Arts and Lifestyle

The station brings attention to local artists and the arts community through its local productions. It also airs national programs featuring an array of arts and artists not otherwise accessible to the viewing audience. KVIE Arts Showcase features local and national artists. Rob on the Road, produced by the station, visits the people and places that inhabit our region. During the reporting period, Rob on the Road became Rob on the Road: Rob at Home. Rob on the Road: Rob at Home and KVIE Arts Showcase produced content remotely, in adherence with state and county stay-at-home health orders, during the COVID-19 crisis. This allowed both shows to continue to tell stories and reach the community they serve with current content.

Education

During the reporting period, PBS KVIE continued to support at-home learning during the 2020-2021 school year as part of its public media mission to ensure all kids, regardless of their capabilities, have access to continued free educational resources at home. At the end of this report are the schedules for the at-home learning programming aired by the station during the reporting period on KVIE WORLD.

Other programs aired during the reporting period include such topics as education in the prison system, social isolation, learning at home during COVID, aerospace training, technology in education, alternative platforms/tools of education, multiculturalism, and more. Programs listed focused on efforts to address these issues, and more, in the community and in communities nationwide that could have an impact on local level strategies in the future. Inside California Education—the station’s primary show about education, now in its third season, features compelling stories from all over the Golden State about California’s complex, evolving, and innovative public education system. It focuses on how public education’s challenges, opportunities, and successes impact students, parents, teachers, administrators, policymakers, and others. It also profiles some of the heroes making a daily difference in the lives of California’s six million public school students. Studio Sacramento features people and programs impacting education in the region.

COLLEGE BEHIND BARS

Environment, Nature, and Agriculture

Issues affecting the community like natural wonders, animal life, exploration, eco-conservation, and water quality, drought related issues are significantly important to a region that is a major agricultural supplier for the entire planet. The station continues to air its national program (which periodically includes regional stories), America's Heartland—giving consumers an inside look at the people and processes involved in bringing food, fuel, and fiber to those in the United States and around the world. ViewFinder, produced by the station, focuses on regional issues and people important in the environment, nature, and agriculture.

AMERICA'S HEARTLAND

(26:46) Magazine (Local)

America's Heartland celebrates the men and women across who grow the country's crops, raise its livestock, tend its nurseries, and prepare its food. America's Heartland taps into the national fascination with food and curiosity about unfamiliar places and ways of life, while also exploring the American values of family, hard work and the spirit of independence. The series, produced entirely on location, portrays the worlds of agriculture, horticulture, and aquaculture complete with fascinating stories, compelling characters, innovative ideas and enticing travel destinations.

VIEWFINDER: THE NOT-DYING GIRL #2509H

(26:53) Magazine (Local)

The Not-Dying Girl tells the inspiring and emotional story of Lauren McCullough, a star high school athlete who was diagnosed in 2011 with Ewing's Sarcoma, a rare and devastating childhood cancer. Chemotherapy and radiation seemingly restored her health, but less than two years later, the cancer returned with a vengeance. Given only a few months to live, Lauren created a "bucket list," and started tracking her thoughts, plans and adventures in a blog titled 'The Not-Dying Girl.' She used her time and energy to spread awareness about the need for more research and funding for childhood cancers. She also fulfilled the top item on her "list" by having a wedding. She became, in almost every way, the "not-dying girl."

(26:56) Magazine (Local)

The current wave of new development in Sacramento recalls another era of profound change for the city in the 1950s and '60s. Replacing the Past unearths remarkable historic footage and interviews to examine the controversial demolitions of thousands of homes and businesses to redevelop Sacramento's urban core by paving the way for Interstate 5, creating Capitol Mall, K Street Mall and Old Sacramento. These efforts also displaced many of city's ethnic communities, most notably Japantown.

Regional Business, Media, Politics, and Policing

California is one of the largest economies in the world. The station routinely looks at stories affecting regional prosperity, business endeavors, development issues, politics, and best practices in leadership guiding the region. The station's series, Studio Sacramento, produced by the station, features cultural, political, and business leaders as well as local storytellers—all addressing issues that matter to the region. Yes! We're Open, also produced by the station, features local entrepreneurs and businesses making a difference in the community. During the reporting period, Studio Sacramento produced content remotely, in adherence with state and county stay-at-home health orders, during the COVID-19 crisis. This allowed the show to continue to tell stories and reach the community it serves with current content.

AMERICAN EXPERIENCE: THE VOTE, PART 1 &2

(1:56:09)

In part one, learn about the first generation of leaders in the decades-long battle to win the vote for women. In the 19th century, a time when women had few legal rights, Susan B. Anthony and Elizabeth Cady Stanton galvanized thousands to demand equal citizenship. Explore the strategies used by a new generation of leaders determined to win the vote for women. Internal debates over radical tactics and the place of African American women in the movement shaped the battle in the crucial period from 1906-1915. In part two, explore the final four years, 1916-1920, of the campaign for the passage of the 19th amendment and meet some of the unsung women whose tireless work would finally ban discrimination at American polls on the basis of sex.

AMERICAN MASTERS: UNLADYLIKE2020 #3304H

(56:15)

BY ONE VOTE: WOMAN SUFFRAGE IN THE SOUTH #0H

(56:46)

When Tennessee legislator Harry T. Burn followed his mother's advice and cast his fateful vote to ratify the 19th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, he ensured the state would forever be associated with bestowing the right to vote, a fundamental civil right, on U.S. women. But the short story of this vote belies the irony of this state and region's late and reluctant participation in the suffrage effort. The full story of Burn's vote and the Southern suffrage movement is one of compromises, abandoned ideals and promises broken, as well as deep racial and gender divisions in the struggle for political power. Tennessee's suffrage journey is part of the long aftermath of the Civil War in which women were no longer satisfied to be spectators in political processes nor to be relegated to second-class citizenship. By One Vote: Woman Suffrage in the South examines the tactics and attitudes of Tennessee and Southern suffragists, exploring how the shadow of the Confederacy and values of the "Lost Cause" shaped the fight for full female enfranchisement. Narrated by Rosanne Cash, NPT's original documentary chronicles the events leading up to the turbulent, nail-biting showdown of August 1920.

VIEWFINDER: CALIFORNIA WOMEN WIN THE VOTE! #1509H

(27:13) Magazine (Local)

After 60 years of demanding the right to vote, California women became the champions of the consecration of purpose needed to prevail in one of the closest triumphs in political history. The story is one of cooperation, collaboration, determination, and the long-enduring belief in equality.
