

	The following is a list of the most significant programs broadcast by this station during the past quarter in response to community issues.
	KRNN Quarterly Issues/Programs List	2022 Q4
	Issue	Program	Date	Time	Length	Description
1	Loss of fundamental rights to healthcare	Soundings	10/27/2022	10:01	3:30	Morning newscast reports coverage of the Alaska US Senate candidates debate in which they shared their views on abortion rights
2	Environmental damage caused by climate change	Soundings	11/29/2022	10:01	3:30	Alaska morning news story covers Southeast Alaska tribes' plans for federal funding to address the regional effects climate change
3	Viability of local economy	Soundings	12/8/2022	10:01	3:30	Alaska morning news story reports the threat to local regional grocery chains as a result of the merger of Kroger-Alverton's merger in 2024
4	Food insecurity	Folk Alley	11/16/2022	9:59	:29	Public Service Announcement promoting upcoming food drive in Southeast Alaska
5	Indigenous dispossession of land	Reclaimed	12/7/2022	16:00	59:00	Indigenous artists express their deep connection to homelands through music and commentary
6	Destruction of Indigenous communication networks	Reclaimed	12/14/2022	16:00	59:00	The many and varied traditional ways of communication across long distances among Indigenous peoples are recognized in song form
7	Oppression of Indigenous culture and customs	Reclaimed	12/21/2022	4:00 PM	59:00	Solstice, Christmas, and winter holidays around the globe are celebrated through an hour of diverse traditional and contemporary music by Indigenous artists
8	Marginalization of Native Americans in the entertainment industry	Indigenous in Music	11/28/2022	4:00 PM	59:00	Artist Andrew Saltz talks about receiving the Native American Music Award for his contributions to the Native American music industry
9	Institutional racism experienced by Aboriginal musicians	Indigenous in Music	11/1/22	4:00 PM	59:00	Aboriginal funk rock musician Joyslam shares his experiences as a solo artist in the industry
10	Underrepresentation of women and people of color in the arts	Indigenous in Music	10/3/22	4:00 PM	59:00	Interview with Oglala Lakota Sioux and African American writer and singer Shon Denay elevates her voice and music