

KTCK DALLAS/FORT WORTH ISSUE/PROGRAM REPORT THIRD QUARTER 2016 OCTOBER 1, 2016

Part 1 – INTRODUCTION

KTCK (AM), licensed to Dallas, TX, and KTCK (FM), licensed to Flower Mound, TX, serve the Dallas/Fort Worth area. From July 1 through September 30, 2016, KTCK (AM) & KTCK (FM) aired 30 minutes of public affairs programming weekly. This includes a locally produced weekly program ("Impact Texas") which focuses on issues affecting our local community and includes guests who have knowledge of these topics.

Weekend Programming:

"Impact Texas" – every Saturday morning from 6:00a – 6:30a.

Details about individual Impact Texas segments are included in Part 2 of this report.

KTCK is a participant in "The Amber Plan", in which area radio stations alert the public of confirmed child abductions. In the Third Quarter of 2016, KTCK activated "The Amber Plan" when necessary, to provide information about child abductions to the general public.

KTCK has determined the following to issues of concern to our audience during the Third Quarter of 2016:

- 1-Veterans Services
- 2-Children and Grief Services
- 3-Eating Disorders
- 4-Disability Services
- 5-Healthy Lifestyles & Heart Health

During this time if KTCK participated in Community Service Projects, they are listed and described in Part 3.

During the Third Quarter of 2016, KTCK ran recorded and live PSAs. The PSAs aired through all day parts, Monday through Sunday from 6:00 AM until 5:59 AM.

The following pages describe the station's most significant treatment of the previously described community issues of concern.

Robert D. Morris, MD, PhD, environmental epidemiologist, drinking water research scientist, author of "The Blue Death: Disease, Disaster & the Water We Drink"

Dr. Morris believes that despite better overall health conditions, the nation's water supply remains a serious health risk. He talked about potential disease pathogens, toxic chemicals, decaying pipes and cancer risks. He discussed the growing body of research linking the chlorine relied on for water treatment with cancer and stillbirths. He also talked about the history of water-borne pathogens like cholera and typhoid.

Issues covered: Community Health Environment

Lynsey Romo, Assistant Professor of Communication, North Carolina State University

Prof. Romo led a study of school-aged kids and what their parents tell them about family finances. She found that parents often make gender-based distinctions in what they choose to talk about, and kids pick up on what they're not being told — sometimes drawing incorrect conclusions that can have repercussions for them in the future.

Richard Bolles, career development expert, author of "What Color Is Your Parachute? Guide to Rethinking Resumes" and "What Color Is Your Parachute? Guide to Rethinking Interviews"

Mr. Bolles discussed the rapidly changing way companies locate and hire employees. He explained why the value of a resume has declined, and how job hunters can use more effective alternatives. He said prospective employees must be as up-to-the-minute in job hunting skills as they are in the work skills that they offer an employer.

Issues covered: Employment Career Length: 8:58

Jean Illsley Clarke, PhD, internationally known parent educator, co-author of "How Much Is Too Much?: Raising Likeable, Responsible, Respectful Children"

Ms. Clarke believes that many of today's parents overindulge their children, often without even realizing it. She explained how to recognize overindulgence and why it can be so damaging as kids grow into adulthood. She said assigning ongoing household chores to children is an excellent way to foster their responsibility and independence, and offered other tips for parents.

Andrew Scott, Professor of Economics at the London Business School, Fellow at All Souls College, Oxford University and the Centre for Economic Policy Research, co-author of "The 100-Year Life: Living and Working in an Age of Longevity"

Many Americans have been raised on the traditional notion of a three-stage approach to life: education, followed by work and then retirement. However, Prof. Scott said this well-established pathway is already beginning to collapse: life expectancy is rising, pensions are vanishing, and increasing numbers of people are juggling multiple careers. He offered suggestions for how to better plan for a productive, longer life and retirement in today's rapidly-evolving economy.

Anna S. Mueller, PhD, Sociologist and Assistant Professor in Comparative Human Development, Research Associate at the Population Research Center at the University of Chicago

Teen suicide clusters are a recent discovery, and little is understood about their causes and how to prevent them. Prof. Mueller studied of the phenomenon in a small town. She found that intense pressure to succeed academically and athletically, plus the ease with which private information became public, due to social connectedness, left teens and their parents unwilling to seek help for mental health problems. She said suicide prevention strategies need to be tailored to fit the unique dynamics of individual communities.
