In the courtroom Monday former President Trump was sitting between his attorneys. The judge has already ruled that he committed fraud by inflating his net worth by as much as 2.2 billion dollars. Now he could be forced to give up control of some of his New York properties. The former president and the Attorney General also made their cases to the media. No matter how powerful you are, or how much money you have, the law is both powerful and fragile and today in court we will prove our case.

This is regarding capital punishment and our justice system. There's nothing sinful about the situation. It's all ordained of God, and we need to understand that so, you know, I wouldn't necessarily participate in that but I wouldn't have a problem if I was asked to participate.

In 2019, Dr Pivi Rosenan a member of The Finnish Parliament tweeted a text from the book of Romans which calls homosexuality a sin, adding to her legal troubles a radio interview and a pamphlet she'd written on Biblical views on sexuality 20 years earlier. But whether or not that is this particular war, this particular set of bombings, all of this going on, we don't know because he hasn't returned yet. We will not know the time. We will not know how it's going to look and what's going to be the thing that sets it on. What we need to do is make sure that when he comes because we are sure that he is coming, we are ready. The war in Israel is a terrifying thing but there have been terrifying things down through history.

Well, we have to understand that our idea of peace as human, it's not God's idea of peace. God's idea of peace is His will being completed. That the promises that he set forth are coming to pass now. Sometimes when we go through those things there's challenges that come with it. And unfortunately, Israel is going through some of that right now, but it does not change the promise of God.

Pastor Tim Walker, Overseer Rena Collins, Pastor Ronald Turner, Pastor David Hughes II, Pastor Ricky Holmes. In Psalms 99:1, does this mean that the Lord causes earthquakes? The term here is not a reference to the shaking of the earth as in a natural earthquake. But look at the first three words of that verse, the Lord reigneth, the Psalm opens with in declaration of God's sovereign rain over the universe and the psalmist goes on to say that because he reigns as king over the universe all of the Earth it should be moved. All of us, both the inhabitants of the earth, even Earth itself should shake and quake in the presence of God's awesome splendor. So, it is not a reference of an earthquake but it is a reference of a shaking and all in wonder over the grandeur of our eternal creator.

Pastor Brandon Hollis, Pastor Melvin Steed, Pastor Tim Sculte, Dr. Kathleen Wuopio, Pastor Jeff Haygood. Why did God put constellations in the sky? What do they represent? You know the first thing I think of is in Proverbs 16:4 it says God has made everything for his own purposes. So, when he initiated creation and we read about the creation account in Genesis that God created everything, right? We look at how God created, he spoke these things into existence. So, we see the trinity involved in action and God created this expansive universe to display his glory. And as far as why the constellations are there, I don't think I have a good answer personally for that. So, but nonetheless, it's created for his glory and we could behold his glory every time you go outside and look up on a starry night.
