PETKEEPING WITH MARC MORRONE

2ND QTR 2004

4/1/04 – 6/30/04

Petkeeping is an engaging program for teens and their families. The knowledgeable content of Host Marc Morrone and his wonderful menagerie of animal friends will also capture the attention of younger children. Information is practical, lively and presented at just the right pace. It is an especially nice touch to see that this unscripted program, part neighborly chat and part animal kingdom insight, offers unique advice and helpful tips on anything from housebreaking a puppy to supplementing a lizard's diet. There is a great amount to learn from animals, particularly the pets that so closely share our lives. This is an intelligent and entertaining program that is fun; the fact that it also gives us answers and makes us think is very good.

Dear Affiliate Partner:

To assist you in complying with the reporting requirements for children's television and the requirement that stations air "core" children's programming, we are providing you with episode-specific descriptions as set forth in the attached Community Relations Quarterly Children's Programming Report for 2nd quarter 2004. The report includes information to help prepare the Form 398. Please note that we have not included the specific dates and times for each of the programs as that may be station-specific.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

Effective July 3, 2004, the Discovery Kids on NBC lineup will debut the new show "Skunked TV," which will temporarily replace "Endurance." You will need to note this change in Section 7 (plans for upcoming quarter) of your FCC Form 398. Following this cover letter are the updated educational objectives for the Discovery Kids on NBC lineup including "Skunked TV" and how the shows meet the definition of Core Programming. Please note that "Endurance" will return to the Discovery Kids on NBC schedule in September 04.

This report is divided into the following categories:

1. Core programming: Regularly scheduled programming furnished by the NBC Network that is specifically designed to serve the educational and informational needs of children 16 and under. Please note that the age target for Discovery Kids on NBC programming is 9-14. Each of these programs is identified on-air as educational and informational with the "E/I" icon, and is similarly identified to the national listing services. To assist stations with the preemption report section of the new FCC Form 398 we have added specific episode numbers.
2. Other programming: Programming furnished by the NBC Network that contributes to the educational and informational needs of children 16 and under, but is not specifically designed to meet the educational and informational needs of children.
3. Public service announcements targeted to children 16 and under.
4. Non-broadcast efforts that enhance the educational and informational value of NBC Network programming to children.
5. Network on-air promotional efforts which include a schedule of Discovery Kids on NBC on-air promos.

The regularly-scheduled children's programming and promotional content furnished to you by the NBC Network during the 2nd quarter of 2004 complied with the commercial limits of the Children's Television Act, provided that you broadcast and distributed such programming as furnished to you by NBC, and did not add any promotional or advertising content thereto other than as directed by NBC via weekly postings on APT.

If you have any questions about these reporting requirements, please feel free to call my office.

"DISCOVERY KIDS ON NBC" EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES

APRIL – JUNE 30, 2004

In compliance with the Children's Television regulations that became effective January 2, 1997, the DISCOVERY KIDS ON NBC programs feature an on-air icon indicating each program is "educational and informational" for children. This icon is displayed at the beginning of each broadcast. Also, in compliance with the new regulations, the following document, which includes "educational and informational" objectives of DISCOVERY KIDS ON NBC, must be placed in your public file.

Each of the programs listed below, which make up NBC's Children's Programming block, is specifically designed to serve the "educational and informational" needs of children, ages 9-14. All of the programs have educational objectives that are central to the content and appropriate to the program genre.

Two reality-type programs demonstrate how skill and teamwork combine to accomplish a goal, and another reality program uses practical jokes as a means to teach animal facts. In these shows, the real-life example is instructional. "Endurance," follows several teams over 13 weeks of competition, culminating in success for the team that has mastered both strategy and skill to endure the longest. The challenges the teams face are metaphors for the real-life experiences of the target audience. "Trading Spaces" follows two teams of boys and girls as they redesign and decorate their friends' room to reflect their interests and hobbies. They learn construction planning, carpentry, and design principles as they concoct the bedroom of their friend's dreams. "Skunked TV" is set in an animal park where visitors are drawn into practical jokes while learning a lot about the care, habitat, and physiology of different animals.

The two live-action fiction programs embed factual information within the context of a narrative story. The story emanates from some aspect of the social and emotional development of the adolescent characters. "Scout's Safari" follows the development and adjustment of Scout Lauer, a 14-year-old girl who moves from a New York City apartment to a South African game reserve. She has a lot to learn about relationships and her place in the world. However, Scout also develops her knowledge about different cultures, living in a naturalistic setting and caring for plant and animal life. "Strange Days at Blake Holsey High" revolves around a group of teens enrolled in boarding school. They are science nerds on a mission to solve a complex mystery involving a vortex and an array of other science challenges. The lead character, Josie Trent, is independent, free-thinking and determined to make sense of her own illogical life, which, it turns out, is intertwined with the strange goings-on at the school.

There are two animated programs on the schedule: "Kenny the Shark" and "Tutenstein." "Kenny the Shark" is about a tiger shark named Kenny who lives on land with a young girl named Kat. The show embeds shark facts in the story narrative, including references to his insatiable appetite. Every episode has a message, usually around the themes of cooperation, dealing with difficult people, exercising self-discipline, and decision-making. "Tutenstein" revolves around an ancient ten-year-old boy king, Tuten-Astennu, who was mummified 3000 years ago and resurrected when his tomb was relocated to an American museum. In each episode, Tut believes he is still the Pharaoh and ruler of the world, and he learns about getting along with others and controlling his egocentric impulses.

All shows were developed specifically with the pre-adolescent and young adolescent child in mind. Each program was supported by a team, composed of the creative personnel (producers and writers), an educational consultant, and several technical consultants appropriate to the requirements of each show. The technical consultants verified all the factual content that was presented in each program. The educational consultant worked with the creative team to match the content to the appropriate level of comprehension for the target audience and to develop age-appropriate themes for learning within each episode of every program. All of the educational content was integrated into the action and movement of each episode so that the entertainment and education would be interdependent and present throughout each episode.

TRADING SPACES: BOYS VS. GIRLS Boys and girls get to show how well they know each other, how effectively they can manage a budget, and how skillfully they can execute a design plan in Trading Spaces: Boys vs. Girls. Each week a boy or girl will be given two days and $5000 dollars to complete a renovation of their partner's "room." The space might be a bedroom, a recreation room, or a club house, but the "designer" has to show his or her knowledge of the other person's preferences, hobbies, and lifestyle to come up with a good design. Then, the challenge of balancing the budget and figuring out the renovation process begins. Participants will learn measurement, spatial reasoning, and principles of aesthetic design as they go through the experience. In the end, they will find out if their knowledge and perception of their partner was on or off base.

ENDURANCE is an engrossing program that shows the target audience succeeding at several different physical, intellectual and strategic challenges in order to win a fabulous travel prize. Each of the 12 competitive challenges is a metaphor for the challenges our target audience will face in real life. In addition, there are strategic challenges based on ten character traits that are important for success. Contestants must estimate probabilities and beat the odds. Overall, the competition balances luck or fate against personal effort so that the contestants learn to balance intellect with intuition in developing their winning strategy. Narration and interviews during each episode trace the emotional growth and insights of the contestants, with an emphasis on how the experience of protracted competition and teamwork teaches both social skills and life skills for achieving success with your goals.

SKUNKED TV is a program taped in a Florida animal park that catches unsuspecting visitors in a practical joke. While the park visitors are engaged in learning about the animal, the practical joke is being recorded by a hidden camera. At the start of each segment, the host or narrator provides the audience with background information about the featured animal. When the host's attention is turned to a park visitor, the visitor is asked to do something with the animal that demonstrates the animal fact. When the animal or situation turns out to be more than the visitor can handle, the practical joke is revealed and the visitor is informed of the hidden camera. At the end of each segment, the animal fact is reinforced.

STRANGE DAYS AT BLAKE HOLSEY HIGH focuses on a group of five young teens who are students at a very unusual boarding school. Strange phenomena happen at the school, and our kids are members of a science club that decides, with the help of their professor, to figure it all out. The initiator of many of their investigative processes is the newest student to the school, Josie Trent. In exploring the larger mystery of why the phenomena occur, our kids also deal with issues relating to their socio-emotional development. The educational goal of the program is to embed scientific content in a narrative story with strong socio-emotional messages. In each episode, one of the main characters models a learning process that relates to their social competence. Each episode also explores science content that relates to resolving an immediate problem or some aspect of the larger mystery. Specific objectives are to expose the audience to content about the physical sciences, such as black holes, worm holes, vortexes, gravity, electricity, satellite transmissions and radio frequencies. Through the characters' experiments, the audience is exposed to the scientific method, hypothesis testing and analysis of data. Other objectives are to model the development of group cohesion, teamwork, and social competence within the group and between the group and other significant people in their lives.

SCOUT'S SAFARI follows the development of 14-year-old Scout Lauer, whose divorced parents have to quickly move Scout from her father's home in New York City to her mother's home on a game reserve in South Africa. The overarching goal of the series is for our main character, Scout, to model a learning process for the audience that charts her socio-emotional growth as she adjusts to a completely new life in South Africa. By the end of each episode, Scout will have moved from one level of knowledge to a higher level of knowledge or insight. Specific objectives are to show how Scout makes a good transition into her blended family with a stepfather and new brother, makes new friends in a completely different system, understands different religious and cultural belief systems, and defines a place for herself where she feels secure and confident about her future. As the first children's show actually filmed on location in an African animal reserve, "Scout's Safari" will expose the audience to factually accurate content about threats to the natural environment and preserving animal species in their natural habitats.

KENNY THE SHARK is an eight foot tall shark who lives on land with his owner, ten-year-old Kat. Much of the adventure and humor in this show emerges from the problems that accompany managing the life of a shark trying to live in the incongruous world of human beings. Kenny is literally a big predator "fish out of water." The educational goal of this show is to provide the audience with an introductory knowledge of shark behavior and biology. Also each story has an educational theme based on a dilemma facing Kat or Kenny when they have to make decisions, solve problems, or act responsibly to correct something Kenny did wrong. Their resolution of the problem offers the educational message for each episode of the show.

TUTENTSTEIN is a resurrected ten-year-old boy mummy who thinks that he is still King Tutent-Astennu, Pharaoh and ruler of the world. Little does he understand that three millennia have passed and everything around him has changed. The show's educational content includes Egyptology and social-emotional messages. Egyptology is presented through the introduction of historically accurate depictions of myths, legends, demons and gods. In each story Tut and his sidekicks, Cleo and her cat, Luxor, have an adventure where the ancients are resurrected as allies or enemies in a conflict that takes place in modern times. Most of the socio-emotional lessons revolve around learning to plan, being less selfish, and considering the consequences of impulsive behavior. Cleo is usually the voice of reason for Tut, as she is the one who has to problem-solve their way out of each escapade they encounter.

KENNY THE SHARK

BILL ME LATER (#565005)

When Kenny gets caught stealing food from the neighbors, he promises Kat it won't happen again. To fight temptation, he joins a mail order meat club. The frequent deliveries keep his appetite satisfied until the huge bill arrives, and Kat's parents assume she ordered the meat for Kenny. Kat takes the rap, causing Kenny to feel so guilty he sells his teeth to a jeweler who makes shark-tooth necklaces. Kenny gives the money to Kat to cover the meat bill.

[Educational Message: If you do something wrong, take responsibility for your actions and suffer the consequences.]

CATSCRATCH FEVER

When Kat takes Kenny to school, the popular girls are so scared they pretend to like Kat. Oscar sees through them, but Kat thinks they're sincere. But, after the girls see that Kenny is afraid of a tiny kitten, they go back to snubbing Kat, who is crushed. This makes Kenny so angry he suppresses his fear long enough to scare the girls. They pretend to be nice to Kat again, but this time she rejects their false friendship. She finds Oscar and recognizes that he is a true friend to her.

[Educational Message: Recognize who your true friends are and surround yourself with those people who really care for you.]

TUTENSTEIN

I DID IT MY WAY (#690004)

Tutenstein leaves the museum in search of food. Frustrated by a hot dog vendor's lack of respect, he decides to cast a spell that calls forth a great magical bird. The bird flies over the city, transforming the city into a replica of ancient Egypt and the people into loyal subjects of the Pharaoh. Tutenstein is ecstatic until a great flood comes and his subjects demand his help. He's stumped, especially after Cleo learns that if the bird isn't stopped, the changes will be irreversible. Tutenstein finally rises to the occasion, lassoes the bird and reverses the spell. Everything returns to normal and Tutenstein realizes how difficult it can be to be a good leader.

[Educational Message: With leadership and power comes a lot responsibility to those that are under you.]

[Egyptian Mythology: In the beginning, the cry of the Benu Bird "determined what is and is not to be," and thus created the world.]

RAY VS. TAYLOR (#771014)

Coffee-loving, 13-year-old Taylor and her friend Ava trade spaces with 13-year-old skateboard fanatic Ray and his pal Arthur. Designer Jordin and Carpenter Ginene assist the girls in fitting Ray's room with a quarter-pipe skateboard ramp, a subway mural that incorporates closet doors, and a giant "boom box" that holds a full entertainment center. The boys get help from Designer Scott and Carpenter Barte in transforming Taylor's room into her own personal coffee house, complete with a counter, display case, a working coffee-maker and comfy couches that form a bed.

ROLLERBALL (#838019)

The next Temple mission is "Rollerball," which involves each team rolling a ball through a maze that's constructed atop a long board. With one teammate on each end of the board, the contestants struggle to become the first to get two balls through the maze and into a basket mounted on the end of the board. Because the Orange team received the samadhi, they will have to get a third ball into the basket in order to win. But it's the Green team that finishes first, so they choose to send the Orange and Red teams to the Temple of Fate. Orange wins the elimination and Red is sent home.

EQUATION (#001022)

As team captain for the upcoming Academic Olympics, Corinne rides her teammates hard. She's frustrated at the others' slipshod work. But when she makes changes to their equations, strange things start to happen. Lucas, who was working on a luminosity equation, literally becomes luminous. Josie is suddenly able to defy gravity, while Vaughn can't control his momentum. They discover that if they each erase their own equation, they revert to normal. When Corinne accidentally brushes against the chalkboard, changing a key part of Marshall's equation, he is transformed into a gas. The others seal off the room, while Corinne changes her velocity equation so she can leave the room at super speed without dispersing the vaporized Marshall. She comes back with a dehumidifier and returns Marshall to normal.

[Educational Message: A good leader allows each member of the team to perform their tasks with patience and trust in their abilities. By not allowing each member to do their parts, the team will become resentful and not perform successfully.]

RUMORS (#000022)

Scout and Bongani are shocked to learn that their photograph appears in the latest issue of the school newspaper with the caption "Cutest Couple." Though Scout is upset, Bongani doesn't think the misunderstanding is anything to worry about. But Scout continues to fume; she even begins to wonder if she and Bongani should spend less time together so they won't feed the rumor mill. Bongani begins to wonder if Scout's behavior is a sign that she really has feelings for him. Scout suspects the same thing about Bongani. Finally, they talk about the problem and are pleased to realize that they both just want to be friends. When they learn that Tyler planted the story and provided the photograph to the newspaper, they go looking for him.

[Educational Message: Don't let social pressures force you into a relationship that is not right for either of you.]

KENNY THE SHARK

KENNY THE VEGGIE (#565006)

After seeing a film about predators, Kat decides to become a vegetarian. She convinces Kenny to try it, too, even though it goes against his every instinct. Kenny is tortured when forced to eat all of Kat's tofu and soy products. His craving for meat is so strong that he sees meat in everything including his friend Marty. Kenny accompanies Kat to a vegetarian cookout on the beach, but ruins it when he hungrily chases a seal. Kat realizes she was wrong to try to change Kenny's nature.

[Educational Message: What's right for you may not be right for someone else.]

WATCHING KARL

Kat's parents reluctantly leave her to baby-sit Karl. She momentarily leaves him in Kenny's charge while she goes for a ride on Oscar's new bike. While Kenny watches TV, Karl crawls out an open window and into the bed of a truck. Panicked, Kat and Kenny chase the truck to a construction site, where Karl climbs onto a rising girder. Then he makes his way to an amusement park, leading Kat and Kenny through the Hall of Mirrors and on a wild roller coaster. They finally catch the baby and get him home just before Mom and Dad return. Though relieved, Kat realizes that she should never have been so irresponsible as to leave Karl with Kenny.

[Educational Message: If someone entrusts you with a major responsibility, you shouldn't pass it on to someone else and then blame that person when something goes wrong.]

TUTENSTEIN

THE POWERFUL ONE (#690005)

After hearing a lecture given by Professor Behdety, Tutenstein decides he wants a pyramid built in his honor. He finds a construction site and demands that the crew build it, but they just ignore him. He rants at them and is overheard by Hathor, the Goddess of Love, who vows to get revenge on his behalf. Taking the form of Sekhmet, the Lion Goddess, she wreaks havoc upon the construction site until Cleo sprays her with a hose. The goddess then chases Cleo back to the museum, where she also terrorizes Professor Behdety and Jacobs. Cleo is able to transform her back into the Goddess of Love. Grateful, Hathor fixes all the damage she caused to the museum. She also helps build a full-scale replica of a pyramid, making Tutenstein very happy.

[Educational Intent: When things go wrong, work hard to make them right again.]

[Egyptian Mythology: Hathor, the Goddess of Love, has been known to change from one goddess into another. Hathor was upset when the Sun God Ra complained of getting no respect. So, she turned into Sekhmet, the Lioness Goddess, and went out to take revenge. Nothing the Sun God Ra said would stop her until they tricked her with a potion.]

CONNOR VS. LINDSEY (#771015)

Twelve-year old Connor teams with his fellow sports fan, 11-year-old Sammy, to trade spaces with candy-loving Lindsey, 13, and her 12-year-old friend Jane. The boys help Designer Scott and Carpenter Ginene create a room inspired by Lindsey's favorite movie, "Willy Wonka and the Chocolate Factory." Using a bright, candy-like color scheme, the guys build a working candy factory with a system to convey scoops of sweet treats. One wall is devoted to huge jars of various confections. The girls, inspired by Connor's love of football, assist Designer Jordin and Carpenter Barte to transform the boy's room into "Connor's Field," his very own football stadium. The bed is a skybox, the desk is a concession stand, and the carpet has a football field pattern.

TIDE PULL (#838020)

The eliminated Red team leaves behind a note in which they pass on their Discipline pyramid piece to the Blue team. In the next Endurance mission, the teams play to win the Strength pyramid piece, as well as the right to pass the samadhi on to another team. The mission involves each team placing one member on a tethered boat and another on the beach. The players in the boats must paddle out as far as possible while their opponents on the beach try to pull them back. The Brown team wins and chooses to give the samadhi to the Blue team so they will get a ten-second delay in starting the next competition.

HEMISPHERES (#001023)

Marshall scoffs when Corinne expresses an interest in auditioning to be a singer in his band. While standing at a mirror doubting herself, Corinne is suddenly transported to a mirror version of the school. Each of her classmates is the opposite of their usual self, including Marshall, who is now a cool ladies' man. He flirtatiously encourages her to audition for the school show. Unfortunately, Victor Pearson will be at the audition, and if she doesn't sing well he'll realize she's from the other side. Others have come before, and they've all disappeared. Corinne performs well, but accidentally breaks the mirror. She panics, but the custodian hints that creative thinking will help her find a solution. With help from her friends, she makes a new mirror and returns to the other side. She decides not to audition for the band after all because she wanted to prove that she's more than just a math whiz, but now she knows she is.

DIAMONDS (#000023)

When Scout and Bongani find a Zulu chieftain's chest hidden behind a wall, they are surprised to find it full of items that belonged to Scout's great-grandmother Phoebe back in the 1920s. Scout reads Phoebe's diary and learns that she, too, had a gift with animals. Scout begins to second-guess her own gift, however, because it's been failing her lately. The diary also mentions a valuable diamond that was hidden by the Zulu chieftain and has been missing ever since. As Scout and Bongani investigate, Scout's powers return and she saves Bongani from a deadly snake. Scout eventually deduces that the diamond is hidden in the binding of the diary. She gives the jewel to Bongani so it can benefit the tribe as intended. Scout is proud to have finished what her great-grandmother started.

THE CHECKUP (#565007)

Dreading a dental appointment, Kat brings Kenny along for support. The dentist, who's having problems with his new eyeglasses, mistakes Kenny for Kat and pulls several of Kenny's teeth. Kat feels guilty and intends to tell the dentist the truth on her next visit, but she can't go through with it. This time, Kenny gets braces. The truth finally comes out when the dentist stops by Kat's home to show his students her unusual mouth. Kat apologizes to Kenny for everything he had to go through. She goes to the dentist and realizes that the experience wasn't as bad as she thought it would be.

NAUGHTY, NAUGHTY KENNY

After Kenny hijacks a fish truck, Kat's parents make her send him to obedience school. The owner, Miss Hallie, seems sweet but is really a hard-nosed disciplinarian. Kenny inadvertently incurs her wrath several times and is forced to spend the day in a cramped carrier. He tells Kat what happened, but she thinks he's exaggerating. The next day, Kenny returns to the school and meets a new student—a seal. When he tries to eat the seal, Miss Hallie sees red. Kat shows up just in time to witness Miss Hallie's cruel ways first hand. Kat threatens to tell on her unless she graduates all the animals with honors.

THE BOAT OF MILLIONS OF YEARS (#690006)

Cleo, Luxor and Tutenstein watch a scary movie. Tutenstein enjoys the movie so much that he wishes the night would never end. He calls on the Sun God, Rah, to extend the night. Meanwhile, Set captures Rah. Set makes a deal with Apep, the Serpent of Chaos, to imprison Rah (Apep's greatest enemy); in return, Apep will get the Scepter of Was. After Apep confronts Tutenstein about his scepter, Tutenstein regrets ever making that wish. Cleo and Luxor follow Tutenstein to the underworld. They drop in the tenth gate where Rah's Boat of a Million years was abandoned. Tutenstein defeats Apep and Set and frees Rah to continue his journey. As the boat sails into the 12th gate, Rah turns into the sun.

[Educational Message: Be careful what you wish for. If your wish comes to fruition, you may regret not having thought through the consequences.]

Robbie teams with his friend Dave to trade spaces with their fellow 12-year-old Janine and her friend Priscilla. Knowing that Robbie's dream is to become a marine biologist, the girls get help from Designer Scott and Carpenter Barte to give Robbie's room an underwater theme. The illusion is accomplished by adding a giant fish tank, a Styrofoam coral reef, a water-filled bubble wall, a treasure chest and a boat that's suspended from the ceiling. Designer Jordin and Carpenter Ginene join the boys in giving Janine's room a safari theme in line with her ambition to become a veterinarian. The room is made to give the impression of being a tent in the African wild, with a giraffe mural, stuffed animals, palm fronds, mosquito netting, a lantern, and vintage suitcases used as drawers.

Josie runs against her nemesis, Madison, for class President. After a bee stings Madison, she begins acting peculiar. Realizing her ideas are not winning the students over, Josie makes false promises. She's a hit. Corrine accuses Josie of compromising her principles. The kids spot Lucas in a trance state. Josie runs into a group of kids clustered around Madison; they begin humming in attack mode after her. Josie finds Professor Z trapped by a giant honeycomb. They figure out that Madison has taken on a queen bee's role using pheromones to control the students. Their nasal sprays have caused them to be immune. With Z's help, Josie realizes she compromised her platform out of her desire to beat Madison. They use tea to neutralize Madison and the students. Josie ultimately decides not to run just before Durst postpones the election indefinitely.

SHARK! (#000015)

While diving in the river, Scout panics when she thinks she sees a shark. Bongani assures her that sharks can't get that far up river, but she stands by her story. No one else sees the shark, but C. B. admits that it's possible that a shark might have come through when the dam was briefly opened during a rainy spell. He calls in a shark expert, Dr. Laurel, who helps them search. To their surprise, the shark shows up. When Bongani falls in the water, Scout overcomes her fear and jumps in to pull him out while Dr. Laurel tranquilizes the shark so it can be safely returned to the ocean. The others thank Scout for pushing them to believe her.

TRASH TALKING (#565012)

No matter what measures Dad takes, raccoons keep getting in his garbage cans. Kenny decides to handle the situation but the raccoons get the best of him. The next night, Dad gives Kenny another chance, but the raccoons outsmart him again. Kenny keeps trying, but this time he captures a skunk, which sprays him. The raccoons taunt him mercilessly. They admit they've only been getting in the garbage cans so they can collect box tops from Kenny's Seal Flake snacks and order a pair of X-Ray Specs. Kenny makes a deal with them—he'll collect the box tops for them if they'll stay away from the cans.

[Educational Message: A disagreement can be resolved much more effectively by talking it out rather than being involved in a futile battle.]

KENNY IN LOVE

Kat takes Kenny to an aquarium so he can help her research a bull shark for class. When Kenny sees the shark, Ellie, he is instantly smitten. On advice from Marty, Kenny brings Ellie a gift and introduces himself. But his lines don't work on her and she rejects his gift, a chew toy. Marty suggests that Kenny pretend to be a big shot to impress Ellie, but she sees right through him. Finally, Kenny just honestly tells Ellie how he feels with no expectations. She responds to the real Kenny and asks to see him again.

HAPPY CORONATION DAY (#690013)

On the anniversary of Tutenstein's coronation day, he's upset that Cleo and Luxor celebrate with a cupcake instead of making a big deal with an extravagant party and gifts. He storms off and comes across an amusement park, where he mingles with his "subjects." Finding them ungrateful and surly, he returns to the museum and discovers that the Professor with Cleo's help is throwing a coronation party, complete with costumed guests. Still not showing his gratitude, Tutenstein mingles with the guests. They assume he is in costume, also. Unfortunately, the party is also crashed by two of Set's henchmen, who steal Ramses' staff from an exhibit, mistaking it for Tutenstein's scepter. Knowing that Cleo has a sentimental attachment to the staff because her father discovered it, Tutenstein follows the henchman to the underworld. After a heated battle with Set, Tutenstein retrieves the staff and returns it to the museum safe and sound.

JOHN VS. CLARA (#771024)

Twelve-year-old travel buff Clara and her friend Wei swap rooms with 13-year-old music and art lover John and his friend Rudy. The girls, knowing John's enthusiasm for log cabins, transform his room into a lodge of sorts with help from Designer Jordin and Carpenter Ginene. A trompe l'oeil pattern on the walls looks like real logs; a cast iron stove doubles as a hamper, and a fireplace with electric logs enhance the effect, as do wooden ceiling beams and log furniture. Designer Scott and Carpenter Barte join the boys in transforming Clara's room into a mini-tour of Europe, utilizing colors and design elements indicative of France, Spain, Italy and England. There's an Eiffel Tower bed, an Italian "restaurant," an ottoman topped with a flamenco dancer doll, and an antique British phone booth.

FINAL MISSION (#838029)

The Brown and Green teams face off for the final mission of the competition. They enjoy hanging out on their last day together, until the time comes to battle for the pyramid pieces left behind by the Orange team. Each team is given four pieces that are placed in buckets on a floating platform made of long thin poles. They try to steal each other's pieces without falling into the water. The Green team lasts the longest, but the game ends in a tie with both teams finishing with four pieces. This brings Brown's total to seven while Green has five. Before going into the finale, J. D. presents all four of the remaining contestants with a necklace as a memento of their stay on the beach.

[Educational Message: At the end of a journey, what you remember most are the friendships you've made along the way.]

STRANGE DAYS AT BLAKE HOLSEY HIGH

ECOSYSTEM (#001020)

After Corinne complains about Josie's failure to return things she borrows, a rumor spreads that Josie is a thief. At the same time, a sponge in Professor Z's class starts reproducing at an incredibly accelerated rate. When Josie gives Vaughn some CDs to burn, he recognizes them as belonging to Corinne. Corinne is livid, but Z urges her not to jump to conclusions without talking to Josie. Meanwhile, Josie hears about the rumor and is disappointed that all her friends believe it. When Josie confronts Corinne, they notice that the sponges start multiplying faster. But after they make up and decide to be honest with each other, the sponges begin to disappear. They realize that the sponges had been reproducing like bad rumors, mimicking the "ecosystem" at Blake Holsey High.

[Educational Message: If you're having problems with a friend, try to get things resolved by talking it out and being honest with each other. Letting things build will make a problem bigger than it was originally.]

SCOUT'S SAFARI

KNOW IT ALL (#000020)

Annoyed by Cheryl's constant stream of unwanted advice, Scout defiantly tunes her out. This becomes a problem when Scout doesn't heed Cheryl's warning about securing the gate of a pen that holds a wounded rhino. The rhino suddenly charges through the improperly latched gate, knocking Cheryl unconscious. When Cheryl is hospitalized for observation, Scout feels guilty. She realizes that her contrary attitude compromised her ability to emotionally connect with the rhino and put her mother in great danger. Roger comforts her by admitting that he has a similar problem with his know-it-all father. Knowing that their parents have only their best interests at heart, Scout and Roger make the appropriate apologies.

[Educational Message: Having a closed mind with respect to your parents' instructions can lead to some unintended consequences. You have to listen to their advice/instructions even when you think you already know the answers.]

KENNY THE SHARK

TWO DAYS OF THE PARROT (#565004)

Kenny is jealous when Kat brings home a lost parrot named Crackers. Kat is clearly impressed by Crackers' many talents that include pulling her bed covers down at night. Feeling threatened, Kenny makes Kat's favorite breakfast and creates a portrait of the two of them. Crackers retaliates by leaping into Kenny's mouth and pretending that Kenny is trying to eat him. Kat doesn't believe Kenny's denial. Kenny and Crackers fight until the house is a mess. Kat's parents refuse to let her attend Oscar's birthday party until the house is spotless. The guilt-ridden pets pitch in to help her. When Crackers' owner shows up to claim him, she allows Crackers to go with Kat and Kenny to Oscar's party.

[Educational Message: Don't be jealous when a new person enters the life of someone you love. He or she has enough love for both of you.]

MY OLD SCHOOL

Kenny's old schoolmate, a hammerhead shark named Dan, comes by for a visit. He's impressed with Kenny's comfortable new lifestyle and asks to stay a few days to play catch-up. Kat is all for it but her parents refuse. Dan goes away angry, but once Kenny is home alone, Dan returns with several other shark friends. They take over the house, threatening to tell Kat about Kenny's "dirty little secret" unless he lets them stay. Kat comes home early from school and finds a full-scale shark party in progress, with Kenny as the reluctant host. Kenny confesses everything, including his secret—he used to be afraid of the dark. Kat assures him that the news has no bearing on her feelings for him. Overjoyed, Kenny makes Dan and the other sharks clean up the mess they made.

[Educational Message: In a true friendship, don't be afraid to share secrets. Your friends should accept you no matter what.]

THE CLASH OF THE SHABTIS (#690003)

Professor Behdety asks Cleo to clean up the Ancient Egyptian exhibit in preparation for a visit from reporter Rosa Rivera. To avoid helping Cleo himself, Tutenstein casts a spell that brings a group of shabti dolls to life, and then orders them to start cleaning. Cleo struggles to keep them out of sight from Rosa and Professor Behdety. Meanwhile, the shabtis go on a rampage, and Tutenstein feels responsible. To bring the unruly shabtis under control, Tutenstein takes up a mop and starts cleaning. With the others pitching in, the exhibit is spotless in record time. The job completed, the shabtis turn back into dolls and Tutenstein gets back inside the sarcophagus before Rosa and Professor Behdety return.

[Educational Message: Sometimes it may be tempting to take the easy way out and have others do your work, but hard work can be its own reward.]

[Egyptian Mythology: Shabtis are brought to life by Spell #6 from The Book of the Dead. Their purpose is to perform to perfection any task commanded by the Pharaoh.]

TRADING SPACES: BOYS VS. GIRLS

AUSTIN VS. KIMMIE (#771021)

Thirteen-year-old tomboy Kimmie and her friend Shelby trade spaces with 12-year-old daredevil Austin and his older brother, Danny. The boys team with Designer Scott and Carpenter Ginene to create Kimmie's "dream room," a cloudy, flowery, starlit paradise with a sky blue rug, centipede chair, closet wall and a bed with a built-in desk. Designer Jordin and Carpenter Barte help the girls turn Austin's room into a mini-speedway, complete with a race car-shaped bed, garage door closet, gas pump locker, a speed blur mural and stools made of tires. The floor is made from recycled tires.

ENDURANCE

THE FINALE (#838030)

The two remaining teams, Brown and Green, face off for one last mission to determine the final winner of the game. As in the previous season, this challenge places the opposing teams on opposite sides of a table that has a series of pyramid shapes on its surface. The players place their pyramid pieces in front of the spaces, in hopes that one of them will turn up a golden pyramid, which allows them to take the other team's pieces. The game continues until one team has won all the pieces. After a number of close calls and unexpected reversals, the Brown team wins the game and the grand prize, a trip to Atlantis Paradise Island in the Bahamas.

[Educational Message: Teamwork is a very important aspect in making it to the top. No one gets there alone; you always have someone to help you along the way.]

TECHNOLOGY (#001021)

Tyler forces Marshall to use his new text-messaging cell phone to help him pass a test. Feeling guilty afterward, Marshall is about to confess to Professor Z when Tyler calls him and sends a threatening emoticon. Suddenly, Marshall is able to speak only gibberish. Z figures out that Marshall and Tyler were cheating, but Tyler insists that it was all Marshall's idea. When Lucas finds a Pearadyne chip in the phone, he figures it's responsible for Marshall's predicament. The kids find a way to decrypt the system and undo the emoticon message. Marshall regains his speaking skills and tells what really happened. As punishment, Tyler gets a week's suspension and Marshall is assigned to tutor students in science.

[Educational Message: If you're being pressured to cheat, tell someone to gain support before you succumb to the pressure.]

SCOUT'S SAFARI

CONTRABAND (#000021)

When Scout and Bongani come to the aid of a downed helicopter pilot, they find a white lion cub has also survived the crash. While the pilot recuperates at the compound, Scout grows attached to the cub. She finds the pilot's paperwork and sees that it's forged—he's really a poacher. Before the authorities can be notified, the pilot steals a truck and escapes with the cub. Scout and Bongani are ordered to stay home while Roger and C. B. give chase, but the disobedient duo sneak away on horseback instead. They find the truck abandoned, the cub still inside. When the pilot returns, Bongani captures him with a net gun. Despite saving the day, Scout and Bongani are punished for disobeying their elders and putting themselves in danger.

[Educational Message: Even if you have the best of intentions, it isn't wise to rush into a potentially dangerous situation, especially if it goes against the wishes of those responsible for your welfare.]
