

Issue	Date	Duration & Time	Story	Content	Reporter
Economy	02/02/15	5 min. 12:00 pm	In Sea-Tac Expansion, Who Pays And Who Benefits?	Ross Reynolds speaks with Jon Talton, economics columnist for the Seattle Times, about expansion plans at Seattle-Tacoma International Airport.	Posey Gruener
Economy	02/02/15	11 min. - 12:00 pm	Will The State Follow Seattle's Footsteps And Raise The Minimum Wage?	Ross Reynolds talks with the president of Washington State Labor Council, Jeff Johnson, about his legislative priorities. We also hear from KUOW's Olympia correspondent Austin Jenkins.	Ross Reynolds
Economy	02/02/15	5 min. 8:30 am/4:00 pm	New Households In King County Are Rich Or Poor - But Not Middle Class	Earlier this month at an economic conference, King County Executive Dow Constantine made a startling point: Less than 5 percent of the households added to King County since the year 2000 were middle income.	Carolyn Adolph
Economy	02/05/15	16 min. 12:00 pm	Aging Boomers In The Workplace A 'Revolution In The Making'	Ross Reynolds interviews Marketplace senior economics contributor Chris Farrell about his new book, "Unretirement".	Ross Reynolds
Economy	02/09/15	3 min. - 8:30 am/4:00 pm	Will The Rising Minimum Wage Drive Manufacturers Out Of Seattle?	Marcie Sillman talks with David Burroughs, vice chairman of Cascade Designs, about how Seattle's rising minimum wage is affecting his Economy.	Marcie Sillman
Economy	02/09/15	8 min. - 12:00 pm	No Surprise Here: Amazon Is Changing Brick And Mortar	Marcie Sillman talks with Todd Bishop, co-founder of GeekWire, about Amazon's affect on brick and mortar retail.	Marcie Sillman
Economy	02/12/15	7 min. - 12:00 pm	As $15 Phases In, Can Seattle Hang On To Its Blue Collar Roots?	Marcie Sillman talks with Seattle City Councilmember Mike O'Brien about the potential impact of the $15 minimum wage on Seattle's manufacturing sector.	Marcie Sillman
Economy	02/13/15	6 min. - 12:00 pm	As Labor Dispute Drags On, Northwest Ports Already Losing Economy	Ross Reynolds talks with Peter Tirschwell about how the ongoing labor dispute between longshoremen and west coast port operators could drive away Economy from the Ports of Seattle and Tacoma. Tirschwell is chief content officer for The Journal of Commerce.	Ross Reynolds
Economy	02/13/15	2 min. - 8:30 am	As Ports Struggle, Air Cargo Booms at Sea-Tac	A labor dispute with dock workers has led to slowdowns and backups at West Coast ports. One part of the Port of Seattle's cargo Economy is booming.	John Ryan
Economy	02/17/15	2 min. - 8:30 am	Ports Slowdown Hurts Local Economyes	United States Labor Secretary Tom Perez sat down Tuesday with both sides in the labor dispute that's slowed down shipping at 29 West Coast ports.	Joshua McNichols
Economy	02/23/15	8 min. 12:00 pm	Facebook Moves In: Is Seattle The New Silicon Valley?	Marcie Sillman talks with Todd Bishop, co-founder of GeekWire, about Facebook's expansion into South Lake Union.	Marcie Sillman
Economy	02/23/15	6 min. - 12:00 pm	Port Slowdown Ends, But What Will Be The Long-Term Impacts?	Marcie Sillman talks to Kevin Klowden, managing director of the California Center at the Milken Institute, about the long-term impact of the slowdown at the Ports of Tacoma and Seattle.	Marcie Sillman

Education	02/02/15	8 min.- 12:00 pm	Bill Would Split Seattle Into Two School Districts	Two state representatives want to divide Seattle Public Schools into two smaller districts. Sharon Tomiko-Santos, who represents the 37th district, says that smaller classrooms create a better learning environment for a child – as do smaller school districts.	Marcie Sillman
Education	02/19/15	7 min. - 12:00 pm	Education Bill Aims To Curb Physical Restraint And Isolation In Public Schools	Marcie Sillman speaks with Calyn Holdaway, mother of three special needs students who have been physically restrained and isolated in Washington's...	Marcie Sillman
Education	02/20/15	5 min. - 12:00 pm	Local High School Students Weigh In On Computer Education In Public Schools	Ross Reynolds talks with Randy Dorn, the state superintendent of public instruction, about his proposal to make schools prove their students are getting a 21st century education.	Ross Reynolds
Education	02/23/15	6 min. - 12:00 pm	What's Standing In The Way Of Funding Basic Education?	Marcie Sillman talks with KUOW Olympia correspondent Austin Jenkins about the big policy sticking points facing Washington lawmakers.	Marcie Sillman
Housing	02/04/15	3 min. - 8:30 am/4:00 pm	More Tent Cities A Reality As Homelessness Grows In Seattle	Seattle Mayor Ed Murray wants to open up city land for three new tent cities. The mayor's staff briefed a city council committee on the plan.	Joshua McNichols
Housing	02/06/15		Demand For Section 8 Housing Off The Charts In King County	Ross Reynolds talks with Stephen Norman, executive director of King County Housing Authority, about the affordable housing crisis in King County.	Ross Reynolds
Housing	02/18/15	11 min. - 12:00 pm	Solving The Affordable Housing Crisis By Committee	Marcie Sillman talks to news analyst Joni Balter about the progress the Housing Affordability and Livability Committee has made since it was formed by Seattle Mayor Ed Murray in September.	Marcie Sillman
Housing	02/24/15	6 min. - 12:00 pm	Incredibly Resilient: A Look At Challenges Faced By Homeless Students	Jeannie Yandel talks with Marty Hartman about the challenges faced by homeless students in Washington state. Hartman is executive director of Mary's Place, a Seattle nonprofit that provides shelter and resources for homeless women and children.	Jeannie Yandel
Local Government	02/03/15	7 min. 12:00 pm	Assessing 20 Years Of Seattle's 'Urban Village' Strategy	Marcie Sillman talks with urban planner and former Seattle City Councilmember Peter Steinbrueck about Seattle's Urban Village Strategy for guiding growth.	Marcie Sillman
Local Government	02/05/15	89 min. 11:00 pm	The State Of Sex Trafficking In King County	King County and Seattle are looked to as leaders in the effort to prevent sex trafficking. But according to Prosecuting Attorney Dan Satterberg the county has over 100 websites facilitating the sale of sex.	John O'Brien

Local Government	02/09/15	3 min. - 8:30 am/4:00 pm	Juvenile Justice Center Moves Forward Over Cries Of Protest	The Metropolitan King County Council approved an agreement with a developer Monday to build a new juvenile detention center near Yesler Terrace.	Joshua McNichols
Local Government	02/23/15	8 min. 12:00 pm	As City Workers Get New Parental Leave Program, How Do We Compare With The Rest Of The World?	Marcie Sillman speaks with KUOW reporter Sara Lerner about Seattle Mayor Ed Murray's new parental leave program for city workers. Sillman also interviews Brigid Schulte, reporter for the Washington Post.	Kate O'Connell
Local Government	02/25/15	7 min. - 12:00 pm	How Will District Elections Change Seattle?	Ross Reynolds talks with outgoing Seattle City Councilmembers Nick Licata, Sally Clark and Tom Rasmussen about how district elections will change our city.	Marcie Sillman
RadioActive Youth Radio	02/02/15	5 min. 12:00 pm	Bosnian War Inspires Student Feminism And Filmmaking	Do you hate men? Nandina Cengic said she hears that question all the time. That's because the Foster High School senior tells people she is a feminist.	Azeb Tuji
RadioActive Youth Radio	02/26/15	14 min. 12:00 pm	RadioActive's Guide To Making Friends In New Places	February is known as a month to focus on love and romance, but in this month's podcast, we focus on the people you lean on year round: your friends!...	RadioActive Students
Transportation	02/04/15	3 min. - 8:30 am/4:00 pm	Young Ferries: Washington's Latest Transportation Disappointment	Aging vessels are frequently blamed for problems in Washington's ferry system. But the latest performance report says new ferries are giving the state plenty of grief.	Carolyn Adolph
Transportation	02/05/15	6 min. 12:00 pm	Toll Nightmares On The 520 Bridge	Jeannie Yandel talks with Seattle Times columnist Danny Westneat about the latest issues concerning tolling on the 520 bridge.	Jeannie Yandel
Transportation	02/06/15	3 min. - 8:30 am/4:00 pm	The Unlikely Bertha Fan Club That Gathers Every Month	Bertha, the deep boring machine stuck underneath Seattle, will slide on greased metal rails after crashing into a pit. That's the plan, anyway, to free the machine from its den, where it has lived for more than a year.	Joshua McNichols
Transportation	02/11/15	3 min. - 8:30 am/4:00 pm	What To Do About Seattle's Terrible Commute? Hack It	Seattle's strong growth means full buses and congested roads. The City of Seattle says maybe it should also mean more help for commuters.	Carolyn Adolph
Transportation	02/13/15	5 min. 12:00 pm	How Do You Get Drivers To Slow Their Roll?	Marcie Sillman talks with Mark Hallenbeck about the implications of reducing speed limits in Seattle. Hallenbeck directs the Washington State Transportation Center at the University of Washington.	Marcie Sillman
Transportation	02/13/15	6 min. - 12:00 pm	What's Bringing The Parties Together On Transportation?	Marcie Sillman talks with KUOW Olympia correspondent Austin Jenkins about the bipartisan state Senate transportation package.	Marcie Sillman
Transportation	02/19/15	3 min. - 8:30 am/4:00 pm	A Boom, A Whoosh And Then: Bertha Breaks Free	The tunnel machine that's been stuck underground for more than a year reached daylight Thursday. Now Bertha is slowly inching into position for repair work to begin.	Joshua McNichols

Transportation	02/19/15	5 min.-8:30 am	520 Mega-Snag: This Far Along, And Still No Money To Finish It	Construction of the new state Route 520 bridge is about halfway along now. But just as our tunnel mega-project has a major complication, SR 520 has its own mega-snag: we lack the minimum $1.6 billion to complete it.	Carolyn Adolph
Transportation	02/26/15	6 min. 8:30 am - 4:00 pm	South Seattle Development Is Slow, Despite Promise Of Light Rail	The Puget Sound region hopes new growth will spring up in urban villages clustered around mass transit. The goal is to avoid further congestion.	Joshua McNichols
WA State Legislature	02/05/15	6 min. - 12:00 pm	Bipartisan Bill Seeks To Abolish Death Penalty In Washington	Ross Reynolds talks to Washington state Rep. Maureen Walsh, R-Walla Walla, co-sponsor of a bipartisan bill seeking to abolish the death penalty in Washington.	Kate O'Connell
WA State Legislature	02/09/15	7 min. - 12:00 pm	For Gun Activists, The Battle Over I-594 Is Not Over	Marcie Sillman talks with KUOW Olympia correspondent Austin Jenkins about the politics of gun control in Washington state.	Marcie Sillman
WA State Legislature	02/10/15	5 min. - 12:00 pm	How To Reduce Property Crime? Let Burglars Out of Jail	Ross Reynolds speaks with Rep. Zack Hudgins, D-Tukwila, about bipartisan legislation being considered in Olympia this week.	Posey Gruener
WA State Legislature	02/11/15	4 min. 12:00 pm	Seattle Democrat Wants 'Clarification' On War Authorization Bill	Ross Reynolds speaks with U.S Congressman Jim McDermott about a new resolution from President Obama which seeks authorization to use military force against ISIS.	Ross Reynolds
WA State Legislature	02/11/15	5 min. 12:00 pm	Should We Pay Teens Less To Get Them Jobs?	Marcie Sillman talks with Washington state Sen. Michael Baumgartner, R-Spokane, about his proposal to offer the federal minimum wage as opposed to the higher state minimum wage.	Marcie Sillman
WA State Legislature	02/12/15	8 min. - 12:00 pm	How A Law Might Keep You From Facebooking While Driving	Marcie Sillman talks to Dr. Beth Ebel, physician at Harborview Medical Center and former director of the Harborview Injury Prevention Center. She supports the Washington Senate bill that would expand the current distracted driving laws to include a ban of all use of a handheld device while driving.	Marcie Sillman
WA State Legislature	02/13/15	5 min. - 8:30 am	Washington's Foster Care System Pressed To Solve Issue Of Runaways	Kim Malcolm talks with Austin Jenkins of the Northwest News Network about how Washington state is trying to reduce the number of teens who run away.	Kim Malcolm
WA State Legislature	02/17/15	9 min. - 12:00 pm	Some Lawmakers Want Guaranteed Jobs To Go Along With Boeing Tax Cuts	Ross Reynolds talks to Ray Goforth, executive director of the Society of Professional Engineering Employees in Aerospace, about a bill in the state legislature that would put stipulations on the tax cuts for aerospace companies.	Ross Reynolds
WA State Legislature	02/24/15	10 min. - 12:00 pm	Rep. Pettigrew's 'Open-Door Policy' For Police	Jeannie Yandel talks with state Rep. Eric Pettigrew, D-Seattle, about the "open-door policy" he's developed for police and why he thinks police don't get enough recognition for the work they do.	Jeannie Yandel

WA State Legislature	02/05/15	6 min. - 12:00 pm	Lawmaker Wants To Make It Harder To Opt Out Of Vaccines	Ross Reynolds talks to Washington state Rep. June Robinson, D-Everett, about her new bill that would take away the option to opt out of vaccinations...	Ross Reynolds
Week In Review	02/06/15	50 min. - 10:00 am	This Week's News Inoculates Against Super Bowl Misery	We expose you to just enough of the Seahawks' Super Bowl XLIX loss for your antibodies to fight it off. Also, why is the UW president leaving urban Seattle.	Bill Radke & Panel of Reporters
Week In Review	02/13/15	50 min. - 10:00 am	Should We Nudge Or Shove You To Get This Week's News?	The same question goes for non-vaccinating parents: What's the right strategy? Also: yet another questionable fatal police shooting, this time in our state.	Bill Radke & Panel of Reporters
Week In Review	02/20/15	50 min. - 10:00 am	This Week's News Emerges Blinking Into The Light	Is this week the re-birth of Bertha? What's the right punishment for a florist who won't do gay weddings? And a Bellevue man is on the short list to go to Mars and never return.	Bill Radke & Panel of Reporters

Issue	Specific Issue	Date	Duration & Time	Story	Content	Reporter
Business/Economy		01/05/15	10 min. - 12:00 pm	Costco And United Farm Workers Union To Label Worker-Friendly Food	Marcie Sillman talks with Erik Nicholson, vice president of the United Farm Workers Union, about the Equitable Food Initiative, a new labeling system.	Marcie Sillman
Business/Economy		01/07/15	6 min. - 12:00 pm	Confused By $15 Minimum Wage? We Break It Down	Seattle starts phasing in a higher minimum wage on April 1 this year. The key term here is "phasing in."	Deborah Wang
Business/Economy		01/14/15	3 min. 8:30 am	SpaceX To Open Seattle-Area Office With Up To 1,000 Workers	Billionaire Elon Musk says he's setting up an engineering center in Seattle that could have 1,000 workers within three or four years.	Carolyn Adolph
Business/Economy		01/29/15	7 min. - 12:00 pm	A Seattle Biotech Company Grows	Marcie Sillman talks to Luke Timmerman about the growth of a Seattle biotech company, Adaptive Biotechnologies, and what it means for the city's biotechnology industry.	Marcie Sillman
Business/Economy		01/29/15	6 min. - 12:00 pm	Will Seattle's Economy Keep Booming In 2015?	Ross Reynolds talks with Seattle Times economics columnist Jon Talton about what to expect from Seattle's economy in 2015.	Ross Reynolds
Business/Technology		01/29/15	8 min. - 12:00 pm	The Frontier Of Space Industry Comes To Puget Sound	Marcie Sillman talks with GeekWire co-founder Todd Bishop about the new frontiers of space technology and what that industry will mean for Seattle.	Marcie Sillman
Diversity	LGBTQ	01/29/15	10 min. - 12:00 pm	Geoffrey McGrath: The Inadvertent Spokesman For Gay Rights	Marcie Sillman talks with Seattleite Geoffrey McGrath about his path from a hiking/biking software engineer to international spokesperson for gay rights.	Marcie Sillman
Diversity	Race	01/29/15	84 min. - 11:00 pm	Wes Moore Explains His Search For A Meaningful Life	Troubled youth to Rhodes Scholar. U.S. Army paratrooper to White House fellow. Wall Street banker to author and television host - Wes Moore explains.	John O'Brien - Speakers Forum
Diversity	LGBTQ	01/29/15	8 min. - 12:00 pm	When Do Kids Know They're Transgender? Younger Than You'd Think.	When Kristina Olson, a psychology professor at the University of Washington, started looking into research on transgender children, she was surprised. It was thin at best.	Marcie Sillman

Issue	Specific Issue	Date	Duration & Time	Story	Content	Reporter
Diversity	Race	01/16/15	11 min. - 12:00 pm	It's Time King County Lived Up To Its Namesake	Marcie Sillman talks with non-violence trainer Jonathan 'Globe' Lewis about practicing non-violence and UW communications professor David Domke about civil rights and how King County can live up to its namesake.	Marcie Sillman
Diversity	Gender	01/22/15	2 min. - 8:30 am/4:00 pm	Kitsap Submarine First To Allow Enlisted Females On Board	The USS Michigan, stationed at Naval Base Kitsap-Bangor, will be the first submarine to allow enlisted women to serve onboard.	Patricia Murphy
Health		01/02/15	9 min. 12:00 pm	Despite Rise In Antidote Access, Heroin Overdoses Still An Issue In King County	Marcie Sillman talks with Caleb Banta-Green, senior researcher at University of Washington's Alcohol and Drug Abuse Institute, about naloxone.	Marcie Sillman
Health		01/20/15	3 min. 8:30 am	Washington Lawmaker Seeks To Ban E-Cigarette Sales To Minors	This week a state senate committee will hear a proposal that would make it illegal to sell e-cigarettes and vapes to minors.	Ruby deLuna
Health		01/21/15	5 min. - 12:00 pm	Advocates Say Raising Tobacco Age Will Save Lives	Ross Reynolds talks with anti-smoking advocate Vince Willmore about the public health benefits of raising the tobacco purchase age from 18 to 21.	Ross Reynolds
Health		01/22/15	5 min. - 12:00 pm	Why Virginia Mason Didn't Tell Patients They'd Been Infected With Super Bug	Ross Reynolds speaks with Seattle Times health reporter JoNel Aleccia about how Virginia Mason Medical Center discovered a rare, drug-resistant bacteria that was spreading from patient to patient, and why they didn't inform the infected.	Ross Reynolds
Health		01/29/15	7 min. - 12:00 pm	Clusters Of Unvaccinated Increase Measles Risk In Washington	Jeannie Yandel speaks with Paul Throne of the Washington State Department of Health about why some groups of Washingtonians decline to vaccinate.	Jeannie Yandel
Health		01/29/15	10 min. - 12:00 pm	How Obamacare Has -- And Hasn't -- Worked	Ross Reynolds interviews journalist and author Steven Brill about his new book, "America's Bitter Pill: Money, Politics, Backroom Deals, and the Fight to Fix Our Broken Health Care System."	Ross Reynolds

Issue	Specific Issue	Date	Duration & Time	Story	Content	Reporter
Health/Mental health		01/27/15	6 min. - 8:30 am	Mental Health Becoming Part Of Overall Health At Seattle Schools	It used to be that students went to their school clinic to have their sore throat checked or get a vaccine. But many kids today have needs that go beyond physical health.	Ruby deLuna
Health/Mental health		01/29/15	5 min. - 12:00 pm	After Court Ruling, Lawmakers Make Mental Health A Priority	Marcie Sillman talks with KUOW's Olympia correspondent Austin Jenkins about one of the legislature's priorities this session: mental health.	Marcie Sillman
Housing		01/29/15	2 min. - 8:30 am/4:00 pm	King County Receives Flood Of Section 8 Housing Applicants After Four Year Hiatus	If you are looking for more evidence of a housing crisis in King County, here it is.	Deborah Wang
Housing		01/08/15	7 min. - 12:00 pm	It's Not Just Expensive In Seattle, The Entire Region Is Crunched	Marcie Sillman talks with real estate appraiser Richard Hagar about how the influx of people to Seattle has caused housing prices region-wide to skyrocket, even in rural areas.	Marcie Sillman
Housing	Homeless	01/14/15	8 min.- 12 pm	Fliers On Capitol Hill Express Concern Over Church's Charity	Marcie Sillman talks with Don Jensen, executive director of Community Lunch, and Greg Turk, pastor of All Pilgrims Christian Church over a controversy on their meal program for needy people.	Marcie Sillman
Housing	Homeless	01/14/15	6 min. - 12:00 pm	Seattle Mayor Has New Recommendations To Help Homeless	Marcie Sillman talks to Seattle Mayor Ed Murray about his new recommendations to help the homeless population in Seattle and King County.	Marcie Sillman
Housing	Homeless	01/16/15	3 min. - 8:30 am/4:00 pm	Homeless Evictions Continue; Seattle Mayor Calls For More Legal Camps	Even as Seattle Mayor Ed Murray announced a plan on Wednesday to establish new tent cities for Seattle's growing homeless population, homeless people were being evicted from their camps on public property in the city.	John Ryan
Housing	Homeless	01/29/15	2 min. - 8:30 am/4:00 pm	Homelessness Surges In Seattle Area	The ranks of the homeless continue to swell in King County. An overnight count found 3,772 people living on the streets a 21 percent increase since last January.	John Ryan

Issue	Specific Issue	Date	Duration & Time	Story	Content	Reporter
Military		01/08/15	5 min. 8:30 am/4:00 pm	In Auburn, 911 Wants To Know If You're A Veteran	Recruits at Washington state's Law Enforcement Academy are learning how to handle police calls that involve military personnel and veterans. Washington is home to more than 65,000 active duty service members and more than 600,000 veterans.	Patricia Murphy
Military		01/14/15	5 min. - 8:30 am/4:00 pm	For Washington Veterans, Services Can Be Hours Away	NPR along with seven public radio stations around the country is chronicling the lives of America's troops where they live & Veteran benefits.	Patricia Murphy
Transportation		01/07/15	6 min. - 12:00 pm	What King County Wants From The State Legislature, Hint: Transportation	Ross Reynolds talks to King County Executive Dow Constantine about the transportation issues facing the county this year.	Ross Reynolds
Transportation		01/12/15	5 min. - 4:00 pm	The Park And Ride Dilemma: Bus Riders Still Rely On Cars	Issaquah Highlands was built to make it convenient for people to walk to transit. But despite planned density, sidewalks and footpaths, the numbers suggest most residents here use a car for some part of their commute.	Joshua McNichols
Transportation		01/13/15	3 min. - 8:30 am	The Science Behind An Engineer's Dire Warning About Bertha	They were not reassuring words. Engineers hired to rescue Bertha, the deep boring machine stalled under downtown Seattle, wrote to state officials: "If we continue the current 'repair as we go' method of excavation, we significantly increase the risk of a catastrophic failure."	Joshua McNichols
Transportation		01/15/15	6 min. - 12:00 pm	Seattle Mayor Murray: Bertha 'Can't Fail'	Marcie Sillman talks to Seattle Mayor Ed Murray about the Highway 99 tunnel project and the city's plan to study the safety of the viaduct.	Marcie Sillman
Transportation		01/20/15	5 min. - 8:30 am	Fighting Traffic, Dreaming Of Light Rail Outside Seattle	In the quest to reduce traffic and create more sustainable communities, rail-centered communities are poised to make a comeback.	Joshua McNichols
Transportation		01/20/15	6 min. - 12:00 pm	Seattle Traffic Is Costing You A Trip To Mexico	Ross Reynolds talks with Jim Bak, traffic analyst at INRIX, about Seattle's congestion and how that is impacting our economy.	Ross Reynolds

Issue	Specific Issue	Date	Duration & Time	Story	Content	Reporter
Transportation		01/29/15	3 min. - 8:30 am/4:00 pm	The Cost Of Riding Transit Is A Public Health Issue, King County Says	Just because you have health insurance, doesn't always mean you have a way to get to the doctor.	Joshua McNichols
Transportation		01/29/15	6 min. - 12:00 pm	King County Exec Constantine Wants To Expand Light Rail	The 2015 state legislative session kicks off on day. One issue that is top of mind for lawmakers around the state is transportation.	Ross Reynolds
Transportation		01/29/15	6 min. - 12:00 pm	Is 2015 The Year Washington Gets A Transportation Package?	Ross Reynolds talks with KUOW Olympia correspondent Austin Jenkins about the upcoming session and what's in store for transportation.	Ross Reynolds
WA State Legislature/ Government		01/06/15	6 min. - 12:00 pm	When Voters Pass More Laws Than Congress	Ross Reynolds talks to Andrea Seabrook, founder of DecodeDC, about how local initiatives create laws in spite of the stalemate in Congress.	Ross Reynolds
WA State Legislature/ Government		01/08/15	8 min. - 12:00 pm	Washington State's Congressional Delegation 'Won't Be Quieted'	Marcie Sillman talks to Cathy Allen, political consultant and president of The Connections Group, about Washington state's political clout in Congress now that the majority party is Republican.	Marcie Sillman
WA State Legislature/ Government		01/12/15	8 min. - 12:00 pm	Is Inslee's Carbon Tax Dead On Arrival?	Marcie Sillman talks with KUOW's Olympia correspondent Austin Jenkins about the politics around the carbon tax and other issues facing the state.	Marcie Sillman
WA State Legislature/ Government		01/12/15	6 min. - 12:00 pm	Mark Schoesler: From Farm Kid To State Senate Majority Leader	Ross Reynolds talks with Mark Schoesler, the new Republican state Senate Majority Leader, about his background, the issues he cares about and his governing philosophy.	Ross Reynolds
WA State Legislature/ Government		01/12/15	4 min. - 8:30 am	Washington Legislature: Like 147 People Trying To Buy A House Together	State lawmakers begin a high-stakes legislative session today with big decisions to make on how to pay for roads, transit and schools.	Bill Radke

Issue	Specific Issue	Date	Duration & Time	Story	Content	Reporter
WA State Legislature/ Government		01/14/15	6 min. - 12:00 pm	Washington State Ranks As Having Most Regressive Tax System	Ross Reynolds talks with Meg Wiehie, state policy director for the Institute on Taxation and Economic policy, about their yearly ranking of regressive tax system and with Paul Guppy, vice president of research for the Washington Policy Center, who gives another take on the ranking.	Ross Reynolds
WA State Legislature/ Government		01/21/15	2 min. - 4:00 pm	Seattle Must Hire More Workers From Poorer Neighborhoods	Seattle City Council has put new restrictions on who gets to work on the city's construction projects.	John Ryan
WA State Legislature/ Government		01/29/15	6 min. - 12:00 pm	Who Builds Our City? Proposal Would Prioritize Local Construction Workers	Marcie Sillman talks with Seattle City Councilmember Sally Clark about a proposal that would require public construction projects to give priority to workers who live in disadvantaged parts of Seattle and King County.	Marcie Sillman
WA State Legislature/ Government		01/29/15	6 min. - 12:00 pm	New State Senate Voting Rules A Bit Like 'Political Theater'	Marcie Sillman talks to Hugh Spitzer, University of Washington law professor, about the constitutionality of the Senate Republicans' rule change for bringing new taxes to a vote on the full Senate floor.	Marcie Sillman
Special Series
Radio Active Youth Radio		01/29/15	6 min.	Why This Teen Stopped Hiding Her Dad's Abuse	As a senior at Lake Stevens High School, Ivy Jacobsen appeared confident. Blonde, popular, and a varsity athlete, her peers labeled her as the perfect girl next door. But Jacobsen said there was a time when she wasn't so confident.	Ivy Jacobsen
RadioActive Youth Radio		01/06/15	7 min.	Burmese Refugee Yearns For Her Lost Father	Sara Ling is from Burma. When she was a child, her father disappeared. That's why her family left their country.	Sara Ling
RadioActive Youth Radio		01/07/15	6 min.	Airsoft: An Intersection Of Youth, Guns And Combat Simulation	RadioActive's Nathan Boss, 16, made his first foray into American gun culture through a real-life combat simulation game called airsoft.	Nathan Boss

Issue	Specific Issue	Date	Duration & Time	Story	Content	Reporter
RadioActive Youth Radio		01/09/15	6 min.	The Only Black Kid On The Team Learns To Thrive As The Odd One Out	I've done this a million times: Wake up, get ready, drive to school. At first, I hated getting up so early for school every day. It only made it worse that it took me an hour to get there. It would have been easier if it was five minutes away.	Jayleen Wheeler
RadioActive Youth Radio		01/29/15	6 min.	How This Girl Forgave Her Mom For A Time When Drugs Came First	RadioActive's Sokinna Keo has learned to find forgiveness for her mother's past as a drug user. Here is their story, in Keo's words.	Sokinna Keo
Week In Review		01/02/15		Fasten Your Beard Diaper, It's Time To Review This Week's News	It's not every week we get the chance to say "beard diaper" on the radio (it has to do with a story about ice cream and facial hair). Also making	Bill Radke & Reporter Panel
Week In Review		01/09/15	52 min. - 10:00 am	We Dug Into This Week's News And Didn't Sink An Inch	What's the Seattle connection to this week's attack on a French satirical magazine? Is it time to start thinking about a Plan B for Bertha?	Bill Radke & Reporter Panel
Week In Review		01/16/15	50 min. 10:00 am	What Happened This Week? Thanks For Asking	An engineer said "catastrophic failure" in the same breath as "Bertha" what does that mean? Washington state has America's most regressive tax and more.	Bill Radke & Reporter Panel
Week In Review		01/29/15	50 mins. 10:00 am	Are You Old Enough To Handle This Week's News?	Washington state considers raising the minimum age to buy tobacco from 18 to 21 - the highest in the country. Plus: deflated footballs and more.	Bill Radke & Reporter Panel

Issue	Specific Issues	Date	Duration & Time	Story	Content	Reporter
Diversity	Native Americans	3/2/15	6 min. 12:30 p.m.	Washington Tribes Take Dispute Over Fishing Rights To Court	Jeannie Yandel talks with Bob Anderson, director of the Native American Law Center at the University of Washington, about a dispute over fishing rights.	Jeannie Yandel
Diversity	Ageism	3/3/15	6 min. 12:00 p.m.	As Elderly Population Grows, King County Cracks Down On Elder Abuse	Ross Reynolds speaks with Page Ulrey, senior deputy prosecuting attorney with King County's Office of Elderly and Vulnerable Adult Abuse, about House Bill 1499.	Posey Gruener
Diversity	Gender	3/4/15	7 min. 12:00 p.m.	Gender Pay Gap Worse In Washington Than National Average	Marcie Sillman talks with Kristin Rowe Finkbeiner, executive director of MomsRising, about gender pay equity and other issues facing women in the workplace.	Marcie Sillman
Diversity	LGBTQ	3/4/15	2 min. 8:30 a.m. & 4:00 p.m.	'Tired Of Living In Fear': Capitol Hill Takes On Hate Crime	Hate crimes are up on Seattle's Capitol Hill, and often they target people who are lesbian, gay, bisexual or transgender. Tuesday night there was a meeting to discuss the problem.	Carolyn Adolph
Diversity	Race	3/12/15	9 min. 12:00 p.m.	Bringing The Spirit Of Selma Home To Seattle	Marcie Sillman talks to University of Washington communication professor David Domke about the pilgrimage he and 52 fellow travelers took to the deep south.	Marcie Sillman
Diversity	Race	3/18/15	2 min. 8:30 a.m. & 4:00 p.m.	Vigil For Seattle High School Senior Killed In Drive-By Shooting	The site of Sunday's shooting in Seattle's Beacon Hill neighborhood has turned into a shrine and gathering place for people remembering Robert Robinson, Jr.	John Ryan
Diversity	Race	3/19/15	6 min. 12:00 p.m.	Does Starbucks #RaceTogether Initiative Make Business Sense?	Ross Reynolds speaks to branding consultant Kevin Paul Scott about the backlash to Starbucks' #RaceTogether initiative, and why it might still be a good idea.	Posey Gruener
Diversity	Religion	3/19/15	2 min. 8:30 a.m. & 4:00 p.m.	Hate Crime Victims Must Speak Out, Muslim Group Says	A Muslim advocacy group in Seattle wants the FBI to investigate a possible hate crime against a woman in SeaTac.	Liz Jones
Diversity	Race	3/20/15	8 min. 12:00 p.m.	Rare Photos Of Black Seattle Unearthed: Help ID Them	Seattle is a young city, young enough that most of its history can be traced through photographs. A collection recently donated to Seattle's Museum of History and Industry illuminates another facet of the city's past.	Marcie Sillman
Diversity	Race	3/23/15	8 min. 12:00 p.m.	Local Selma Marcher: 'Whatever Is Coming, You've Got My Feet'	In March 1965, Steven Graves was studying in a Unitarian seminary in Chicago when he learned Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. was asking people from around the country to gather in Selma, Alabama, to march for voting rights for black people.	Jeannie Yandel

Diversity	Race	3/30/15	5 min. 12:00 p.m.	What The Starbucks' Race Campaign Says About Corporate Activism	KUOW's Marcie Sillman talks with Nancy Koehn, a historian at Harvard Business School, about why more big businesses will have to take stands on political and social issues to keep customers coming back.	Marcie Sillman
Economy	Minimum Wage	3/9/15	6 min. 8:30 a.m. & 4:00 p.m.	Why Franchise Owners Hate Seattle's $15 Minimum Wage	Lawyers for the city of Seattle will be in federal court Tuesday to defend the City's new $15-an-hour minimum wage law.	Deborah Wang
Economy		3/10/15	5 min. 12:00 p.m.	Attention Northwest Farmers: You May Be Able To Sell That Apple For More In China	Ross Reynolds talks with Kristi Heim, executive director of Washington State's China Relations Council, about local exports to China and the growing demand for fresh fruit and baby products.	Ross Reynolds
Economy	Minimum Wage	3/11/15	3 min. 8:30 a.m. & 4:00 p.m.	Attorneys Debate Constitutionality of Seattle's $15 Minimum Wage Law	Lawyers for the International Franchise Association and five local franchisees were in court Tuesday asking that portions of Seattle's new $15-an-hour minimum wage law be barred from taking effect.	Deborah Wang
Economy	Minimum Wage	3/17/15	2 min. 8:30 a.m. & 4:00 p.m.	$15 Minimum Wage Wins First Test In Court	A lawsuit against Seattle's new $15 an hour minimum wage has failed its first test in court.	Deborah Wang
Economy	Minimum Wage	3/17/15	6 min. 8:30 a.m. & 4:00 p.m.	Researchers Probe Pros and Cons Of Seattle's $15 Minimum Wage	Researchers from the University of Washington and the state are hoping cold, hard data can help settle the heated debate over the costs and benefits.	Deborah Wang
Economy		3/20/15	8 min. 12:00 p.m.	You Down With TPP? Opposing Perspectives On The Trans Pacific Partnership	Marcie Sillman talks with Tacoma Mayor Marilyn Strickland about why she supports the Trans-Pacific Partnership. Then, Ross Reynolds talks with Seattle City Councilmember Mike O'Brien about why he's raising concerns about the TPP.	Marcie Sillman
Economy	Minimum Wage	3/26/15	4 min. - 12:00 p.m.	UW's Message To Low Wage Employees: 'Be Patient'	Ross Reynolds talks with University of Washington spokesperson Norm Arkans about Seattle's $15 minimum wage and why the UW is not ready to commit to it.	Ross Reynolds
Economy	Minimum Wage	3/27/15	5 min. 8:30 a.m.	A $12 Minimum Wage For Washington State? How About $16?	Bill Radke talks with political consultants Sandeep Kaushik and Chris Vance about whether voters should ultimately decide whether to raise Washington's , minimum wage.	Bill Radke
Economy	Minimum Wage	3/28/15	7 min. 8:30 a.m. & 4:00 p.m.	How Seattle Agonized Over And Passed The $15 Minimum Wage	Seattle is known for its endless public process, so how did it become a city where $15 went from a campaign slogan to law in a matter of months?	Deborah Wang

Economy	Minimum Wage	3/30/15	5 min. 12:00 p.m.	Ivar's To Pay $15, Discourage Tips At Its Lake Union Restaurant	KUOW's Marcie Sillman talks with Bob Donegan, president and CEO of Ivar's, about how the popular Seattle fish and chips chain will handle the new minimum wage law.	Marcie Sillman
Economy	Minimum Wage	3/30/15	8 min. 12:00 p.m.	Seattle's $15 Minimum Wage Is "Going to Change Everything"	Angie Garcia, a single mom who works at the McDonald's in Ballard, has planned how she's going to spend the extra money she makes after the minimum wage increases to $11 an hour.	Deborah Wang
Environment		3/2/15	4 min. - 12:00 p.m.	Will Seattle Ever Be Trash Free?	Marcie Sillman talks with Heather Trim, Zero Waste Seattle leader, about what it would take for the city to be trash free.	Marcie Sillman
Environment		3/6/15	9 min. 12:00 p.m.	How Big Of A Risk Are Oil Trains?	Ross Reynolds speaks with Lisa Copeland, of the Washington State Department of Ecology, about the risk oil trains could pose to the state.	Ross Reynolds
Environment		3/9/15	5 min. 12:00 p.m.	Shell's Plan To Dock Arctic Fleet In Seattle Faces Lease Investigation	Ross Reynolds speaks with City Councilman Mike O'Brien about plans for Shell Oil's Arctic drilling fleet to dock in Seattle.	Ross Reynolds
Environment		3/10/15	5 min. 12:00 p.m.	Killer Grandmas: Orca Whales Survive On Older Females' Wisdom	Nearly every mammal on earth reproduces until they die - except for humans, and two species of whales. A new study shows that older, female killer whales are most likely to lead their pods as they travel through the salmon foraging grounds of the Pacific Northwest.	Marcie Sillman
Environment		3/19/15	12 min. 12:00 p.m.	Poop Water: Why You Should Drink It	Ross Reynolds speaks with Peter Janicki, the Washington-based creator of the Omni Processor, a machine which turns human waste into clean drinking water.	Ross Reynolds
Environment		3/25/15		Port Of Seattle Rejects Calls To Cancel Arctic Drill Rig Lease	After nearly two hours of public testimony Tuesday, Seattle port commissioners upheld their decision to let Arctic oil-drilling rigs dock at the Port of Seattle.	John Ryan
Housing	Homelessness	3/3/15	6 min. 8:30 a.m. & 4:00 p.m.	Privacy Or Funding: The Tough Choice In Combating Homelessness	When a homeless person needs help, they are often asked for a lot of personal information. For victims of domestic violence, that information could potentially help an abuser track them down.	John Ryan
Housing	Homelessness	3/3/15	8 min - 8:30 a.m. & 4:00 p.m.	After 10-Year Plan, Why Does Seattle Have More Homeless Than Ever?	Ten years ago this month, King County made a bold promise to end homelessness in 10 years. The ranks of the homeless have declined in Washington...	John Ryan
Housing	Homelessness	3/4/15	5 min. 8:30 a.m.	Seattle One Step Closer To Expanding Homeless Camps	Bill Radke talks with Seattle City Councilmember Mike O'Brien about a proposal to expand and regulate homeless encampments in Seattle.	Bill Radke

Housing	Homelessness	3/5/15	12 min. 12:00 p.m.	1811 Eastlake: Where Formerly Homeless Alcoholics Are Allowed To Drink	Marcie Sillman talks with Bill Hobson, executive director of the Downtown Emergency Service Center, about a facility that houses formerly homeless, chronic alcoholics and allows people to drink.	Marcie Sillman
Housing	Homelessness	3/5/15	8 min. 12:00 p.m.	Portrait Of A Homeless Family: 17 Months, 25 Moves	Jessica Tossey is in the living room of her condo, getting herself and young son Blakely ready for their mile-long walk to church, where he goes to	Jeannie Yandel
Housing	Homelessness	3/6/15	7 min. 12:00 p.m.	Why 'Rapid Re-Housing' May Be Key To Ending Homelessness In King County	Marcie Sillman talks with Alice Shobe about rapid re-housing and how the strategy fits into ending homelessness in Seattle and King County.	Marcie Sillman
Housing	Homelessness	3/12/15	5 min. - 12:00 p.m.	Seattle Mayor Ed Murray On The Housing Crunch And Homelessness	Marcie Sillman talks with Seattle Mayor Ed Murray about the issues of affordable housing and homelessness in Seattle.	Marcie Sillman
Housing		3/12/15	6 min. - 12:00 p.m.	What Seattle Can Learn About Affordable Housing From The 'Miracle Of Minneapolis'	Marcie Sillman talks with The Atlantic magazin's senior editor Derek Thompson about his article, "The Miracle of Minneapolis."	Marcie Sillman
Housing		3/26/15	3 min. - 12:00 p.m.	The Mayor's Plan For Affordable Housing In Seattle	Ross Reynolds talks with Seattle Mayor Ed Murray about his plan for affordable housing in Seattle	Ross Reynolds
Military		3/3/15	2 min. 8:30 a.m.	Navy's Proposed Electronic Warfare Range Hits State Roadblock	Washington state has told the U.S. Navy it can't use state land to conduct electronic-warfare training on the Olympic Peninsula. The state...	Patricia Murphy
Military		3/12/15	60 min. - 10:00 p.m.	From 'Shell Shock' To Activism: A Biography Of PTSD	Our guest on this episode of Speakers Forum is David J. Morris, a war correspondent, former Marine and PTSD sufferer.	John O'Brien
Military		3/16/15	12 min. 12:00 p.m.	'Kill Team' Soldiers From JBLM Profiled In New Documentary	Marcie Sillman talks with filmmaker Dan Krauss about his new documentary, "The Kill Team." The film features the story of Private Adam Winfield, who attempted to warn the military of war crimes against innocent civilians in Afghanistan.	Marcie Sillman
Military	Veterans	3/17/15	6 min. - 8:30 a.m. & 4:00 p.m.	"We Can't Help You": The Message To Rural Vets About Health Care	Gloria Hoepfner, 89, is a Navy veteran who lives with her husband in the San Juan Islands. To see a doctor, she usually has to take a ferry from her...	Patricia Murphy
Military	Veterans	3/24/15	Web	The Daily Show Features KUOW Vet Story	On Monday night KUOW reporter Patricia Murphy received a frantic call from her sister in New Jersey: "YOU'RE ON THE DAILY SHOW!" she said...	Isolde Raftery
Military	Veterans	3/24/15	Web	VA Gives Rural Vets A Break After Daily Show Covers KUOW Story	Twice as many veterans in rural areas will be able to go to a doctor near their home after a policy change made Tuesday by the Department of Veterans	Patricia Murphy

Oso Landslide		3/18/15	7 min. - 12:00 p.m.	A Year After Oso, More Detailed Hazard Maps Still Needed	Marcie Sillman talks to David Montgomery, University of Washington geology professor, about his geological recommendations for the state after last year's deadly landslide.	Amina Al-Sadi
Oso Landslide		3/18/15	5 min. - 4:00 p.m.	Medal Of Valor Honors Hundreds Of Oso Heroes	Kim Malcolm talks with Olympia correspondent Austin Jenkins about the policy changes state lawmakers are considering one year after the Oso landslide.	Austin Jenkins
Oso Landslide		3/19/15	6 min. - 8:30 a.m. & 4:00 p.m.	Oso Braces Itself Ahead Of Landslide Anniversary	Sunday marks one year since the Oso landslide. Highway 530 will shut down in the morning as people gather to commemorate the day.	Carolyn Adolph
Oso Landslide		3/19/15	5 min. - 12:00 p.m.	Oso Anniversary: 'Seems Like A Decade Ago, And It Seems Like Yesterday'	Marcie Sillman talks with Dan Rankin, who was transformed from sawmill owner and part-time mayor of Darrington to full-time leader of a community facing its greatest challenge after the deadly mudslide in nearby Oso, Washington on March 22, 2014.	Marcie Sillman
Seattle Police Department		3/2/15	6 min. 8:30 a.m.	Seattle Police Reforms Just Getting Started After Local Journalist's Complaint	In the summer of 2013, Seattle journalist Dominic Holden, a reporter for The Stranger, filed a complaint with Seattle's Office of Professional Accountability, saying a police officer tried to harass and intimidate him.	Amy Radil
Seattle Police Department		3/3/15	5 min. - 12:00 p.m.	Homelessness In Downtown Seattle A Puzzle For Police	Ross Reynolds speaks with Katherine Beckett, co-author with Steven Herbert of the book, "Banished: The New Social Control in Urban America," about her research into interactions between the Seattle Police Department and people experiencing homelessness in downtown Seattle.	Posey Gruener
Seattle Police Department		3/10/15	5 min. 12:00 p.m.	Seattle Mayor Murray On The Management Shakeup At Seattle Police Department	Marcie Sillman talks with Seattle Mayor Ed Murray about the personnel shakeup at the Seattle Police Department. Police Chief Kathleen O' Toole is replacing four assistant police chiefs.	Marcie Sillman
Seattle Police Department		3/11/15	4 min. - 8:30 a.m.	Seattle Police Chief O'Toole: New Leadership Will Bring "Urgency"	Seattle Police Chief Kathleen O'Toole has announced a long-awaited leadership shakeup, looking outside and within the department for four new assistant chiefs.	Amy Radil
Seattle Police Department		3/11/15	7 min. - 12:00 p.m.	Police Chief O'Toole Brings In 'New Blood' To The SPD	Marcie Sillman speaks with Seattle Times reporter Steve Miletich about Seattle Police Chief Kathleen O'Toole's appointment of four new assistant police chiefs.	Marcie Sillman

Transportation		3/2/15	11 min. - 12:00 p.m.	The Transportation Package That Could (Maybe)	Ross Reynolds talks with KUOW Olympia correspondent Austin Jenkins and state Rep. Jessyn Farrell, D-Seattle, about a possible Transportation package.	Ross Reynolds
Transportation		3/2/15	3 min. 8:30 a.m.	Mayor Hopes To Ease Competition Between Buses, Freight, Cars And Bikes With 10-Year Plan	Mayor Ed Murray laid out his 10-year Transportation plan Monday. The move sets the stage for renewing the Transportation levy that expires this year.	Joshua McNichols
Transportation		3/2/15	3 min. 8:30 a.m.	Higher Bus Fares, Hiring Spree Now In Effect For King County Metro	Changes are afoot at King County Metro. Bus fares went up over the weekend by 25 cents. Bus drivers started accepting the county's new reduced fare cards.	Joshua McNichols
Transportation		3/4/15	3 min. - 8:30 a.m. & 4:00 p.m.	Tacoma Hopes Light Rail Connection To Seattle Gets Funded	Politicians in Olympia are negotiating the final size of a Transportation package. But we found out this week it may not be as much as some people hoped.	Joshua McNichols
Transportation		3/4/15	5 min. 8:30 a.m.	What's Car2Go's Role In Seattle's 'War On Parking'?	Car-sharing company Car2Go expanded in Seattle this week. That means a little more competition for parking spots that can already be hard to come by.	Bill Radke
Transportation	Bertha	3/9/15	3 min. 8:30 a.m.	Rescuing Bertha 'Like Putting The Worm On The Hook'	Bertha the drill should be back at work on the tunnel to replace the Alaskan Way Viaduct by August. There's still some unstable soil left to drill.	Joshua McNichols
Transportation		3/9/15	5 min. 12:00 p.m.	Making 'The Most Dangerous Street In Seattle' Safer	Marcie Sillman talks with Phyllis Porter, outreach coordinator and events specialist at Rainier Valley Greenways Project, about the Seattle Department of Transportation's plan to improve traffic safety on Rainier Avenue.	Marcie Sillman
Transportation		3/11/15	6 min. 12:00 p.m.	Seattle Mayor Ed Murray On Transportation: We Need To Get Away From 'Mode Fetish'	Marcie Sillman talks with Seattle Mayor Ed Murray about his 10-year Transportation plan.	Marcie Sillman
Transportation		3/15/15	4 min. - 8:30 a.m.	Seattle Bus Maps: Should They Be Like Butter? Or A Spider Web?	When the Capitol Hill and University link light rail stations open up in about a year, it will change how many people get around Seattle.	Joshua McNichols
Transportation		3/18/15	4 min. - 12:00 p.m.	Accidents Piling Up At State Transportation Project Sites	Ross Reynolds talks with Washington State Transportation Secretary Lynn Peterson about recent accidents at the sites of state Transportation projects.	Ross Reynolds
Transportation		3/19/15	2 min. - 8:30 a.m. & 4:00 p.m.	Seattle's Disjointed Transportation Needs A Fix, Mayor Murray Says	Seattleites have many travel options, but sometimes those options clash. Seattle Mayor Ed Murray hopes to change that with a $900 million transportation levy being floated to voters this fall.	Ruby de Luna

Transportation	Bertha	3/19/15	3 min. - 8:30 a.m.	Bertha's Small Triumphs Fail To Impress Weary Public	A 270-ton section of Bertha's front body now lies on the ground in downtown Seattle, ready for workers to add steel reinforcing. Seattle Tunnel Partners hopes to lay the tunnel borer's cutter head nearby in a couple of weeks.	Joshua McNichols
WA State Legislature		3/3/15	5 min. - 12:00 p.m.	New Proposal Calls For Testing All Rape Kits In Washington	Ross Reynolds talks with Erika Teschke about a bill in the state legislature that would require all new rape kits to be tested by the Washington state.	Ross Reynolds
WA State Legislature		3/4/15	6 min. - 12:00 p.m.	Bill Would Expand Access To Overdose Antidote Drug	Ross Reynolds talks to Dennis Donovan, director of the Alcohol and Drug Abuse Institute at the University of Washington, about a bill which would grant wider access to the opiate overdose medication, Naloxone.	Ross Reynolds
WA State Legislature		3/5/15	5 min. - 12:00 p.m.	Teaching Emotional Health In School	Ross Reynolds talks to state Sen. Steve Litzow, R-Mercer Island, about a bill in the Senate that would require schools include social and emotional learning in their curriculum.	Amina Al-Sadi
WA State Legislature		3/6/15	4 min. - 4:00 p.m.	Why Injured Washington State Workers Have It Better	An NPR/ProPublica investigation this week found that Americans injured on the job have had their worker compensation benefits slashed over the past decade.	Kim Malcolm
WA State Legislature	Equal Pay Act	3/12/15	6 min. - 12:00 p.m.	Washington Lawmakers Want Employees To Talk About Their Salary	Marcie Sillman talks to state Rep. Tana Senn, D-Mercer Island, about her bill that passed the state House that would amend the Equal Pay Act, ensuring that employers can't punish employees for talking about their salary.	Marcie Sillman
WA State Legislature	Money in Politics	3/16/15	10 min. 12:00 p.m.	State Lawmakers Eye Money In Politics	Marcie Sillman talks with state Rep. Reuven Carlyle, D-Seattle, about his push for more transparency in government. Also, Ross Reynolds gets the scoop on various transparency bills in the legislature from KUOW's Olympia correspondent, Austin Jenkins.	Hannah Burn
WA State Legislature		3/17/15	8 min. 12:00 p.m.	Proposal Would Require Post-Conviction DNA To Be Saved	Ross Reynolds talks with Lara Zarowsky, policy director for Innocence Project Northwest, about a legislative proposal that would require most DNA evidence collected in violent felonies to be preserved for the entire length of someone's sentence.	Ross Reynolds

WA State Legislature		3/18/15	7 min. 12:00 p.m.	Child Porn In Washington State: 'No Fear In That Community'	Ross Reynolds talks with Seattle Police Department Captain Mike Edwards about a legislative proposal to increase funding for investigating and prosecuting child pornography cases.	Ross Reynolds
WA State Legislature		3/23/15	6 min. - 12:00 p.m.	5 Things You Should Know About The State Auditor Scandal	If you're confused by the headlines about the investigation into Troy Kelley, Washington state's auditor, you're not alone.	Austin Jenkins
Special Programs
RadioActive Youth Radio		3/12/15	7 min.	Welcome KUOW's Spring 2015 RadioActive Youth Producers	KUOW's RadioActive Youth Media is proud to offer our spring journalism workshop. Six teens, aged 16-18, will spend 12 weeks learning what it means to be a journalist.	RadioActive Youth Media
Radio Active Youth Radio		3/26/15	20 min.	A 'RadioActive' Showcase Of The Magic Of Writing	Nothing is more powerful than the magic that comes from your mind, down your arm, through your fingertips, down your pen and onto the page.	RadioActive Students
Week In Review		3/6/15	49 min. 10:00 a.m.	This Week's News Was An Elephant Stampede	Seattle officials did not stand in the way of the decision to send Woodland Park Zoo's elephants to Oklahoma, should they have? How important is it when a state lawmaker refers to "colored people"? Will too little winter snow mean summer drought?	Bill Radke & Panel of Reporters
Week In Review		3/13/15	47 min. - 10:00 a.m.	This Week's News Calls For New Leadership	Is a shakeup of the Seattle Police Department's top ranks a sign of progress? Should a franchise be considered big business when it comes to Seattle... and more.	Luke Burbank & Panel of Reporters
Week In Review		3/20/15	49 min. 10:00 a.m.	Let's Write This Week's News On A Cup And Talk	Why did the Starbucks race initiative bother us THAT much? Should you be able to smoke in a Seattle park? And should you fight wage discrimination by by talking openly about how much money you make?	Bill Radke & Panel of Reporters
Week In Review		3/27/15	48 min. 10:00 a.m.	We've Dehydrated This Week's News So You Can Take It Hiking	Should Washington state ban powdered alcohol? Should Army soldier Bowe Bergdahl go from hero to pariah? Is it time to leave Amanda Knox alone? And more..	Bill Radke & Panel of Reporters