Duration:5:00AM-6:00AM

ISSUE	DESCRIPTION	DATE
Crime	Police are still looking for a suspect in the armed robbery at Kmart in Bluefield. Police are giving us a first look at these images showing the car leaving the crime scene last week. The car is a white 4 door Jeep Wrangler with chrome wheels and a spare tire on the back. If you remember, a man wearing a mask handed a pharmacist at Kmart a note saying he was armed and wanted "Oxycodone." The suspect got away with almost 300 pills.	7/11/14
Economy	Several families in Mercer County are moving into brand new homes thanks to a state grant. The CASE office in Bluefield is almost done with building ten new homes for less fortunate families to buy or rent this summer. The 1.2 million dollars for the project came from the West Virginia Housing Development Fund. CASE officials say this project is not only helping these families, but everyone that lives and works in Bluefield.	7/23/14
Economy	Coal River Mining and Coal River Processing filed a 60 day layoff notice for five mines. The layoffs would impact 280 miners in southern West Virginia. Four mines would be idled, one of which is already idle. Company leaders say bad market conditions are the reason behind the decision. The facilities are in Alum Creek and Julian. Plant, administrative, warehouse and support personnel also would face layoff. The layoffs are expected sometime in October.	8/13/14
Education	A new after school program is offered to middle and high school students in Raleigh County this fall. The program is called The Science Behind the Art Experience. It's a six week program held on Tuesdays and Thursdays from September 30 th through November. The program incorporates Science Technology, engineering, and mathematics along with the arts. Students will take part in science lab activities and art making sessions.	9/17/14
Healthcare	Enterovirus is now in Southern West Virginia. One case is confirmed in Greenbrier County. That's according to the state department of health and human resources. Enterovirus is now in 23 states and it can be very dangerous for children. Cases are also reported in Wood and Wirt Counties. The virus is a respiratory illness.	9/23/14

ISSUE	DESCRIPTION	DATE
Healthcare	The West Virginia Department of Health and Human Resources says that Valley Pain Management, in Marshall County, reused syringes for vials and saline bags that had already been used for multiple patients. The DHHR and the Ohio Department of Health want any patient who's received an injection between the time this clinic opened in 2010, all the way to last November, to be tested for hepatitis B, hepatitis C, and HIV.	7/22/14
Political	Today coal will take center stage in Mercer County. The Bluefield Coal Symposium begins at Bluefield College. A panel of lawmakers will be on hand along with coal industry representatives to talk about the future of coal in the mountain state. Senator Joe Manchin will serve as the moderator. The chamber says written questions from the public for the panel may be submitted in advance. The event will kick off at 2:30 this afternoon.	8/12/14
Education	After four years under state control, some power has been returned to the Fayette County Board of Education. The West Virginia Board voted to return control of school policies to the county level. Areas remaining under the state's control are finance, personnel practices, and functions. Board of Education President Gayle Manchin says the school system is moving in the right direction. The board took over the school system in 2010 after the Office of Education Performance Audits found serious curriculum and facility problems.	8/15/14
Economy	You have an opportunity to help local families in need. Today, Family Options Providers in Beckley will hold their annual Teens for Jeans drive. They've received donations from Aeropostale and are working with DoSomething.org and Beckley Maurices. They are also teaming up with the Women's Resource Center this year. Last year the organization distributed 650 pairs of jeans.	8/29/14
Crime	In Monroe County, jury selection started in the murder trial for Joshua Hubbard. Opening statements began after noon on Tuesday. Hubbard is charged with murder, accessory to murder, and conspiracy charges. Last year, Hubbard and his girlfriend, Amber Richardson, were arrested for allegedly killing Amber's husband.	9/24/14

ISSUE	DESCRIPTION	DATE
Crime	A Mercer County community is breathing a sigh of relief after an arrest is made in connection to a recent rash of break-ins. The break-ins happened in Quail Valley. Police arrested Zachary Harman last week for burglary, breaking and entering and driving with a suspended license.	7/7/14
Crime	A Summers County man is in jail tonight, after State Troopers say his wife called police for a domestic dispute. When police got to the home, they also found the husband growing marijuana in the backyard. Police say Christopher Cody was arrested on Sunday. He's charged with cultivation of marijuana, disorderly conduct, and domestic assault.	7/15/14
Economy	After chemicals spill into West Virginia's largest water supply, the company behind the accident pays thousands in fines. Freedom Industries paid $11,000. The Labor Department's Occupational Safety and Health Administration fined Freedom Industries $7,000 earlier this month for keeping storage tanks containing crude MCHM behind a wall that wasn't liquid tight. OSHA also fined Freedom Industries $4,000 for not having standard railings on an elevated platform.	7/29/14
Political	West Virginia Governor Earl Ray Tomblin and the governor of Pennsylvania along with West Virginia Attorney General Patrick Morrisey, joined labor leaders and many others to participate in an affordable electricity and energy jobs rally at Highmark Stadium in Pittsburgh. The purpose of the event is to make the public aware of the importance of coal to America's energy mix, and how damaging they say the EPA rules on new existing power plants.	7/30/14
Crime	A Tazewell County woman on the run is captured. The Tazewell County Sheriff's Office says Patricia Farmer was wanted on 7 felony charges in connection to sneaking drugs into the Southwest Regional Jail in Virginia. Two of those charges include bribery. Police got a tip that Farmer was working at the Country Inns and Suites in Princeton. Deputies say she was going by the name Patty Davis. Farmer was found yesterday by the Mercer County Sheriff's Office and is now in custody.	8/6/14
Education	Summer is unofficially over for students in Mercer County. Today students boarded buses and headed back to school. Mercer County students are the first to go to class in southern West Virginia this year. They'll also have the longest school year they've seen in decades with 15 snow days built into the school year. They expect to finish for summer in early June.	8/7/14
Political	Former Massachusetts Governor Mitt Romney will make a stop in Beckley to endorse several West Virginia candidates. The "working for West Virginia Jobs" Rally will be held at 2:30 this afternoon at Tamarack in Ballroom A. Romney will endorse Shelly Moore Capito, Evan Jenkins, and Alex Mooney. Evan Jenkins is the Republican Congressional candidate for the 3 rd district for the 2014 election.	8/19/14

Crime	Mercer County Sheriff's Deputies tell us Terry Lee Copley is now in handcuffs for reportedly robbing the City National Bank near the WalMart in Princeton last month and video lottery parlor, MinYon back in June. We are told State Police received an anonymous tip and forwarded it to deputies. Deputies searched Copley's home and found items consistent with the City National Robbery in his home. Deputies say Copley confessed and is charged with 2 counts of robbery.	8/26/14
Crime	An investigation is underway after a man is shot to death in his own home. Larry Totten of Glen White was shot by what officials say was his acquaintance, Joe Collins. Family of the shooter says an argument broke out and Collins got his gun. After Collins allegedly shot Totten twice in the chest, he immediately called police.	9/1/14
Economy	Walmart continues to be the largest private employer in West Virginia. Based on records provided by WorkForce West Virginia, Walmart has been the states top private sector employer since at least 1999. In the annual list released yesterday, there were few changes in terms of the top five private sector employers in the state. Walmart is followed by West Virginia United Health System, Charleston Area Medical Center, Kroger, and Mylan Pharmaceuticals.	9/10/14

Healthcare	The West Virginia Board of Medicine says a Martinsburg doctor isn't qualified to practice medicine. The complaint accuses Dr. Tressie Montene Duffy, pre-signed prescription pads and directed non-physician staff to prescribe controlled substances while she wasn't in the office. They also say she dispensed prescription medication without being registered as a dispensing physician. Dr. Duffy denies any wrong-doing. A hearing is set for November 17 th .	8/13/14
Education	Another WVU Student is getting ready for a different kind of contest. Saira Blair is an 18 year old freshman. The Martinsburg native announced in July 2013 that she's running for the West Virginia House of Delegates for District 59. Blair beat the incumbent republican candidate in May. We talked with Blair today, and she told us that in high school, she participated in the Youth in Government program which made her believe age is nothing but a number.	9/2/14
Political	The State Department of Environmental Protection has created three classifications for aboveground storage tanks. Each class will require different inspections, under the new law, passed after the chemical leak and water crisis earlier this year. Governor Tomblin issued a statement. In it two important deadlines. First, tanks still have to be registered by October 1. And it creates a risk assessment scale that still requires all tanks in critical concern areas to be professionally inspected and certified by the Jan. 1 deadline.	9/9/14
Healthcare	In Morgantown, leaders just finished breaking ground on a big new project at the WVU Children's Hospital. The hospital is expanding its walls to meet the growing needs for community. The project will take some time to finish. We'll keep you posted on how things are going.	9/15/14

48 HOURS

07/05/14

48 HOURS: "Murder At Sea?" - a rebroadcast of a report on the disappearance of newlywed George Smith, who vanished in 2005 from a cruise ship in the Mediterranean while on his honeymoon, as first reported in "Love Lost" (OAD: 04/08/06) and mentioned in "Dark Voyage" (OAD: 09/23/06). This report uncovers the questionable alibis, failed polygraphs and a provocative video that involves the three men who last saw Smith alive. In the years since Smith went missing, his family has been seeking answers to what happened to him after a night of heavy drinking and gambling in the ship's casino. His disappearance was ruled a likely accident and the case has gone nowhere, despite reports of arguments on the stateroom balcony, furniture being moved and a bloodstain on the overhang of the lifeboats. Mike Jones, an attorney for the Smith family, is now trying to get the case moving again. He has gained access to Royal Caribbean's internal investigation and has learned about the existence of a videotape in the possession of the FBI, which was recorded just hours after Smith went missing by three of the four men to last see Smith alive: cousins Zach Rozenberg and Greg Rozenberg and their friend Rusty Kofman. The other passenger, Josh Askin, is not on the video. Attorneys for Rusty Kofman and Zach Rozenberg have declined to comment. Greg Rozenberg's attorney says his client just made stupid comments. While initially cooperating, Askin's attorney has now told him to take the Fifth Amendment in all questioning. All four men say they had nothing to do with Smith's death but the men are still on the FBI's radar in this cold case. Mike Jones believes that Josh Askin knows what happened. He continues to prod the FBI to re-open the case. On-screen text graphic: The FBI's field office has agreed to review the George Smith case. On-screen text graphic introduction for the 07/05/14 rebroadcast: "9 years ago today George Smith disappeared from his honeymoon cruise. This week, his family announced a $100,000 reward for information leading "to the arrest and conviction of the person (s) responsible." On-screen text graphic for 07/05/14 rebroadcast: Anyone with information should call 1-844-651-1936. Interviewed: George Smith's parents, George Smith III and Maureen Smith; his sister Bree Smith; cruise ship passengers Paul and Galina Kvitnisky; Emilie Rausch; Clete Hyman; Greg and Pat Lawyer; Christian Ruiz; Keith Greer, attorney for Josh Askin; Albert Dayan, attorney for Rusty Kofman; Phil Houston, an expert in detecting deception; Mike Jones, Smith family investigator/attorney. NOTE: In this broadcast, Zach Rozenberg, Greg Rozenberg, and Josh Askin all appear in interrogation videos. They are not specifically interviewed for this report. Rusty Kofman appears saying no comment. 48 HOURS (continued)

07/12/14      48 HOURS: "Death at Soho House" - a report into the death of swimsuit designer Sylvie Cachay and her ties to the son of an Oscar-winning songwriter. Sylvie Cachay was a rising swimsuit designer, working with top companies like Victoria's Secret, before launching her own line of swimwear. In 2010, she was found dead and partially clothed in an overflowing tub at the Soho House in New York City. Police learned Cachay had checked into the hotel with her boyfriend, Nicholas Brooks, the son of troubled Academy Award-winning songwriter Joseph Brooks. Although there was an empty bottle of prescription pills nearby, the on-scene medical examiner found marks on Sylvie's neck that suggested strangulation and the investigation quickly turned to Brooks. He was arrested. At trial, Brooks was found guilty of second degree murder. Through interviews with Cachay's family and friends, a picture of a successful woman with everything to live for is revealed, but one who was also having second thoughts about her much younger boyfriend. Nicholas Brooks' sister, Amanda Brooks, discusses their childhood, how their family was torn apart by divorce and how their father's famous name and his own troubled life brought nothing but notoriety to the case. On-screen text graphic: Nick Brooks is appealing his conviction arguing the jury should have heard his "rough sex" allegation. District Attorney Vance's domestic violence initiative will be fully operational this spring and he expects to help thousands of women each year. On-screen text graphic for the 07/12/14 rebroadcast: On-screen text graphic: Nick Brooks is appealing his conviction arguing the jury should have heard his "rough sex" allegation. 48 HOURS (continued)

07/19/14      48 HOURS: "The Writing on the Wall" (8:00-9:00p) - a report on the investigation into the May 5, 2009 murders of the wife and two children of Christopher Coleman, the security chief for televangelist Joyce Meyer Ministries. In Columbia, Illinois on the morning of May 5, Coleman called his neighbor, police detective Justin Barlow, and asked him to check on his wife, Sheri, and their two young sons, Gavin and Garrett, after his own calls had gone unanswered. In months prior he had made local police aware of explicit death threats he was receiving regarding his involvement in Meyer's ministry. Barlow entered the house that morning through an unlocked basement window and upon entry he found spray-painted messages on the walls, with the phrases "you have paid" and "punished", and when he went upstairs he discovered the bodies of Coleman's family strangled to death in each of their beds. An investigation began and soon after police discovered Coleman was having a serious affair with cocktail waitress Tara Lintz, a high school friend of Sheri's. Sheri's friends came to her defense telling police Sheri said her husband was having an affair and if anything happened to her, Chris did it. Moreover, the crime scene lab found the handwriting on the wall matched up to Coleman's script. Two weeks after the murders police had enough evidence to charge Coleman with first-degree murder of his family. The trial for Coleman began two years later and the prosecution's computer experts discovered the e-mail threats came from Coleman's laptop, and one can of the spray paint used on the walls of his house was purchased at a local hardware store with a computerized signature linked to Coleman. The jury needed more evidence though, and it came from one of the jurors who noticed the date on a picture of Coleman and Lintz kissing which proved Coleman lied to them about when the affair began. After a guilty verdict, the judge sentenced Coleman to life in prison. 48 HOURS MYSTERY spoke to Coleman by phone and he denied planning to divorce Sheri to marry his mistress and said he did not know who murdered his family. On-Screen Text Graphics: Sheri's family is suing Joyce Meyer Ministries. They claim the murders might have been prevented if the Ministries had investigated the threats more seriously. May 5th is the three-year anniversary of the murders of Sheri, Garrett and Gavin Coleman. On-screen text graphics for the 03/30/13 rebroadcast: In December 2012, after a long legal battle with the Colemans, Sheri's family was allowed to rebury Sheri and her sons in a cemetery closer to their home in Chicago. On-screen text graphic for the 07/19/14 rebroadcast: After a long legal battle with the Colemans, Sheri's family was allowed to rebury Sheri and her sons in a cemetery closer to their home in Chicago. - 07/19/14 48 HOURS: "A Bad Bet" (10:00-11:00p) - an investigation into the deaths of South Carolina sports bookie Brett Parker's wife, Tammy Parker, and his associate, Bryan Capnerhurst, who Parker claims he shot while Capnerhurst was attempting to rob Parker's safe. Though sports betting in South Carolina is illegal, Brett Parker and his father ran an honest family bookmaking operation that was generally left alone by police. At first police took Parker's story at face value, but as the investigation continued, they discovered a co-worker (Capnerhurst) with financial problems who was demanding money he was owed from Parker, and a marriage not as solid as they were led to believe. Police determined that Capnerhurst was a victim, rather than a killer, and that the adulterous Parker had murdered his wife, in part to collect on a life insurance policy. At trial, he was found guilty on two murder charges and sentenced to two consecutive life sentences with no parole. On Screen Text Graphic: Four months after the murder conviction, Brett Parker and his father Jack were indicted on federal charges of operating an illegal gambling business. Brett Parker was sentenced to two years. His father Jack was sentenced to five months. On-screen text graphic for the 07/19/14 rebroadcast: Four months after the murder conviction, Brett Parker and his father Jack were found guilty on federal charges of operating an illegal gambling business. - 07/26/14 48 HOURS: "Honor and Dishonor" (8:00-9:00p) - a report on Sgt. Brent Burke, who was court-martialed for the 2007 murders of Tracy Burke, his estranged wife and his former mother-in-law, Karen Comer. Four civilian trials, with no physical evidence, had already led to three mistrials and a hung jury; but the military decided to move forward with action under the uniform code of military justice. Tracy Burke and Karen Comer were discovered shot to death in Comer's Rineyville, Kentucky home. When it was discovered that Tracy was in the process of going through a divorce, Sgt. Brent Burke was taken into custody and booked for murder. There was little physical evidence and no murder weapon, but during an interview, Eion Burke, a young child of four, said that Sgt. Burke was the killer. When charges were dropped and he was released from jail, Kentucky State Police spoke to the Army and they came to the same conclusion: a case for murder, this time to be tried by the Army's Judge Advocate General's Corps (JAG) because Burke on active duty at Fort Campbell when the crimes were committed. He would face a court martial trial which is very different from a civilian court trial -- there is always a verdict and never a hung jury. The trial commenced and the JAG prosecution team was able to present physical evidence -- a tiny piece of glass taken off of Burke's coat, which was similar to the shattered glass door at the crime scene. The panel decided that Sgt. Burke was guilty and that he would serve a life sentence without parole. He would also be dishonorably discharged and stripped of his rank. On-screen text graphic for the original and 09/21/13 rebroadcast: Tracy Burke's children visit each other regularly. According to military law, Brent Burke will get an automatic appeal. On-screen text graphic for the 07/26/14 rebroadcast: Tracy Burke's children visit each other regularly. 07/26/14      48 HOURS: "The Last Confession" (10:00-11:00p) - a report on the investigation into the 1960 murder of Irena Garza, in McAllen, Texas, and the efforts family members and police have taken to bring the suspect, a Roman Catholic priest, to trial for the crime. The night before Easter, Irene Garza went to church and disappeared. Five days later she was found dead in a canal. Police said she was sexually assaulted and suffocated. There was one immediate suspect, Father John Feit, the priest who admitted to hearing Garza's confession that night, but who has denied any involvement in the murder. Noemi Ponce Sigler, the original investigator's daughter, says her father was told to step away from the case because a deal had been made between the Church and the police regarding Feit. In 2002, the McAllen Police Department asked the Texas Rangers Cold Case unit to re-examine the murder. The investigation took a dramatic turn when a former monk, Dale Tacheny, told police that Feit admitted to killing a young woman while Tacheny was a counselor at a monastery. Joseph O'Brien, an assistant pastor at the church in 1960 also told investigators that Feit told him that he did it. Despite these new findings, Hidalgo County District Attorney Rene Guerra doesn't believe the case is strong enough to take to court, though he would have prosecuted Feit in 1962 on the charges. Members of the Garza family have pinned their hopes on Ricardo Rodriguez, a candidate for Hidalgo County District Attorney, who has said he would look into the case. On-screen text graphic: The primary election for Hidalgo County District Attorney is Tuesday. On-screen text graphic for the 07/26/14 rebroadcast: Rene Guerra lost the election for Hidalgo County District Attorney in March 2014. District Attorney-elect Ricardo Rodriguez has promised to revisit the case when he takes office in January 2015.
