

2nd Quarterly Issue Report Addendum

4/5/15 - Legal Laws: ATTY MOODY: Moody & Associates share New VA Laws in place & gives tips on civilians rights when handling police./

4/12/15 – Youth Life Matters: Your Life Matters Campaign/ Youth Football Camp : Ben Johnson from Universoul Circus reaches out to Hampton Roads Youth to become a part of this year’s Your Life Matters segment of the Universoul circus. The segment highlights local youth doing well in school as well as being a positive role model within their community. Johnson asks for nominees/ recommendations for students. This week's show also covered KMK Productions Youth Football clinic available for all children for free.

4/19/15 Support of Women: Women Supporting Women Association/ AHCHI Magazine stopped by to talk about their local fashion show along with other free local fundraising events that cater to the working woman. The organization highlighted how to get involved with their Women supporting women nonprofit organization & how to be a part of AHCHI Magazine.

4/26/15 – Youth Matters: Endless Expectations Jamele Gibson & co founder stopped in to discuss their fundraising event for the youth and their ultimate goal of building an entire amusement park that caters to handicapped children. Their fundraising event is open to the public and the amusement park is in talks of being built in Suffolk, VA.

05/03/15 -

Domestic Viloence: ATTY MOODY touched on the current domestic violence issues on the news within Hampton Roads and offered legal advice on how to seek help & tips on the best way to "fight back" legally.

5/10/15 - Health: Urban League Edith White stopped by to discuss this years Golf Tournament fundraiser that will provide the Ubran League Of Hampton Roads with the funding to continue to have free health screenings for everyone. The Health Fair is open to the public for all ages.

5/17/15 Legal Laws: ATTY MOODY touched on police brutality and handling yourself with law enforcement

6/07/15 Women Self-Esteem: The founder of AHCHI touches on self-esteem issues with women/mothers within the community and how AHCHI caters to every woman every size every color. The magazine has an upcoming tv show & fundraising event.

6/14/15/15 Youth Matters: Endless Expectations Jamele Gibson & co founder stopped in to discuss their fundraising event for the youth and their ultimate goal of building an entire amusement park that caters to handicapped children. Their fundraising event is open to the public and the amusement park is in talks of being built in Suffolk, VA.

6/21/15 Domestic Violence: ATTY MOODY touched on the current domestic violence issues on the news within Hampton Roads and offered legal advice on how to seek help & tips on the best way to "fight back" legally.

6/28/15 Health: Urban League Edith White stopped by to discuss this year's Golf Tournament fundraiser that will provide the Urban League Of Hampton Roads with the funding to continue to have free health screenings for everyone. The Health Fair is open to the public for all ages.