Extinction EIFPVBJB30H

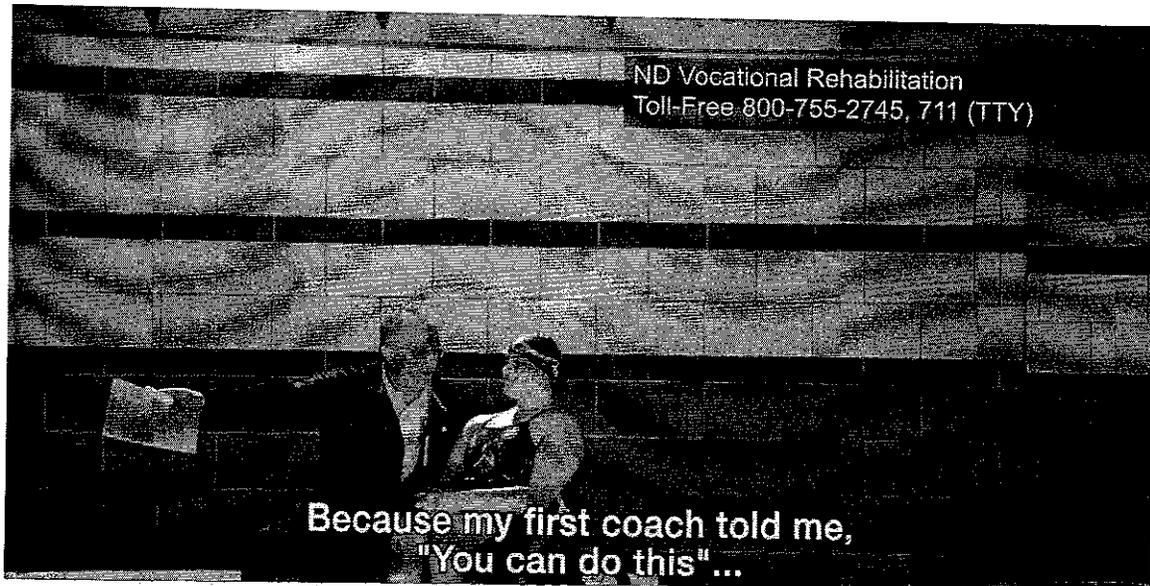

"Listen up people. Going extinct is a bad thing. At least we had an asteroid, whats your excuse? Your headed for a climate disadter. And yet every year governments spend hundreds of billions of public funds on fossil feul subsidies. As you rebuild your economies and bounce back from this pandemic this is humanities big chance! Dont choose extinction. Save your species before its too late. Its time for humans to stop making excuses and start making changes. "

Not Camp CNDI0049000H

A group of friends getting ready for a camping trip, each one of them has smoked weed during their preparations. They all get into the car and the drivers seat is empty. "I thought you were driving?" "I'm not ok to drive" They all laugh and get out of the car and spend the day 'camping' in their front yard instead. "If your high, just don't drive. Its illegal everywhere. If you feel different, you drive different."

Some things in your medicine cabinet are more dangerous than others. When it comes to perscription drugs, opiod pain medicines can be addictive and even deadly. Half the people who misuse perscription pain medicines get them from a friend or family member.

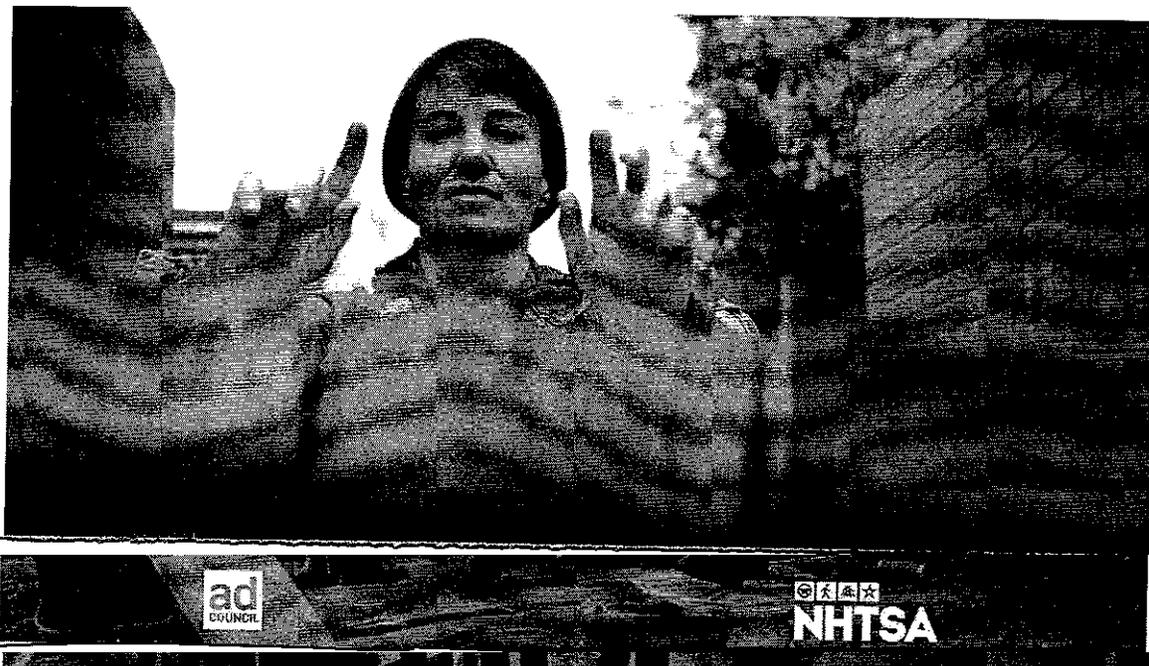

Be part of the solution, go through your medicine cabinets, drawers, anywhere you keep unused opiod pills, patches, or syrups. Find out how to dispose of them safely at FDA.gov/drugdisposal.

WIM girls PSNINF07000H

As a young girl I just grew to love using power tools, pouring concrete and doing things that were scary and loud and I looked around and realized no other girls were doing these things. As I grew up i realized girls need to see themselves in that space. So thats what I set out to do and I became an educator and mentor for young girls. Making teaches girls how to think of their idas as important. It changes the way they think about what they are capable of. If I can fuse metal what cant i do? And i think making for girls is about voice and thats what really exciting because we are making a world that we want to see for ourselves. Now I wanna hear why you make.

"You see certain things get reincarnated in your children. My daughter is very much inspired by my wifes artistic persuits. So my daughter started making necklaces. She makes what we call affirmation fashion. I tell her every day, that your black is beautiful. And if there is anything better than being beautiful its being smart. And if there is anything better than being smart its being kind. And reaffirming that every day is our method of making sure her chin never drops. My dad wasnt around. And I remember riding a bike, and falling off, and cutting myself. And me just never wanting to get back on it. People ask how your children learn how to ride a bike. And I didn't teah them. I just created an environment where they taught themselves. All I had to do was be there.
