Magdalena lives with her husband and two children in a rural community in Mexico. Steady work is hard to find there. As a result, Magdalena has not been able to buy nutritious food to feed her family. Operation blessing invited Magdalena to take part in a chicken project. First we provided training on how to raise and sell chickens and eggs. Then we gave her everything she needed, including 65 hens to start a business. I used to wake up stressed, trying to figure out what we would eat that day, or how to make ends meet now I get up happy.

CBN's operation blessing is helping people in Cottonwood, Alabama after a deadly tornado ripped through their tiny town. The operation blessing team delivered pallets of much needed relief goods in Home Depot buckets with cleaning supplies, water, and more. The delivery was made to Pastor Dwayne Watson of Mount Si Tabernacle Church in the neighboring town of Dothan. Reverend Watson and his family brought the supplies to Cottonwood, donned operation blessing volunteer shirts and drove the team around town looking for the people who needed help the most. Distributing the goods door to door and praying with people, operation blessing is grateful to work with its church partners. The relief ministry will be calling for volunteers to help in the area starting tomorrow.

Pastor Brandon Hollis, Dr. Apostle Webster, Pastor Deante Lavender, Pastor Tim Schulte, Pastor Artie Kassimis. Do you think the church has an obligation to call a Christian summit with all pastors, prophets, and teachers to come together? I don't think they do, but it's probably not a bad idea. I believe the church's obligation is claim the gospel, make disciples who go on to make more disciples. So, I think the church should be focused on its intentional obligations, which is sharing the gospel.

Pastor Lori Porter, Pastor Tim Schulte, Pastor Timothy A. Roeser, Pastor Ricky Holmes, Pastor Nancy Galambos. Is it wrong for pastors to call themselves a doctor if they haven't actually earned their doctorate degree? Without a doubt. It is wrong to claim a title for something for which you have not earned. There are people who have been given honorary doctorate degrees but you have to be careful about laying claims to that title. We must not think of ourselves higher than we are. Give ourselves a basic title. The title doesn't make the person, the person makes the title.

I personally think it is best to go to Seminary. Because you're learning more than just about God. You're learning about the business end, you're learning about different personalities. It's important that you educate yourself in anything you plan to lead people in.

Apostle Jimmie K. Rodgers, Dr. Anthony D. Shannon, Sr., Pastor Deante Lavender, Dr. Apostle Webster, Pastor Mark Galambos. I have prayed for healing but I have never received it. Why does God not answer my prayer? If it is in God's will that you will be healed, I will collaborate with you on that. The Bible tells us that our days are numbered. We don't get to choose that number or choose how we exit this space. I try to live my life the best way that I can. Trials and tribulations will hit us all. You are not the only one with unanswered prayers. Jesus did too. God knows our beginning and ending and God has a plan for you.

Dr. David Gray, Pastor Mark Galambos, Pastor Joseph Colini, Pastor Paxton Price, Pastor David Hughes II. Is it wrong to have a loved one removed from life support? This is a difficult question to give a blanket answer. Whatever people decide to do, that's between them and their doctor and their lawyer. Maybe the person is afraid to live a life of suffering or live a life of artificial means, or be remembered in that way. If that's their wish, we have to respect that. If the family wishes to wait on God and hope for a miracle, I'd respect that too. I think there's a balance, but it's up to the individual. But I don't see anything in the scripture that says yay or nay.

Dr. David Gray, Pastor Joseph Colini, Pastor Payton Price, Pastor David Hughes II, Apostle Kimberly McClinton. Does God afflict people with sickness? No. If you look at the story of Job, when the devil afflicted Job with sickness, the devil's game was to get Job to blame God for what the devil did. It is the heart of God, the same as a good parent, to want to be a blessing to their children. You want to teach them to do the right thing, but not through sickness. He has more compassion than earthly parents.

Dr. David Gray, Pastor Payton Price, Pastor David Hughes II, Apostle Kimberly McClinton, Pastor Joseph Colini. Is it wrong to use pain medicine prescribed by a physician after a certain amount of time? No, it's not. But keep in mind, that pain medicine simply will dull the pain. It doesn't fix or change anything. If you need that pain to be stopped, spend time in the healing of God. By his stripes, you will find healing.

Pastor Tim Walker, Bishop Demetrius Davenport, Pastor Tyrone Edwards, Dr. Booker Person, Pastor Nancy Galambos. Would it be considered suicide in God's eye if I stop chemotherapy? I don't think that it would be considered suicide in God's eyes. But I do think that you need to do your due diligence and research chemo and what it does do your body. It kills the good cells but it also kills the bad cells. So, if you have the type of faith to know that God can heal you, then you need to pray to him and ask for direction in that. He does not want to see anyone perish. First be sure you are where you need to be in your salvation and ask him what you should do in with your chemotherapy.
