ADDRESS COMMUNITY ISSUES

The Detroit Community Calendar & Events

(Sunday – 6:00 a.m. – 7:00 a.m.)

Locally-produced show focusing on topical issues of particular concern to Detroit and Metro Detroit residents and discussed upcoming events in the community.

First Quarter 2020

TOPIC: HEALTH

Detroit Community Calendar

January 05, 2020

Time: 6:00 a.m. – 7:00 a.m. Length: 60 Minutes

Juline Jordan interviewed Dr. Cass Ingram author of “The Cure is in the Cupboard” and many other publications about flu activity being nationally elevated. He discussed natural remedies for the flu, congestion, coughing, and sneezing. Dr. Ingram is a proponent of wild oregano oil, saying it’s a cure-all for all of the above symptoms. This medicinal grade oil arises from unique species of plants which grow wild throughout the world and that the highest grades are found in the Mediterranean where it is native and naturally grows wild.

Time: 6:00 a.m. – 7:00 a.m. Length: 60 Minutes

Juline Jordan interviewed Dr. Susan Nicholas, author of “The Duality of Being” about stress caused by holding onto painful memories. Nicholas is a conscious life coach who says it’s time to let go if you want true happiness and that our experiences and beliefs play major roles in helping us shape our identities and what we consider to be our capabilities. Nicholas adds that often there are things we refuse to let go of, like material possessions, a relationship, a traumatic experience, and these things keep us from achieving the life we were meant to live. She also says when we harbor limiting beliefs, we cut ourselves off from greater possibilities.

January 19, 2020

Time: 6:00 a.m. – 7:00 a.m. Length: 60 Minutes

Juline Jordan interviewed John Collopy author of “The Reward of Knowing” about breaking bad habits for better health. He says sometimes bad habits can veer into addiction and the most dangerous bad habits are the ones most don’t realize they have. He offers that he had a long uphill battle against demons he didn’t know he had. He says when he became an adult, he quickly became dependent on alcohol and he had anger management issues. He also says honing in on why we think the way we do, and why we do the things we do takes some deep reflection that many people won’t take the time to do. He offers suggestions for those who may be struggling to understand why they continually seem to make the wrong decisions.
