Some common fall vegetables that are easily transplanted include: beets, broccoli, cabbage, cauliflower, chard, lettuce, onions and tomatoes. Others that do not transplant well and are better seeded include beans, peas, turnips, carrots and spinach.

Some common fall vegetables that are easily transplanted include: beets, broccoli, cabbage, cauliflower, chard, lettuce, onions and tomatoes. Others that do not transplant well and are better seeded include beans, peas, turnips, carrots and spinach.
