10NEWS COMMUNITY ISSUES, FOURTH QUARTER 2016

ISSUE ADDRESSED	NEWS PROGRAM TITLE	DATE	TIME	LENGTH	SEGMENT TITLE	SEGMENT DESCRIPTION
Consumer Issues	10News This Morning	10/9/2016	8:20:35 AM	2:05	Car Problems	A Call 6 investigation reveals private sellers often not disclose a car's hidden problems to potential buyers, including open recalls, prior crashes, as well as branded titles such as "rebuilt" and "not actual mileage." While some car owners may deliberately hide the information, others simply don't know about a car's defects and therefore do not reveal that information in their ads or in person. The practice of not disclosing a car's problems can be perfectly legal for an individual seller, but can cost you the consumer money and even put you and your family in danger. About a third of all used car sales these days are done through private sellers, or peer-to-peer, using Craigslist and other forums, according to Chris Basso, public relations manager at Carfax. For many people, buying a car on Craigslist can be less intimidating than buying from a car salesman at a dealership, and it can be a great deal. "People want to try to save money," said Fishers attorney Robert Duff, of the Indiana Consumer Law Group. "But every single day, I get complaints about used cars." Unlike licensed car dealerships, Craigslist and other sites are typically unregulated. "People can put anything online that they want to sell, and no one's really checking up on what that individual is representing," said Basso. Basso said safety recalls, prior wrecks, and branded titles can reduce a car's value, giving sellers an incentive not to disclose those issues.

"So you put all that together and it sort of spits out a grade to tell you whether the review is authentic or not." EXPERTS SAY YOU CAN ALSO ELIMINATE MANY PAID REVIEWS BY CHANGING THE REVIEW FILTERS FROM THE DEFAULT SETTING TO THE MOST RECENT.

	10News Midday	11/29/2016	11:28:58 AM 2:40		Home Prices Rise	Southern California home prices jumped last month, but sales flat-lined in a region where home ownership is increasingly out of reach for the middle class. The six-county region's median price rose 6.9% from a year earlier to $465,000 in October, real estate firm CoreLogic said Tuesday. Sales inched up 0.3%.Prices in Southern California and across the nation have risen steadily in recent years -- a result of an improving economy, rock-bottom mortgage rates and a shortage of homes for sale. The price surge has locked many first-time buyers out of the market. But it's been a boon to owners, many of whom regained equity after being underwater on their mortgages following the Great Recession crash.

Pot is legal here, yet not fully welcomed by the banking industry. But there is money to be made in marijuana. "This year we'll do about 18 million dollars in business." (2-shot Steve & Andy in marijuana grow room)Medicine Man is not just a dispensary, it's a grow house. There are rows and rows with dozens of strains. Everything from Kool Aid Kush to Cookies and Cream. They sell hybrids, edibles, clones, and drinks. Marijuana is a 1 Billion dollar industry in Colorado generating over 135 million dollars in revenue last year. Business is good, and growth has been tremendous since marijuana advanced from just medical to recreational.Andy Williams "We went from 100,000 patients to 1 million customers in Colorado. Even the Governor, who was firmly against the legalization of marijuana, has since softened his stance. Andrew

								Freedman is the state's Marijuana Czar. "I think he's been pleasantly surprised about how well it's worked out in the short term." And yet, there is still much work to be done. The 16th Street Mall in Denver, a mile and a quarter stretch of shops and restaurants in downtown, was said to be overrun with young homeless "twenty somethings" who traveled here from all over the United States just for the legal pot. Denver police now assign an officer to each block paid for by the taxpayers and the business district. "State officials say it is still to early to draw any conclusions about the effects of legal marijuana here in Colorado, but here are some of the basics. Marijuana Arrests are down...But marijuana related driving deaths are up.

BUT CALIFORNIANS MAY NOT BE THE ONLY ONES GETTING HIGH. AFTER A TRIP TO COLORADO, WHERE POT HAS BEEN LEGAL SINCE 2012, WE ALSO FOUND THE COST FOR HOUSING IS ALSO RISING. There are people in town renting out their houses for pretty much double rent. A house that might rent for $2,000 a month will go for $4,000 a month and allow a grow. The Genesis II Church of Health & Healing claims that their sacrament, Miracle Mineral Solution (MMS), can cure most diseases known to mankind, from breast cancer to autism. The investigative team goes undercover to see the "miracle cure" pitch, and ABC News Chief Investigative Correspondent Brian Ross tracks down the church leaders responsible for making those claims.

FINDING OWEN: A BOY'S STORY

Owen Suskind is a young man with autism featured in the recent documentary "Life, Animated." In 1994, when Owen was almost three years old he started to withdraw and eventually stopped speaking. Not much was commonly known about autism, and Owen's parents, Ron and Cornelia, took him to a specialist who diagnosed him. Despite full time intensive speech and language therapy, Owen remained silent and the only activity that comforted him was watching Disney animated movies. Then a few years later there was an astonishing breakthrough: on his older brother's 9th birthday Owen told his parents, "Walter doesn't wanna grow up like Mowgli or Peter Pan." After barely speaking for years Owen put together a complex and insightful sentence, and it was at that moment Ron and Cornelia realized Owen understood the world through animated movies. Now understanding the key to communicating with Owen, his verbal skills began to improve and eventually led to him moving out, having a girlfriend, going on job interviews and more. ABC News correspondent Deborah Roberts' reports.
