

Issue	Specific Issue	Date	Duration	Air time	Story	Content	Reporter
Politics & Government	Homeless, U.S. Supreme Court, Seattle	10/2/2023	0:22:08	12-1p	Seattle asks SCOTUS to overturn homelessness ruling	The city of Seattle, is asking for help from the most conservative U.S. Supreme Court in almost a century. Seattle joined a dozen other cities, including Tacoma	Libby Denkmann, Hans Anderson
Arts & Life	Arts, comedy	10/2/2023	0:29:30	12-1p	Libby talks with other comedians about controversy surrounding Hasan Minhaj	Soundside host Libby Denkmann talks with comedians who have Washington state connections, Rohini Jayanthi and Sam Miller, along with Tasveer executive	Libby Denkmann, Jason Burrows
Sports	Baseball, World Series	10/2/2023	0:04:48	3-6p	Mariners miss on ramp for road to World Series	Sports writer Danny O'Neil talks about the Ms season.	Kim Malcolm, Andy Hurst
Politics & Government	race, race and equity, police	10/3/2023	0:21:50	12-1p	Tacoma community members share what accountability means	Opening statements began this morning in the trial of three Tacoma police officers charged with killing Manny Ellis.	Libby Denkmann, Noel Gasca
Politics & Government	Fires, Outdoor workers, Smoke, State Rules	10/3/2023	0:16:12	12-1p	WA is drafting new wildfire smoke rules to safeguard Farmworkers Health	When wildfires tear through our forests, pouring heavy smoke onto the state, health officials guidance is often to simply stay inside. But thats not an option	Libby Denkmann, Alec Cowan
Medicine & Health	Caregiving, BiCultures	10/4/2023	0:05:18	6-9a	Latinos in WA are aging. Bilingual, bicultural resources for their caregivers arent keeping pace	The U.S. population of Latino seniors is expected to more than double over the next 20 years, and Latinos are one of the groups most at risk of developing	Ellis O'Neill

Business,economics & Finance	real estate	10/4/2023	0:10:34	12-1p	Why did Redfin leave the National Association of Realtors?	Why did Redfin ask its employees to hand in the keys to their National Association of Realtors memberships? And what does it mean for customers buying and	Libby Denkmann, Hans Anderson
Arts & Life	Arts, Culture	10/5/2023	0:12:30	12-1p	Hear it again: Whats in a weave? Native basketmaker and archeologist explore the stories baskets tell	To be chosen for a National Heritage Fellowship is to be recognized as a kind of national treasure. The award is given by the National Endowment for the	Libby Denkmann, Alec Cowan
Crime & Law Enforcement	pets, animals	10/5/2023	0:21:09	12-1p	Why abandoned Whatcom doodles point to a much bigger problem	The rising demand for specialty dogs like doodles has prompted a boom in backyard breeders. And that is also the reason 21 so-called designer dogs were found	Libby Denkmann, Sarah Leibovitz
Politics & Government	elections, Seattle City Council, homeless, drugs, crime	10/5/2023	0:33:39	12-1p	KUOW District Dash - D1: Rob Saka vs. Maren Costa	In the first of Soundsides District Dashes, District 1 city council candidates Maren Costa and Rob Saka mixed it up in front of a live audience at KUOW this week,	David Hyde, Libby Denkmann, Alec Cowan
Business,economics & Finance	Economy, tipping	10/5/2023	0:16:35	12-1p	How much should you tip? An expert gives her advice	Lately it feels like were tipping here, there, and everywhere. But whats the tipping point?	Libby Denkmann, Noel Gasca
Agriculture & Envoroment	environment, transportation, biking	10/5/2023	0:04:46	6-9a	Meet the guerilla gardener of the 520 bike path	The rain has returned to the Seattle area, leaves are falling, and that means bike paths are getting clogged up with debris. On the State Route 520 bike	Casey Martin

Arts & Life	Arts, Seattle sights	10/5/2023	0:05:25	3-6p	Passengers, Encounters, and A widow to the see, highlight our arts picks	Arts and culture reporter Mike Davis shares sights to behold with KUOWs Kim Malcolm	Kim Malcolm, Mike Davis
News Analysis	crime, technology, sports	10/6/2023	0:50:54	12-1p	Week in Review: Manny Ellis, Microsoft, and AI	Bill Radke discusses the weeks news with Geekwires Mike Lewis, South Seattle Emeralds Lauryn Bray, and KUOWs Joshua McNichols.	Bill Radke, Kevin Kniestedt
Politics & Government	elections, Seattle City Council	10/9/2023	0:31:52	12-1p	Seattle council candidates clash over crime in the race to represent the downtown area	Seattle City Council incumbent Andrew Lewis (District 7) faced challenger and Navy veteran Bob Kettle in a blisteringly fast-paced candidate event at KUOW, which	David Hyde, Libby Denkmann, Jason Burrows
Arts & Life	Film, Arts	10/9/2023	0:18:57	12-1p	RICHLAND shows the way history echoes through communities	In the documentary, RICHLAND, director Irene Lusztig looks at how the legacy of the atomic age ricochets through generations and across communities,	Mike Davis, Noel Gasca, Hans Anderson
Politics & Government	elections, Seattle City Council	10/11/2023	0:32:36	12-1p	Sharp disagreements on display in South Seattle City Council race	City Councilmember Tammy Morales and her challenger Tanya Woo sometimes agree on how to tackle the biggest problems Seattle voters are	David Hyde, Libby Denkmann, Jason Burrows
Arts & Life	music, politics, theater	10/12/2023	0:19:00	12-1p	Cambodian Rock Band explores collective trauma and history through music	This story ofCambodian Rock Band masterfully unfolds in a tale that features comedic beats, an epic soundtrack, and tender moments of love and	Mike Davis, Sarah Leibovitz

Arts & Life	Arts, cinema, theatre	10/12/2023	0:04:26	6-9a	What this tiny Seattle cinema means to indie directors	The tiny Grand Illusion Cinema or at least, the building it occupies in the University District has sold to a developer for just over $2 million dollars. The	Joshua McNichols
Arts & Life	Arts, Seattle, Weekly picks	10/12/2023	0:05:13	3-6p	For a cool, cloudy, and drizzly weekend, plan some indoor art time	KUOW's arts and culture reporter Mike Davis shares his weekly picks with Kim Malcolm	Kim Malcolm, Mike Davis
Politics & Government	elections, Seattle City Council	10/13/2023	0:30:38	12-1p	Whos going to replace Kshama Sawant as she exits Seattles city council (and will they be different)?	This year, two candidates are vying to replace socialist Kshama Sawant on the Seattle City Council. At a KUOW event this week, we asked Cannabis	David Hyde, Libby Denkmann, Alec Cowan
Business,economics & Finance	Amazon, law and courts, business	10/13/2023	0:04:25	6-9a	A tale of two warehouses: How a workplace safety lawsuit could accelerate automation at Amazon	One warehouse is operated by people and one is by robots. Amazon is hoping the board will overturnof Industrail Insurance Appeals will overturn the claim	Monica Nickelsburg
Agriculture & Enviroment	science, solar eclipse	10/13/2023	0:03:38	6-9a	Cloud cover depending, well experience a solar eclipse on Saturday	This go round the view will be partial, not total like 6 years ago, but Washington state is near the prime-viewing path.	John OBrien
Agriculture & Enviroment	animals, environment	10/13/2023	0:03:26	6-9a	Zoo poop covers the luckiest Seattle gardens. Heres the story behind that	About six to eight times a year, Seattle gardeners hustle to Woodland Park Zoo to shovel animal manure into buckets, or into the backs of their pickup	Natalie Akane Newcomb

Arts & Life	Arts, Community, Drill Team	10/13/2023	0:17:45	12-1p	She Marches in Chinatown celebrates 70 years of a one of a kind drill team	Seattles Chinese Community Girls Drill Team is a one of a kind. For over 70 years, the group has brought their own unique style to parades throughout the city. The	Mike Davis, Alec Cowan
News Analysis	homeless, real estate, law and courts	10/16/2023	0:51:43	12-1p	Week in Review: Regional Homelessness Authority, pay transparency, and the Seattle office market	Bill Radke discusses the weeks news with Seattle Times Claudia Rowe, Puget Sound Business Journals Alex Halverson, and Seattle Mets Allison Williams.	Bill Radke, Kevin Kniestedt
Immigration & Refugees	immigration, refuge	10/16/2023	0:04:34	3-6a	For these asylum-seekers, a Tukwila church offers temporary comfort and refuge	The growing number of migrants looking for asylum in Tukwilla has prompted the city to declare a state of emergency. While local and state governments work to	Gustavo Sagrero Álvarez
Politics & Government	elections, Seattle City Council, homeless, drugs	10/17/2023	0:35:37	12-1p	Sparks fly between candidates running for open seat in Northeast Seattle	Things got zesty from the get-go between tech entrepreneur Ron Davis and former City Council staffer Maritza Rivera in a live candidate event at KUOW, as the	David Hyde, Libby Denkmann, Hans Anderson
Politics & Government	War, civilian conflicts	10/18/2023	0:52:48	12-1p	War between Israel and Hamas. Palenstinian civilians caught up in the conflict	Three experts on human rights and race, colonialism, and diasporic communities joined Soundside host Libby Denkmann for a conversation about how the	Libby Denkmann, Noel Gasca
Politics & Government	Elections, Seattle City Council	10/18/2023	0:37:14	12-1p	Pointed, polite exchanges between North Seattle City Council candidates	In a series of polite but pointed exchanges on key issues facing Seattle, social equity consultant ChrisTiana ObeySumner and retired Judge Cathy Moore	David Hyde, Libby Denkmann, Noel Gasca

Politics & Government	Elections, politics, Seattle City Council	10/18/2023	0:04:46	3-6p	Crime emerges as a top issue for Seattle voters and candidates	Is the change in voters moods having any discernable impact on this years Seattle City Council races?	Kim Malcolm, David Hyde, Andy Hurst
Business,economics & Finance	food, business, Seattle	10/19/2023	0:03:45	6-9a	Seattle Restaurant Week is approaching--with high-end course meals for less	Seattle-area restaurants are hoping Seattle Restaurant Week, a two-week dining event starting Oct. 22, will provide a much-needed boost to make up for a	Ruby de Luna
Arts & Life	Arts,Culture,Weekly picks	10/19/2023	0:04:25	3-6p	Hokusai at SAM, Kahlon at BAM, and a haunted chocolate factory chaser	KUOWs arts and culture reporter Mike Davis shares his weekly picks with Kim Malcolm	Mike Davis, Kim Malcom
Agriculture & Environment	earthquakes, science	10/19/2023	0:03:10	3-6p	Whole lotta West Coast shake alerting going on	Today's worldwide Great Shakeout drill served as a serious test of earthquake preparedness. It wasn't meant to happen twice.	Kim Malcolm, John OBrien
Agriculture & Environment	economy, tourism, agriculture	10/20/2023	0:04:42	6-9a	Agritourism rules sow division among Skagit Valley farmers during harvest season	Protecting small farms is the goal of new agritourism rules, up for debate in Skagit County. The proposed regulations would allow for farmstands, but crack	Monica Nickelsburg
News Analysis	Crime, Seattle, shooting	10/20/2023	0:05:57	6-9a	Seattle daycare owner calls for action on Jackson after a bullet struck her business	Appollonia Washington was sitting with more two dozen young children when a bullet shattered the front window of her daycare, the A 4 Apple	Katie Campbell, Natalie Akane Newcomb, Angela King

News Analysis	Government, law and courts, transportation	10/20/2023	0:51:52	12-1p	Week in Review: Seattle City Council, tolls, and drones	Bill Radke discusses the weeks news with Seattle Times Jonathan Martin, PubliColas Erica Barnett, and Seattle Channels Brian Callanan.	Bill Radke, Kevin Kniestedt
Business, economics & Finance	Insurance, risks	10/20/2023	0:15:49	12-1p	As wildfire risk scores rise, so are insurance rates	To scope out the danger, insurance companies are turning to a variety of tools that use algorithms to measure and predict wildfire risk. As that risk	Libby Denkmann, Alec Cowan
Arts & Life	Arts, Culture	10/20/2023	0:18:23	12-1p	Exploring the concept of masculinity in Soft Boy	The idea of masculinity is a topic that young boys have grappled with for generations. In his new exhibit at the Frye Art Museum, Photographer Rafeal Soldi	Mike Davis, Sarah Leibovitz
Politics & Government	elections, Seattle City Council, crime, police, politics	10/24/2023	0:30:31	12-1p	Defund still at issue in Ballard city council race	Seattle City Councilmember Dan Strauss is running for reelection this year. And his opponent, Fremont Chamber of Commerce Director Pete Hanning, is trying	David Hyde, Libby Denkmann, Hans Anderson
Education	education, schools and education, coronavirus	10/25/2023	0:04:19	6-9a	Many WA schools are strapped for cash. Should they consider a 4-day week?	The Waterville School District is among a growing number of districts across the country to shift to a four-day school week. But what are the trade offs?	Sami West
Science & Technology	Shipwreck, history	10/25/2023	0:18:22	12-1p	Heart it again: Northwest shipwreck enthusiasts spot possible site of regions deadliest wreck	Last December, a group of shipwreck enthusiasts made news when they discovered a historic wreck. Using sonar, they found what they believed to be	Libby Denkmann, Alec Cowan

Business,economics & Finance	business,startup	10/26/2023	0:11:51	12-1p	This darling of Seattles startup scene promised to change freight. What happened?	It takes a whole lot of trucks to get us the stuff we want. And one Seattle-area company thought it had the secret to handling these logistics. Convoy,	Libby Denkmann, Noel Gasca
Arts & Life	arts,theater	10/26/2023	0:04:22	3-6p	Fall arts options: New Works meets underwater pumpkin carving	KUOWs arts and culture reporter Mike Davis shares his weekly picks with Kim Malcolm	Kim Malcolm, Mike Davis
Arts & Life	Food,volunteers, food banks	10/27/2023	0:04:15	6-9a	These volunteer bakers are making a difference from their home kitchens	Food banks were dealing with supply chain issues and overwhelmed by the demand from people laid off due to the pandemic. Kehrli persuaded her	Ruby de Luna
News Analysis	crime, social media, weather	10/27/2023	0:52:17	12-1p	Week in Review: crime, off-duty pilot, and mountain snowfall	Bill Radke discusses the weeks news with KUOWs Dyer Oxley, Mike Davis, and Monica Nickelsburg.	Bill Radke, Kevin Kniestedt
Crime & Law Enforcement	crime, sexual assault, police	10/27/2023	0:05:09	3-6p	WA clears backlog of sexual assault kits	Washington state has effectively eliminated its extensive backlog of untested sexual assault evidence kits. Officials announced Thursday that more	Kate Walters
Medicine & Health	mental health, Alaska Airlines	10/27/2023	0:05:34	3-6p	Researcher focuses on mental health of commercial jet pilots	Dr. William Hoffman seeks to combat misinformation. “You absolutely can be an airline pilot and be on an SSRI. You can absolutely be an airline pilot and	Kim Malcolm, John OBrien

News Analysis	Downtown Seattle, arts, theater	10/30/2023	0:15:14	12-1p	Could a streetcar be the key to reviving downtown Seattles arts and entertainment scene?	Downtown Seattle has the Seattle Art Museum, the Paramount, the symphony, and some other theaters and galleries. But it hasnt been the	Joshua McNichols, Mike Davis
Religion	Religion,reform	10/30/2023	0:31:04	12-1p	Women priests vs. Catholic doctrine	As Catholic bishops meet at the Vatican to discuss potential reforms, some progressives arent waiting for the papal sign off.	Libby Denkmann, Hans Anderson
Business,economics & Finance	Starbucks, business	10/30/2023	0:14:31	12-1p	Peter, Peter, pumpkin...daddy? Meet the	Starbucks pumpkin spice latte is turning 20 this year. Soundside caught up with the Seattle man considered to be thefather of the autumnal sensation about the	Libby Denkmann, Noel Gasca
Medicine & Health	health, aging,care	10/31/2023	0:04:35	6-9a	Aging Boomers in rural Washington cant find caregivers. Who can fill the gap?	Boomers in Central Washington are growing older and needing more care, but their kids have moved away to bigger cities, and there arent enough nursing	Eilis O'Neill
Issue	Specific Issue	Date	Duration	Air Time	Story	Content	Reporter
Arts & Life	food, chef,obituary	11/1/2023	0:02:56	3-6p	Chef who helped put Seattle on the culinary map dies at 64	Thierry Rautureau is remembered for cooking up a lasting legacy with skill, charm, generosity, and a fedora	Kim Malcolm, John OBrien

Agriculture & Environment	Pipeline, environment, government	11/2/2023	0:12:59	12-1p	Despite local opposition, an Eastern Washington gas pipeline was approved for expansion	A federal commission has approved a pipeline project to increase the flow of Canadian natural gas through the Pacific Northwest and California, despite opposition from state officials, federal lawmakers, and Native American tribes.	Libby Denkmann, Alec Cowan
Medicine & Health	treatment centers, fetal alcohol	11/2/2023	0:16:50	12-1p	Washington state leads the nation in fetal alcohol research, yet families still struggle to get care	Since the late 1960s, Washington state has led the nation in fetal alcohol research. And yet today, there's only one treatment center in Washington state for kids ages 3 to 12 diagnosed with a fetal alcohol spectrum disorder or prenatal substance exposure.	Libby Denkmann, Noel Gasca
Politics & government	elections, Seattle City Council	11/2/2023	0:03:35	6-9a	What Seattle voters are saying as the city braces for change	Seattle is bracing for change as voters weigh in on seven City Council races, four of which are open seats. The big, existential question for Seattle's City Council is whether it moves further left or shifts more to the center on the top issues like homelessness and public safety.	David Hyde

Arts & Life	Seattle, food, obituary	11/2/2023	0:12:35	12-1p	This man was loved beyond belief and the entire city is feeling it - the legacy of Seattle chef Thierry Rautureau	On Sunday, Seattle chef Thierry Rautureau died of complications from pulmonary fibrosis. Thierry was a staple of the Seattle food scene his restaurants, Rover, Luc, and Loulay, helped build Seattles reputation as a culinary destination.	Libby Denkmann, Sarah Leibovitz
Arts & Life	Seattle theatre and Museum	11/2/2023	0:05:23	3-6p	Arts picks: Glass by Black artists, Goodnight Moon on stage, and plays to end gun violence	KUOWs arts and culture reporter Mike Davis told Kim Malcolm about Two-Way Mirror at the Museum of Glass in Tacoma, Goodnight Moon at Seattle Childrens Theatre, and Enough! at Seattle Public Theater	Kim Malcolm, Mike Davis
Polictics & Government	Taxes, jail, law enforecemnt, politics	11/3/2023	0:32:03	12-1p	Is third time a charm for advocates of a new Whatcom County jail?	Whatcom County voters are looking at .2% sales tax increase on this Novembers ballot. A similar measure failed in 2015 and then again 2017. Now, county leaders hope a third time is the charm.	Libby Denkmann, Hans Anderson
News Analysis	Abortion rights, law and courts, police	11/3/2023	0:51:32	12-1p	Week in Review: Amazon, SPD, and kids	Guest host Mike Lewis discusses the weeks news with political analyst Joni Balter, Insiders Katherine Long, and The Seattle Times Claudia Rowe.	Kevin Kniestedt

Medicine & Health	Daylight savings, health	11/3/2023	0:05:10	3-6p	UW sleep doctor recommends falling back, and staying there	Dr. Nathaniel Watson says the artifice of daylight saving time messes with our biological clock, impacting our health. He wants it gone.	Kim Malcolm, Andy Hurst
Politics & government	politics, government, Seattle City Council	11/6/2023	0:06:14	6-9a	Centrist in Seattle? How this weeks election could change City Council politics	We know the City Council will look very, very different next year.	Catharine Smith, Angela King
Education	elections, Seattle Public Schools, safety	11/6/2023	0:10:37	12-1p	School consolidation, safety and budget gaps could cause a shakeup on SPS school board	Four of the seven seats on Seattles school board are up for grabs, and only two incumbents are running for re-election, meaning the board will get at least two new members after November 7. KUOW education reporter Sami West is here to explain some of the biggest issues candidates will have to address after the election.	Libby Denkmann, Sami West, Noel Gasca
Education	education, elections	11/7/2023	0:15:55	12-1p	Moms for Libertys influence in WA school board elections	Across the country, members of Moms for Liberty have increasingly confronted school administrators at board meetings and advocated against school curriculum including subjects like diversity, equity and inclusion, racism in the United States, and LGBTQ+ issues including in Washington State.	Libby Denkmann, Hans Anderson

Politics & government	elections, Seattle City Council	11/7/2023	0:05:23	6-9a	What Seattle voters said about crime on election night	Former Naval officer Bob Kettle seemed giddy at Kells Irish Restaurant & Pub in downtown Seattle on election night after the first results came down. He currently has an 12 percentage point lead over the incumbent, progressive city council member Andrew Lewis, in the race to represent District 7, which includes downtown.	David Hyde
Medicine & Health	health care, reproductive health	11/7/2023	0:04:57	6-9a	Native women in WA are dying during and after childbirth. Could cash help?	Native women are more likely to die during or shortly after childbirth than any other group in Washington state. Now, a nonprofit in the Seattle area is trying to tackle that with a new approach: cash.	Eilis O'Neill
Politics & government	elections, housing, Tacoma	11/7/2023	0:17:41	12-1p	Why housing is on the ballot in both Tacoma and Seattle	For many across Western Washington, this years general election ballot includes decisions that will impact one of the issues that voters are most concerned about: housing. In Seattle, theres a nearly $1 billion dollar levy to build more affordable housing. And in Tacoma, a renter-protection initiative in Tacoma has drawn hundreds of thousands of dollars in donations and spurred public debate.	Mike Davis, Libby Denkmann, Sarah Leibovitz

Agriculture & Environment	community, environment	11/7/2023	0:17:37	12-1p	Hear it again: Whats the story of Richland, WA? It depends on who you ask.	How does a community define itself? And what happens when a community's foundational story intersects with a violent piece of American history? Those are questions director Irene Lusztig takes on in her new documentary, Richland - about the community surrounding the Hanford Nuclear site in central Washington, which produced the plutonium used in the atomic bomb dropped on Nagasaki.	Mike Davis, Noel Gasca, Hans Anderson
Politics & Government	elections, fundraising	11/8/2023	0:16:01	12-1p	The race for Snohomish County sheriff is breaking fundraising records. Who are the candidates?	In many counties across Washington, sheriffs are nonpartisan, at times running unopposed. But this year's election in Snohomish County is different. Bothell Deputy Chief of Police Susanna Johnson, who is currently leading with 52% of the vote, is running against incumbent Sheriff Adam Fortney, who so far has garnered 47% of votes.	Libby Denkmann, Alec Cowan

Education	Schools, education, trauma	11/8/2023	0:04:16	6-9a	A year after a shooting at Ingraham High School, students are traumatized and want change	A year ago, a shooting at Ingraham High School left a student dead and an entire community reeling from a tragedy that has become all too common in schools across the nation. Ingraham students say that despite the districts efforts, they continue to grapple with trauma and want to see changes.	Sami West
Politics & government	elections, Seattle City Council, Tacoma	11/8/2023	0:30:27	12-1p	The changing winds of Washington politics: post election analysis	The 2023 General Election is over. And because we are election news junkies, we are here to catch up on whats known so far about how Washingtonians voted.	Diana Opong, Sarah Leibovitz
Politics & government	Seattle City Council, elections	11/8/2023	0:05:46	3-6p	So far, centrists seem to be making headway in Seattle City Council races	KUOW politics reporter David Hyde talked to Kim Malcolm about what hes seeing as yesterdays election results trickle in.	Kim Malcolm, David Hyde
Crime & Law enforcement	courts, criminal justice	11/9/2023	0:12:49	12-1p	Whats happened so far in the trial of Tacoma officers charged with killing Manny Ellis	For the last six weeks, jurors in Tacoma have listened to testimony in the trial against three Tacoma police officers charged in the death of 33 year-old Manuel Ellis. Soundside guest host Mike Davis caught up with Peter Talbot, a criminal justice reporter for The News Tribune in Tacoma about some key moments in the trial so far.	Mike Davis, Noel Gasca

Agriculture & Environment	EPA, toxic agent, endangered salmon	11/9/2023	0:13:21	12-1p	EPA sides with local tribes on petition to regulate 6PPD, a toxic tire chemical	6PPD agent has been in use for decades as a kind of bonding agent that prevents cracking and general wear and tear in tires. When the surface of the tire reacts with ozone or oxygen, it turns into a new compound called 6PPD-Quinone, which is toxic to aquatic life like coho salmon.	Diana Opong, Alec Cowan
Agriculture & Environment	California, environment, climate change	11/9/2023	0:16:38	12-1p	The person moving California redwoods to the Pacific Northwest	Coast redwoods and giant sequoias are iconic trees that tower over Northern California forests, but scientists are wondering if these trees will survive through a rapidly changing climate. Its leading some to consider a potential solution: moving the trees to the Pacific Northwest.	Diana Opong, Hans Anderson
Arts & Life	Podcast, texts	11/9/2023	0:19:23	12-1p	Lindy West & Meagan Hatcher-Mays talk Text Me Back	KUOW Arts and Culture reporter Mike Davis sits down with the hosts of the new podcast TEXT ME BACK to find out why they decided to record the conversations that usually take place via text!	Mike Davis, Jason Burrows

Arts & Life	museums,arts	11/9/2023	0:05:14	3-6p	Arts picks: Screaming at SAM, an anger jar at the Frye, and butterbeer in Bellevue	KUOWs arts and culture reporter Mike Davis takes Kim Malcolm to Neon American Anthem at the Seattle Art Museum, Hanako OLeary: Izanami at the Frye Art Museum, and Harry Potter: Magic at Play in Bellevue.	Kim Malcolm, Mike Davis
News Analysis	elections, LGBTQ, labor	11/10/2023	0:51:32	12-1p	Week in Review: Election, Starbucks, and ferries	Host Bill Radke discusses the weeks news with The Strangers Vivian McCall, Puget Sound Business Journals Alex Halverson, and KUOWs David Hyde.	Bill Radke, Kevin Kniestedt
Agriculture & Environment	environment, water safety	11/13/2023	0:16:50	12-1p	PFAS in the groundwater west of Spokane	Seattle Times reporters Isabella Breda & Manuel Villa talk with Soundside about PFAS chemicals in the drinking water near the city of Spokane.	Diana Opong, Jason Burrows
Sports	women, soccer, sports	11/13/2023	0:13:30	12-1p	OL Reign loses NWSL championship in Rapinoes last game	The stage was set this Saturday, the OL Reign were vying for their first National Womens Soccer League Championship against New Yorks Gotham FC. It was also the final professional game for the Reigns transcendent talent, retiring winger Megan Rapinoe, and then, less than five minutes into the match, Rapinoe left with an injury.	Diana Opong, Hans Anderson

Arts & Life	Capitol Hill, outdoors, environment, parks	11/13/2023	0:13:54	12-1p	The love story that grew Seattles secret garden	Since 1972, the Streissguth Gardens have become one of Seattles most unique landmarks. The gardens take up a full acre of hillside just west of Capitol Hills Volunteer Park. If youve spent a morning running up the long Blaine Street Stairs, youve passed right by the gardens. But the story of how this unorthodox public garden came to be is one of coincidence, love, and perhaps a bit of magic.	Diana Opong, Alec Cowan
Arts & Life	College, poverty, books	11/14/2023	0:35:55	12-1p	Stephanie Land	Soundside interviews author Stephanie Land about her most recent book,Class: A Memoir of Motherhood, Hunger, and Higher Education.	Diana Opong, Noel Gasca
Medicine & Health	unions, health care, health, Hospitals	11/14/2023	0:07:20	12-1p	Providence Everett nurses begin five day strike	Hundreds of nurses at Providence Regional Medical Center in Everett went on the picket line Tuesday morning after authorizing a five day strike. The major sticking points are staffing levels and pay. The union and Providence have been in negotiations for months over a new contract for roughly 1300 nurses.	Diana Opong, Kate Walters, Hans Anderson

Crime & Law enforcement	transportation, enforcement	11/15/2023	0:03:59	3-6p	Sound Transit ratchets up fare enforcement policy Wednesday, but in a friendly way	If you ride light rail in the Seattle metro area this holiday season, be sure to bring your ORCA card, and tap the card as you enter the station. Starting Wednesday, Sound Transit is ratcheting up its fare enforcement policy, and issuing citations for the first time in two years. Its a big change.	Joshua McNichols
Politics & government	oceans,navigation	11/15/2023	0:18:05	12-1p	A career of dangerous rescues at the Washingtons graveyard of the Pacific	Just outside Ilwaco, Washington, is the nations largest and busiest coast guard unit. This stretch of coast, known as the œGraveyard of the Pacific, is one of the most dangerous waterways to navigate in the U.S.	Alec Cowan, Diana Opong
Science & Technology	water, climate change, pollution, science, health	11/15/2023	0:01:41	6-9a	King Countys streams are becoming healthier, according to multiple 20 year-long studies.	Several 20-year long studies show that King County streams have fewer pollutants compared to previous samples, despite a population boom. In one study, a quarter of sites improved in water quality while only 3% declined in health.	Natalie Akane Newcomb
Politics & government	elections, Seattle, King County	11/16/2023	0:32:30	12-1p	Results are in: what to this years elections mean for 2024?	Washington elections are a lesson in patience. A week after the general election, results are just shaping up for most of the major races. And those results can help with determining what policy and politics will look like in Seattle, and Washington.	Mike Davis, Sarah Leibovitz

Business,economics & Finance	Starbucks, unions, labor, business	11/16/2023	0:05:07	3-6p	Starbucks workers in Seattle	Starbucks signature holiday drinks may come with a shot of guilt today for customers sympathetic to the labor movement.	Monica Nickelsburg
Politics & government	elections, Seattle City Council, government	11/16/2023	0:17:20	12-1p	Why the biggest winner for this years election is Mayor Bruce Harrell	If there was a big-picture winner of Seattles 2023 general election, its arguably Seattle Mayor Bruce Harrell.	Libby Denkmann, Sarah Leibovitz
Arts & Life ?	food donatons,groceries	11/16/2023	0:14:07	12-1p	Want to make a difference for food banks? Cash, not Kraft, may be your answer	Before you go through your own pantry or head to the store to pick up food to donate, Soundside called up some experts to help you make more impactful donations.	Libby Denkmann, Noel Gasca
Arts & Life	theater,holidays	11/16/2023	0:05:30	3-6p	Mikes arts picks cover adult, kid, and family-friendly Christmas theater bases	KUOWs arts and culture reporter Mike Davis shares his bountiful wish list with Kim Malcolm.	Mike Davis, Kim Malcolm
Agriculture & Enviroment	housing, construction, environment	11/17/2023	0:03:46	3-6p	Grant will help give new life to old wood in Seattle	When homes are demolished, that wood usually ends up in the dump. But now, an investment by the Environmental Protection Agency aims to get that old wood into new Seattle houses.	Joshua McNichols
News Analysis	elections, animals, transportation	11/17/2023	0:50:48	12-1p	Week in Review: election, citations, and grizzlies	Host Bill Radke discusses the weeks news with health journalist Joanne Silberner, Geekwires Mike Lewis, and Seattle Channels Brian Callanan.	Bill Radke, Kevin Kniestedt

Politics & government	Sound Transit, transportation	11/17/2023	0:19:34	12-1p	Sound Transit is focusing on fare compliance, what does that mean for riders?	This week, Sound Transit fare ambassadors, those blue vested, yellow hatted transit employees, started issuing warnings to train riders who havent paid. Its the first time in more than three years that Sound Transit is enforcing fares.	Libby Denkmann, Hans Anderson
Arts & Life	Black Lives Matter, Seattle arts	11/20/2023	0:43:25	12-1p	Producer picks:Seattle Arts,Black Lives Matter	In the spirit of thankfulness: Soundside is going to revisit some of our favorite segments from over the last year, and the hardworking producers who make Soundside will be making the picks.	Libby Denkmann, Mike Davis, Noel Gasca
Arts & Life	relationships, politics	11/21/2023	0:06:17	12-1p	One Small Step: Relationships and disagreements	Finding out you disagree with someone you like is a jarring experience, and when it comes to heated political topics, those disagreements can lead to lost relationships.One Small Step is about finding connection despite disagreement. In this conversation, Allison, a progressive, and Sue Lani, a libertarian, share stories about how they see this playing out in the younger generations of their families - and how theyre working to counteract it.	Alex Rochester

Arts & Life	animals, housing	11/21/2023	0:43:39	12-1p	Producer picks: bat houses, go games, and the value of parasites	The Soundside team is taking some time off this Thanksgiving week. In the spirit of thankfulness, were revisiting some of our favorite segments from over the last year, and the hardworking producers who make Soundside are making the picks.	Libby Denkmann, Hans Anderson
Sports	Universities, sports, football	11/21/2023	0:04:49	3-6p	Coug Nation is itching to spoil the Huskys season. Can they?	There is nothing that a Washington State fan or player would love more than to ruin Washingtons chance at making the college football playoff.	Kim Malcolm, John OBrien
Agriculture & Enviroment	water, environment, climate change	11/22/2023	0:03:59	3-6p	Seattles dark and rainy again. Do we still need to conserve water?	Seattle-area officials are still asking the public to use less water, even as autumn storms have been refilling the citys reservoirs.	John Ryan
Arts & Life	no alcohol, animals, wrestling	11/22/2023	0:44:58	12-1p	Producer Picks: Dry January, SAFE horses, and local wrestling	In the spirit of thankfulness, were revisiting some of our favorite segments from over the last year, and the hardworking producers who make Soundside are making the picks. Today, producer Jason Burrows chose some of his favorite episodes that he worked on during this past year.	Libby Denkmann, Jason Burrows

Medicine & Health	holidays, food,exercise	11/22/2023	0:08:00	3-6p	Have a hara hachi bu Thanksgiving. Healthy tips for not busting your gut	Some really fascinating research shows that even two to five minutes of walking right after a meal will dramatically decrease your blood sugar level, so you have less of a spike.	Kim Malcolm, John OBrien
Sports	sports, football, UW,Washington State University	11/24/2023	0:07:23	6-9a	Will WSU upset UWs season in the Apple Cup? This Coug thinks so	The Huskies will host the Cougars tomorrow in what many thought would be the final Apple Cup. It wont be the last, but it will be the last time the two teams meet as Pac-12 rivals.	Angela King, Katie Campbell
Agriculture & Enviroment	salmon, nature, parks, environment, Seattle	11/27/2023	0:13:00	12-1p	A beaver dam blocked spawning salmon at Carkeek Park. Now humans are giving nature a nudge	Typically, a major construction project in Seattle requires a city permit. Changes to a park would have you wading into the political process maybe lobbying your city council member or the mayor. But beavers cant be bothered with land use applications.	Libby Denkmann, Jason Burrows
Business,economics & Finance	family, parenting, childcare	11/27/2023	0:04:09	6-9a	The second shift: Child care crisis forces families into grueling schedules	Child care costs have spiked 220% since 1990, and the crisis is especially acute in Washington state. It has the fifth-highest average weekly cost of child care in the nation, and Seattle is the second most expensive city,	Monica Nickelsburg

Agiculture & Enviroment	environment, water, pollution	11/27/2023	0:16:23	12-1p	Heres how little streams are causing the biggest issues for the states transportation budget	The Washington State Department of Transportation has a lot of very expensive projects it has to manage in order to keep people moving around, and legislators recently got some pretty massive sticker shock for a different project one thats aimed at improving the way salmon move around.	Libby Denkmann, Noel Gasca
Arts & Life	twins, parenting,, culture	11/27/2023	0:23:34	12-1p	The twin mystique says a lot more about singletons than twins	Over the years, other generations have been fascinated by characters like Wrigleys Doublemint Twins, or Hayley Mills and Lindsay Lohan in the 1961 and 1998 versions of the film "The Parent Trap," respectively.	Libby Denkmann, Hans Anderson
Education	schools & education, sexual harassment, law and courts	11/28/2023	0:06:11	6-9a	a teachers allegations of sexual harassment. Kent School District hired him anyway	A music teacher left two jobs following allegations of sexual harassment, Kent school district hired him anyway. What followed was a frustrating journey for scores of parents that exposed deep flaws in background checks for teachers moving from state to state,	Diana Opong
Business,economics & Finance	business, Downtown Seattle, coronavirus	11/29/2023	0:23:58	12-1p	Whats behind downtown Seattles slow pandemic recovery?	Downtown Seattle is struggling to return to pre-pandemic form.	Libby Denkmann, Joshua McNichols, Hans Anderson

Agriculture & Environment	weather,forecast	11/29/2023	0:08:54	12-1p	What happens when El Nia rolls into town?	If youre in the Pacific Northwest right now, its cold outside. Theres frost on the ground in the morning sometimes a freezing mist in the air. And lately, very little rain. Winter doesnt technically start for another three weeks. But if this is all feeling off to you, you may need to prepare for more weirdness; its an El Nia year.	Libby Denkmann, Jason Burrows
Science & Technology	history,shipwrecks	11/30/2023	0:11:12		Local explorers believe theyve found Puget Sounds deadliest shipwreck	In 1906, the Steamship Dix was shuttling passengers from Colman Dock to Port Blakely when it crossed the path of the SS Jeanie. After the SS Jeanie rolled the SS Dix, the latters passengers scrambled for safety, with dozens tragically sinking aboard the vessel. More than 100 years later, local shipwreck enthusiasts believe theyve found the steamers resting place in Elliott Bay.	Libby Denkmann, Alec Cowan

Politics & government	history, Native Americans	11/30/2023	0:17:10	12-1p	With dogs and radar, volunteers search for remains at Mool Mool, or Fort Simcoe State Park	Since time immemorial, Native Tribes in the Columbia Basin met at a village crossroads called Mool-Mool. In the wake of the Yakama Treaty of 1855, the site was of continual use as a U.S. military outpost, and for decades, the grounds included a boarding school operated by the Bureau of Indian Affairs, where children from the Yakama Nation were forced to attend. Today, volunteers and Yakama descendants are searching the 200-acre park for their relatives remains.	Anna King, Libby Denkmann, Alec Cowan
Business, economics & Finance	business, development	11/30/2023	0:19:56	12-1p	With Molbaks future plans uncertain - sos the growth of downtown Woodinville	The situation in Woodinville has gotten messier than a vegetable garden after a bunch of rabbits moved in, and now, the city council and mayor are stepping in to try to bring both all parties back to the table.	Libby Denkmann, Joshua McNichols, Noel Gasca
Issue	Specific Issue	Date	Duration	Air Time	Story	Content	Reporter
News Analysis	homeless economy, crime	12/1/2023	0:51:07	12-1p	Week in Review: Burien, price tags, and Tacoma officers trial update	Bill Radke discusses the weeks news with Patrick Malone and David Kroman of The Seattle Times, and Publicolas Erica Barnett.	Bill Radke, Kevin Kniestedt

Poliitics & Government	voting, government, elections	12/4/2023	0:40:11	12-1p	Why didnt people vote this November?	Turnout for this years November election was the lowest on record since Washington started keeping track in 1936. Statewide, 36.41% of registered voters returned their ballot in 2023. That beats the previous low of 37.1%, held in another odd-year election 2017, and the one before that, 38.52% in 2015. So, what is it with odd-year elections and low voter turnout?	Libby Denkmann, Sarah Leibovitz
Business, economics & finance	Alaska Airlines, transportation, business	12/4/2023	0:04:44	3-6p	Seattle-based Alaska wants to buy Hawaiian. Can they get federal approval?	Alaska CEO Ben Minicucci says buying Hawaiian will help it compete against the four biggest U.S. airlines. Alaska is the fifth largest carrier in North America, based on passenger volume.	Kim Malcolm, Andy Hurst
Business, economics & finance	Alaska Airlines, transportation, business, travel	12/5/2023	0:09:26	12-1p	Will regulators stop the Alaska Hawaiian merger?	Seattle-based Alaska Airlines announced over the weekend it plans to buy Hawaiian Airlines. The $1.9 billion merger would solidify Alaskas position as the nations fifth largest carrier, if federal regulators dont block the deal.	Libby Denkmann, Hans Anderson

Crime & law enforcement	Immigrants, robberies, guns	12/5/2023	0:16:50	12-1p	Kids at gunpoint, casino casings: How south Seattle Asian immigrants became the target of home invasions	At least 14 homes were broken into during a two-months long run of violent robberies targeting Asian immigrants in south Seattle and nearby suburbs. These break-ins bore marks of unusual cruelty: guns shoved in mouths, jewelry roughly grabbed off victims, children led through their homes at gunpoint until they could produce cash and luxury handbags.	Ashley Hiruko, Gustavo Sagrero Álvarez
Agriculture & Environment	weather, rain, flood	12/6/2023	0:04:07	3-6p	Heavy rain relents in Western V	Western Washington is recovering from two days of record-breaking rainfall, and the threat to homes and businesses lingers as floodwaters make their way down rivers and streams.	Casey Martin, KUOW STAFF
Agriculture & Environment	nature, animals, outdoors	12/6/2023	0:13:33	12-1p	Wolverines listed as threatened	Wolverines in the contiguous United States were listed as threatened by U.S. Fish and Wildlife last week.	Libby Denkmann, Hans Anderson

Crime & law enforcement	crime, law and courts, drugs, Seattle	12/6/2023	0:17:07	12-1p	How Seattles new public drug use law is changing the city	Its been about six weeks since Seattles new law against public drug use and possession went into effect. The ordinance was written to bring the city in line with a new state law that treats things like having or using fentanyl in public as a gross misdemeanor. One of the directives handed down to Seattle Police is to emphasize diversion when enforcing the law. So how does that work? And how is the effort going?	Libby Denkmann, Kate Walters, Sarah Leibovitz
Agriculture & Enviroment	roads, ecosystems,nature	12/6/2023	0:19:27	12-1p	Hear it Again: Roads devastated our ecosystems. But they might also save them	Theres something so romantic about roads, if youre a human. Nature might have something else to say about them. While connecting people and communities, roads have rerouted centuries-old migration routes. Roads grant us access to some of the most scenic corners of the planet, and at the same time, offer access to their destruction.	Libby Denkmann, Alec Cowan

Politics & Government	politics, Seattle City Council, Seattle	12/7/2023	0:03:46	6-9a	Sawant has almost left the building. Heres how she changed Seattle politics.	Seattles most famous and controversial elected official, Kshama Sawant, is headed for the exits in January after a decade on the City Council. In that time, shes managed to win three elections and survive a bitter recall campaign. Sawant told KUOW the key to her success from the start was refusing to compromise and staying true to her socialist principles.	David Hyde
Sports	Mariners	12/7/2023	0:16:49	12-1p	What is going on in the Mariners front office?	Lookout Landing Editor-in-Chief Kate Preusser joins Soundside to talk about the off season moves being made by the Seattle Mariners & the overwhelmingly negative reactions from fans.	Libby Denkmann, Jason Burrows
Politics & Government	Parks, community	12/7/2023	0:19:15	12-1p	Community members give proposal to put a play area at Denny Blaine Park a dressing down	Typically, a new playground at minimal cost to taxpayers would be greeted with open arms by a community. But in this scenario, its not that simple.	Libby Denkmann, Ann Dornfeld, Noel Gasca

Arts & Life	Arts, theatre, entertainment	12/7/2023	0:05:31	3-6p	Moonwalk through this weeks arts and culture picks	KUOWs arts and culture reporter Mike Davis told Kim Malcolm aboutMJ the Musical at The Paramount,Golden Girls: The Laughs Continue at The Moore Theatre, The Wintry Weekend Ice Skating Rink in Occidental Square, andA Charlie Brown Christmas at Taproot Theatre for weekend outings.	Mike Davis, Kim Malcolm
Religion	faith, holidays	12/7/2023	0:04:18	3-6p	Reflections on the deeper meaning of Hanukkah this year	Rabbi Daniel Weiner shares thoughts on a festival of light and religious freedom	Kim Malcolm, John OBrien
Agriculture & Enviroment	Wildlife,conservation	12/8/2023	0:14:35	12-1p	New proposal would cull barred owls to save native spotted owls	In an effort to protect the native northern spotted owl, U.S. Fish and Wildlife officials announced 500,000 barred owls need to be culled throughout the Pacific Northwest over the next 30 years. But some conservationists worry the effort might be too late.	Libby Denkmann, Alec Cowan
News Analysis	weather, environment, LGBTQ	12/8/2023	0:50:39	12-1p	Week in Review: Denny Blaine Park, flooding, and owls	Host Bill Radke discusses the weeks news with Seattle Times Amanda Zhou, Puget Sound Business Journals Alex Halverson, and political analyst and contributing columnist Joni Balter.	Bill Radke, Kevin Kniestedt

Business, economics & finance	Mail, Amazon	12/8/2023	0:21:54	12-1p	WaPo Caroline ODonnovan 2-way	Last month, residents in San Juan County began complaining that Amazon packages were causing a major backup at post offices and delaying regular mail delivery. People reported going days without receiving some bills, letters, and packages.	Libby Denkmann, Noel Gasca
Politics & Government	elections, social media, government, University of Washington, politics	12/12/2023	0:23:25	12-1p	Kate Starbird on the backlash to disinformation research online	Since the 2020 election, conservative lawmakers and staffers have led a campaign against mis- and dis-information researchers like Kate Starbird, the director and co-founder of the University of Washington's Center for an Informed Public, arguing that the researchers are attempting to censor them, thus violating the First Amendment. But that argument itself would be misinformation, according to Starbird.	Katie Campbell, Alec Cowan

Medicine & Health	Mental health, violence, nursing	12/12/2023	0:10:04	12-1p	Seattle Childrens vigil	Members of the Washington State Nurses Association say theres been an increase in violence in the Psychiatry and Behavioral Medicine Unit at Seattle Childrens Hospital and want to bring attention to the need for safer working conditions. KUOW reporter Diana Opong talked to Soundside host Libby Denkmann about what nurses in the unit have been experiencing.	Libby Denkmann, Diana Opong, Noel Gasca
Medicine & Health	Lummi Nation, Drugs	12/13/2023	0:27:32	12-1p	Native communities combat opioid epidemic with cultural traditions and western medicine	The Lummi Nation declared a state of emergency in September after they lost five tribal members in one week to overdose deaths.	Libby Denkmann, Hans Anderson
Business, economics & finance	recycling, noise, pollution	12/13/2023	0:15:20	12-1p	In Bellingham, a fight over a metal shredder	Controversy is brewing in Bellingham over a former cement plant, a Canadian metal recycling company, and a lot of concerned neighbors.	Libby Denkmann, Hans Anderson
Business, economics & finance	housing, prices	12/13/2023	0:08:55	12-1p	How is Seattles housing market doing right now?	For years, Seattles real estate has been like a rocket ship, hurtling higher and higher. But now, things are slowing down. Yet prices continue to rise.	Libby Denkmann, Sarah Leibovitz

Agriculture & Environment	Mushrooms, foraging	12/14/2023	0:08:51	12-1p	Our local mushrooms are abundant. But how can you be an ethical forager?	Puget Sound mushroom clubs are proud to be some of the biggest in the country. Our rainy climate helps a wide variety of fungi thrive in the wild, and the enthusiasts who collect them help the knowledge of fungi spread like spores on your fridges leftovers. But picking mushrooms isnt a no-impact activity so how can you forage like the pros?	Libby Denkmann, Alec Cowan
Business, economics & finance	housing, social dynamics	12/14/2023	0:31:41	12-1p	Is it time to change how we think about the American Dream?	Various factors have put homeownership out of reach for most American families. What does that mean for generational wealth building, social dynamics, and the idea of the so-called American Dream?	Libby Denkmann, Sarah Leibovitz
Business, economics & finance	retail, layoffs, Amazon	12/14/2023	0:11:18	12-1p	Online retailer Zulily announces its suing Amazon, claiming anti-competitive practices	This week, Seattle-based online retailer Zulily announced its going out of business. The news comes after the companys owners said last week that there would be massive layoffs. In a new lawsuit, Zulily says part of the reason for its downfall is Amazon.	Libby Denkmann, Alec Cowan
Arts & Life	arts, theatre, holidays	12/14/2023	0:04:16	3-6p	Theres so much to do for the holidays! Our arts picks	KUOWs arts and culture reporter Mike Davis shares his wish list.	Mike Davis, Kim Malcolm

Business, economics & finance	housing, government	12/15/2023	0:04:24	6-9a	Mobile home park residents struggle to win bidding wars against investors	In Washington state, some mobile home residents are fighting back against investors, offering to buy the land themselves. But experts say few resident communities will win the bidding war without more help from the state.	Joshua McNichols
News Analysis	politics, arts, economy	12/15/2023	1:14:07	12-1p	Year in Review: economy, politics, arts, and so much more	Bill Radke looks back at the stories from 2023 with KUOWs Monica Nickelsburg, Cat Smith, and Mike Davis, and Wing Luke Museum Executive Director JoÃ«l Barraquiel Tan, sports journalist and author Art Thiel, and author and podcaster Lindy West.	Bill Radke, Kevin Kniestedt
Agriculture & Environment	Cats, ecology	12/15/2023	0:13:56	12-1p	Cats love to hunt birds, what biologist and conservationists are worried.	A study published this week in the journal Nature Communications found that free-ranging domestic AND feral cats eat more than 2,000 different species in the wild. And that has ecologists and biologists seriously worried.	Libby Denkmann, Noel Gasca
Arts & Life	Native Americans, arts, parks	12/15/2023	0:03:48	3-6p	Controversial totem poles must return to Pike Place Market, says historical commission	The city's parks department petitioned the Market Historical Commission to be allowed to replace the totem poles with art more representative of local tribes.	Ann Dornfeld

Science & Technology	Tesla, cars, environment	12/18/2023	0:20:55	12-1p	Why Teslas woes spell trouble for the electric car industry	Last week, electric car company Tesla announced a massive recall impacting over 2 million cars. The recall comes at a time when other aspects of electric vehicle maintenance are under scrutiny.	Libby Denkmann, Sarah Leibovitz
Agriculture & Environment	animals, sanctuaries	12/20/2023	0:15:30	12-1p	What makes an animal sanctuary?	Anacortes wofdog raise questions about the line between sancturaries and zoos	Libby Denkmann, Hans Anderson
Arts & Life	Comedy, arts, career	12/20/2023	0:35:16	12-1p	Comedian Roy Wood Jr on the Daily Show, elections, and the future of comedy	Comedian Roy Wood Jr. has had a heck of a year. He hosted the White House Correspondents, started a nationwide tour And, after eight years with The Daily Show, he announced he was leaving the show in October.	Mike Davis, Sarah Leibovitz
Arts & Life	arts, culture,organitatio ns,recession	12/21/2023	0:23:09	12-1p	An invisible recession is hitting Seattles arts organizations	When Ronit Plank began taking classes at Seattles Hugo House in 2009, she found that it wasnt just about sitting in a room with other writers. It was also about breaking down barriers.	Mike Davis, Noel Gasca

Crime & law enforcement	police,crimes, murder charges	12/21/2023	0:04:03	3-6p	Pierce County jury finds 3 Tacoma police officers not guilty in Manuel Ellis case	A Pierce County jury reached verdicts today in the trial of three Tacoma police officers charged with killing Manuel Ellis in March 2020. They face charges of first-degree manslaughter. Burbank and Collins were also charged with second-degree murder. Each pleaded not guilty.	Rob Wood, John OBrien
Politics & Government	Sports, politics	12/22/2023	0:25:48	12-1p	In Heartbreak City, Seattle sports are a product of its politics -- and vice versa	For many, the spheres of sports and politics are totally separate arenas: one is a fun and low-stakes pastime, the other is a struggle for real-world power. author Shaun Scott makes the case that sports and politics have more in common than meets the eye.	Mike Davis, Alec Cowan
Arts & Life	arts, arts & life, Seattle, LGBTQ	12/22/2023	0:05:18	6-9a	Seattles queens of Christmas camp are back	BenDeLaCreme and Jinkx Monsoon	Angela King, Katie Campbell
Medicine & Health	Pharmacies,closures	12/22/2023	0:18:49	12-1p	More pharmacies in Seattle are disappearing. Whats driving the closures?	In 2020, chairman George D. Bartell said the sale of his 130-year-old family company was the only option. Regional operators like Bartell Drugs just couldn't compete in the pharmacy business anymore. So why are pharmacies struggling to stay afloat?	Libby Denkmann, Alec Cowan, Hans Anderson

Arts & Life	etiquette, tipping, dress codes	12/22/2023	0:33:01	12-1p	How to handle holiday tipping, dress codes, and trauma parties	As fun-filled as this time of year can be, it can also force a plethora of sticky situations and quizzical conundrums for us to deal with. Soundside has rounded up a panel of etiquette and relationship experts to answer your toughest holiday questions	Libby Denkmann, Lindy West, Meagan Hatcher-Mays, Noel Gasca
Crime & law enforcement	police, courts	12/22/2023	0:06:29	6-9a	NAACP leader reflects on not guilty verdicts in death of Manuel Ellis	Sheley Secrest was in the courtroom when the verdict was read.	Angela King, Natalie Akane Newcomb
Medicine & Health	diseases, agriculture	12/22/2023	0:25:36	12-1p	Remembering the cow that stole Christmas 20 years later	Twenty years ago, on Dec. 23, panic descended on Central Washington and the nations cattle industry over a single cow. Today, many locals in Mabton know this event as, the cow that stole Christmas.	Anna King, Alec Cowan, Libby Denkmann
Arts & Life	music	12/23/2023	0:06:08	6-9a	Music that pushes sonic boundaries: Top 2023 critics poll	The Seattle Times has released its annual Best Local Albums of the Year list for 2021. Local music writers, DJs, and playlisters submit their top ten favorite local albums, and the list is made up of the albums with the most votes. KUOW's Kevin Kniestedt sat down with Michael Rietmulder, music writer for the Seattle Times and curator of the list, about the top three albums on the list, and one of his personal favorites that made the cut.	Kevin Kniestedt

Crime & law enforcement	history, Seattle, crime	12/26/2023	0:07:31	6-9a	Mystery, intrigue and liquor: The life of Elise Olmstead	Alongside Seattle bootlegger Roy Olmstead, somewhat hidden in his larger-than-life shadow, was his second wife, Elise, often known as Elsie. And her story, like those of so many other women, is just as fascinating in its own right, though its less often told.	Kate Walters
News Analysis	Top picks, churches, puppies	12/26/2023	0:50:57	12-1p	Producer picks: the future of churches, and puppies, in Washington	The Soundside team is taking the week off to celebrate the holidays. So, as we end 2023, were looking back at some of our favorite stories from the last year, and the hardworking producers who make Soundside are making the picks. Today, supervising producer Sarah Leibovitz shares some of her favorite pieces from the last year.	Libby Denkmann, Sarah Leibovitz

Politics & Government	police, Seattle, law and courts	12/27/2023	0:04:33	6-9a	Seattle Police Face A Reckoning Over Culture In 2024	The coming year could be a big one for the Seattle Police Department. City leaders are eager to regain local control of policing after years of federal oversight. Oversight partners and rank-and-file officers say a lot is riding on the contract the city is negotiating with the Seattle Police Officers Guild. But after a scandal that made global headlines in 2023, SPD is still responding to criticism and questions about its internal culture.	Amy Radil
Arts & Life	Poetry, football	12/27/2023	0:50:57	12-1p	Producer picks: posthumous poetry, historical searches, and spring football	The Soundside team is taking the week off to celebrate the holidays. So, as we end 2023, we're looking back at some of our favorite stories from the last year -- and the hardworking producers of Soundside are making the picks.	Libby Denkmann, Alec Cowan

Business, economics & finance	Microsoft, environment, technology, business, carbon, climate change	12/29/2023	0:04:18	6-9a	Microsoft raced ahead in AI this year. Could that slow its sustainability progress?	In January 2020, Microsoft CEO Satya Nadella announced one of the most ambitious plans to decarbonize of any tech company. By 2030, Microsoft would be carbon negative, removing more carbon from the atmosphere than it emits. By 2050, Microsoft would remove all of the carbon it has ever emitted since the company's founding in 1975.	Monica Nickelsburg
Sports	football, University of Washington, sports, College	12/29/2023	0:06:40	6-9a	UW Huskies will play at the Sugar Bowl New Years Day. Legendary player Lincoln Kennedy reflects on his National Title win	The undefeated University of Washington Huskies take on the Texas Longhorns in the Sugar Bowl New Years Day, with a chance to play for the national championship. Only two other UW football teams have brought home the ultimate college title.	Angela King

