

Quarterly Issues/Programs List

KWED Radio

3rd Quarter 2013

July, August, September

This is a list of the significant issues responded to by radio station KWED, Seguin, Texas during the most recent quarter. The list is by no means exhaustive, and does not include all of the news items covered by our station on a daily basis. The order, in which the issues appear, does not reflect any priority or significance. The items are listed chronological order by air date.

July 6, 2013

Health/Wellness, Saturday Topic program

Dr. Nick Wilkens talks about cheating on this morning's Saturday Topic program. How is it defined? Are you cheating, and maybe you don't know it? How does cheating impact relationships? How do you know when you've crossed the line? What do you do if your partner cheats on you? He'll explore all of those issues as part of our mental wellness series on the Saturday Topic. (Part One 23:52, Part Two 29:35)

July 13, 2013

Health/Wellness, Saturday Topic program

Our summer series on mental wellness continues this week with Dr. Nick Wilkens from the Guadalupe

Valley Christian Counseling Center. Dr. Nick focuses on the subject of divorce, and how it impacts families. (Part One 18:39, Part Two 39:45)

July 20, 2013

Health/Wellness, Saturday Topic program

July is Mental Wellness Month on Seguin Radio KWED. We've featured a number of programs with Dr. Nick Wilkens from the Guadalupe Valley Christian Counseling Center. Dr. Nick today will focus on attachments that we have...some healthy, some not so healthy, and what we can do about them. (36:43)

July 20, 2013

Business/Economy, Saturday Topic program

We begin our program with our monthly business update from the Seguin Area Chamber of Commerce. Representatives from the chamber will talk about its business leadership program, and it's Seguin Youth Leadership Academy (SYLA). My guests this morning include Dana Overstreet and Kay Lynn Hawkins. (14:27)

July 27, 2013 and August 3, 2013

Community Organizations/Public Service

If you're a fan of the great outdoors, you'll want to get signed up for a new program coming to Guadalupe County. Work is now underway to create a Texas Master Naturalist Program in Guadalupe County. It's similar to the master gardener program, but goes well beyond plants and gardening. It's a more holistic approach to the great outdoors, and a new chapter is about to get started here in Guadalupe County. Jeff Hanselka, county extension agent for natural resources, and Julia Osgood, a certified master naturalist are both helping to get local program off the ground. If you have any questions about the program, you can contacting the extension office at 379-1972. (17:30)

July 27, 2013

Community Organizations/Public Service, Saturday Topic program

Our program features KWED News Director Cindy Aguirre, who will take a look at the work being done by CASA of Central Texas. Aguirre interviews Eloise Hudson, who explains what CASA is all about, and how you can help children who have been abused or neglected. CASA, or Court Appointed Special Advocates of Central Texas needs you to become a cheerleader for a child that's been placed in the court system due to abuse or neglect. These children will not live with you, but you will be part of their lives by showing up for legal proceedings and making sure that child has an advocate in the courtroom. Hudson will not only explain their work, but she will also invite you to lunchtime informational meeting next Monday (July 29) at the GVEC meeting room on State Highway 46. (11:18)

August 10, 2013

Health/Wellness, Saturday Topic program

Rev. Tom Jones and Rev. Jeremy Roy chaplains at Guadalupe Rgional Medical Center discuss patient directives and end of life choices that families face each day at GRMC and at other medical facilities across the nation. The share the importance of advanced directives and how to make sure your family is aware of your wishes. (30:01)

August 17, 2013 and August 24, 2013

Arts/Entertainment, Saturday Topic program

Maestro David Mairs, and symphony board members Kathy Nossaman, Trina Eastwood and Ethna Goetz from the Mid-Texas Symphony are here to announce the symphony's 36th season. While many larger communities struggle to sustain and maintain their symphonies, the communities of Seguin and New Braunfels have successfully operated the Mid-Texas Symphony for more than three decades. Music Director David Mairs is here to discuss the upcoming season, and he's joined by board member Kathy Nossaman, Seguin Guild Chapter President Trina Eastwood, and musician and symphony volunteer Ethna Goetz. (34:58)

August 31, 2013

Community Organizations/Public Service, Saturday Topic program

If you're a fan of the great outdoors, you'll want to get signed up for a new program coming to Guadalupe County. Work is now underway to create a Texas Master Naturalist Program in Guadalupe County. It's similar to the master gardener program, but goes well beyond plants and gardening. It's a more wholistic approach to the great outdoors, and a new chapter is about to get started here in Guadalupe County. Jeff Hanselka, county extension agent for natural resources, and Julia Osgood, a certified master naturalist are both helping to get local program off the ground. (17:30)

August 31, 2013

Community Organizations/Public Service, Saturday Topic program

Members and supporters of the Seguin Autism Support Group are back to discuss their work to improve the lives of austistic children, and their families. Christina Barton, Teato Scott and Julie Benavides will be here to discuss the challenges facing these families, and the many services that the offer to them. They also discuss the role the community can play in helping these children and their families. (34:55)

September 14, 2013

Arts/Entertainment, Saturday Topic program

David Mairs, Kathy Nossaman, Trina Eastwood and Ethna Goetz from the Mid-Texas Symphony are here to announce the symphony's 36th season. While many larger communities struggle to sustain and maintain their symphonies, the communities of Seguin and New Braunfels have successfully operated the Mid-Texas Symphony for more than three decades. Music Director David Mairs is here to discuss the upcoming season, and he's joined by board member Kathy Nossaman, Seguin Guild Chapter President Trina Eastwood, and musician and symphony volunteer Ethna Goetz. (34:58)

September 21, 2013

Community Organization/Public Service and Health/Wellness, Saturday Topic program

Marcy and Cliff Letbetter are back with us on the Saturday Topic program to continue to raise awareness about organ donation. Cliff is a heart transplant recipient, and he and his wife have been on a mission to help educate the public about the need for organ donors, and how easy it is to get registered. The Letbetters are joined this year by Carter, who just 10 months ago at the age of 28, gave one of her kidneys to her uncle. She's a living donor, with a great story to tell about how we all can give the gift of organ donation, and the gift of life. The trio will also discuss the local non-profit group Seguin for Life, and how people can be involved in the group's annual Walk For Life event scheduled for October 5 at Texas Lutheran University. (30:47)

September 28, 2013

Public/Private/Higer Education, Saturday Topic program

The Seguin Christian Academy is entering its second year of existence. The private school was born out of a long standing relationship with First Baptist Church. The school had to strike on its own, and that led to a number of changes and challenges. We'll talk about that story, and what's new at the school that's been relocated to downtown Seguin. Guests today include Kelly Follis and Dave Gettig. (22:32)