A BOY NAMED LUCAS

ABC News Chief Investigative Correspondent Brian Ross and the ABC News investigative team follow the journey of 16-year-old gay teen Lucas Greenfield, who was sent by his mother to a series of Christian-run youth camps in Alabama that practice so-called "gay conversion therapy" for teens, where Lucas says beatings were commonplace.

Around the country the issue of "gay conversion therapy" remains highly controversial, with five states now making it illegal for a licensed mental health care practitioner to practice. However, the "20/20" investigation found teenagers being sent too often to secretive, Christian-run residential youth camps across the country that claim they can change the declared sexual orientation of their children.

PROFESSOR MURDERED

"20/20" dives into an alleged murder-for-hire case that investigators suspect is the result of a fatal family feud. When criminal law professor, Dan Markel, is shot, police only have one clue to follow, an eyewitness report of a green Prius fleeing the scene. Police trace that green Prius back to two alleged hit men, Sigfredo Garcia and Luis Rivera, someone police say is a leader of the Latin Kings Gang in Miami. Police are stumped, why would Sigfredo and Luis want Markel dead? After a lengthy investigation police suspect Markel's ex-brother-in-law Charlie Adelson may have hired these alleged hit men. Markel and Wendi Adelson had bitterly divorced a few years earlier, and when he refused to let their children move hours away to live closer to her family in south Florida, her family was furious. ABC News Correspondent Matt Gutman reports. (OAD: 9/16/16)
