AGRICULTURE	PROGRAM	DATE
Wisconsin legalized the growing and processing of industrial hemp last year and now the Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection is rolling out its pilot program. (Duration: 10 min, 30 sec)	Central Time	4/18/18 @ 4:05 pm
Food security means having sufficient access to food and proper nutrition, but for many people around the world, significant challenges remain. We hear about efforts, in Wisconsin and elsewhere, to combat food insecurity, as well as how related health, agricultural and environmental challenges are being addressed. (Duration: 35 min, 38 sec)	The Larry Meiller Show	5/1/18 @ 11:45 am
With the number of Wisconsin dairy farms down 20 percent compared to 10 years ago, we discuss what the shift away from dairy farming means for local economies and the culture of the places these farms helped shape. (Duration: 20 min, 57 sec)	Central Time	5/7/18 @ 4:30 pm
22 states have reported illnesses linked to bad romaine lettuce, now including Wisconsin. We discuss what the E. coli outbreak means for consumers and examine food safety practices in the U.S. (Duration: 11 min, 52 sec)	Central Time	4/30/18 @ 3 pm
With the U.S. House taking on updates to the Farm Bill, we look at what changes may be coming and what they could mean for Wisconsin. (Duration: 9 min, 6 sec)	Central Time	5/16/18 @ 4:05 pm
Congress has failed to reauthorize the Farm Bill, and it isn't up for a new vote until late June. A political scientist says lawmakers torpedoed the legislation for a variety of reasons, not because of the ongoing immigration debate. (Duration: 29 min, 17 sec)	The Morning Show	5/23/18 @ 7 am

We take a look at what is being offered at local farmers markets at this time of the year. We also talk about how to pick the best produce, why growers like farmers markets and what to do with the food you bring home. (Duration: 36 min, 41 sec)	The Larry Meiller Show	5/24/18 @ 11:45 am
The dairy industry has a long and rich history in Wisconsin. We talk about that history with the director of the Hoard Historical Museum and also take a look at dairy tourism with Inga Witscher, host of Wisconsin Public Television's Around the Farm Table. (Duration: 38 min, 35 sec)	The Larry Meiller Show	5/29/18 @ 11 am
Low milk prices due in large part to overproduction for a few years has some experts wondering about whether a dairy model similar to Canada might be a solution. (Duration: 13 min, 24 sec)	Central Time	6/21/18 @ 3:15 pm
The U.S. House narrowly passed a five-year Farm Bill. A public policy analyst discusses what's in this version of the bill, what didn't make the cut and what's ahead as the measure moves to the U.S. Senate for consideration. (Duration: 42 min, 3 sec)	The Morning Show	6/22/18 @ 7 am
ECONOMY	PROGRAM	DATE
Wages in the U.S. have been more or less stagnant for the last four decades. Economists have long looked at variables in the labor market, such as unions or automation, as affecting these wages. But a new theory from a group of labor economists says that the issue could have less to do with workers and more to do with fewer businesses in the market. (Duration: 11 min, 51 sec)	Central Time	4/2/18 @ 4:15 pm
The U.S. and China are proposing dueling tariffs on one another, leading to concerns over a trade war between the economic powers. A 25 percent tariff announced this week on over 1,300 imported Chinese goods was matched with a similar plan by China, rattling	Central Time	4/5/18 @ 3 pm

consumers and manufacturers alike. (Duration: 10 min, 48 sec)
President Trump is considering joining the Trans-Pacific Partnership after withdrawing from the multi-nation trade agreement last year. Trump tweeted that the agreement would have to be "substantially better than the deal" than President Obama agreed to while he was in office. But the reaction to the news was mixed from leaders of the countries who negotiated and signed onto the deal in 2016. (Duration: 9 min, 28 sec)	Central Time	4/13/18 @ 3:05 pm
With Tax Day on April 17 and the Republican tax cuts in place for just over four months, we talk to a federal tax policy expert about how the cuts are playing out across the country. (Duration: 20 min, 37 sec)	Central Time	4/16/18 @ 4:30 pm
Wisconsin's tourism industry has seen steady growth in recent years, with more than 23,000 jobs added since 2011. We talk with the state's tourism secretary about what factors have led to that success, and some of her favorite recommendations for visitors and state residents alike. (Duration: 10 min, 22 sec)	Central Time	5/9/18 @ 3:45 pm
A new report from the Economic Policy Institute takes a look at the old Wisconsin-Minnesota rivalry from an economics angle. Spoiler alert: Wisconsin is worse off by almost every measure, including wage growth, job growth and healthcare. (Duration: 42 min, 20 sec)	The Morning Show	5/10/18 @ 7 am
The Trump Administration has made dealing with international trade deals a top priority, but what could these changes mean for Wisconsin's economy? (Duration: 11 min, 14 sec)	Central Time	5/16/18 @ 3:35 pm

Wisconsin's Harley-Davidson Corporation received generous tax breaks in the 2017 federal tax bill. But soon after, they closed a plant in Kansas City, launched a stock buyback and increased dividends to shareholders. Our guest explores how this has been a pattern for corporations that received similar tax breaks. (Duration: 8 min, 22 sec)	Central Time	5/24/18 @ 4:15 pm
A new report from the Wisconsin Policy Institute found that a state law regulating when someone can or cannot seal a criminal conviction from public records could be stunting the state's workforce. (Duration: 9 min, 22 sec)	Central Time	6/7/18 @ 3:05 pm
Gov. Scott Walker says any windfall from taxing internet purchases should be returned to the "hard-working taxpayers." A look at the potential for new revenue following the U.S. Supreme Court decision to overturn a ruling that barred states from collecting sales taxes on out-of-state online retailers. (Duration: 10 min, 29 sec)	Central Time	6/25/18 @ 3 pm
EDUCATION	PROGRAM	DATE
Readers of all ages mark Hans Christian Andersen's birthday by celebrating books around the world. A look at the process of writing literature for kids, how children's books have evolved, why we read them and what they offer growing minds. (Duration 41 min, 18 sec)	The Morning Show	4/2/18 @ 7 am

The results from the latest national academic test are in and reading scores for Wisconsin's fourth-graders are dropping. (Duration: 8 min, 52 sec)	Central Time	4/12/18 @ 3:15 pm

Federal law requires schools to have transition plans, including goals for work, school and independent living, for all special education students by the age of 16. While this is good on paper, students are not always challenged to push their abilities or follow through on larger goals. (Duration: 21 min, 58 sec)	Central Time	4/12/18 @ 3:35 pm
Twenty-two school districts in Wisconsin were awarded $500,000 in grant money for fabrication laboratory, or fab lab, programs. Fab labs are similar to the shop classroom in high school -- but instead of welding equipment and wood cutters, there are 3D printers, laser engravers, plasma cutters and other high-tech tools used in digital design and fabrication. (Duration: 42 min, 5 sec)	The Morning Show	5/7/18 @ 7 am
As teachers in Wisconsin and around the nation celebrate National Teachers' Day and Teacher Appreciation Week, we talk to the president of the Wisconsin Education Association Council to learn more about the work teachers do and the challenges they face and the state of education in Wisconsin. (Duration: 12 min, 58 sec)	The Morning Show	5/8/18 @ 6:22 am
Gov. Scott Walker is floating the idea of having the state take over control of Milwaukee Public Schools, Wisconsin's largest school district. (Duration: 10 min, 25 sec)	Central Time	5/15/18 @ 3 pm
New data that takes a look at college students from the U.S., Canada and Britain shows that perfectionism has increased by 33 percent since 1989. We take a look at factors like social media and technology to examine perfectionism and why its becoming ever present. (Duration: 21 min, 49 sec)	Central Time	5/18/18 @ 4:35 pm
The book titled "The Guide for White Women Who Teach Black Boys" brings up tough conversations about race. A growing number of schools in Wisconsin, where teachers make up nearly 70 percent of the workforce, are turning to the book to bridge cultural gaps.	Central Time	6/8/18 @ 3:15 pm

(Duration: 6 min, 49 sec)
It's a situation that's playing out all across rural America. In the wake of the Great Recession, small towns are finding themselves with fewer economic opportunities and aging populations. That's having an impact on rural schools - often the lifeblood of the communities they serve. What happens when those schools close? (Duration: 12 min, 6 sec)	Central Time	6/22/18 @ 4:15 pm
ENVIRONMENT	PROGRAM	DATE
Claiming they're "too high," the Environmental Protection Agency is doing away with Obama-era fuel efficiency standards for new vehicles. A look at the EPA's decision and what it means for automobile makers, the broader auto industry and consumers. (Duration: 21 min, 13 sec)	Central Time	4/3/18 @ 4:30 pm
A Milwaukee judge will rule on whether the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources followed the law when it signed off on a project that would build a frac sand plant on rare wetlands in Monroe County. (Duration: 10 min, 59 sec)	The Morning Show	4/9/18 @ 7 am
Water is a vital part of our communities and when it's contaminated or there isn't enough to go around, that's a significant problem. A water law scholar discusses the challenges communities, from major cities to rural areas, face when water isn't safe to drink. (Duration: 42 min, 40 sec)	The Morning Show	4/19/18 @ 7 am
Some of Wisconsin's counties get an F for ozone air quality. The annual State of the Air report shows certain areas of Wisconsin struggle with clean air. The study also illuminates progress toward cleaner air. (Duration: 42 min, 9 sec)	The Morning Show	4/18/18 @ 7 am
