Part 1 – INTRODUCTION

KTCK (AM), licensed to Dallas, TX, and KTCK (FM), licensed to Flower Mound, TX, serve the Dallas/Fort Worth area. From October 1 through December 31, 2018, KTCK (AM) & KTCK (FM) aired 30 minutes of public affairs programming weekly. This includes a locally produced weekly program ("Impact Texas") which focuses on issues affecting our local community and includes guests who have knowledge of these topics.

Weekend Programming:

"Impact Texas" – every Saturday morning from 6:00a – 6:30a. Details about individual Impact Texas segments are included in Part 2 of this report.

KTCK is a participant in "The Amber Plan", in which area radio stations alert the public of confirmed child abductions. In the Fourth Quarter of 2018, KTCK activated "The Amber Plan" when necessary, to provide information about child abductions to the general public.

KTCK has determined the following to issues of concern to our audience during the Fourth Quarter of 2018:

1-Homelessness2-Philanthropy3-Childrens Services4-Womens Health5- Disability Services

During this time if KTCK participated in Community Service Projects, they are listed and described in Part 3.

During the Fourth Quarter of 2018, KTCK ran a variety of recorded and live PSAs. The PSAs aired through all day parts, Monday through Sunday from 6:00 AM until 5:59 AM.

The following pages describe the station's most significant treatment of the previously described community issues of concern.

QUARTERLY ISSUES REPORT, OCTOBER-DECEMBER, 2018

Show # 2018-40 Date aired: 10/07/18 Time Aired: 7A-7:30A

Ryan Hampton, recovering addict, author of "American Fix: Inside the Opioid Addiction Crisis - and How to End It"

Nearly every American knows someone who has been affected by the opioid crisis. Mr. Hampton shared his story of addiction and recovery. He said 9 out of 10 Americans who need addiction treatment are not able to access it. He believes the nation's approach to treatment needs to be reformed from the bottom to the top. He said billions of dollars of federal spending aimed at this problem are not making it to local communities.

Issues covered: Drug Addiction Government Policies

Length: 9:08

Kevin Leman, PhD, psychologist, author of "When Your Kid Is Hurting: Helping Your Child through the Tough Days"

The impulse for parents to protect their children is strong, but Dr. Leman said that very protection can end up handicapping them for life. He said that rather than seeking to save them from unhappiness or struggle, parents must teach their kids how to cope with and rise above their problems. He discussed the importance of listening and offered techniques to get kids to talk about their problems.

Issues covered: Parenting Youth at Risk Length: 8:12

Amanda Dixon, Analyst and Senior Reporter at Bankrate.com

Ms. Dixon outlined the results of a recent Bankrate.com survey that found that American households with the lowest incomes spend the most on items they don't need, such as lottery tickets, restaurant food and prepared drinks, like coffee and smoothies. She said even minor changes in a person's spending can have a dramatic impact on their ability to build an emergency savings fund.

Show # 2018-41 Date aired: 10/14/18 Time Aired: 7A-7:30A

Lisa Lockerd Maragakis, MD, MPH, Senior Director of Infection Prevention at the Johns Hopkins Health System in Baltimore

Last year's flu season was one of the deadliest in the last 40 years, with an estimated 80,000 deaths in the U.S. Dr. Maragakis explained why it is important to get a flu shot in October. She discussed the different types of flu vaccine available and dispelled some of the most common myths about it.

Issues covered: Public Health

Length: 8:49

Jean M. Twenge, PhD, Professor of Psychology at San Diego State University, author of the book "iGen"

Fewer than 20 percent of U.S. teens report reading a book, magazine or newspaper daily for pleasure, while more than 80 percent say they use social media every day, according to Dr. Twenge's latest research. She noted that the decline in reading print media was especially steep. She explained why this is such cause for concern and what parents can do to counteract it.

Issues covered: Literacy Parenting Teenage Concerns Length: 8:32

Keita Franklin, PhD, Executive Director of Suicide Prevention for the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs

Suicide is a national public health issue that affects all Americans, but it is a particularly serious problem among both active duty service members and military veterans. Dr. Franklin discussed the possible reasons behind this trend. She also talked about a new VA campaign intended to increase the availability of mental health and suicide prevention resources for at-risk veterans.

Issues covered: Suicide Military/Veterans Concerns

Show # 2018-42 Date aired: 10/21/18 Time Aired: 7A-7:30A

Ken Dychtwald, Ph.D., gerontologist, psychologist, CEO of Age Wave, a company that conducts research on issues relating to aging populations

Dr. Dychtwald discussed his recent survey that uncovered the staggering amount of financial support that parents are providing to their adult children. He found that 79% of parents are providing money to their children between age 18 and 34, and the average was $7,000 a year. He said that figure is twice the amount that parents are putting into their own retirement accounts. He explained the possible reasons behind this trend.

Length: 9:47

Issues covered: Parenting Retirement Planning Student Debt

Jeff Asher, crime analyst based in New Orleans

Mr. Asher discussed his research into the connection between weather and gun violence. He found that twice as many people are shot in northern cities on hot days compared to cold ones. He also talked about the potential long term effects of climate change on crime rates.

Length: 7:26

Issues covered: Gun Violence Crime Climate Change

Gail J. McGovern, President and CEO of the American Red Cross

Ms. McGovern discussed the Red Cross' response to the catastrophic damage left by hurricane Michael. She outlined the greatest challenges faced by relief workers on the ground. She said the Red Cross' greatest needs are blood donations, volunteers and financial donations.

Issues covered: Disaster Relief Volunteerism Blood Donation Charitable Contributions

Elizabeth Saewyc, PhD, RN, FSAHM, FCAHS, FAAN, Professor of Nursing at the University of British Columbia

Dr. Saewyc conducted a recent survey that found that boys—not girls—are more likely to report being victims of dating violence committed by partners who hit, slap or push them. While there has been an overall decline in dating violence, she believes that it may still be socially acceptable for girls to hit or slap boys in dating relationships. She suggested that teenagers who date need more support and education programs to address this problem.

Issues covered: Social Violence Teenager Concerns Length: 7:43

Andrew Gewirtz, PhD, Professor in the Institute for Biomedical Sciences at Georgia State University

Dr. Gewirtz was the co-author of a surprising study that found that adding highly refined fiber to processed foods could have negative effects on human health, including liver cancer. He explained what ingredients consumers need to watch for on processed food labels. He said the simplest solution is to eat fruits and vegetables naturally rich in soluble fiber, rather than processed foods.

Diane Redleaf, family defense attorney, author of "They Took the Kids Last Night: How the Child Protection System Puts Families at Risk"

The number of children in the U.S. foster care system is at record levels, thanks in part to the opioid crisis. With nearly 450,000 children in the system, Ms. Redleaf discussed what happens when caseworkers make mistakes, taking children from parents who are neither abusive nor neglectful. She noted that minority families are disproportionately affected by this trend. She also said that once children are taken, parents and their attorneys sometimes can't learn where the children are being housed.

Issues covered: Foster Care Minority Concerns Parenting Length: 9:24

David Mizejewski, Naturalist at the National Wildlife Federation

Mr. Mizejewski talked about the benefits of allowing leaves to decompose naturally, rather than raking them up and disposing of them. In addition to serving as a natural fertilizer, he said butterflies and songbirds depend on leaf litter for food sources. He also discussed the environmental impact of bagging up lawn debris for disposal.

Issues covered: Environment

Show # 2018-47 Date aired: 11/25/18 Time Aired: 7A-7:30A

Brandi Britton, District President of Office Team, a staffing service providing temporary administrative and office support staff

Ms. Britton discussed the most common social media mistakes that take job seekers out of the running for a position. She noted that negative or inappropriate comments and questionable photos are the most common social media issues. She said a job hunter should always assume that a company has combed through their social media profile before even scheduling an interview.

Issues covered: Employment Career Social Media Length: 7:28

Jennifer Bradley, co-author of "Make it Zero: The Movement to Safeguard Every Child"

Ms. Bradley discussed the issue of human trafficking in the U.S. She said five main factors contribute to the problem, including poverty, abuse and isolation. R. Douglas Fields, PhD, Chief of the Section on Nervous System Development and Plasticity at the National Institute of Child Health and Human Development, a part of the National Institutes of Health, Adjunct Professor in the Neuroscience and Cognitive Science Program at the University of Maryland, College Park, author of "Why We Snap: Understanding the Rage Circuit in Your Brain"

Today's headlines are filled with examples of otherwise rational people with no history of violence or mental illness who suddenly snap in a domestic dispute, an altercation with police, or road rage attack. Dr. Fields explained the reasons behind these seemingly random episodes. He said every human has been hardwired with the potential to snap. He also said the same pathway in the brain that can result in a violent outburst can also enable us to act heroically and altruistically before our conscious brain knows what we are doing.

Harold Pollack, PhD, Helen Ross Professor of Social Service Administration at the University of Chicago, where he researches health and urban policy concerns, nonresident fellow at the Century Foundation, co-author of "The Index Card: Why Personal Finance Doesn't Have to Be Complicated"

Dr. Pollack believes that everything Americans need to know about managing their money could fit on a single index card. He explained why his nine simple rules outperform more complicated financial strategies. He also discussed the most responsible way to select a financial advisor and why he felt one of his most important rules should be to support the nation's social safety net.

Maria Corkern, reading specialist, teacher, author of "Doris Thesaurus"

Recent studies have found that since 1950, the average teenager's vocabulary has dropped from 25,000 words to only 10,000. Ms. Corkern said that a limited vocabulary translates into a reduced ability to think critically and communicate effectively, which results poor educational performance. She offered suggestions for parents on how to help a child improve his vocabulary.
