2:02	SEGMENT 1: BARIATRIC SURGERY IN TEENAGERS	12:35

Synopsis: The proportion of severely obese teenagers continues to rise. Doctors increasingly understand that only weight loss surgery is likely to help them lose weight and avoid health consequences of obesity. But teens are often held back until they're so heavy that even bariatric surgery isn't enough to return them to normal weight. Experts discuss.

Host: Reed Pence. Guests: Dr. Thomas Inge, Chief of Pediatric Surgery, Children's Hospital Colorado and Prof. of Surgery, Univ. of Colorado Denver; Dr. Fatima Cody Stanford, obesity medicine physician, Massachusetts General Hospital and Harvard Medical School; Dr. Meg Zeller, Prof. of Pediatrics, Cincinnati Children's Hospital Medical Center

15:39	SEGMENT 2: CANCER TREATMENT AND SEX	7:12

Synopsis: Cancer treatment has always focused on survival. Now doctors are increasingly focusing on side effects, including the effect of treatment on sexual function and satisfaction. However, many patients are shy about bringing up their difficulties, unaware there are ways to help. One of the nation's top experts discusses.

Host: Nancy Benson. Guest: Dr. Leslie Schover, clinical psychologist and founder, Will2Love.com.

Compliance issues covered: health care; relationships

Time	Segment	Duration
2:02	SEGMENT 1: ELEPHANT DNA: THE SECRET TO CANCER SUPPRESSION?	12:52
Synopsis: DNA mutations happen all the time in the body, but the immune system usually detects and deals with them. When the system fails, cancer results. Yet some animals, such as elephants, almost never get cancer, and scientists have learned that the elephant DNA repair system is 20 times more powerful than the human system. Experts explain how they hope to tap this knowledge.

Host: Reed Pence. Guests: Dr. Joshua Schiffman, Prof. of Pediatrics, Univ. of Utah and investigator, Huntsman Cancer Institute; Dr. Vincent Lynch, Asst. Prof. of Human Genetics and Organismal Biology, Univ. of Chicago

Time	Segment	Duration
1:57	SEGMENT 1: ONLY CHILDREN...AND THEIR PARENTS	10:58
Synopsis: Only children have been vilified for more than a century as inevitably selfish, spoiled and lonely. Yet research finds that children without siblings are psychologically quite similar to those with brothers and/or sisters. Today the proportion of only children is increasing. Experts refute the myths about only children and discuss how parents can help children navigate life with no siblings.

Host: Reed Pence. Guests: Beth Apone Salamon, Director of Communications & Television, School of Continuing Studies, Rutgers University and an only child; Lauren Sandler, only child, mother of an only child and author, One and Only: The Freedom of Having an Only Child and the Joy of Being One; Dr. Susan Newman, psychologist, contributor to Psychology Today magazine and author, Parenting an Only Child

13:57	SEGMENT 2: THE SENSE OF TOUCH	8:56
Synopsis: The sense of touch is often taken lightly, yet it conveys more emotion than any other sense because it literally has a separate emotional wiring system. A neuroscientist explains the sense of touch, how it works, the power it has over everyday decisions, and what can happen when it's not working as it should.

Host: Nancy Benson. Guest: Dr. David Linden, Prof. of Neuroscience, Johns Hopkins Univ. School of Medicine and author, Touch: The Science of Hand, Heart, and Mind

Compliance issues covered: consumerism; youth at risk; aging

2:04	SEGMENT 1: "TEXTALYZERS" TO STOP TEXTING WHILE DRIVING	13:05

Synopsis: After 40 years of declining traffic deaths, American roads have become more dangerous the past two years. Police blame texting. Now activists are seeking to put teeth into anti-texting-while-driving laws with the legalization of a device that police can use to instantly determine if a driver was texting at a given time. Experts discuss the "textalyzer," how it would work, and its pros and cons.

Host: Reed Pence. Guests: Ben Lieberman, founder, Distracted Operators Risk Casualties (DORCs) and Alliance Combatting Distracted Driving; Jim Grady, CEO Cellebrite, Inc.; Rashida Richardson, Legislative Counsel, American Civil Liberties Union of New York.
