ISSUE	DESCRIPTION	DATE
Political	The General Election is just weeks away. If you don't know who to vote for, there's an opportunity to learn how they stand on issues that matter to you. Tomorrow, The Beckley Chamber of Commerce is hosting a candidate forum. It starts bright and early at 7am at the Beckley-Raleigh County Convention Center.	10/15/14
Education/Crime	West Virginia is now ranked number 22 in the country after beating Baylor 41 to 27. This is the teams' first victory against a top five ranked team since 2008. Following the Mountaineers win over Baylor, fans took to the street of Morgantown to celebrate but around 10:30pm police say celebrations turned ugly. Police responded to student rioting Saturday night with tear gas and pepper spray after crowds of students pushed over street lights and destroyed fencing around construction sites. After more than 20 arrests police continue their investigation. Student leaders and WVU President Gordon Gee will meet Monday to discuss a long term solution.	10/20/14
Political	This election, West Virginia Republicans made historic gains and the state's voters set a low mark. The latest numbers show just over 37 percent of registered voters cast ballots in Tuesday's election. The secretary of state's website says the turnout is the lowest for a regular general election since at least 1950. For the first midterm election since its introduction here in 2002, early voting dropped this year. That's not the case in Fayette County.	11/7/14
Education	The walk to the bus stop this morning will be a bitter one. Some schools are opening two hours late. Bus drivers across the state are reviewing their winter plans. Buses in Kanawha County are equipped with automatic and manual chains on the tires. Drivers are going through and checking the chains to make sure they're working properly. We talked to a driver who has a decade of experience. She says she doesn't take any chances.	11/18/14
Economy	Three Alpha Natural Resources affiliates have reduced the size of their workforce at their mines. 60 people were laid off as part of Friday's announcement. The mines were located in Wayne, Mingo, and Pike Counties. Alpha says the layoffs are due to an oversupply of thermal coal in the market.	11/24/14
Crime	Five people are dead including a gunman after shootings in Monongalia County. State Police found the suspect, Jody Lee Hunt, dead from a self-inflicted gun shot wound to the head. Hunt is the suspect in all of the shooting deaths. He is listed as the owner of J and J Towing in Westover. Witnesses say they couldn't believe what was happening.	12/2/14

Political	People on both sides of a controversial issue packed into the council chamber in Beckley last night. They were there to debate a proposed Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender ordinance. It focuses on equality in terms of gender identity and sexual orientation on various issues ranging from not discriminating in employment and housing opportunities.	12/10/14
Healthcare	The cost of going to the hospital is on the rise in our area. Two medical facilities have received state approval to raise their rates. At Raleigh General Hospital, average rates will increase by five percent from around $23,000 to over $24,000. Greenbrier Valley Medical Center will also see a rise. Rates there will increase from $13,500 to over $14,000, about 6% higher. These hospitals were just two of five in the state who were approved.	12/29/14

Political	A Senate Debate will be held in Charleston between Democrat Natalie Tennant and Republican Shelley Moore Capito. They will be asked questions regarding their stances on the many issues facing West Virginia today. The debate is scheduled for Seven o'clock at the Clay Center.	10/7/14
Political	Early voting begins at county courthouses across the state this morning and will continue until the Saturday before the general election. And that day is right around the corner. You will get to choose candidates in many races, including the heated race for the open West Virginia senate seat and the congressional race for district three. Until November first you can cast your ballot at local courthouses. Officials can't stress enough how important it is to get out and vote.	10/22/14
Crime	The Raleigh County Sheriff's Department is investigating two reported armed robberies. The first was at CJ's Hotspot in Coal City just after two this morning. The second was a home invasion, which happened on Coal City Road. Dispatchers received a call about that just after four. No word on whether the two are related.	10/28/14
Education	We have new details this morning that West Virginia University is starting to show interest in taking over the UC Beckley Campus. The University of Charleston is leasing the campus from the former, Mountain State University. Now, Mountain State needs to sell the campus and UC Beckley isn't interested in buying. 59News Reporter, Brandon Bates, spoke to President Gee about his plans.	11/19/14

Education	WVU's governing board has decided to take additional time to decide whether to purchase the old Mountain State University campus in Beckley. Officials extended the university's agreement to explore options until next Monday. The agreement will expire that night. During the extension, WVU will continue to review academic possibilities and economic factors associated with purchasing the campus. Previously, the University of Charleston took over Mountain State's campuses in Beckley and Martinsburg so students there could complete their degrees.	12/24/14
Healthcare	Prescription drug abuse has been a longtime epidemic in West Virginia. Now, the state Board of Pharmacy is cracking down on doctors connected to prescription overdose deaths. One physician had six patients die from overdoses in a six month period. Another had four people die in three months. The board plans on sending letters to at least 27 doctors in question. Their names will also be referred to licensing boards and prosecutors for further review.	12/30/14

Economy	West Virginia's economy has arrived at an interesting point. The potential for an economic surge, thanks to natural gas activities, seems within the state's reach now more than ever. Today in Charleston, the 21 st Annual Economic Outlook Conference is taking a look at the mountain state's economic forecast.	10/2/14
Crime	In Raleigh County a man facing some serious charges appears in court today for a preliminary hearing. Just a few weeks ago, Beckley Police say Jason Cook assaulted his ex-wife and a man at her home on Woodlawn Avenue. Cook is charged with burglary, domestic battery, and violation of a domestic violence petition.	10/14/14
Crime	The man who caused a four hour standoff with police will be arraigned this afternoon in Tazewell County. It happened on Ginger Lane in North Tazewell last week. Authorities say Jeffery Lambert was arrested after threatening officers and barricading himself inside his home. The standoff ended in a peaceful manner. No one was injured.	11/3/14
Crime	The son of Charleston Mayor Danny Jones has been arrested on drug charges. Officers with the South Charleston Police Department say Zachary Jones was found asleep in a car in a parking lot in South Charleston. He is charged with simple possession for having prescription drugs on him. He was arrested last night.	11/11/14

Economy	Imagine children not having a home or food on the table during the holiday season. For many children right here in the mountain state, it's a reality. The Children's Home Society says there are more than four-thousand children who are homeless in West Virginia. 59 News Reporter, Meghan Carr, spoke with two organizations who are working to keep children off the streets.	11/25/14
Political	After weeks of discussion and speculation, State Republicans have chosen who they want to lead both chambers starting in January. The GOP caucus selected Senator Bill Cole of Mercer County as the new Senate President, and Delegate Tim Armstead of Kanawha County as the new Speaker of the House. 59 News Reporter Ariel Rothfield spoke to both lawmakers and has more on their plans for the upcoming session.	12/8/14
Education	Big news for Mountaineers today. WVU's Athletic Director Oliver Luck is resigning. Oliver Luck is taking on a challenge in his career. Luck stepped down from his position as director of athletics at West Virginia University and will take over as the executive vice president of regulator affairs with the NCAA.	12/17/14

ISSUE	DESCRIPTION	DATE
Political	Last Thursday, West Virginia Attorney General Patrick Morrisey announced that his office would stop fighting the ban against same-sex marriage. This decision cleared the way for gay couples to get their marriage licenses. Today, we talked to the Attorney General about his decision. He says there was no other legal option.	10/13/14
Crime	Officers catch a man trying to break into homes in the McLean Addition area early today. Beckley Police arrested Kamrance Stewart of Ravencliff. Police say they got multiple calls from Davis Street and Northwestern Avenue of a suspicious person trying to break into houses and cars. One person called officers saying a man was trying to break into a house through a window. Stewart ran before officers arrived. Stewart stole several items from unlocked cars, but those were all recovered. Farley says this is why it's so important to lock your vehicles and homes.	10/24/14
Economy	Lewisburg residents won't have to wait much longer for a modern movie theater. Cinema 8 is opening soon. The new theater will show new movies. It could also bring more businesses into Lewisburg.	10/29/14
Education	Bluefield College is allowing their students to show off their artistic skills. The works of art and graphic communications students will be on display for the Fall Student Art Show. The art show runs from November 17 th through December 5 th from 8 to 6 on weekdays. It's free to the public. Officials say to call the Art Department for additional information and weekend hours.	11/17/14

Crime	Investigators are looking into reports of a stabbing. The stabbing was reported early this morning in Raleigh County. Investigators say there were two people involved. Officials say that the call came in around 11:20 last night saying that a woman was stabbed by another woman. We spoke with residents in the area and they say that it is bizarre that someone would do that the night before Thanksgiving.	11/27/14
Education	Deputies say a pick-up truck and school bus crashed on Skin Fork Road around 3:30 this afternoon. That's near Pineville. Deputies say four children were on the bus when a pickup truck hit it head on. The driver of the truck was taken to Raleigh General Hospital. The driver's identity and condition are not known at this time. The Wyoming County Sheriff's Office is investigating.	12/3/14
Crime	Officers with the Beckley Police Department need your help tonight in the overnight hours between Wednesday and Thursday night this week, after cars are damaged. Thirteen vehicles at Lewis Nissan were shot with a BB gun. It caused $15,000 worth of damage. Detectives are reviewing surveillance video right now. If you know anything about this incident, a reward is being offered.	12/5/14
Crime	A motion to reduce bond for Kimberly Adkins was denied by a judge today. Her bond remains at one hundred thousand dollars. A few months ago, Adkins was indicted for malicious wounding and other charges. Adkins drove Alvin Williams to a Raleigh County doctors office, where Williams attacked the doctor back in July.	12/15/14
Crime	An investigation is underway after an armed robbery in Mercer County. Investigators say a man walked into the Cargo Station in Bluefield around 6 o'clock last night. The man pulled out a gun and tried to get into the cash register. When that failed he grabbed the whole register and ran off. He jumped into an older model SUV possibly a Blazer.	12/22/14
Economy	If you're looking for a fun way to spend a Saturday morning then look no further. Every Saturday fans of locally grown meats and produce will have a chance to shop at the Winter Indoor Farmers Market. Demonstrations, food preservation workshops, and holiday themed activities are planned throughout the winter. A Market Café will offer dishes prepared by local vendors.	12/23/14

Program Title: Tonight LiveDuration: 5:30PM-6:00PM

ISSUE	DESCRIPTION	DATE
Crime	Elkins Police have arrested Jason Warner. Officers recently found him in California with a missing 15-year-old boy. Police say Warner, a registered sex offender and another suspect, sexually assaulted three boys while on a fishing trip. Following that trip, the boys told an adult what happened. That's when Warner ran off. He's being held in jail right now.	10/10/14
Political	Two weeks to election day. Early voting is underway across West Virginia. Several candidates also cast their ballots today. We caught up with Republican Shelley Moore Capito at the Raleigh County GOP Headquarters. The congresswoman is running for a seat in the U.S. Senate. Meanwhile, West Virginia's Secretary of State, Natalie Tennant was also at the polls. The democrat is also running for that open seat, being left vacant, because long-time senator Jay Rockefeller announced he's not seeking another term.	10/22/14
Political	One of the biggest races right now is Rahall Vs. Evan Jenkins. Rahall is currently serving for WV's third congressional district. He's been in congress since '77. He's known for the fact that he wants to continue mountaintop removal mining, a process that some say should not be done. Then you have the republican candidate, Evan Jenkins. He's now a member of the West Virginia Senate. He was originally a republican, then democrat and now to race against Rahall, he's back to being a republican. One thing he doesn't support is Obamacare.	11/4/14
Education	West Virginia University has thrown down a gauntlet for goodness. WVU kicked off its Million Hour Match Initiative during a big party today. President Gordon Gee was there along side student leaders. Students, faculty, and staff are urging people around the state to match them in completing one million hours of community service by 2018. The end result will be a total of two million service hours in three years.	11/17/14
Economy	Now to the economy and a group that's working on its plan to build relationships between industry and the state legislature. The West Virginia Business and Industry Council met today in Charleston, just ahead of the legislative session. Members say they're looking forward to new delegates and senators at the capitol, after mid-term elections that caused a big shake up.	12/16/14
Healthcare	West Virginia University is getting a nearly $2 million grant to help improve healthcare statewide. The university's public health school will use the award to coordinate healthcare planning activities across the state in partnership with West Virginia officials. The initiative is supported by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, designed to improve care and lower costs in West Virginia.	12/26/14

Healthcare	In Raleigh County, a new facility at the Beckley VA Medical Center was put to use today. Last year construction was completed on a parking garage at the center. On top of the garage is a state of the art helicopter. Today the hospital worked with HealthNet to use the landing pad in a mock emergency. In the past, veterans and staff at the center had to clear space in the parking lot for helicopters to land.	10/1/14
Crime	A man accused of killing his wife appears in a Mercer County court today. Johnnie Farley of Raleigh County confessed to State Police he killed and buried his wife Lynette Farley. Lynette Farley was missing for more than a week, when her husband told police what happened. Because the body was found on the Raleigh and Mercer County border, Mercer County will handle the case.	10/6/14
Economy	Adjustments are being made to utility rates across West Virginia. The Public Service Commission says a typical residential customer of Mountaineer Gas will pay almost seven dollars more a month. If you have Peoples Gas, you'll see your rates go up just over four dollars a month. Customers of Hope Gas will see a decrease of a little more than three dollars. PSC is required by law to allow gas utilities to recover the cost of buying natural gas. The commission adjusts customer rates' annually to account for this cost. Rates previously declined for eight consecutive years.	10/10/14
Economy	It's the biggest party in the state this weekend, we're talking about Bridge Day. About 100,000 people visited the New River Gorge Bridge today for the 35 th annual event. The third Saturday of every October is the only day when base jumpers and repellers can descend down the gorge.	10/18/14
Political	Voters force a seismic shift in West Virginia politics overnight. Republicans make huge gains in the Mountain State. The GOP has taken control of the West Virginia House of Delegates for the first time in more than eight decades. And in the state senate, Democrats and Republicans will be deadlocked next year. Republicans picked up seven seats to tie the chamber at 17-17.	11/5/14
Crime	Police in Raleigh say a man has been charged in the shooting death of a 13-year-old at a hotel in Raleigh. Nathan Andrew Clark, 13, of Lewisville, died after he was shot when a bullet passed through a wall between two adjacent rooms and hit Clark. Police said Nathan and his family were in Raleigh for a soccer tournament. Police say they charged Randall Louis Vater, 42, or Knightdale with involuntary manslaughter and possession of a firearm by a convicted felon.	11/15/14
Economy	In Fayette County, final preparations are underway for the annual Lewis Community Center Dinner tomorrow. At nine tomorrow morning, area churches will start delivering hundreds of hot meals to people across our area. At noon, they're welcoming anyone who's interested to the Thanksgiving meal at the center. They'll serve turkey, stuffing, and pumpkin pie, among other homemade desserts.	11/26/14

Education	New River Career Technical College on Mercer Street in Princeton had students paint their windows with a Christmas theme today. Students from Melrose Elementary School showed up this morning and painted three windows. Officials say it's a contest, and the winning school will get a basket of art supplies.	12/1/14
Economy	As you're making your daily trip to work you may have noticed a drop in gas prices over the past couple months. According to Triple-A, the average price for a gallon of gas in West Virginia is $2.81. Here in Raleigh County, we noticed the average price was around $2.76. We talked with some enthusiastic drivers who say they could get used to the prices.	12/9/14
Healthcare	Raleigh General in Beckley is being recognized for their outstanding treatment heart patients. The Hospital received this new accreditation because of how they go out of their way to treat patients with heart conditions. They have a call team made up of the cardiac cath lab staff and an interventional cardiologist who arrive to the facility within 30 minutes of a procedure on a heart attack patient.	12/13/14
Economy	A group of bikers in Summers County are continuing their efforts to help those in need during the holidays. The ghost Riders Motorcycle Club is hosting a food and toy drive at the Magic Mart in Hinton. They were there today and will also be there tomorrow. They'll be accepting non perishable food items, unwrapped children's toys, new clothes and monetary donations are accepted as well.	12/20/14

Crime	Deputies in Fayette County need your help finding two suspects wanted for a home invasion robbery. Deputies say this morning, two suspects forced their way inside a home on Elm Drive in the Adena Village Area. According to a press release, the suspects threatened the homeowner with a handgun and demanded money. The two hit the homeowner several times before tying her up. The two got away with a large amount of money, and stole a gun from the home.	10/8/14
Economy	After a warning in August that hundreds of miners could lose their jobs, Boone County-based Coal River Energy has laid off 130 mine workers. In August, the company warned that 280 mine workers could lose their jobs. Coal River Energy spokesman James Loving says the company laid off 130 employees on October 11 th . They kept 94 workers and found other work for 56 of them. The company pointed to poor coal markets and federal regulations.	10/21/14

Political	The West Virginia Coal Association met in Beckley tonight to nominate who the party will be backing. The Coal Association named over 10 candidates, both Republican and Democrat tonight at Tamarack. Officials say that tonight they wanted to name the candidates that demonstrated their support for the coal industry and are concerned that coal workers have jobs.	10/27/14
Economy/Political	The United Mine Workers of America came together in Beckley today, to rally for coal jobs. The rally was at the Beckley-Raleigh County Conventions Center. The idea is to show support of miners and mining jobs around the state. The rally moved to Madison in Boone County this afternoon. The UMWA used this chance to also show its support for Senate candidate Natalie Tennant. Congressman Nick Rahall was also there. Earlier this week, the West Virginia Coal Association came in support of its candidates including Shelly Moore Capito and Evan Jenkins.	10/30/14
Political	Amendment One is a hot topic. It will allow the boy scouts to remain tax exempt. The boy scouts of America released a statement saying “We are very thankful to the citizens of West Virginia for passing this amendment. When we chose this site we believed that it was a great opportunity to expose other parts of the world to this extraordinary state, and we can continue to do so on an even larger scale.	11/4/14
Education	West Virginia University is conducting the first ever long-term field study of shale gas resources. The study is part of a five year, eleven million dollar agreement with the US Department of Energy. The agreement will allow the research team to create and manage the Marcellus Shale Energy and Environment Laboratory at the Morgantown Industrial Park. WVU will work with Ohio State University on the project.	11/10/14
Economy	An initiative to revitalize West Virginia’s struggling southern coalfields is on hold. State Senator Mike Green says the fate of the Southern Coalfields Organizing and Revitalizing the Economy Initiative also known as SCORE is up to Senate Republicans. The thirteen member panel aims to recommend diversification ideas before the January legislative session. Early concepts ranged from more tourism advertising education an workforce retraining to intermodal transportation and coal bed methane development.	11/11/14
Economy	As the holiday shopping season is about to officially get under way, one event today blended shopping with donating towards a good cause. The first annual women’s holiday expo was held today at the Marriott hotel in downtown Charleston. The event featured a variety of local and regional direct sellers offering various boutique products. One local seller from Papparazzi Accessories tells us about the good cause that will benefit from today’s sales.	11/23/14
Education	A local school is getting funding to fix their heating problems. Back in October, we told you about Anstead Middle School’s boiler problems. Now, they are on their way to warmer classrooms. The School Building Authority held their quarterly meeting yesterday and agreed to give the school more than $630,000 for the project.	12/16/14

48 HOURS

48 HOURS: "Mommy Dearest" - a report on the case of Linda Cooney, a woman who became the center of attention in two shootings - two decades apart - both with the same gun. Linda Cooney, shot her ex-husband, attorney James Cooney, while her 10-year-old son Kevin, peeked out of a hole in his bedroom door. The case rocked their exclusive Palm Beach, Florida enclave and captivated locals when the aspiring socialite went on trial for murder. Investigators say she was found not guilty, largely on the weight of Kevin's testimony. Locals believed she had gotten away with murder. Cooney left Palm Beach, ending up in Las Vegas with her sons. In 2011, Linda Cooney reported another shooting; this time her son Kevin had a gunshot wound to the neck and would end up being paralyzed. Investigation revealed the gun used to shoot Kevin was the same one that had been used to shoot his father. Authorities were shocked when they found out she had asked to have the gun returned to her after the acquittal. Prosecutors believed Linda Cooney was desperate to control her grown sons and tried to kill Kevin because he wanted to move out. The defense painted a different story: Kevin was mentally unstable and accidentally shot himself. But the story that Kevin actually tells about his mother at trial startles everyone -- he himself claims that it was an accident, even though he had told the nurses in the hospital the opposite. However, in the end, it is not enough and Linda Cooney is found guilty on all charges. On-screen text graphic: After the verdict, Bob Cooney tried to visit Kevin. Kevin refused to see him. Interviewed: Las Vegas Detectives Robert Schmidt and Lance Landholm; Las Vegas prosecutors Shanon Clowers and Michael Staudaher; Bob Cooney, brother of James Cooney; Palm Beach gossip columnist Jose Lambiet; Lt. Scott Smith; former girlfriends of Kevin Cooney, Karina Taylor and Clarita Kendall; Linda Cooney's attorney Michael Becker. (C: Richard Schlesinger - P: Patti Aronofsky, Jonathan Leach)

10/11/14

48 HOURS: "The Hit" - a report on the death of colorful entrepreneur and Las Vegas gambler Gary Triano, who was blown up in his car after finishing a round of golf at the exclusive La Paloma Country Club in Tucson, Arizona in 1996. His ex-wife, socialite Pamela Phillips, speaks out for the first time and proclaims her innocence. The Trianos were a power couple who were part of the local social set and hobnobbed with Donald Trump. Triano had made a fortune in the tribal gaming business, but the bottom fell out and he was pushed out of the business. The income loss put a strain on the couple. He owed millions of dollars to creditors. The Trianos separated in 1993 and eventually divorced. He was killed in 1996. Was it a mob hit? Were friends or family involved? Investigation led to endless leads, curious characters and many theories. Eventually the investigation led to the involvement of Ron Young, once an acquaintance and possible lover of Pamela Phillips. He was arrested along with Pamela Phillips on charges of conspiracy and murder. In separate trials, Young denied everything, and was found guilty. Pamela Phillips was portrayed as a desperate woman out for life insurance at her trial. Her attorneys said that someone else was responsible. She too was found guilty. On-screen text graphics: Gary Triano's family sued Pam Phillips and Ron Young for wrongful death. They were awarded $10 million dollars. Interviewed: Pamela Phillips; one-time friend of the couple Laura Chapman; Pima County Investigator Gene Reedy; ATF Special Agents Tom Mangan and Tony May; Detective James Gamber; Triano friend Dr. Lawrence D'Antonio; defense attorney Paul Edkerstrom. 48 HOURS (continued)

- 10/18/14 48 HOURS: “Kristen’s Secret” - a report about Kristen Cunnane, a former All-American swimmer who kept quiet about years of sexual abuse by a trusted female teacher and how her decision to go public led to the revelation that she was not alone: by speaking out, she gave three other women at the same school the strength to come forward. Cunnane was a student at Joaquin Moraga Intermediate School in Moraga, California. She caught the eye of gym teacher Julie Correa and they became close friends. Two years later, Correa began her abuse; Cunnane felt powerless to do anything about it. Correa became increasingly obsessed with Kristen, even slipping into the girl’s home and hiding in the closet. In 2010, Cunnane’s memories resurfaced. She was diagnosed with PTSD (Post Traumatic Stress Disorder). Eventually, with the help of her former high school sweetheart, now-husband, Scott, she went to the police. Despite being in possession of physical evidence, the police asked her to call Correa and attempt to get her to confess to the abuse. She cooperated and Correa was arrested. Cunnane then went public with the story and as a result, three other women who also attended the same school came forward: the three had been sexually abused - in the same time period - by a different teacher, Dan Witters, a popular science teacher. It was discovered that administrators knew of Witter’s abuse and did nothing. In the fall of 1996, Witters, in the midst of allegations of misbehavior, committed suicide and the story died too. The Moraga School District eventually paid out a multi-million dollar settlement to the women, and the current administration apologized to the women who were abused. Julie Correa worked out a plea deal and was sentenced to eight years in prison. On-screen text graphic: The School District paid out a total of $18.65 million to Kristen Cunnane and the three other victims who filed civil lawsuits. Julie Correa is eligible for parole in 2018. In May 2013, Kristen gave birth to her first child, a baby girl. Interviewed: Kristen Cunnane; Scott Cunnane (husband); Maggie Rinow (friend and classmate); Dave Ring (attorney for Jane Doe); Jeanne Lewis (Kristen Cunnane’s mother); Malaika Fraley and Matthias Gafni (journalists, Bay Area News Group); Berch Parker (Detective, Lafayette Police Department) (C: Tracy Smith - P: Paul LaRosa)
- 10/25/14 48 HOURS: LIVE TO TELL: “I Remember Everything” (9:00-10:00p) - a report about Angela Rose (no last name given) and Delaney Henderson, two women, tied together by having survived sexual assaults and who, by going public, hope to help others. In 1996, Angela Rose was a teenager heading to a Chicago suburban high school graduation party after work. She never made it. Angela was abducted by a man with a long history of criminal acts. He put her in his car, and eventually stopped at a forest preserve where he sexually assaulted her in the car. She survived. Police knew they had a strong case, but it took four years for her attacker to be convicted. Angela Rose turned to activism. She founded an organization called PAVE (Promoting Awareness Victim Empowerment) to help others. One of those she helped was Delaney Henderson, a young woman from California, who in 2011, was sexually assaulted by two schoolmates in her family home. She hid her attack from her parents and the police, fearing she would be further attacked or even killed because one of her attackers was a popular athlete at school. Everything changed when she learned that he had allegedly raped another, younger girl. Eventually the accused, Shane Villalpando, was convicted of three counts of sex with a minor in the younger girl’s case and later accepted a plea deal in Delaney’s case, leading to one more count. He was sentenced to one year in jail, five years probation and must register as a sex offender. On-screen text graphic: Angela Rose does not want her last name used to protect her family’s privacy. Delaney and her parents plan to move from California for a fresh start. Interviewed: Angela Rose (no last name given); Delaney Henderson; Gary Ciccola (Sergeant, Schaumburg, Illinois Police); Richard Benbow (Sergeant, Wheeling, Illinois Police); former prosecutor Lawrence M. Lykowski; Kym Henderson (Delaney’s mother); Deputy District Attorney Jennifer Karapetian. (C: Maureen Maher - P: Clare Friedland)

10/25/14 48 HOURS: “The Pact” (10:00-11:00p) - a report on the murder of 15-year-old John McCabe of Tewksbury, Massachusetts, who was murdered after a dance in 1969, and his family’s decades-long quest to find out what really happened to him. Police launched a massive investigation; there were suspicions that John’s schoolmates may have been involved. One, Walter Shelley, was driving in a car that matched the description of a car spotted near the crime scene, but there was no forensic evidence and the case went cold. In 2000, Bill McCabe got a tip from John’s childhood friend, Jack Ward: he heard at a BBQ, that the motive for the murder was jealousy and John had been flirting with Shelley’s girlfriend, Marla Shiner. The case stalled again. In 2007, a new investigation was launched which led to Edward Alan Brown, who shared details of what happened that night. Mike Ferreira and Walter Shelley were arrested for the murder. Ferreira was tried first and was found not guilty: the jury did not believe Brown’s story. Bill McCabe died four days after the verdict. Evelyn McCabe took up the quest for justice. Walter Shelley stood trial. This jury believed Brown and he was convicted of murder. On-screen text graphic: Evelyn McCabe has filed a wrongful death suit against Michael Ferreira, Walter Shelley and Edward Allen Brown. Interviewed: Bill and Evelyn McCabe (parents); Debbie McCabe, Roberta McCabe (sisters); Gerry Leone (former District Attorney); Mike Ferreira and his wife Nancy Williams; Jack Ward (childhood friend); Detective Linda Coughlin; Ken Lavalee (police); Eric Wilson (Ferreira’s attorney); Michael Duquett (juror). CBS RELIGIOUS AND CULTURAL SPECIAL

10/05/14 “Crime, Punishment & Redemption” – an interfaith special that examines how the faith community is assisting those individuals recently released from jail and their family members put their lives back together. This program features the work of the following organizations: (1) The Inner-City Muslim Action Network (IMAN) was founded in 1997 and is a Chicago-based community organization working for social change by addressing the causes of violence, poverty and urban decay. Executive Director Rami Nashashibi and one of its founding members, Rafi Peterson, discuss the Green Re-Entry project, which is vital to the rehabilitation of the neighborhood and the men who are returning from prison. Founded in 2010, Green Reentry converts foreclosed homes into green, environmentally sound transitional housing for the formerly incarcerated who are reentering society. The renovation of these homes provides on-the-job training and a living wage to these individuals while fostering a sense of good will through community improvement. (2) Reverend David T. Link, a lawyer turned Roman Catholic priest, is a volunteer chaplain in the Indiana state prison system. Reverend Link talks about his journey from husband, lawyer and father to widowed Catholic priest, as well as about the need for prison reform. The author Maura Poston Zagrans discusses her recently published biography of Reverend Link, entitled “Camerado, I Give You My Hand” and why she has become an advocate for reform. (3) Reducing the stigma experienced by returning citizens and their families led to the creation of the Healing Communities Prison Ministry, a national organization. The organization’s director, Reverend Harold Dean Trulear, Ph.D., is an ordained Baptist Minister and Associate Professor of Applied Theology and Director of the Doctor of Ministry Program at Howard University. Dr. Trulear discusses what led to the creation of the organization. Their programs, designed to bring hope, healing and reconciliation in families impacted by crime and mass incarceration, have been adopted by a number of churches across the United States: the Berean Baptist Church in North Philadelphia, PA, offers a “Social Justice Sunday” every five weeks. Senior Pastor Reverend James H. Buck discusses the power of the pulpit and the work of the Re-Entry and Redemption Ministry in helping returning citizens and their families; The United Methodists conduct workshops across the country with other faith communities. The Reverend Douglas Walker, M.Div., the United Methodist National Coordinator For Criminal Justice Reform, discusses why the United Methodists adopted their Healing Ministries plan. (Narrator: Ted Holmes. Producer & Writer: Elizabeth Kineke. Associate Producer: Natalie Baxter. Director & Executive Producer: John P. Blessington. Produced in consultation with: National Council of Churches; The Islamic Society of North America; New York Board of Rabbis; A Consortium of Roman Catholic Organizations.)
