TWIB Show #1113 "Fourth of July"

Act One - "Nationals Rebuilding": After several disappointing seasons, the attitude of the Washington Nationals has changed the culture and mindset of the entire organization, thanks in part to GM Mike Rizzo. It begins with the homegrown talent of Gold Glove third baseman Ryan Zimmerman, Ian Desmond at shortstop, and Roger Bernadina in right field. The future of the Nationals is based around two of their first round selections in the first year player drafts. In 2009 and 2010, they picked two college phenoms: pitcher Stephen Strasburg and power hitting youngster Bryce Harper. With power hitters Adam Dunn, Josh Willingham and Zimmerman already in the middle of the lineup, the future looks bright. Two veterans, future Hall of Fame catcher Ivan Rodriguez and pitcher Livan Hernandez, give the experience and stability needed for the young team to develop. Rizzo is moving all the pieces into place for a championship caliber franchise.

Act Two - "Batolin": Glenn Donnellan is a violinist for the National Symphony Orchestra. One day he played electric violin for a children's concert featuring technology, science and music. Inspired by that event, Donnellan decided to make a "Batolin", which he made by attaching components of an electric violin to a wooden baseball bat. Glenn has already played the National Anthem on his Batolin at three Nats games, with one more remaining on the schedule. He would like to play at the MLB All Star Game, and then have the winner of the Home Run Derby attempt to blow it up, by using it to hit the baseball.

The TWIBIA question was who was the last third baseman to hit in 30 straight games? The answer is George Brett, who had a 30 game hitting streak when he hit .390 in 1980.

The Winning Road Trips segment salutes the teams and players that are able to win away from home. The Chicago White Sox have played nine games in National League parks this month and were victorious eight times. The Sox have played magnificently away from home.

Educational theme: Innovation and creativity requires imagination to create new ideas or things. The concept of combining sports and the arts is a successful use of a new idea.

Educational theme: Patriotic songs and various other kinds of music are meaningful symbols of who we are, as an individual, team, university, or country. They are the part of sport designed to create and enhance the atmosphere of excitement, joy and celebration.

Educational theme: Trivia is a seemingly superfluous and insignificant event; however, it is an important component of baseball legend, lore and tradition. For both fans and players, trivia is a source of fun and interest in the American institution called baseball.

Act Three - "Pepsi Refresh": The Pepsi Refresh Project reexamines the men and moments in MLB history that helped change the world by breaking down barriers and building communities. This is a tribute to refreshing ideas. In the bicentennial year of 1976, Rick Monday of the Chicago Cubs was playing center field at Dodger Stadium, when two anti-Americans attempted to set fire to the American flag. Rick quickly ran in and scooped up the flag before they could burn the Stars and Stripes. The LA fans gave Monday a well deserved ovation for his patriotic act. Rick went on to have a career year for the Cubs, and then was acquired by the Dodgers. He spent eight years in LA and helped the Dodgers reach the World Series.

The XM Call of the Week comes from Arizona, where Edwin Jackson threw the second no-run no-hitter in Diamondbacks history.

Gillette Rookies of the Month honors the top rookies in both leagues each month of the season. Jose Tabata of the Pittsburgh Pirates has hit safely in 15 of his first 19 MLB games.

Educational theme: Respect for the flag is an indication of patriotism. Public dishonoring of the flag is regarded as an extreme form of dissent. In the USA making the public affirmation of loyalty to the flag is a civic duty.

Educational theme: The national flag represents our country. It's an unchanging symbol of characteristics of our country, an ideal, and means of being proud of the United States of America.

Educational theme: Patriotic acts are those that mark significant points in history. A heroic act in an athletic venue with historical significance is one that is marked for preservation by aficionados and players.

Educational theme: The glory and romance of sport are preserved in the chronicles of landmark performances, because history is written by the victors. Documenting important events in a career create the history of the present. For if you lose sight of the past, you will lose sight of the future.

Act Four - "Diamond Demos": Harold Reynolds of the MLB Network spoke about the proper techniques needed to steal a base. The first component is a good lead off the base. The second component is a good start using a cross over step, as soon as the pitcher begins his motion to pitch.

The Going All Out segment is a close up look at players who have gone the extra mile. On July 4, 1985 over 44,000 fans watched the fireworks after the Mets and Braves game. After several thunderstorms, the rain delay was at 2 hours and 11 minutes. The game was a dramatic battle that finally finished in the 19th inning with a Mets victory. Then at 4:00 A.M., the post-game Fourth of July Fireworks display began.

The State Farm Big League Blast honors the Texas Rangers power hitter Josh Hamilton, who is on a 21 game hitting streak.

Step Up To The Plate For Your Health featured Roger Caplinger, the head athletic trainer for the Milwaukee Brewers. For those athletes who do not want to go to the gym to work out, it is suggested that they find other enjoyable methods of exercise, such as, running or playing baseball to stay active.

Educational theme: Advanced baseball strategies include base running and base stealing skills. This requires more than mere speed, but also a cognitive component; therefore, this is a learned skill that can be taught.

Educational theme: Sports pedagogy is an important aspect of the learning process. Demonstration and explanation are initial steps in the process. Children learn best by watching and mimicking athletic performance.

Educational theme: Baseball is not a game measured by time, since it is measured in outs. To succeed one must keep hitting and pitching to keep the game alive and you have defeated time.

Educational theme: Good conditioning and proper nutrition are important parts of athletic training for better performance.

Act Five - "How 'bout that!": The plays of the week were presented to the song "Gold Guns Girls" by the band Metric. TWIB showed several long and significant home runs, along with numerous outstanding defensive plays by infielders and outfielders. Also, a few errors, collisions and celebrations were noted. Edwin Jackson's no-hitter was once again cited.

Educational theme: Documenting landmark performances is the history of the present. But if you lose sight of the past, you lose sight of the future.

Educational theme: There is much to be learned from playing baseball. The game and the game of life are very similar. The way a person performs on the field may be the same way he performs in the game of life.

Educational theme: The artistic value of sport can be found in the beauty, grace, and rhythmic movements of elite athletes. The aesthetic quality of a well-executed play enhances the appreciation of baseball.

Educational theme: Once the student-learner has carefully observed the required effort and the bio-mechanics of the premier athletes, then the movements can be more easily duplicated and performed by the learner. The student is then physically educated.

Act Three - "Pepsi Refresh": The Pepsi Refresh Project reexamines the men and moments in MLB history that helped change the world by breaking down barriers and building communities. This is a tribute to refreshing ideas. Past All-Star Games are filled with unforgettable iconic moments. In 1934, Carl Hubbell struck out five future Hall of Famers in a row: Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, Jimmy Foxx, Al Simmons and Joe Cronin. In 1971, Reggie Jackson's home run at Tiger Stadium was a tape measure shot. In 1941, fans watched Joe DiMaggio -- in the midst of his 56 game hitting streak -- batting back-to-back with Ted Williams, who was hitting over .400 at the time. Williams hit a game winning walk off home run to lead the AL to victory.

The XM Call of the Week comes from Denver, where the Colorado Rockies scored nine runs in the ninth to win. It was the most unforgettable comeback in Rockies history.

Gillette Rookies of the Month honors the top rookies in both leagues each month of the season. The Pittsburgh Pirates' Pedro "El Toro" Alvarez hit his first MLB home run, the highlight of an eight game hitting streak.

Act Four - "Diamond Demos": Former Major League star infielders Barry Larkin and Harold Reynolds of MLB Network talked about and demonstrated the proper techniques needed to execute the relay throw from outfield to shortstop. The shortstop must give the outfielder a target, catch the ball on the glove side, slide his feet to prepare to throw and throw the ball chest high to the third baseman.

The Going All Out segment is a close up look at community leaders who have gone the extra mile. In St. Louis at the 2009 All-Star Game, MLB paid tribute to the All-Stars Among Us, ordinary folks who have performed acts of kindness and compassion for the benefit of others. Ryan Housley of Atlanta founded Hero Box, which is an organization that creates and ships custom care packages to service men overseas. California's Christine Shively started Knots of Love, which is a charity that makes caps for cancer patients and others in need. Richard Nares founded the Emilio Nares Foundation that offers information and support to families whose children are stricken with cancer. TWIB recounted these stories as a prelude to the revelation of this year's All-Stars Among Us selectees.

The State Farm Big League Blast salutes Gentleman Jim Thome of the Minnesota Twins, who just passed Harmon Killebrew of the Washington Senators and Twins, to stand alone in 10th place on the all time home run list.

TWIB again showed several leaping, over the shoulder and diving catches. More home runs by Albert Pujols and Josh Hamilton were shown, as was Jim Thome's 573rd home run. TWIB Show #1115 "First Half"

Act One - "First Half Pitching": TWIB reflected on the remarkable first half of the 2010 season. The big story was the incredible pitching from all corners of the Major Leagues. The natural competitive nature of athletes is apparently pushing everyone else to do well, as 18 starters had an ERA under 3.00. No season has ever finished with that many since 1992. There already have been four no-hitters. Ubaldo Jimenez pitched the first no-hitter in Colorado Rockies history, Edwin Jackson threw the second no-hitter in Arizona D-backs history and fans even witnessed two perfect games. Dallas Braden threw a perfect game for the Oakland A's on Mother's Day and Roy Halladay of the Philadelphia Phillies followed with just the 20th perfect game in MLB history. Unfortunately, due to a bad call by umpire Jim Joyce, Armando Galarraga did not get to pitch a perfect game. However, the next day Galarraga and Joyce showed a great deal of class, when prior to the game, Galarraga presented the starting line-up to Joyce in a gesture of sportsmanship.

The pitching excellence was continued in the MLB All-Star Game. The NL staff allowed only six hits, which was their lowest since 1999. The National League celebrated its first all-star victory in 14 years, which gave them home field advantage for the World Series.

Educational theme: Landmark performances are those that mark a turning point in history. An athletic accomplishment with historical significance is one that is marked for preservation by aficionados, players and national governing bodies of sport.

Educational theme: Documenting a milestone performance is the history of the present. But if you lose sight of the past, you lose sight of the future.

Educational theme: Sportsmanship is the practice of behaving with fairness, courtesy, and the attitude of a gracious winner or cheerful loser. One's desire for good sportsmanship must be equal to one's desire to win.

Act Two - "Big Boi & Heyward": Due to his amazing skills, Jason Heyward of the Atlanta Braves earned all-star status as a rookie. For this behind-the-scenes feature, Jason hooked up with fellow Atlanta resident and Grammy Award-winning artist Big Boi. Jason felt honored to tour the rap artists' music studio where he asked questions, listened attentively and learned. The comrades then toured Turner Field, where Big Boi visited the Atlanta club house and hit some baseballs off a batting tee. Big Boi referred to this as "grown man Tee-ball."

The TWIBIA question asked which Atlanta Braves rookie hit the most home runs. The answer is Wally Berger, who established a MLB rookie record with 38 home runs in 1938.

The Winning Road Trips segment salutes the teams and players that are able to win away from home. This week, the honor goes to the National League All-Star Team. The NL was the visiting team for the 2010 MLB All-Star Game in LA. They finally beat the AL all-stars for the first time since 1996.

Educational theme: Recognition of one's talent is an important psychological need of all human beings. To attain self-actualization one must attain esteem to have self-respect and to achieve goals.

Educational theme: Entertainers and athletes have much in common because both are performers that are judged by the fans. There is a natural bond of respect.

Educational theme: Big league baseball events are designed to create an atmosphere of fun and interest for fans and competitors.

Educational theme: Trivia is a seemingly superfluous and insignificant event; however, it is an important component of baseball legend, lore and tradition. For both fans and players, trivia is a source of fun and interest in the American institution called baseball.

Act Three - "Pepsi Refresh": The Pepsi Refresh Project reexamines the men and moments in MLB history that helped change the world by breaking down barriers and building communities. This is a tribute to refreshing ideas. The 14th annual Pitch, Hit and Run finals took place during the MLB's All-Star Week in Anaheim, as 24 children got to showcase their skills in this nationwide competition. The program began with over 600,000 participants across the country, which was pared down to just 24 winners of local and sectional competition. All the competitors were winners just by going to the All-Star Game. It is a childhood dream come true.

In addition to the top players, the top chefs from MLB stadiums battled to determine which league has the best ballpark food. Six chefs from each the AL and NL prepared their signature cuisine and then they gave the fans a taste of the food and an opportunity to vote. The entrees included barbecued pork, a sausage and pepper sandwich, Astro nachos and Fenway's lobster roll. After three days of cooking and tasting, the final vote determined the American League food the best.

Gillette Rookies of the Month honors the top rookies in both leagues each month of the season. St. Louis Cardinals' left-handed pitcher Jamie Garcia has a 2.17 ERA over the first half of the season. This is third best in the MLB.

The XM Call of the Week comes from Anaheim where MLB paid tribute to the unforgettable voice of the NY Yankees legendary PA announcer, the late Bob Sheppard. The leadoff hitter for the American League was announced via a recording of Sheppard's classic introductory style, "Now batting for the American League, from the New York Yankees, the shortstop, #2, Derek Jeter, #2."

Educational theme: Competition is a natural need for children and an important component of competitive athletics. It enhances the fun and interest for both players and fans in the game of baseball.

Educational theme: Competition is the essence of sport. It is a test of skill or ability leading to a rivalry between two teams. Competition is a valuable motivational tool for the promotion of optimal performance, especially when the consequence is considered to have merit.

Educational theme: Tributes and recognition are earned through superior performance, service, merit or longevity. This formal acknowledgement is meant to show appreciation by reward of public honor.

Act Four - "Diamond Demos": Former MLB star, Harold Reynolds of the MLB Network, talked about sliding and some alternative moves at second base. First the "pop up slide" was explained. An alternative slide is the "swim move," which is a head first dive into the base that is used when the runner expects to be out.

The State Farm Big League Blast salutes David "Big Papi" Ortiz of the Boston Red Sox, who won the Home Run Derby at this year's All-Star Game.

Good conditioning and proper nutrition makes an athlete perform better. This week, Step Up To The Plate For Your Health featured Roger Caplinger, the head athletic trainer for the Milwaukee Brewers. Roger suggested that players pack some light snacks before they leave home to avoid unhealthy eating at airports and hotels.

The Going All Out segment is a close up look at players who have gone the extra mile. Amid the festivities of the All-Star Game, there was the somber reminder that baseball had lost a legend with the passing of NY Yankees owner George Steinbrenner, nicknamed "The Boss." His first spring training camps were run like military boot camps and Steinbrenner had a sign on his desk that read -- "Lead, follow, or get the hell out of the way." As the leader, George did what he believed needed to be done to be successful. He had an insatiable appetite for winning. Every season he expected the Yankees to win the World Series. The result was the NY Yankees being the most successful franchise of the century. Much of baseball history is Yankee history. He raised the bar for opponents around baseball in their attempt to compete with the Yankees. But there is another side of the bombastic Mr. Steinbrenner. George was a generous man who truly cared about people, especially children.

Educational theme: Sports pedagogy is an important aspect of the learning process. Demonstration and explanation are initial steps in the process. Children learn best by watching and mimicking athletic performance.

Educational theme: Conditioning and nutrition are important parts of athletic performance. Children need to learn that it is what you learn after you know it all that counts. The only way to get better is to get smarter; therefore, don't be seduced by the allure of mediocrity.

Educational theme: "Winning isn't everything, but the will to win is everything." Vince Lombardi Educational theme: Caring and charity are benevolent acts to help the needy without any expectation for reward. It is an act of love and a wonderful example of character.

Act Five - "How 'bout that!": TWIB presented the best plays from the first half of the season to the sounds of Big Boi - featuring Vonnegutt. This was a particularly outstanding collection of creative, exciting and spectacular plays, both offensively and defensively. Players crashed into the wall, dove, leaped to make catches and made strong throws. Stephen Drew's inside-the-park-home run was shown as was Jim Thome's 574th home run. The four no-hitters were recalled as was Galarraga's near perfect game. Finally, Brain McCann's double to lead the NL to victory in the All-Star Game was featured.

Educational theme: Advanced baseball strategies include base running and base stealing skills. This requires more than mere speed, but also a cognitive component; therefore, this is a learned skill that can be taught.

Educational theme: In athletics, iconic players and performances are recognized as enduring symbols of achievement. They are respected and held in high esteem by aficionados. This respect is earned by achievement, accomplishment and approach.

Educational theme: The artistic value of sport can be found in the beauty, grace, and rhythmic movements of elite athletes. The aesthetic quality of a well-executed play enhances the appreciation of baseball.

Educational theme: Once the student-learner has carefully observed the required effort and the bio-mechanics of the premier athletes, then the movements can be more easily duplicated and performed by the learner. The student is then physically educated.
