KIDS HEALTH AFFECTED BY QUARANTINE	DESPIERTA AMERICA	9/16/2020	7:00 AM	:21	Coronavirus kills far more Hispanic and Black children than White youths, CDC study finds. More than 75 percent of children dying from covid-19 are minorities, a finding that echoes disproportionate death rates among adults. One key factor could be underlying health disparities among minority children and young adults. About 75 percent of those who died had at least one underlying condition, and the most frequent were asthma and obesity — two conditions that disproportionately occur in minority youths.
KIDS HEALTH AFFECTED BY QUARANTINE	DESPIERTA AMERICA	9/28/2020	7:00 AM	:23	Is staying home affecting your child's immune system? Why exposure to other children and germs can matter. Exposure to a wide variety of germs in early childhood also trains children's immune systems to recognize what is dangerous and what is not. Parents are now being told to feed their babies allergens such as peanut butter and eggs earlier in infancy than later, because doing so teaches the baby's immune system, little by little, that these foods are safe.
