A community prayer event, in support of local schools, will be held this weekend in downtown Seguin. Earlier this week, we spoke with Guadalupe County Ministerial Association Member Rev. Tom Jones. Jones says faith leaders are inviting the community to gather in Central Park this weekend to pray for teachers, students and our schools. Jones says they want as many people as possible to come join their efforts to pray for local schools. Jones says they'll get started around 3:30 p.m. Sunday afternoon in Central Park. He says you just need to show up with an open heart and mind. Jones says there's never been more of a need for prayer for the safety and security of our schools. He says that's why they want to come together and offer this opportunity to the community. He says everyone is invited. 12:00
