Issue: Senator Warner & Kaine announce $300,000.00 in funding for Danville to battle the opioid crisis.

Programming: The program provides funding to address immediate needs in rural areas by improving access to, capacity for, and sustainability of prevention, treatment, and recovery services for substance use disorders. Senator Mark Warner said “the opioid epidemic has had tragic impacts for communities across Virginia, and that’s why we’re committed to ensuring every Virginian has access to high quality mental health care and substance use disorder treatment, no matter their zip code. We’re glad this funding will help more Virginians in the Danville area access to the care they need to recover”. (Newscasts)
