Christmas was a sad and lonely time for Miranda being away from her family. At a time when Miranda needed some hope, it came in the form of a gift box from Operation Christmas Child. When Miranda was 13 years old, the orphanage children each received a box of gifts on Christmas Day. From that point the representation of that box helped her heal her anger towards the world and gave her hope and a new meaning on life. She started to participate in ministry withing the orphanage helping other kids find peace and happiness in God amidst their situation. |
