Section II
NETWORK (and/or SYNDICATED) PROGRAMMING

Section II lists the network-provided (and/or syndicated) programming that the station broadcast during the preceding calendar quarter that addresses community issues.

WZZR broadcasts the Health Show on Sundays at 10:30pm

ISSUE	PROGRAM / TITLE	DESCRIPTION	GUEST	DATE/ TIME	DURATION
Medicare Social Security	The Health Show	Nobody has ever won an election by saying that Medicare is bad. In fact, people who say that tend to lose elections by large numbers. So, it's no surprise that in a recent survey, 98 per cent of adults 18 or older said that Medicare is important to American's health in retirement. But what about the health of Medicare itself? On today's Health Show, we are going to be joined by two representatives of the American Association of Retired People - A.A.R.P. - and we'll talk about the future of Medicare and Social Security...and what A.A.R.P. is doing to support their members.		1-6-13	30 minutes

Women's Health Organic Food		Most of the time on this program, I feel like I can hold my own in most discussions. There are some topics however. Take menopause. Whenever we talk about this part of a woman's life I feel like half the audience is saying "yeah, what do you know about it". That's why I call on smart people to help me. On today's Health Show, we'll talk about menopause, or, most accurately, perimenopause. We'll also hear the story of a Midwestern farming family who solved financial and health problems by going organic. And hear why there is a discussion going on about certain medical practice guidelines.		1-13-13	30 minutes
Flu season Personal health care		We've had nasty flu seasons before...but this year is turning out to be something especially gruesome. The season started about a month early and there is now widespread flu in 47 states. On today's Health Show, we'll talk to a flu expert from the Mayo Clinic about this year's strain of the flu, and what you can do to stay healthy. And while we're talking about seasons...we're in the heat of the football playoff season, so it's a good time to hear from a doctor and author who says you should treat your health care like a team sport.		1-20-13	30 minutes

Vision health Concussions		Here's one of those statements of indisputable fact that you love so much: nobody's eye sight gets better as they age. There have been recent advances in eye care research that are helping more people keep their sight longer. On today's Health Show, a talk about your eyes. We'll also learn how being born deaf affects your sense of touch. And we'll visit with a pain specialist who has some very good advice about concussions.		1-27-13	30 minute s
Male care givers		There are times when you listen to The Health Show and every feature flows into the next with a clear theme and obvious plan. Well not today. On today's Health Show it's four different features on four different topics, none of which have anything to do with the other. First we'll hear about the growing trend of males becoming family care givers. Then advice from the NIH: get up and do something...anything. We'll hear how many people in our gadget obsessed culture need a digital detox. And commentary from our friend Judah.		2-3-13	30 minute s

Consumer based health care system		David Goldhill is president and chief executive officer of G-S-N, The Game Show Network. He is also an author and crusader for a consumer based universal health care system. After the death of his father, Goldhill began a personal exploration of a health-care industry that for years has delivered poor service and irregular quality at astonishingly high cost. On today's Health Show we'll here from David Goldhill about his book "Catastrophic Care: How American Health Care Killed My Father--and How We Can Fix It" We'll also hear about the next step the state of Vermont is taking as it moves to a single-payer, universal health care system.		2-10-13	30 minutes
Smart phones and health		Over the past decade there has been an explosion of new laboratory tests for disease plus a steady movement to electronic health records. At least in the developed world. In countries where resources are scarce there is little to no health infrastructure in place. But the answer to some of those issues may be sitting in your pocket. On today's Health Show we'll hear how cell phones are being transformed into mobile labs. We'll also hear the results of a new survey on e-cigarettes...and hear if the people who use them think they are improving their health. And we'll pop the cork on some new information about the healthy ingredient in red wine.		2-17-13	30 minutes

Hypertension		Do you have high blood pressure? Are you sure? Most people with high blood pressure have no signs or symptoms, even if their blood pressure readings get dangerously high. On today's Health Show we'll talk about Hypertension and how to avoid it...or live with it. We'll also hear from the N-I-H about a new method of screening for coronary artery disease using M-R-I technology. And we'll hear a compelling story of how cops and other first responders in Chicago are changing the lives of mentally ill kids.		2-14-13	30 minutes
Breast cancer treatment		Once a woman is diagnosed, treated and cured of breast cancer...her journey is far from over. In fact, it's more than likely just beginning. On today's Health Show, a lively conversation with a breast cancer survivor about her book "The Adventures of a One-Breasted Woman". We'll also hear from an artist who survived breast cancer...and wanted to do more to help than just wear a pink ribbon. You'll be surprised when you hear just what she IS wearing.		3-3-13	30 minutes

Early cancer detection		Over the years there have been two words that have summed up the most effective weapon in the fight against cancer...all cancer: early detection. Now researchers are trying hard to make early detection quicker, easier...and earlier. On today's Health Show we'll hear about advances in the early detection of cancer...and hear from a clinical researcher about the feasibility of finding warning signs for cancer in blood. We'll also focus on one of those tests that is generating a lot of controversy: the PSA test for prostate cancer.		3-10-13	30 minutes
Mold		To tell you the truth, I didn't think the name "Superstorm Sandy" would stick. But it has...and as the areas that were affected by Sandy continue to rebuild there is another consequence of the storm literally growing under people's noses. Mold. On today's Health Show we'll talk with an expert in environmental medicine about what is being called Sandy's second wave. We'll also talk about the changes to the Health Insurance Portability, Privacy and Accountability Act. You know them as the HIPPA rules...and they have been revised for the first time since going into effect. And we'll hear how the Affordable Care Act may mean access to health insurance for many native Americans.		3-17-13	30 minutes

Micro Biome		In 1977, the movie Close Encounters of the Third Kind was released with the tag line: "we are not alone". You know what, we really aren't. And it has nothing to do with aliens. There are thousands of tiny organisms living in our bodies right now and we couldn't live without them. On today's Health Show we'll take a look at the Human Micro Biome. We'll hear reports from the NIH and a national health journalist about the amount of microbes that hitch a ride in our gut...and we'll talk to a microbiome researcher about how understanding how these germs work with our bodies may help us find treatments for condition from cancer to obesity.		3-24-13	30 minutes
Cancer rehab		Think about what happens when someone has a traumatic health condition. The condition is stabilized, treated...and then the patient goes through rehab. It's the same from car crashes to strokes. But what about rehab for cancer patients? On today's Health Show we'll talk about the growing field of cancer rehab. We'll also talk about how many US horses that were given drugs that are dangerous for humans are winding up in the European food supply. And we'll hear how the new farm bill is making it tough for some organic farmers.		3-31-13	30 minutes
