Military	HearSay	10.6.11	12:06	52 Min	Many in the Hampton Roads community are intimately familiar with the special challenges facing today's service members and their families. On today's broadcast, we'll take a look at two projects designed to help. The first is an established program urging mental health providers to volunteer an hour a week to counsel military service members and their families. The second is a new project that aims to help communities figure out the best ways to meet the needs of service members and their families.
State of the Region	HearSay	10.10.11	12:06	52 Min	Hampton Roads faces challenges again entering a new fiscal year, but it also celebrates success. From transportation to education, some of the regions issues are covered in the 12th Annual State of the Region report. Old Dominion University economics professor and former university President, Dr. James Koch, joins us on this edition of HearSay for a review the report's most significant findings. This year's report also features sections on local television media, including WHRO. Call in live at 440-2665 or 1-800-940-2240 to join the conversation. You can also e-mail the program at hearsay@whrv.org or chime in on our Facebook page www.facebook.com/hearsaywithcathylewis .

Education – Common Core	Hearsay	10.25.1 1	12:0 6	52 min	Across the nation, school districts are free to develop their own academic standards and standardized tests. The results are conflicting definitions of academic success. On today's program, Cathy talks with David Coleman, whose organization is convincing states to adopt a core set of standards that rely on students' analytical skills
Civil Rights	Another View	10.28.1 1	12:0 6	52 min	Reverend Dr. Martin Luther King, Reverend Jesse Jackson, Maynard Jackson, Andrew Young - familiar names associated with the Civil Rights movement in America. But are you as familiar with people such as Howard Thurman, Evelyn T. Butts, Oliver Wright Hill or Ella Baker? On the next Another View we'll talk with Dr. Cassandra Newby-Alexander, history professor at Norfolk State University, and professor of philosophy Dr. Kipton Jensen of Morehouse College about these and other unsung heroes of the fight for civil rights. Plus, tips for a good life and good health from health and fitness guru Dr. Ian Smith. It's all on Another View, Friday, October 28, 2011 at noon on 89.5 WHRV-FM, and whrv.org.
Politics/ Local Elections	HearSay	10.31.1 1	12:0 6	52 min	Candidates have their work cut out for them in next week's General Assembly election. Polls are showing wide-spread voter apathy, despite the possibility of a party shift in the state's Senate. On today's broadcast, Cathy talks with political reporters and experts about what is at stake - and how the redistricting
