Fentanyl substance abuse and deaths in community	PSA City of Albuquerque	On-Going			Damon Martinez senior Policy Advisor at the ABQ Police Department. Fentanyl is killing people, devastating families and tearing apart the basic fabric of our community. One pill of fentanly can kill. However fentanyl is also being put on other drigs like canabis, meth, and cocaine. The cartells are doing this to addict the user and create a customer. The cartells don't care about us, all the want to do is make money. If you or someone you care about is using or endanger of usin this posion, know that there are people who can help you or the person you care for are not alone. Make the decision and take action. Otherwise, a tragedy is likely to occur. You won't be sorry.
Fentanyl substance abuse and deaths in community	Concerning New Mexico	8/14/2023	9:00AM	0:39:03	Host: Jorja Armijo, Guests: Damon Martinez, Senior Policy Advisor Albuquerque Police Department, Jason Janopoulos, Deputy Commander, Bob Barnes, Licensed Alcohol and Drug Abuse Counselor. Overview of the fentanyl crisis in Albuquerque and New Mexico. Jason Janopoulos Law enforcement prespective from crime violence and treatment. Fentanyl users and how intervention, helps not only with fentanyl but also gun violence. He spoke about the comparision working in Chicago and working here and how proactive APD is being, and how huge the fentanyl crisis in ABQ. Bob Barnes discusses the pain of a parent and the loss of a child. He lost his oldest son to fentanyl. His son died alone in a hotel room off Central and you never get over the grief and the pain. The trick is to find the time when people are open to help and willing to get the help.

Passing of Former Governor Bill Richardson	Report from Santa Fe	9/25/2023	9:30AM	0:28:05	Host Lorene Mills, honoring and remembering the late Bill Richardson. major accomplishments like the passage and signing of the medical marijuana bill, ending the death penalty in NM (with special thanks to Rep. Gail Chasey for her efforts to get this accomplished), establishing the Rail Runner and the Spaceport, enhancing the Film Commission, passing the first gay rights legislation, Richardson also savored some smaller political accolades like holding the Guinness World Record for the number of handshakes in eight hours by a politician. The Governor had a long and deep relationship with Native Americans. In his capacity as Energy Secretary under Clinton, he was able to facilitate the largest transfer of land back to a tribe, and his foundation championed obtaining Covid assistance for the Navajo Nation. He also made a deal with Nike for tennis shoes for kids in the chapter houses. Bill Richardson was a great New Mexican, an epic statesman and diplomat, and a treasured friend who enriched the lives of many individuals, New Mexicans, Americans, and the international community. As a former UN Ambassador, he understood the intricacies of international relations, and his great charm and sense of humor enhanced his communications with everyone - from world leaders to common folk.

Radiation Fallout in New Mexico	Report from Santa Fe	8/7/2023	9:30AM	0:28:29	Host Lorene Mills with guest a Tina Cordova, co-founder of the Tularosa Basin Downwinders Consortium, New Mexico on July 16, 1945, an explosion that produced more light and heat than the sun, and exposed residents near and far to harmful radioactivity. The Tularosa Basin Downwinders Consortium is a group "Seeking justice for the unknowing, unwilling, and uncompensated, innocent victims of the July 16, 1945 Trinity test in south central New Mexico." In an effort to keep the test top-secret, the government had not evacuated or informed residents who lived nearby the Trinity Test Site. Known only to top scientists and military officials, the test site was about 200 miles southeast of Los Alamos National Laboratory. The poor farming communities of New Mexico lived off the land and were now forced to do so in a toxic environment — completely unaware of the lasting impacts of the fallout from the Trinity Test. Radiation that is present in nuclear fallout can damage and alter a cell's DNA, which can lead to mutations and other effects. New Mexicans have been continually left out of the Radiation Exposure Compensation Act (RECA) that was passed in 1990 to compensate "Downwinders," those affected by nuclear testing.
