12 On Your Side

12 On Your Side is one of the flagship franchises of NBC12. Every year, thousands of people avail themselves of the services of the Call 12 volunteers for help in answering questions and solving problems. Many of those stories are profiled on 12 On Your Side segments. While there are not solutions for everything, the information provided on the problems and the solutions can affect all viewers.

12 On Your Side Alerts

12 On Your Side looks at possible scams that could be taking advantage of consumers.

12 About Town

A feature highlighting some of the events happening around the area.

Acts of Kindness

Every Tuesday at 5, NBC12 gives $300 to someone who wants to pay it forward to help someone or some group in need. The rules are: it can't be a relative and you have to pass it on within one hour. Sabrina Squire reports on the people who call in, and the people they help.

Call 12

Call 12 volunteers are on location at the WWBT studios manning the phones weekdays from 11AM-1PM. When the need arises, special Call 12 segments are aired to help distribute information and answer questions on particular subjects. The hotlines are opened from 5:00-6:30PM with experts in each individual subject manning the phones.

All-New "Unthinkable – The Menendez Murders" airs Friday, November 17 at 9 p.m. ET

"Dateline NBC" will air a special two-hour episode on the Menendez brothers, who were convicted more than two decades ago of murdering their parents in Beverly Hills. During an interview with NBC's Keith Morrison, the older brother, Lyle Menendez, argues from behind bars that despite admitting to the brutal shotgun killing of his parents, he believes he should have received a plea deal. Lyle tells him, "There are, like, two to three hundred parricide cases a year, where a parent is killed by a child. And they are almost all related to abuse. And they are almost all settled. This case, they picked out as different." He added, "And I think that it was very easy, because it was Beverly Hills, and my father had a lot of money, to sort of sell this headline that these brothers killed for money."

“Finding Sarah Goode” airs Friday, November 24 at 9 p.m. ET/10 p.m. CT

When the youngest sister of a large, tight-knit family on Long Island goes missing, they go to extraordinary lengths to find her. Andrea Canning reports.

“Under The Prairie” airs Sunday, December 31 at 7 p.m. ET

When a mother of three mysteriously disappears, the only clue is her abandoned vehicle on a lonely Montana highway. Josh Mankiewicz reports.

2017 4th QUARTER MEET THE PRESS TOPICS AIRS SUNDAYS AT 10:00AM

OCT. 1, 2017 – This morning in a live interview on “Meet the Press,” Treasury Secretary Steve Mnuchin defended the government’s response to the crisis in Puerto Rico as well as President Trump’s tweets about the island and the mayor of San Juan, telling moderator Chuck Todd: “When the president gets attacked, he attacks back, and I think the mayor’s comments were unfair given what the federal government has done.”

Mnuchin also told Todd that the administration’s tax reform proposal’s “objective is not to give an income tax cut to the wealthy.” “With our plan, we actually pay down the deficit by $1 trillion,” he added.

“The American public deserved to know how their money is being spent,” commented Mnuchin on Health and Human Services Sec. Tom Price’s resignation after the use of government-funded private jet travel. When asked if he regrets his own government aircraft requests, Mnuchin said, “I don’t.”

Sen. Bob Corker (R-Tenn.), chair of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, exclusively spoke with Todd about North Korea: “Tillerson understands that every intelligence agency we have says there's no amount of economic pressure you can put on North Korea to get them to stop this program because they view this as their survival.”

“If we don't ramp up the diplomatic side, it's possible that we end up cornered,” he added.

On the administration’s tax reform proposal, Corker shared: “If it looks like to me, Chuck, we're adding one penny to the deficit, I am not going to be for it.” The senator also stood by his criticism of the president following the Charlottesville rally violence, telling Todd that he and the president “spent five minutes on this topic” when they met last week.

Ta-Nehisi Coates, author of “We Were Eight Years in Power,” discussed his book, telling Todd that he “would argue that white supremacy is an indispensable factor” to the Trump presidency.

The New York Times’ David Brooks, AEI’s Danielle Pletka, MSNBC’s Joy Reid and author Charlie Sykes analyzed the week in politics on the roundtable, including the president’s tweets on Puerto Rico.

OCT. 8, 2017 – Budget chief Mick Mulvaney told “Meet the Press” moderator Chuck Todd this morning that Senate Republicans’ takeaway from President Trump’s health care call with Senate Minority Leader Chuck Schumer (D-N.Y) should be to “keep your promises. You promised to repeal and replace. Do it.”

“If the question is: Is the president interested in working with Democrats to repeal and replace? That would be our language, the answer is yes,” said Mulvaney. “The Democrats may use a different word for that.” The OMB director also addressed the use of government planes to fly from Washington to New York, telling Todd: “You're not going to see it again.”

Senator Dianne Feinstein (D-Calif.) also joined the program, hinting to Todd that when it comes to a possible re-election run, she’s “ready for a good fight.” She commented on this past week’s Las Vegas shooting: “America is a gun-happy country, and I think there are many of us in growing numbers that don't want a gun-happy country. ... I have seen over the decades is a growth of substantial improper use of weapons.” In an interview excerpt released ahead of air, Feinstein also addressed possible campaign contributions from Hollywood mogul Harvey Weinstein, who is accused of sexual harassment: ““I don't know that I've received any. I'll certainly take a look, and then I'll make a decision. ... That’s the best I can do for you today.”

Todd also spoke with House Majority Whip Steve Scalise (R-La.) for his first Sunday interview since the Las Vegas shooting. In an interview excerpt released on MSNBC's "MTP Daily" Thursday, Scalise reacted to possible "bump stock" legislation: "A week ago ... most people didn't know what a bump stock was. So to think that we're now all experts and know how to write some, you know, panacea law, it's fallacy. Let's focus on the facts." He also addressed the administration's tax reform plan: "All the rates are going to go down. The death tax will be completely repealed." Additional excerpts released ahead of air include the representative on Hurricane Nate, on tax reform at the ballot, Trump's deal with the Democrats and a possible purging of GOP lawmakers unsupportive of the administration.

NBC News' Carol Lee and Kristen Welker, MSNBC's Hugh Hewitt and The Washington Post's Eugene Robinson joined the show's roundtable, where Welker broke the news that Bannon is planning a "full-on assault on the Republican establishment" beginning this week, targeting all incumbents except for Sen. Ted Cruz (R-Texas) in batches of three.

OCT. 15, 2017 – UN Ambassador Nikki Haley addressed the Iran nuclear deal this morning, telling "Meet the Press" moderator Chuck Todd that "right now, you're going to see us stay in the deal" and "the whole reason we're looking at this Iran agreement is because of North Korea ... What we're saying now with Iran is don't let it become the next North Korea."

Haley also spoke about the palace intrigue surrounding the White House: "I am glad to be living in New York ... I don't want to be near the drama and I don't want to be near the gossip." She added that President Trump has full confidence in Secretary of State Tillerson and that "if there's a problem, that's really a question for Secretary Tillerson. That's not anything for the rest of us to answer."

Ohio Gov. John Kasich, who exclusively joined the broadcast this morning, told Todd that the Trump administration's Friday announcement to end health care subsidies is "outrageous": "These were payments to insurance companies to make sure that hardworking Americans, who don't make a lot of money, can have their copayments taken care of. It's a subsidy to do that."

The governor also didn't rule out running for president in 2020: "I don't know what I'm going to do tomorrow. You know, I will tell you this. The other day, with all the chaos going on, my wife said to me one morning, she said, "You know, John, I wish you were president." That's how I knew the country was in trouble."

The Washington Post's Dan Balz, NBC News' Kasie Hunt, Demos' Heather McGhee and The Wall Street Journal's Kimberley Strassel joined the program this morning for insight and analysis, including conversations on Congress' relationship with the White House and if Hollywood will change its culture because of the Weinstein accusations.

OCT. 22, 2017 – In an exclusive interview this morning on "Meet the Press," Sen. Lindsey Graham (R-S.C.) told moderator Chuck Todd that he "got a little insight" on why the fallen four American soldiers were in Niger: "I can say this to the families: they were there to defend America. They were there to help allies. They were there to prevent another platform to attack America and our allies."

"We don't know exactly where we're at in the world militarily and what we're doing. So John McCain is going to try to create a new system to make sure that we can answer the question why were we there, we'll know how many soldiers are there, and if somebody gets killed there, that we won't find out about it in the paper," the senator continued.

Graham also addressed the administration not implementing Russian sanctions: "The Trump administration is slow when it comes to Russia. They have a blind spot on Russia I still can't figure out. But I can tell you what happened in '16."

Senate Minority Leader Chuck Schumer (D-N.Y.) also exclusively joined the broadcast, echoing Graham: “No, I did not” know that we had a thousand troops in Niger. He spoke on the health care deal in Congress right now, telling Todd: “This is a good compromise. It took months to work out. It has a majority. It has 60 senators supporting it. We have all 48 Democrats, 12 Republicans. I would urge Senator McConnell to put it on the floor immediately, this week. It will pass and it will pass by a large number of votes.”

Schumer also criticized President Trump: “This presidency doesn't get anything done. All he does is spend his time tweeting and degrading his so-called enemies. That doesn't work and demeans the presidency.”

In the wake of the Harvey Weinstein allegations, “Meet the Press” reached out to every female U.S. senator, asking if any had #MeToo stories they were comfortable sharing with our viewers. Senators Claire McCaskill (D-Mo.), Mazie Hirono (D-Hawaii), Elizabeth Warren (D-Mass.), and Heidi Heitkamp (D-N.D.) shared their stories – a powerful example of the prevalence of sexual harassment. Watch them share their experiences.

Robert Costa of The Washington Post, Helene Cooper and Tom Friedman of The New York Times, and Danielle Pletka of the American Enterprise Institute joined this morning's roundtable for insight and analysis, including a discussion on the week's civility.

OCTOBER 29, 2017 – In an exclusive live interview, Sen. Rob Portman (R-Ohio) told “Meet the Press” moderator Chuck Todd that President Trump's comments on the Russia investigation this week were “too defensive.”

“I hope Congress will encourage that the Senate Intelligence Committee ... complete their work,” said Portman. “And that we support this investigation that the Department of Justice has now appointed this special prosecutor. Let's let him get to the bottom of it.”

He also addressed the factions inside the Republican Party right now, telling Todd: “I don't think it's new,” as well as how the tax reform proposal will “actually be reducing the deficit”.

Sen. Claire McCaskill (D-Mo.) also exclusively joined the broadcast, and she addressed what she has in common with the president: “We have enough in common that he signed a number of my bills into law already. ... We certainly agree on infrastructure.” She added: “I am anxious to work with him on those things. ... My job's not to fight him.” The Missouri senator also discussed leadership within the Democratic Party: “We have so many people that are trying to position themselves to run for president I think it's hard to say who is the leader.”

New NBC News/Wall Street Journal poll numbers released this morning on the broadcast reveal that the president's job approval rating is at 38 percent, his lowest since taking office and down five points since September.

After President Trump declared the nation's opioid crisis a “health emergency” earlier this week, Huntington, W.V. Fire Chief Jan Rader spoke with Todd about her daily battle against the epidemic: “It's been years since we had a day where we didn't have an overdose.” Rader's fight is chronicled in “Heroin(e),” a Netflix original film and an official selection of The Meet the Press Film Festival in Collaboration with the American Film Institute (AFI).

Republican strategist Al Cardenas, POLITICO's Eliana Johnson, MSNBC's Chris Matthews and The Cook Political Report's Amy Walter joined this morning's roundtable for analysis on the week in politics, including a discussion on the divide within the GOP.

NOVEMBER 5, 2017 – Sen. Mark Warner (D-Va.), vice chair of the Senate Intelligence Committee, told “Meet the Press” moderator Chuck Todd that George Papadopoulos, former Trump campaign adviser who pled guilty in Mueller’s Russia probe, “had been on our screen for a long time.”

Though he wouldn’t address if the committee has interviewed Papadopoulos, Warner told Todd that they have “actually interviewed literally a couple hundred individuals -- many times without actually even the knowledge of the press. We’ve worked with a lot of these individuals cooperatively. We’ve got more to do.”

On the Steele dossier, Warner shared: “I wish Mr. Steele would sit down and talk to our committee. We’ve reached out. He’s refused to do so, so far.”

NBC News exclusively reported this morning that federal investigators have gathered enough evidence to bring charges in their investigation of Michael Flynn, Trump’s former national security adviser, and his son Michael Flynn Jr. as part of the probe into Russia’s intervention in the 2016 election, according to multiple sources familiar with the investigation.

Sen. James Lankford (R-Okla.), who also serves on the Senate Intelligence Committee, told Todd that “we’re going to try to ask and find out” the role of Mike Flynn, Jr. in the Russia investigation. When asked about the cooperativeness of the Flynn’s, Lankford replied, “I’m going to leave that up to the chairman and vice chairman to be able to determine how cooperative they’ve been in coming in and out.”

The Oklahoma senator also said the House Republicans pushing for Mueller’s resignation are “not a threat at this point. Bob Mueller needs to be able to finish his investigation.”

In an exclusive sit-down, Tom Perez, chair of the National Democratic Committee, responded to former interim DNC Chair Donna Brazile’s new claim that that health concerns drove considerations to replace Hillary Clinton as the party’s nominee late in the campaign: “The charge that Hillary Clinton was somewhere incapacitated is quite frankly ludicrous.”

On if Brazile fell for Russian propaganda: “I don’t know what Donna Brazile fell for. But all I know is under the rules and bylaws of the Democratic National Committee, she couldn’t have done this. Hillary Clinton was anything but incapacitated,” said Perez.

“Meet the Press,” the longest-running show in television history turns 70 years old tomorrow, and in this morning’s special anniversary edition, Todd recounts the broadcast’s interviews with 12 presidents, 82 heads of states and hundreds of distinguished journalists.

The Washington Post’s Eugene Robinson, The Wall Street Journal’s Peggy Noonan and NBC News’ Tom Brokaw and Kasie Hunt joined the show’s roundtable and with a nod to the anniversary, a look back on their first appearances.

NOV. 12, 2017 -- In an exclusive interview, Sen. Pat Toomey (R-Pa.) told “Meet the Press” moderator Chuck Todd that Alabama Senate candidate Roy Moore should “just step aside” after The Washington Post outlined stories of Moore’s relationships with teenage girls while he was in his early 30s, including a woman who said Moore initiated a sexual encounter with her when she was 14.

“A write-in is something we should certainly explore,” the Pennsylvania senator said. “I think Luther Strange would be a strong candidate for a write-in.”

“When someone waits 40 years before they make an accusation, you know, that raises a question itself. So it’s probably not knowable. But there seems to be enough there that it’s very disturbing,” Toomey added.

White House Legislative Affairs Director Marc Short joined Todd live on set and addressed the Alabama Senate race: “The people in Alabama know Roy Moore better than we do here in D.C., and I think we have to be very cautious, as Senator Toomey said, of allegations that are 40 years old that arise a month before election day.”

On Moore, Short added: “If more evidence comes out that can prove that he did this, then sure, by all means he should be disqualified. But that’s a huge if, and I think we have to allow that more facts come out.” When asked if President Trump would insert himself into the Alabama Senate race, Short said: “He did insert himself. He supported Luther Strange in the primary against Roy Moore. People are forgetting that.”

Short also discussed Russia’s election interference: President Trump “believes that after a year of investigations of tens of millions of taxpayer dollars, there is zero evidence of any ballot being impacted by Russian interference.”

Sen. Amy Klobuchar (D-Minn.), the lead sponsor of a bill instituting mandatory sexual harassment training for senators and their aides, exclusively joined the broadcast and said that the expulsion process is “one way we could do it” if Moore is elected to the Senate. When asked by Todd what responsibility “Democrats have in this culture of victim shaming that became pretty prevalent in the ‘90s,” Klobuchar replied, “We have a major responsibility.”

Charlie Cook of The Cook Political Report, David Ignatius of The Washington Post, Elise Jordan of TIME and NBC News’ Kristen Welker joined the broadcast’s roundtable for insight, where Welker shared that Steve Bannon’s camp is likely going to pin the Moore accusations on the Republican establishment as a “hit job.”

NOVEMBER 19, 2017 – White House Budget Director Mick Mulvaney told “Meet the Press” guest moderator Andrea Mitchell that Alabama Senate Republican candidate Roy Moore’s accusers are “credible.” “I don’t know who to believe,” he added.

The budget chief also addressed the tax reform plan that passed the House this week and is now in debate in the Senate; when asked if President Trump would benefit from the tax cuts, Mulvaney replied: “I can’t speak to the president’s taxes. I think that was sort of litigated by the American public during the election. I will say this, listen, the president’s going to pay much higher taxes on a lot of his properties, excuse me, because he has properties in high tax states.”

Reps. Barbara Comstock (R-Va.) and Debbie Dingell (D-Mich.) joined the broadcast in an exclusive joint interview to discuss sexual harassment on Capitol Hill and in politics. Comstock, who was the first woman in the House to call for Moore to step aside, told Mitchell that she still hopes “he will do that and do the right thing ... For that matter, Al Franken can go hit the door with him.”

When asked by Mitchell if Sen. Gillibrand was wrong when she said that Clinton should have resigned during the Lewinsky scandal, Dingell replied, “I have a thousand thoughts on all this... we’ve got to focus on what the future is. Doing “got you” questions to people like us isn’t going to solve the problem. And we’ve got to start moving forward.”

On Moore, Sen. Roy Blunt (R-Mo.) exclusively said: “The women’s story was more credible than his response, that Alabama voters deserved a better choice. But they’re going to have to make that decision. They know Roy Moore a whole lot better than I do. I’ve met him once.” And in terms of President Trump’s accusers, the senator said, “Whatever they had to say, people heard that. And they elected President Trump the president of the United States. So at some point I think you have to let the voters have a say here.”

He also told Mitchell the tax reform bill will pass the Senate, and whether it’s with or without the repeal of the Obamacare individual mandate, “it depends on where the votes are.”

The Washington Post's Bob Costa, National Review's Rich Lowry, MSNBC's Joy Reid and The Cook Political Report's Amy Walter joined the program's roundtable for insight and analysis this morning, including a discussion on this defining moment in our culture on sexual harassment.

NOV. 26, 2017 – On “Meet the Press with Chuck Todd,” House Minority Leader Nancy Pelosi (D-Calif.) exclusively defended Rep. John Conyers (D-Mich.) following accusations of sexual harassment, saying the 27-term congressman is “an icon in our country” who “has done a great deal to protect women.”

When asked if she believes Conyers' accusers, Pelosi told moderator Chuck Todd: “I don't know who they are. Do you? They have not really come forward. That's for the Ethics Committee to review.”

Sen. Rob Portman (R-Ohio) told Todd that he would support retroactively making all of Capitol Hill's sexual harassment settlements public: “It's outrageous that taxpayers are asked to pay these settlements in the first place, and yeah, we should make transparent what has happened.”

On the Senate's ethics investigation into accusations against Sen. Al Franken (D-Minn.), Portman said: “We ought to get to all the facts just as in the case of John Conyers, as we talked about earlier, I hope we see action on that even this week.”

Anita Hill, who alleged in 1991 when Clarence Thomas was nominated to the Supreme Court that he had sexually harassed her years earlier when she worked for him in various government positions, exclusively joined the broadcast this morning. Hill – now a professor at Brandeis University – shared that “26 years ago, Washington wasn't ready to lead on this issue, and I'm afraid even today Washington cannot lead the country on this issue.” She added: “I can't say that I was entirely surprised with the “Me Too” allegations and the stories that came out of “Me Too,” but I am just shocked that if we cannot look at those now and see that we have a widespread problem in this country.”

The Washington Post's Michael Gerson, MSNBC's Hugh Hewitt, Demos' Heather McGhee and NBC News' Katy Tur joined the “Meet the Press” roundtable this morning for insight and analysis, including a discussion on sexual harassment, in which Tur notes: “We have a very different set of standards – very clearly – for everybody else and for politicians.”

DECEMBER 3, 2017 – In an exclusive live interview, Sen. Dianne Feinstein (D-Calif.) tells “Meet the Press” moderator Chuck Todd that “what we're beginning to see is the putting together of a case of obstruction of justice.”

“We see this in the indictments, the four indictments and pleas that have just taken place, and some of the comments that are being made. I see it in the hyper-frenetic attitude of the White House: the comments every day, the continual tweets. And I see it, most importantly, in what happened with the firing of Director Comey and it is my belief that that is directly because he did not agree to lift the cloud of the Russia investigation. That's obstruction of justice,” shares Feinstein.

On the Trump White House, the California senator notes: “The concern rises with the day. ... There is a kind of instability, unpredictability. It's one issue after the other.”

Mueller is “making progress,” said Sen. Susan Collins (R-Maine) exclusively to Todd. “What we do know is there were conversations during the transition period. During the transition period there's still only one president and that was President Obama, so those conversations should not have confirmed, should not have been taking place.”

“The president should have no comment whatsoever on either of these investigations. And the only thing that he should be doing is directing all of his staff and associates to fully cooperate,” said Collins.

Corey Lewandowski, former Trump campaign manager, and David Bossie, deputy campaign manager to Trump for the general election, joined Todd live on set exclusively to discuss their new book, "Let Trump Be Trump." Todd asked both if Flynn references in the book were scrubbed out, noting "there are exactly two." "He didn't even make acknowledgements. And you listed every other person in the campaign in the acknowledgement," said Todd.

On the Access Hollywood tape, Bossie says "it's clear that it is" Trump on the tape.

Eddie Glaude, Jr. of Princeton University, historian Doris Kearns Goodwin, GOP strategist Mike Murphy and Danielle Pletka of the American Enterprise Institute joined this morning's "Meet the Press" roundtable to discuss the week in politics, including the future of the Russia investigation. On Trump, Goodwin asked, "How can he be happy? The administration has been under a shadow from the beginning."

DECEMBER 10, 2017 – In an exclusive interview with "Meet the Press" moderator Chuck Todd, Sen. Bernie Sanders (I-Vt.) addressed calls from Tom Steyer and House members to impeach President Trump, telling Todd: "I don't think we're there right now. That's what the Mueller investigation is all about."

"I think there is a process that has to be followed. I think Mr. Mueller is doing a very good job on his investigation. And if Mueller brings forth the clear evidence that there was collusion between the Trump campaign and the Russians, I think you have grounds for impeachment," the senator said. "But I think jumping the gun does nobody any good"

Sen. Tim Scott (R-S.C.), who also exclusively joined the broadcast, said that if Republican candidate Roy Moore wins the Alabama Senate race this Tuesday, "there will immediately be an ethics investigation." He added: "As far as I can tell, the allegations are significantly stronger than the denial. And I'm going to let my decision be made by the breadth of information and evidence that I'm able to review during that process."

The senator told Todd that "the allegations or the accusations against the president were a part of the campaign. So most Americans, if not all Americans who voted, had the information before the election. So for us to try to re-litigate the election is impossible."

Todd visited Alabama this week to talk with voters about the state's Senate race between Moore and Democratic candidate Doug Jones, which one voter said "will be really freaking close."

In an exclusive, on-set interview, Rep. Jim Himes (D-Conn.), a member of the House Intelligence Committee, discussed Donald Trump, Jr.'s testimony earlier this week: "He declined to answer a question about a conversation that he'd had with his father that may be relevant to the Don Jr. meeting at Trump Tower. Apart from that, I would say he was forthcoming."

Democratic strategist Cornell Belcher, David Brooks of The New York Times, NBC News' Hallie Jackson and Peggy Noonan of The Wall Street Journal joined the "Meet the Press" roundtable for insight and analysis this morning, including a discussion ahead of Tuesday's Alabama Senate race. Brooks noted: "To me, the big thing about this race is politics really matters. We care a lot about politics. But there are things that matter more: the state of your soul, the quality of your faith, the state of your character – and what this race is about are those things less important than politics. And what a lot of people are doing are seeing the Republican Party say, "Yeah, politics come before your faith and your character," and a lot of people are appalled.

DECEMBER 17, 2017 – In an exclusive interview this morning on "Meet the Press," White House legislative affairs director Marc Short addressed speculation about President Trump firing Special Counsel Mueller, telling moderator Chuck Todd: "There's no conversation about that whatsoever in the White House."

“Thankfully, I’m not in communication with the transition lawyer for the Trump team. The reality is that this administration has complied in every single possible way with the special counsel. Tax payers have spent millions and millions of dollars on this investigation that has not yet proven any sense of collusion with the Russians,” said Short. “We have continued to cooperate in every single possible way with that investigation.”

When asked if Mueller’s investigation has been comprised, Sen. Joe Manchin (D-W.Va.) exclusively replied, “I do not at all believe that Mr. Mueller has been compromised or his investigation. ... He is the person, the right person, that when he finishes his investigation that we’re going to have confidence it was done in a fair and balanced way. I truly believe that. And I’m not led to believe that anybody on Intelligence Committee thinks that he would not be the right person.” On the Democratic Party’s potential 2018 message to impeach President Trump, the senator told Todd: “I don’t think impeachment is something we should be talking about.”

Gov. John Kasich (R-Ohio) also exclusively joined the program, telling Todd that when it comes to the Republican tax bill, “Do I think they could have done better for the middle class? I do. Do I think they could have done better for the working poor? I mean, Rubio tried to get something. He made some progress. But they could have increased the rates a little bit for big business. It wouldn’t have mattered.”

New NBC News/Wall Street Journal poll numbers debuted on this morning’s broadcast, revealing that Democrats now enjoy their largest advantage in congressional preference in nine years. The full poll will be released later this week.

DECEMBER 24, 2017 – This Sunday, a look back at one of the most extraordinary political years in our lifetimes: Year one of the Trump presidency. Featuring a roundtable of frequent Meet the Press guests: Hugh Hewitt, host on the Salem Radio Network and host of "Hugh Hewitt" on MSNBC. Amy Walter, National Editor of the Cook Political Report. Carol Lee, national political reporter for NBC News, and Gene Robinson, a columnist for the Washington Post.

DECEMBER 31, 2017 – This Sunday, looking back at 2017 and ahead to 2018. President Trump, did he keep his promises? A look back at the past year and a look ahead to the next. Featuring this panel of guests: Charlie Cook, editor and publisher of The Cook Political Report, NBC News White House correspondent, Kristen Welker, BBC anchor Katty Kay, who will appear on PBS’ Beyond 100 Days, and Rich Lowry, editor of The National Review.

4th QUARTER 2017
AIRS WEEKDAYS AT 4:30PM & 7:30PM

OCTOBER 2, 2017

VEGAS SHOOTING NEWS

America is still trying to come to grips with the worst mass shooting in U.S. history, something the President called “an act of evil.” You’ve heard the stats...scores are dead, more than 515 injured and there was only one gunman. The shooter opened fire from the 32nd floor hotel window onto the 20,000 people at the outdoor concert. We’ve got the latest in a report that includes footage that could be upsetting to some viewers.

PROFILE OF SHOOTER AND HIS GIRLFRIEND

The shooter has been identified as a 64-year-old retired accountant who had a girlfriend and lived about 70 miles from Las Vegas. His brother is speaking out saying the family is dumbfounded by what’s happened.

HIDING IN FREEZER

Concertgoers took cover anywhere they could during the massacre in Las Vegas. In the case of one group of people, that safe place was a trailer that turned out to be a freezer.

MANDALAY HISTORY

The shooter positioned himself on the 32nd floor of the Mandalay Bay Hotel with a bird’s-eye view of the concert below. The Mandalay Bay is one of the largest hotels in Las Vegas and ordinarily known for its outsized shows and over the top amusements. Now it’s known for something very disturbing.

JASON ALDEAN PROFILE

In the hours after the attack, Jason Aldean issued a message on social media saying he and his team were safe...and that his prayers were with the victims. He summed up being onstage during the shooting as “beyond horrific.”

HOW TO GET OUT ALIVE

Survivors of the shooting say they first thought they were hearing fireworks. However, as people fell wounded, they knew they were in danger. Some hid under the stage, others behind cars...but what should one do in this situation? Steven Fabian has some answers.

O.J. IN VEGAS

On any other day...a different event might have been our top story from Las Vegas. O.J. Simpson is now out of prison and is spending his first hours of freedom not far from the massacre site. Les Trent has the report.

MONTAGE OF VICTIMS

We are learning more about the people who lost their lives during the mass shooting in Las Vegas. Many of them were young concertgoers having a night of fun before the unthinkable happened.

CAB RIDE FROM SHOOTING

The story of the Las Vegas massacre is still being told...only now that story is one of selfless sacrifice. New videos are emerging that show just how many regular people did extraordinary things to help victims get to safety and medical care. In those terrifying moments, untold numbers of people stepped up to help.

SHOOTER SLIP AND FALL

The shooter, Steven Paddock was a retired accountant whose new profession was a professional gambler...and he was known among the Vegas casinos. One casino in particular was well aware of Paddock because he sued them. Paddock claimed he fell and was injured because of their negligence. Surveillance video from the incident has now been released.

HOSPITAL VICTIMS

With more than 500 people injured, the trauma center in Las Vegas was inundated with the wounded. Some of the injuries were very serious. Inside Edition spoke with several survivors from their hospital beds and they said they were very lucky to be alive.

COUNTDOWN TO TERROR

Investigators will be going over hours of hotel surveillance footage to try to retrace the shooter's movements before the attack began. However, for his victims, it was a happy time of celebrations and anticipation for the evening's big event. Megan Alexander looks at the moments leading up to the carnage.

WORLD IN MOURNING

The Las Vegas massacre has made headlines around the world...provoking both shock and sadness. Among those whose job it is to be funny, the killing's resulted in late night shows that were short on laughs.

VEGAS GAME CHANGER?

40 million tourists come to Las Vegas every year. However, in the wake of Sunday's massacre, it's a safe bet that security arrangements in the casino town will change. As Les Trent reports, executives at some of the biggest venues are already reassessing their security protocols.

CELINE CONCERT GOES ON

The trauma from Sunday night's shooting is still very raw...but in Las Vegas, the show will go on.

HERO PROFILES

Finally today, some people rise to the challenge in times of crises and when they risk their lives to do so, we call them heroes. Inside Edition takes a look at one of the heroes.

LAS VEGAS SHOOTER NEWS

Investigators trying to unravel the Las Vegas mass shooting are hoping the shooter's girlfriend can provide information that leads to his motive. Marilou Danley returned to the U.S. from the Philippines overnight and police are calling her a "person of interest." This means she hasn't been charged or arrested. However, she might have information meaningful to the investigation.

DRY RUN FOR MASSACRE?

Authorities say Stephen Paddock has been planning the massacre for at least two months...but did he have another target in mind? Published reports say he first tried to get rooms earlier in the week...which would have given him direct line of sight on a different open air concert that had even a bigger crowd.

TRAUMA TEAM SPEAKS

130 people remain in the hospital today...48 of them are in critical condition and they are all battling to recover from wounds received in the hail of gunfire. For some, it will take years...not weeks or months to recover. Hospitals that typically receive only a handful of trauma patients were inundated. Today the team at one hospital tells Inside Edition what that night was like.

DO NOT DISTURB – LAS VEGAS

Many people are asking how the shooter concealed what he was planning from the hotel staff. As Steven Fabian tells us, the answer is incredibly simple...he put up a "do not disturb sign."

CELINE DION CONCERT

The lights were back on and the shows were running Tuesday night in Las Vegas. However, the tragedy was very much on performers' minds. When Celine Dion opened her show, she admitted, she debated whether or not to perform.

PRESIDENT TRUMP – LAS VEGAS

President Trump and the First Lady flew to Las Vegas today and spent time with the survivors and first responders. The President told reporters that it was a very sad day for him personally and the nation.

O.J. SIMPSON'S NEW LIFE

O.J. Simpson has been in Vegas since being released from prison last weekend...and new photos show that the place he's calling home even has its own putting green.

BREAST CANCER AWARENESS

Every two minutes a case of breast cancer is diagnosed in the United States. October is of course Breast Cancer Awareness Month and in Philadelphia, they're making sure the whole town is paying attention.
