

Fourth Quarter 2014 Quarterly Issues/Programs List

WCQS continues to take advantage of a number of opportunities it has during its twenty-four hour broadcast day to report on issues of importance to the residents of Western North Carolina, arts and culture, the economy, education, environment, health care, minorities, planning and development, transportation, and politics/government. Monday through Friday we produce local newscasts on the hour at six, seven and eight in the morning. The morning newscasts are two minutes long.

In addition to our local newscasts we produce in-depth stories that are inserted into our morning news-magazine "Morning Edition" and our afternoon news and cultural affairs program, "Fresh Air" and our afternoon news magazine 'All Things Considered'. These stories are also posted on our web-site www.wcqs.org.

The Quarterly Issues List includes the date, time story aired, and the length of each story.

Arts and Culture

Arts and Culture

12/26/14 WNC Interview Screening tt :26

Lead: A movie theater in Sylva was one of more than 300 independent theaters in the country that screened the controversial comedy, The Interview on Christmas day. WCQS's Helen Chickering has details..

Arts and Culture

12/25/14 Vanderbilt Bible tt: 37

An inscription in a recently discovered Bible has a connection to both the Biltmore Estate and to much of the history of progressive politics in western North Carolina. WCQS's Helen Chickering explains.

Arts and Culture, Politics/Government

12/23/14 Poet Laureate tt: 36

An award-winning writer from Johnston County is Gov. Pat McCrory's choice as North Carolina's next poet laureate. His original pick departed last summer amid controversy over the selection process. WCQS's Helen Chickering has details.

12/26/14 time: 8:45 duration 5:45

Tony Kiss Weekend Update

By David Hurand

The post Christmas weekend has arrived and with New Year's Eve on the horizon there is plenty to do in the region. Tony Kiss takes a look at many of the new films that have arrived at area theaters, the music scene, and live theater. Check it out.

12/19/14 Time 8:45 duration 5:49

Tony Kiss Weekend Update

By David Hurand

It's a big weekend for new movies. Three highly anticipated films have arrived, The Imitation Game, Wild, and Unbroken. There's also plenty of live theater and lots of holiday related performances happening in the region. The Nutcracker will be performed at Diana Wortham Theater. Tony takes a look at some of what is happening in the area.

12/ 12/14 time: 8:45 am duration 5:40

Tony Kiss Weekend Update

By David Hurand

The 26th Warren Haynes Christmas Jam highlights the entertainment scene. Vince Gill tops the list of great musicians that will take the U.S Cellular Center stage(Saturday 12/13) with Asheville native and guitar wizard Warren Haynes. Warrens' band, Gov't Mule will also rock the room.

12/05/14 Time 8:45 duration 5:35

Tony Kiss Weekend Update

By David Hurand Tony Kiss drops in for a look at what's happening in Western North Carolina. High on Tony's list, the holiday theater scene. The Santaland Diaries open Thursday December 11th at Asheville Community Theater. Montford Park Players perform A Christmas Carol December 6th-23rd at Asheville Masonic Temple. Singer song writer John Gorka performs at Mountain Spirit Coffee House at the Unitarian Universalist Congressional of Asheville.

11/19/14 time 6:45-8:45 am duration 5:00

Fresh Air Book Critic Maureen Corrigan Brings Gatsby to Asheville

By Greta Johnsen

Fresh Air book critic Maureen Corrigan just came out with a book of her own. It's about The Great Gatsby, which Corrigan describes as "the novel that unites us if we've been to high school in America."

11/14/14 Fri time: 8:30 am duration 5:45

Tony Kiss Weekend Update

By David Hurand

Another big, but chilly weekend has arrived and there is plenty of things to do that will warm your heart. Tony Kiss takes a look at some of what's happening, including tickets on sale for a couple of legendary artists who will make their way to Western North Carolina early next year.

11/14/14 Time 6:30-8:30 am 5:44 pm duration 5:30

Wayfaring Strangers: The Musical Voyage From Scotland and Ulster to Appalachia

By David Hurand

The creator, producer, and host of Thistle and Shamrock, Fiona Ritchie and former President of Warren Wilson College and founder of the Swannanoa Gathering on the college campus, Doug Orr, have written a new book, Wayfaring Strangers: The Musical Voyage from Scotland and Ulster to Appalachia. The book tells the story of how the music of Scotland and Ireland found its way to America. They spoke with David Hurand.....

11/07/14 time: 8:30 am duration 5:45

Tony Kiss Weekend Update

By David Hurand

An opening Reception greets the weekend. November 7th, 5:00-8:00 pm at Pink Dog Creative Gallery in Asheville's River Arts District. Rob Amberg: ShatterZone. The exhibition of Rob Amberg photographs runs through January 11th. Also this weekend.

11/05/14 Time 6:30-8:30am 5:44 pm duration 5:00

Happy Birthday, Morning Edition!

By Greta Johnsen

To celebrate Morning Edition's 35th birthday, BJ Leiderman tells the story of how an aspiring dropout's jingles led to the song most of us wake up to. (Did you know there were even lyrics?)

35 years ago today, NPR aired Morning Edition for the first time.

10/31/14 time 8:30 am duration 5:40

Tony Kiss Weekend Update

By David Hurand

Halloween weekend has arrived and there's plenty to do. The Avett Brothers are at the U.S. Cellular Center in Asheville for two nights and Taj Mahal makes an intimate club appearance too. Maria Muldaur is at the Grey Eagle Tuesday. Conversations with David Holt is on tap at Blue Ridge Community College Bo Thomas Auditorium November 5th. The Cinema Film Festival arrives mid week

10/24/14 time 8:30 am duration 5:45

Tony Kiss Weekend Update

By David Hurand

Halloween is still a week away, but the ghouls and goblins are already out and about. Tony is frightfully delightful with tips and suggestions for the week leading up to Oct. 31. High on his list of scary options, Pinhead's Graveyard and the return of the Rocky Horror Picture Show to Asheville. There are several new movies in the area including John Wick, starring Keanu Reeves, and St. Vincent, starring Bill Murray.

10/17/14 time 8:30 am duration 5:45

This Weekend in WNC: Friday, Oct. 17

By Greta Johnsen

This week, Tony's out of town, so WCQS Morning Edition host Greta Johnsen sat down with Asheville Citizen-Times entertainment reporter Carol Motsinger about her picks for weekend fun.

10/10/14 time 8:30 am duration 5:45

Tony Kiss Weekend Update

By David Hurand

Thirteen breweries will be featured at October Fest on Coxe Avenue in downtown Asheville. A major motion picture with two big stars has opened. The Judge stars Robert Downey Jr. and Robert Duvall and My Old Lady with Kevin Cline and Maggie Smith is still available. David LaMotte has a book release party planned at White Horse Black Mt. and there's plenty of quality live theater to choose from. Tony Kiss takes a look at some of the things happening in Western North Carolina.

10/09/14 6:30-8:30 am 5:44 pm duration 5:15

Paula Poundstone just might be the losingest NPR News quiz panelist

By Greta Johnsen

Stand-up comedian Paula Poundstone is scheduled to perform in Asheville tonight.

These days, Poundstone is best known for her appearances as the skeptical panelist on NPR's news quiz, Wait Wait...Don't Tell Me!. But she also does about 150 stand up shows a year.

10/03/14 time 8:30 am duration 5:40

Tony Kiss Weekend Update

By David Hurand

Another action packed weekend has arrived. Thank goodness! The great Paul Winter takes the stage at Isis in West Asheville and Lera Lynn performs at the Mothlight at Mr. Fred's Bar. The 47th Bascom Lamar Lunsford Minstrel of the Appalachians Festival takes place on the campus of Mars Hill University and there are a couple of new movies in the area, including My Old Lady, starring Maggie Smith and Kevin Cline. The Adams Family takes the stage at Asheville Community Theater and Urinetown is presented by Haywood Arts Regional Theater.

Education

10/02/14 time 6:06 8:06 am 5:44 pm duration 4:00

NC LEAST FAVORABLE STATE FOR TEACHERS

By David Hurand

According to a new survey from WalletHub, North Carolina was dead last its list of where teachers want to live and work. WalletHub based its survey on data from several sources, including the U.S Census Bureau. The personal finance social network site has a stated goal of helping consumers make wise decisions. David Hurand spoke with Jill Gonzalez.

10/01/14 time 6:06-8:06 am 5:44 pm. Duration 4:00

TWO NEW WNC CHARTER SCHOOLS SEEK APPROVAL

By David Hurand

Fern Leaf Charter School in Henderson County and Asheville Math and Science in Buncombe County have applied for state approval. The North Carolina Department of Public Instruction received forty applications. David Hurand spoke with the Director of the N.C. Office of Charter Schools Joel Medley about the pool of applicants.

Economy

12/27/14 time 6:41-8:41am 5:44 pm. Duration 4:15

Skiing in WNC!? By David Hurand The calendar indicates that winter arrived about a week ago but temperatures remain in the rather mild. That's not necessarily good news for the growing interest in winter sports in Western North Carolina. David Hurand spoke with Mt. Xpress reporter Jake Frankel about the expanding financial commitment on the part of various ski areas in Western North Carolina.

Economy, Politics/Government

12/19/14 - Utility profits Total time :45

Lead: Changes in North Carolina law that resulted in lower taxes on utility profits should mean lower rates for consumers, That's the message from Attorney General Roy Cooper, who is appealing a recent decision by the Utilities Commission allowing energy companies to keep tax cut profits. WCQS's Helen Chickering has details.

Economy/Environment

11/24/14 time 6:41-8:41 am 5:44 pm. Duration 5:00

WCQS on NPR: National Parks Look To Lock Out Wild Ginseng Diggers

A harvester holds ginseng roots. Wild ginseng roots can bring big profits overseas, especially in Asia, but it is illegal to poach the root from U.S. national parks.

Credit Greta Johnsen / NPR

By Greta Johnsen

Digging for wild ginseng pays: It sells for thousands of dollars in overseas markets. But it is illegal to take ginseng from national parks, where authorities are working to thwart poachers.

They come to the Great Smoky Mountains National Park, and Jim Corbin, a plant protection specialist with North Carolina's agriculture department, is out to protect wild ginseng root from the poachers.

10/06/14 Time 6:30-8:30 am 5:44 pm duration 5:00

Nuns on the Bus Arrives in WNC

By David Hurand

Sister Simone Campbell is the Executive Director of the Catholic social justice lobby, NETWORK and one of the Nuns On The Bus. Her organization advocates for the poor and speaks out on a number of issues, including voting rights, immigration reform, access to health care, and economic justice. She was the featured speaker at the 4th Annual Pisgah Legal Services Poverty Forum. She spoke with David Hurand.

Education

141218 Virtual Charter Schools total time :34

North Carolina's statewide school board could decide next month whether to launch the state's first online charter schools. WCQS's Helen Chickering has details

Education

12/01/14 US History Course tt: 34

North Carolina has joined a growing national debate over whether a redesigned high school U.S. History course is unpatriotic or promotes a balanced view of history. The State Board of Education heard pros and cons of the curriculum. WCQS's Helen Chickering has details.

10/02/14 time 6:06-8:06 am 5:44 pm duration 4:00

NC LEAST FAVORABLE STATE FOR TEACHERS

By David Hurand

According to a new survey from WalletHub, North Carolina was dead last its list of where teachers want to live and work. WalletHub based its survey on data from several sources, including the U.S Census Bureau. The personal finance social network site has a stated goal of helping consumers make wise decisions. David Hurand spoke with Jill Gonzalez.

10/01/14 time 6:06-8:06am 5:44 pm duration 4:00

TWO NEW WNC CHARTER SCHOOLS SEEK APPROVAL

By David Hurand

Fern Leaf Charter School in Henderson County and Asheville Math and Science in Buncombe County have applied for state approval. The North Carolina Department of Public Instruction received forty applications. David Hurand spoke with the Director of the N.C. Office of Charter Schools Joel Medley about the pool of applicants.

Environment

11/23/14 Red Wolf Fate tt :40

Lead: A decision looms in the new year, on whether to continue efforts in North Carolina to maintain the country's only wild population of red wolves. WCQS's Helen Chickering has details.

Environment, Arts and Culture

12/30/14 Brasstown Possum Drop tt: 47

Lead: The annual Brasstown Possum Drop won't ring in 2015 with a live animal. The break from the twenty-year tradition was triggered by complaints from an animal rights group. WCQS's Helen Chickering has details.

12/31/14 time 6:30-8:30 am 5:44 pm duration 4:00

Haywood County Resident May Foot the Bill for Landfill Cleanup

By David Hurand

Haywood County Commissioners are facing a costly decision, how to clean up a closed landfill. Smoky Mt. News reporter told David Hurand, Commissioners have few options.

11/19/14 Skyland - tt:54

Lead: The Environmental Protection Agency says it's OK for several families in the Skyland community to return home — months after they were urged to evacuate because of air filled with toxic vapors. WCQS's Helen Chickering has details....

10/14/14 time: 5:00-6:00-7:00-8:00 am duration :60

Strong Cold Front Brings Stormy Weather

By David Hurand

A very strong low pressure system has brought stormy weather to Western North Carolina. For the first time in quite some time the National Weather Service responded to the low pressure system by issuing a tornado watch, and we stress watch, for much of the region. A tornado watch means weather conditions are favorable for a possible tornado. A Warning is confirmation of an actual tornado.

11/21/14 Solar NC tt:46

Lead: A new report released this week finds solar power is growing so quickly in North Carolina, that clean energy goals once considered too ambitious, are now achievable.... Helen Chickering has details

11/20/14 Climate bugs in nws... tt:59

The latest side effect of climate change - may be a boom in the urban bug population...
WCQS's Helen Chickering has details of new research out of North Carolina State University.

141119 Skyland - tt:54

Lead.. The Environmental Protection Agency says it's OK for several families in the Skyland community to return home — months after they were urged to evacuate because of air filled with toxic vapors.
WCQS's Helen Chickering has details....

10/31/14

Winter Weather Could Hit WNC This Weekend

The first snow of the season could fall this weekend in the mountains of Western North Carolina.

The National Weather Service has issued a winter storm watch for 11 counties from 8:00 Friday, Oct. 31 through Saturday, Nov. 1 at 8:00 p.m.

The watch is in effect in Ashe, Avery, Buncombe, Graham, Haywood, northern Jackson, Madison, Mitchell, Swain, Watauga and Yancey counties.

The weather service said up to 6 inches of snow could fall in the higher elevations, with up to 3 inches in the valleys.

Health and Wellness

12/17/14 E-cigarettes... tt:44

Electronic cigarettes may be more popular than real cigarettes among teenagers, according to a government survey. released yesterday. North Carolina is one of only two states that has voted to tax the e-cigarette. WCQS's Helen Chickering has details.

12/16/14 Whooping Cough :35

Lead: Health officials in Buncombe County are reporting an outbreak of pertussis, or whooping cough, in the county and say there is concern the respiratory illness will spread. WCQS's Helen Chickering has details.

Health Care

12/04/14 Underage Drinking - :34

Lead: A recent survey finds more than a third of eighth-graders in North Carolina have tried alcohol at least once. State officials say parents are the key to ending underage drinking. Yesterday they kicked off a new campaign they hope will help families get the conversation started. WCQS's Helen Chickering has details.

Health Care/ Politics/Government

12/02/14 Abortion Reg total time :44

North Carolina health officials have developed new rules for the state's abortion clinics more than a year after the legislature demanded upgrades so that they would be treated like outpatient surgery centers. WCQS's Helen Chickering has details.

Politics/Government

41212 Republican Pro Tem - :37

Lead: North Carolina Senate Republicans want to keep their chamber's leader for another two years. WCQS's Helen Chickering has details from yesterday's meeting in Raleigh..

Politics/Government, Environment

141209 Sutton Lake Fish :40

Lead: Environmentalists are calling on North Carolina health officials to warn people against eating fish caught in a lake near a Duke Energy coal ash dump in Wilmington. WCQS's Helen Chickering has details.

Politics/Government

141205 Police Cameras :44

A Democratic candidate for North Carolina governor in 2016, is calling on Gov. Pat McCrory and the legislature to require local law enforcement officers wear cameras. WCQS's Helen Chickering has details.

Politics/government

141203 NC New Laws tt: 44

From B-B guns to Carnivorous plants. A number of new laws went into effect on Monday in North Carolina. WCQS's Helen Chickering has the highlights.

Politics Government/Environment

11/25/14 Coal Ash tt: 53

Cleaning up coal ash in North Carolina has been a top priority for lawmakers since February, when 35 million gallons of the toxic sludge spilled into the Dan River. On Monday, a state environmental committee met in Charlotte to discuss whether it's better to remove or reuse coal ash across North Carolina. WCQS's Helen Chickering has details

Politics/Government, Education

141118 Affirmative Action tt :44

Lead: Affirmative action policies at the University of North Carolina Chapel Hill and Harvard University have been challenged in court. Helen Chickering has more....

12/31/14 time: 6:30-8:30 am 5:30 pm duration 1:30

State Parks Offering "First Day Hikes" for New Year

By Jeremy Loeb

People with a little bit of adventure in them can start the new year off with a hike. The North Carolina Division of Parks and Recreation is organizing free group hikes tomorrow called "First Day Hikes." Spokesman Charlie Peek says he went on the first one four years ago and people really seemed to enjoy it.

Charlie Peek: "You get a reconnection with nature. You get a little bit of fresh air and exercise. And also, perhaps just as importantly, you get to kind of decompress after the holidays, and kind of reset a little bit for the new year."

12/18/14

State Decision Not to Expand Medicaid Cost NC Billions

By David Hurand

A new county by county analysis of the General Assembly's decision not to expand Medicaid eligibility indicates it has cost the state 22 billion dollars and thousands of jobs. The study was funded by George Washington University and the Cone Foundation. Leighton Ku is a Professor of Public Health Policy and the lead author of the report. He spoke with David Hurand.

11/24/14 time 6:06-8:06 am 5:44 pm duration 4:00

Effort Underway to Open WNC Birth Center

By David Hurand

There are fewer than a handful of birth centers in North Carolina but a drive is underway to open another in our region. Judy Major is with the Western North Carolina Birth Center. She spoke with David Hurand...

Politics

12/24/14 Carolina Census tt :41

Newly released numbers from the U.S. Census Bureau show the Carolinas continue to rank among the nation's fastest growing states. WCQS's Helen Chickering has details.

Arts and Culture, Politics/Government

12/23/14 Poet Laureate tt: 36

An award-winning writer from Johnston County is Gov. Pat McCrory's choice as North Carolina's next poet laureate. His original pick departed last summer amid controversy over the selection process. WCQS's Helen Chickering has details.

Politics/Government , Environment

12/19/14 NC FRACKING REGULATIONS Duration 45 seconds

Lead: A state panel has approved a comprehensive list of regulations for companies that want fracking permits in North Carolina. WCQS's Helen Chickering has details..

12/31/14 time 6:30-8:30am 5:44 pm. Duration 4:00

2014 Political Stories Top End of Year List

By David Hurand

As 2014 comes to a close, Mt. Xpress reporter Jake Frankel offers his take on some of the top regional stories of the year. He spoke with David Hurand

12/17/14 time 6:41-8:41am 5:44 pm duration 5:00

Former Assistant Buncombe D.A. Called to Testify

By David Hurand

A former Assistant District attorney in Buncombe County has apparently refused to answer questions in a law suit that is being heard before a federal judge. The suit was brought against the county and former Sheriff Bobby Medford. Medford is serving time in federal prison after being found guilty on several corruption charges unrelated to the law suit. Asheville Citizen Times reporter Jon Ostendorff has been following the case. He spoke with David Hurand.

11/12/14 time: 6:30-8:30 am 5:44 pm duration 4:30

There's a New Sheriff Coming...

By David Hurand

One of the more important but frequently over looked mid-term election races took place in all 100 North Carolina counties. The race for Sheriff has long been part of North Carolina's political history. This year five of eighteen incumbents ran unopposed. Jon Elliston spoke with David Hurand about some of the surprising results in contests for Sheriff in Western North Carolina.

11/05/14 time 6:30-8:30 am 5:44 pm. Duration 4:00

WNC Election Results

By David Hurand & Greta Johnsen

Midterm voter participation set records in North Carolina. As of 10:34 last night, 2,717,920 voters had cast ballots. In 2010, turnout was 2,700,393.

U.S. House

- 11th Congressional District incumbent Republican Mark Meadows and 10th District Republican Patrick McHenry held onto their seats, winning over Democratic party challengers.

11/03/14 6:30-8:30 am 5:44 pm duration 4:00

Campaign Spending in WNC

By David Hurand

Election day is upon us and the on-line investigative reporting service Carolina Public Press has the latest campaign finance reports for North Carolina House and Senate candidates across the 18 westernmost counties of North Carolina... link to article.

11/03/14 6:00-700-8:00 am 5:00 pm duration :60

Have You Voted Yet?

By Greta Johnsen & Associated Press

Today is election day across the United States.

North Carolina voters will choose the state's U.S. Senator, along with members of Congress and the General Assembly, and statewide and local judgeships and local offices.

More than 1.1 million people already have cast votes, most through early in-person voting that ended Saturday.

Polls are open today until 7:30 p.m.

10/30/14 time 6:06-8:06 am 5:44 pm. Duration 4:00

Primers on Hagan, Tillis

By Greta Johnsen

From NPR member station WFAE in Charlotte, reporter Ben Bradford has produced stories about the voting records of both incumbent Sen. Kay Hagan and her opponent, North Carolina House Speaker Thom Tillis:

- Democratic Senate Candidate Hagan: A Primer
- Republican Senate Candidate Tillis: A Primer

10/28/14 time 6:00-7:00-8:00 5:00pm duration :60

McHenry v McQueen 10th Congressional District

By David Hurand

10th Congressional District Representative Patrick McHenry and his Democratic challenger Tate McQueen met Monday (October 27th) for a debate at the University of North Carolina Asheville. For more than an hour the two candidates took questions from the Council of Independent Business Owners and the differences between the Conservative Republican incumbent and his Progressive Democratic challenger were pronounced.

10/23/14 time 6-7-8 am duration :60

Time for Early Voting!

Greta Johnsen

Early voting for the upcoming Nov. 4 midterm elections began Thursday, Oct. 23 in all 100 North Carolina counties. The 10-day early voting period ends midday Saturday, Nov. 1.

Photo IDs are NOT required for voting this year. The voter ID law is set to take effect for the 2016 elections.

Voters this midterm election season are choosing legislators, judges and local leaders.

10/22/14 time 6:06-8:06 am 5:44 pm. Duration 4:00

Election 2014: A Look at the Buncombe County Board of Commissioners' Race

By David Hurand

Early voting started Thursday, Oct. 23 and runs through Saturday, Nov. 1.

This off-year election marks the second election since the Republican Party dominated North Carolina General Assembly expanded the Buncombe County Board of Commissioners from five at large seats to six commissioners representing three districts. The Chair continues to be elected at large. David Hurand spoke with Mt. Xpress reporter Jake Frankel about what's at stake...

10/17/14 time 6:30-8:30 am 5:44 pm duration 5:00

Election 2014: Henderson County Sheriff and His "Posse"

By David Hurand

David Hurand spoke with Asheville Citizen-Times reporter Jon Ostendorff about the race for Henderson County Sheriff, where incumbent Republican Charlie McDonald and his challenger Democrat Marty Ktax have differing opinions about the creation of an emergency "posse."

10/17/14 time: 6:30-8:30 am 5:44 pm duration 5:00

Election 2014: Moffitt v. Turner in House District 116

By David Hurand

The district has been a relatively safe seat for Republicans but some think the outcome could be closer this November. David Hurand spoke with Mt. Xpress reporter Jake Frankel about the race between incumbent Republican Tim Moffitt and Democrat Brian

10/13/14 time: 6:30-8:30 am 5:44 pm duration 5:00

Election 2014: David v. Hipps in NC Senate District 50

By David Hurand

David Hurand spoke with Asheville Citizen-Times reporter Jon Ostendorff about what may turn out to be a much closer race than anticipated in state senate district 50, which includes the seven far-west counties of Cherokee, Clay, Graham, Haywood,

10/10/14 time: 6-7-8 am 5:00pm duration :60

October 10th last day to register to vote in NC

By Greta Johnsen

Last year, the North Carolina General Assembly approved sweeping voting law overhaul, but since then, the laws have been questioned in appeals courts, making it difficult to keep track of what takes effect when.

But here's what you need to know for now: Friday, Oct. 10 is the last day to register to vote in time for the Nov. 4 general election.

WNC Advocates for Marriage Equality Hail Supreme Court

By David Hurand

Marriage equality advocates in Western North Carolina are hailing today's decision by the U.S. Supreme Court to let stand appeals court rulings that allow same sex couples to marry in five states. Many observers were surprised the Court decided not to hear the challenge and follow it with a ruling that could have applied to all 50 states. Lindsey Simerly is with the Campaign for Southern Equality. She spoke with David Hurand.

