

July, August, September 2021

July 3, 2021

- Kevin McCullough turns to China expert Gordon Chang to talk about the increased persecution of Christians in China.
- John and Kathy, of The Ride Home, talk with Carl Trueman, of Grove City College, about how the rights and liberties of Christians in the U.S. are threatened as Scripture runs crosswise to the leading edge of the sexual revolution.
- Victoria Cobb, president of The Family Foundation, joins Don Kroah to talk about the threat to parental rights from the ongoing sexual and moral revolution.
- Craig Roberts invites Jerry Bowyer of Townhall Finance to talk about Big Tech and social media shutting down the conservative conversation and how it is both destructive and lucrative.
- Gino Geraci turns to Dr. Albert Mohler to talk about the cultural predominance of a value system that is on a collision course with orthodox biblical faith.
- Jaime Vaughn, of CCM Magazine, talks with singer Harry Connick, Jr., about his Christian faith and an album of Christian hymns that he produced during the pandemic isolation.

July 10, 2021

- Don Kroah and Victoria Cobb, president of The Family Foundation of Virginia, talk about parents fighting back against the Critical Race Theory curriculum.
- Kevin McCullough talks with Kristen Tate, of The Hill, about economists warning that unbridled spending leads to a jump in inflation.
- Frank Sontag wonders why people are still living in fear of COVID in light of the vaccine's effectiveness in protecting against COVID variants.
- Bob Burney looks at the National Football League, now fully infected by political correctness madness.
- Eric Metaxas talks with author Owen Strachan about "wokeness" and his book, "Christianity and Wokeness: How the Social Justice Movement is Hijacking the Gospel – and the Way to Stop It."
- Gino Geraci talks with Masterpiece Cakeshop owner Jack Phillips about the persecution he and his family continue to face because of their religious convictions.

July 17, 2021

- Kevin McCullough turns to Kelsey Bolar, of The Heritage Foundation, to talk about Democrat legislators in Texas fleeing the state in an attempt to block the state legislature from passing election integrity legislation.
- Frank Sontag talks about Larry Elder throwing his hat into the California gubernatorial race as Governor Newsom faces a recall election.
- Kevin McCullough talks with Lanhee Chen about his run for California State Controller.
- Don Kroah and Erin Wilcox talk about a Fairfax County, Virginia, high school that is trying to limit the number of Asian student admissions.
- Georgene Rice talks with Scott Gilchrist, pastor of Southwest Bible Church outside of Portland, Oregon, about falling church attendance even as churches are opening back up.
- Lee Michaels talks with Tim Barton, of the WallBuilders ministry, asking the question, "Is the U.S. Constitution racist?"
- Gino Geraci looks at slavery as it exists today and about the key forces that sought to eliminate it in our past.

July 24, 2021

- Kevin McCullough turns David Harsanyi, of National Review, to talk about the crisis in Cuba as Cubans take to the street, crying out for liberty.
- Don Kroah talks with Lee Edwards, of The Heritage Foundation about the broader history of Cuban relations.
- Kathy Emmons talks with Pastor Doug Bursch, co-pastor at Evergreen Foursquare Church in Auburn Washington, about the hesitancy of Christians to get back into church.
- Kathy Emmons and Lisa Anderson, of Focus on the Family, talk about how our culture today is so digitally dependent while undervaluing the richness of "being known."
- Georgene Rice talks with Jon Ferguson and his brother Dave, co-pastors at Community Christian Church outside of Chicago, about their book, "BLESS: 5 Everyday Ways to Love Your Neighbor and Change the World."

July 31, 2021

- Kevin McCullough turns to Alison Cetofante, of Live Action, and Craig Roberts talks with Brian Johnston, of National Right to Life about the Supreme Court looking at Mississippi's abortion law and is there really a chance we could see the court essentially overturning Roe?
- Kevin McCullough talks with Bethany Mandel, writer, and mother, about the CDC and the Biden administration pressing masks again for kids.
- Bob Burney talks about the masking issue and reticence of the teachers' unions to resume in-person learning and parent's anger and frustration over issues surrounding the teaching of Critical Race Theory.

- Jerry Bowyer and theologian N.T. Wright talk about the relevancy of Old Testament law, the Torah, and how Christians view it today.
- Gino Geraci talks with Hedieh Mirahmadi about how she has helped intelligence agencies understand the threat from radical Islam and Islamic terror.

August 7, 2021

- John Hall, of the Ride Home, talks with Pastor Terry Tim about lessons for the Christian life from the Summer Olympics in Tokyo.
- Gino Geraci and Dr. Ted Palen explain some of the latest insights on the COVID Delta variant.
- Kevin McCullough and Carol Platt Liebau discuss the left's desire to keep kids in masks during school and Georgene Rice talks with Jessica Taylor, of Youth for Christ, about the toll this is taking on our youth.
- John and Kathy, the Ride Home, talk with Carl Trueman, a teacher at Grove City College, about what it means to be a Christian community.
- Bill Bunkley and Joshua Mitchell, professor of political theory at Georgetown University, talk about how identity politics feeds parasitically off of Christianity.

August 14, 2021

- Dr. Albert Mohler takes a closer look at the issues that led up to the resignation of New York Governor Andrew Cuomo.
- Kevin McCullough and KT McFarland talk about what's next following the Governor's resignation.
- Don Kroah turns to Asra Nomani, of Parents Defending Education, to talk about parents pushing back against the "woke" school administrators and Bob Franz looks at one courageous teacher who took a stand at great cost.
- Don Kroah talks with George Barna, of Barna Research, about the profound shifts we're seeing take place in our nation.
- Bill Bunkley and author Jeremy Adams talk about his book, "Hollowed Out: A Warning about America's Next Generation."

August 21, 2021

- Don Kroah talks with Cliff May, founder and president of Foundation for the Defense of Democracies, about the abrupt and chaotic pullout of American troops from Afghanistan.
- Kevin McCullough and Tony Shaffer, president of the London Center for Policy Research, examine President Biden's Monday address to the nation.
- Bob Burney looks at the desperation of Christians trapped within Afghanistan as they face death in the face of the cruelty of the Taliban.

- Anthony Bushnell talks about the treasure trove of answers found in the Bible with Andy Naselli, Associate Professor of Systemic Theology and New Testament at Bethlehem College and Seminary in Minneapolis.

August 28, 2021

- Don Kroah is joined by Max McLean who has brought to stage some of the classic works of Lewis. C.S. Lewis's stepson, Douglas Gresham, explains the story behind Mere Christianity. Devon Brown, author of A Life Observed: A Spiritual Biography of C.S. Lewis was a guest of John Hall and Kathy Emmons. Eric Metaxas interviews Joe Laconte, author of A Wardrobe, A Hobbit, and Great War about Lewis' friendship with J.R.R Tolkien. Eric Metaxas returns to interview C.S. Lewis scholar Michael Ward about his groundbreaking work, Planet Narnia.

September 4, 1021

- Kevin McCullough talks with Jerry Boykin, U.S. Deputy Undersecretary of Defense Intelligence under President George W. Bush about the hundreds of American and Afghans left behind after the Biden withdrawal and with KT McFarland, Deputy National Security Advisor for President Trump, about the totally different world Afghan youth are waking up to.
- Dr. Albert Mohler and Douglas Murray, author of The Madness of Crowds: Gender, Race and Identity, take a look at the hatred of the Founders and long-term effort to damage the United States by the far Left.
- Douglas Murray, a gay and intellectual conservative, also takes on the transgender issue as well as society's obsession with power while it forgets about forgiveness.

September 11, 2021

- Kevin McCullough and Abby Johnson, former director of a Planned Parenthood clinic and now a bold leader in the pro-life movement, talk about the Texas "heartbeat bill" recently signed into law by Governor Greg Abbott.
- Dr. Albert Mohler looks at how Texas will now be ground zero in the fight over abortion.
- Bill Bunkley talks with Florida Congressman Greg Steube about the botched U.S. withdrawal from Afghanistan.
- Don Kroah and Hedieh Mirahmadi, president of the World Organization for Resource Development and Education, talk about the precarious situation of those Afghans who chose to align themselves with the U.S.
- Bob Lepine talks with author Sean McDowell about his book, "Chasing Love: Sex, Love, and Relationships in a Confused Culture."
- John Hall and Kathy Emmons of The Ride Home, talk with Bill Glaze, pastor of Bethany Baptist Church in Pittsburgh, about "worry" in these stressful times.

September 18, 1021

- Craig Roberts turns to Brian Johnston with the National Right to Life Committee to talk about the U.S. Supreme Court's action on Texas' Heartbeat Act.
- Don Kroah and Georgetown professor Joe Hartman talk about another abortion case before the U.S. Supreme Court, the challenge to Mississippi's abortion law.
- Dr. Albert Mohler talks about General Mark Milley, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and his alleged phone call to his counterpart in China promising to warn China beforehand of any U.S. attack.
- Georgene Rice talks with Michael Knowles about his book, "Speechless: Controlling Words, Controlling Minds."

September 25, 1021

- Kevin McCullough talks with KT McFarland, Deputy National Security Advisor under President Trump, and Gordon Chang, China expert, about China's increasingly belligerent and aggressive posture on the world stage and President Biden's actions as leader of the free world.
- Don Kroah and Cliff May, founder of the Foundation for Defense of Democracies, talk about the broader context of our withdrawal from Afghanistan.
- Bob Burney talks about parental frustration with increasingly woke and draconian public schools, which has led to a boon in homeschooling.
- Lee Michaels invites Vishal Mangalwadi to discuss his book, "Third Education Revolution."
- Georgene Rice talks with Dan Britton and Ron Forseth about their book, "The Wisdom Challenge."