5:00pm from Glens Falls High School, traveling down Sherman Street to the intersection of Glen Street next to the Stewart's Shops. Then the parade will proceed down Glen Street on down through Downtown to Centennial Circle, exiting on Ridge Street to travel past City Hall and come to an end on Maple Street at City Park.

Expect heavier traffic with those wanting to honor the city's State Champions through the city streets, and through traffic trying to make their way through the City of Glens Falls during the parade time on Glen Street, Ridge Street and Warren Street.

Subject: TONIGHT, 500 expected at Capital Region Heart Ball
Attachments: TONIGHT, 500 celebrate Heart Association Centennial at Heart Ball.docx

Good morning!

At tonight's Capital Region Heart Ball, the first event of our Centennial year, we will welcome a little more than 500 guests, to celebrate our healthy food drive; honor survivor Kyle Wessels of Troy; award the Donald Led Duke Heart Hero Award to Dr. Mandeep Sidhu of Albany Medical Center and Broadview Federal Credit Union; and celebrate our Leaders of Impact, three people who raised a little more than $41,000 for the heart Association.

We'll be at the Albany Capital Center, 55 Eagle St., Albany, from 6 to 10 p.m., with cocktail hour from 6 to 7 p.m., and the program and dinner from 7 to 10 p.m.

I've attached a media advisory and pasted it below my signature.

I hope you can cover this!

Thank you,

Kathy

MORE: Half of Capital Region residents face nutrition insecurity, the inability to reliably obtain healthy food. As part of their Heart Ball campaign, Brian O'Grady of CDPHP, along with executive leadership team members of the Heart Ball CDTA and National Grid, conducted Healthy Food Drives in January, to replenish the stores of the Regional Food Bank after the holidays. Together, they collected 3,000 pounds of healthy food. Funds raised at the Capital Region Heart Ball will continue to support the American Heart Association's funding of research and programs that reduce health disparities in the Capital Region and beyond.

About the Capital Region Heart Ball

Albany Broadcasting Wear Red Day interview

Thursday, Feb. 1

6 Johnson Road, Cohoes

7:45 a.m. B 95.5 with Chad and Meredith

8 a.m. Fly 92.3 with Jake and Libby

8:15 a.m. Magic 100.5 with Candace

Interviewee: Dr. Suzie Mookherjee, cardiologist, Albany Medical Center, a member of the Albany Med Health System; member, board of directors, American Heart Association in the Capital Region

Topic: Wear Red Day and women's heart health

- Friday, Feb. 2 is National Wear Red Day
 - It's a day to raise awareness that cardiovascular diseases are a woman's No. 1 health threat
 - Nationwide, people wear red to show that they stand with the American Heart Association in the fight against cardiovascular disease in women.
- Many companies illuminate their buildings red too.
 - What is Go Red for Women?
 - Go Red for Women is the American Heart Association's movement that brings women together to improve their heart and brain health
 - 2024 marks the 20th anniversary of the Go Red for Women movement (and it's the 100th anniversary of the American Heart Association)
 - Go Red for Women advances equitable research and care, advocates for inclusive health policies, and raises awareness.
 - About heart disease in women:
 - Cardiovascular disease is the leading cause of death in women, claiming more lives than all cancers combined.
 - Nearly 45% of women over age 20 are living with some form of cardiovascular disease.
 - Only 44% of women are aware that cardiovascular disease is the leading cause of death.
 - Women are less likely than men to receive bystander CPR.
 - The American Heart Association is trying to build a nation of lifesavers, teaching as many people as possible Hands-Only CPR.
 - Hands-only CPR is easy to learn: Call 911, send someone for a defibrillator, then push hard and fast in the center of the chest
 - The Good Samaritan law protects people from being sued for performing Hands-Only CPR.
 - Cardiovascular disease is the leading cause of maternal death in the U.S.
 - Women are more likely to be diagnosed with depression and our workloads have increased over the years.
 - Women are underrepresented in research studies.

What is Go Red doing about that?

- We're raising awareness, through events like Wear Red Day and the Go Red for Women Luncheon, and through media and social media.
 - Did you know that women's symptoms of heart disease can be different than men's?
 - In addition to the crushing pain in the middle of the chest, women can also have:
 - Shortness of breath
 - Gastrointestinal distress
 - Shoulder pain
 - Extreme fatigue – more than women usually feel
 - Much of heart disease in women is preventable, with healthy lifestyle
 - Eat lean proteins, fruits and vegetables
 - Exercise 150 minutes per week
 - Keep your blood pressure below 120/80
 - Talk to your doctor to keep your cholesterol and blood sugar levels in a healthy range
- We're funding more research projects about women, and by women.
- We advocate for better treatment to reduce disparities
 - Last year, we were instrumental in getting New York state to expand Medicaid coverage for postpartum care to 12 months, making the time after giving birth safer for all women

Today, Go Red for Women is in 50 countries.

Join us by wearing red on Friday, Feb. 2. Share your photos with the hashtag #WearRed Day and tag us @AHANewYork on Facebook, Instagram and Twitter.

“My father and I share a love for all things Philly and PrimoHoagies enabled us to transform this passion into our next entrepreneurial endeavor,” said Krish Patel. “We are thrilled to bring the beloved Philadelphia staple to the Latham community, marking the beginning of an exciting journey.”

The PrimoHoagies menu features cold and hot hoagies, cheesesteaks, wraps, vegetarian options, sides, chips, drinks, cookies, desserts, and more. The eatery also offers catering. You can view the Latham menu on the PrimoHoagies website.

Capital Region Valentine’s Day restaurant specials

The 2,000-square-foot store is set to have about 12 employees, dine-in seating, takeout and delivery options. The Latham location will be open from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. daily.

“We are beyond excited to introduce the authentic flavors of PrimoHoagies to the vibrant community of Latham,” said Nicholas Papanier Jr., CEO of PrimoHoagies. “As we unveil our first location in the Capital Region, we can’t wait to share the unique Primo experience with our new customers. This marks just the beginning of our journey in New York, and we eagerly anticipate becoming a beloved hoagie destination.”

Subject: 2024 Ronald McDonald House Radiothon

How fitting that on National DJ day our staff finished off another amazing Ronald McDonald House Radiothon? With a current total of $145,924 raised - equalling 1216 nights for families at Ronald McDonald House. (expect the final number to increase based on online tally coming in after we ended Saturday).

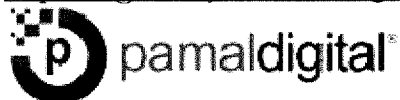

This speaks volumes to the on air personalities and LOCAL radio – who told the stories of the families that use the Ronald McDonald House and Family Room – with compassion and caring. Who worked with sponsors to execute on air elements – because they knew them – from past radiothons and/or from being in the community, offered up challenges to raise money (Think Andrea in a Buffalo Bills jersey) and to those behind the scenes who tied in sponsors, organized grids of scheduling and making sure everything sounded great on air.

This was because of relationships – with the staff and families at the house, with clients and sponsors – and your listeners!

Everyone played a role – and know how thankful the house and the families are.

Thank you for making yet another difference in the community where we live and work!

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Amsterdam's 6th Annual SoupFest Sponsored by Kinowski Agency, Inc. Insurance

Amsterdam, NY: The City of Amsterdam and the Amsterdam Tourism, Marketing & Recreation Department present our 6th Annual SoupFest sponsored by Kinowski Agency, Inc. Insurance on Saturday, January 13th from 12-5pm. Restaurants and bars throughout the city will provide over 30 different soups to sample. Food and drink specials, giveaways, live music and more will take place throughout the day.

"I can think of no better way to spend a cold January day in Amsterdam than heading out with family and friends to sample some of this City's most delicious hot soups, prepared by a bunch of our city's very best eateries! You don't want to miss out on this slurp-filled Saturday of fun!" said Mayor Mike Cinquanti.

Participants will pay $1 for 3oz soup samples at each location and vote on-line for their favorite soup. The city will award trophies for the Most Unique Soup in the City and the Best Soup in the City. The Soup Guide will be available online and can also be picked up at any participating locations. The guide will include a list of all the soups, entertainment, and specials.

"We are beyond excited to work with the City of Amsterdam and be the first ever sponsor of SoupFest. The City of Amsterdam Tourism Marketing & Recreation Dept. does a fantastic job of putting together events throughout the year and uniting the people of Amsterdam and surrounding areas. The Kinowski Agency, Inc. wishes to continue to be an integral part of the local area. We believe that investing in community events such as SoupFest and Healthy Living Series is an investment in this greater good of Amsterdam. Phil — a feline owned by Daniel and Jen Chessare, proprietors of Broadway Deli in Saratoga Springs — has been catnapped four times in the past year, now his owners are urging the public to stop.

SARATOGA SPRINGS — Just because a cat outside is friendly, does not mean it is looking to be taken home.

CHESSAREY

Phil — a feline owned by Daniel and Jen Chessare, proprietors of Broadway Deli in Saratoga Springs — has been catnapped four times in the past year. The Chessares want the cat burglars to stop.

A post on the Saratoga's Broadway Deli Facebook page about the recent catnappings has received nearly 200 reactions, and has received 20 comments from supporters of Phil echoing the call for Phil to be left alone.

Daniel Chessare said he has another cat who also goes outside, but she has never been taken.

The couple says Phil has a happy life as an indoor/outdoor cat.

"They just can't mind their business," said Daniel Chessare. "Literally, we looked out into the backyard the other day, and there's just a woman walking across our backyard holding out cat. When my wife opened up the door and was like, 'Hello, what are you doing with our cat?' The woman was like, 'Oh, he was just sitting in the woods, and he was cold.'"

Phil wears a collar which has a tag with the Chessares' phone number on it. Chessare said, in this latest theft-attempt, the woman did not even try to call the number on his tag, she just came into the backyard and tried to walk away with Phil.

"We had another woman, we had one of those safety collars, it must have fallen off and she scooped him up," Chessare said. "But, everyone in the neighborhood knows who this cat is."

In another previous theft, someone posted about finding a missing cat on Nextdoor, a hyperlocal social networking app and website which connects neighbors. Chessare said that a number of people told the woman posting that the cat she found was Phil, and the he belongs to the Chessares. When the woman said she did not believe the cat she found was Phil, she decided to give the cat away to someone who lived in Schenectady.

"Luckily, we were able to get him back from that person in Schenectady," Chessare said. "On a third occasion, Jen [Chessare] came home just as another woman was grabbing the cat. The woman said she saw him walking down the street and lured him over with some food to see if he was OK. Jen told her Phil is an outdoor cat, and he was fine."

Phil's tag also tells would-be catnappers that he is an outdoor cat. The couple has only had Phil for about a year, Daniel Chessare said. Phil was rescued from a shelter after he had been found on the side of the road with his dead mother. When he was adopted, Phil was strictly an indoor cat, but he really liked being outside, Chessare said.

"We got him all of his shots and everything, so he can go indoor and outdoors," Chessare said. "Ever since we started doing that, people have been trying to kidnap him. He doesn't look malnourished, or mangy. He looks like a perfectly normal cat. He's just super friendly."

Phil would not respond well if he had to stay inside all the time, Chessare said. Using an AirTag — a tracking device developed by Apple — or getting a cat collar with a camera on it are two possible next steps to try and keep Phil safe, Chessare said.

"We had to track this woman in Schenectady to get our cat back," Chessare said. "And the woman who gave it to her was like, 'Oh, can't you just let her keep him overnight?' Like no, we're not letting some stranger keep our cat overnight ... Then this woman kept texting us telling us to text her a picture letting her know we got Phil back OK. She was asking for updates."

People should be able to tell when a cat is homeless or is not taken care of, Chessare said. A homeless cat would appear mangy or emaciated and if it has a collar and a tag it probably has a home, he said.

"I get that some people might think that the cat escaped, and that's fine, just call the number on the tag," Chessare said. "Don't immediately bring him to the shelter, there's a phone number on him. I think some people believe too strongly in the cat distribution system — just because you see a cat, it doesn't make it your cat now."

The cat distribution system is an internet trend popular on TikTok and Instagram, which describes how cats randomly come into people's homes and lives. The cat distribution system suggests that when a cat comes into a person's life, it is choosing to adopt them, and not the other way around.

"I really do want to put a camera on him, just so I can start recording these people," Chessare said, "but then I am kind of worried because my cat is so friendly that he'll run up to somebody and they'll just take the camera off the cat."
