FOR THE QUARTER BEGINNING JULY 1, 2023 AND ENDING SEPTEMBER 30, 2023.

- 1. CHARITY: Summer Justice talks with Pikes Peak State College about Career Advance Colorado, which provides zero-cost training for in-demand jobs across the state. The college receives state funding to pay for tuition, books, uniforms, and any other needed materials in the Pikes Peak Regional Law Enforcement Academy, Fire Science Programs, Early Childhood Education programs, and Building and Construction programs. Students interested just need to apply online. In another interview, Summer talks with The Police Foundation of Colorado Springs about an upcoming fundraiser. The nonprofit gives the Colorado Springs Police necessary equipment, training, and other resources, when city funds aren't available.
- 2. CRIME: The remains of Suzanne Morpew have been found. The Colorado Bureau of Investigation said they found her body on September 22. The El Paso County Coroner identified her remains yesterday. Investigators were searching in the area of Moffat in Saguache County for an investigation that wasn't related to her disappearance. Morpew was reported missing on Mother's Day in 2020. At one point, Suzanne Morpew's husband Barry was a suspect in the case but charges were eventually dropped.
- 3. ECONOMY: Notes Live officially broke ground on its state-of-the-art outdoor amphitheater, The Sunset, and unveiled new details of its Seafood & Chophouse yesterday. The 8,000 seat venue is set to open next summer and boasts over 90 VIP luxury fire pit suites, top of the line audio-visual systems, and a self-draining grass berm.
- 4. EDUCATION: The Biden administration is launching a beta website today for its new income-driven student loan repayment plan, allowing borrowers to begin submitting applications for the program as federal student loan payments are set to resume in October. The SAVE plan will determine payments based on income and family size, and around 1 million borrowers could see their payments shrink to as low as $0. Borrowers can access the beta website online. The enrollment process will take about 10 minutes.
- 5. ENTERTAINMENT: Colorado's newest troll was completed over the weekend. The wooden sculpture, "Rita the Rock Planter," is made entirely of recycled wood, also serves as a bird house, and resides in Teller County. The new Troll sculpture, created by artist Thomas Dambo, joins the popular Breckenridge troll as a hiking destination in Colorado's mountains. Dambo said he has completed 119 sculptures and birdhouses so far and has six left to go in the project.

6. GOVERNMENT: (9/25/2023) With government funding slated to run out in six days, the leaders in the house said "all options are on the table" to avert a looming shutdown. The House will return tomorrow and begin votes on a series of yearlong spending bills, but federal departments and agencies have already begun the mandatory process of planning to bring nonessential functions to a halt. A shutdown will impact nearly 4 million federal employees who will feel the effect immediately. Essential workers will remain on the job, but others will be furloughed until the shutdown is over. None will be paid during the impasse.
7. HEALTH & SAFETY: Pueblo County is reporting the first death due to West Nile Virus. No information has been released about the death. There have been nine confirmed human cases in Pueblo County this year. Pueblo Department of Public Health and Environment is reminding the public to practice the 4 D's: DRAIN standing water around your house weekly. DUSK and DAWN are when mosquitoes are most active, so limit outdoor activities. DEET is an effective ingredient to look for in insect repellents. DRESS in long sleeves and pants in areas where mosquitoes are active.
8. MILITARY: The wait is over. President Joe Biden has decided to keep the U.S. Space Command headquarters in Colorado Springs, overturning a last-ditch decision by the Trump administration to move it to Alabama. The choice ended months of deliberations. U.S. officials say Biden was convinced by the head of Space Command, who argued that moving his headquarters now would jeopardize military readiness.
9. NATIONAL & STATE: Donald Trump became the first former US president to have his mugshot taken when he was arrested yesterday. He was booked into the Fulton County Jail in Georgia after surrendering on more than a dozen charges stemming from his alleged efforts to overturn the state's 2020 election results. After he was released on a $200,000 bond, Trump slammed the case as "a travesty of justice," and told reporters, "I did nothing wrong."

10. POLICE & FIRE: (9/11/2023) Firefighters cut power to a large portion of downtown in response to reported explosions and fires underground coming out of manholes, with some flames as high as 10 feet. This happened at around 2:30 this morning in the area just west of Nevada Avenue and Kiowa Street. The fire was believed to be in underground electrical vaults, and not the sewer system. Crews had it under control after 4:30 this morning, but say several streets in the surrounding area would be closed for a while, while buildings in close proximity to the fire were cleared out due to a carbon monoxide risk. The affected zone is in between Platte and Pikes Peak and Nevada and Kiowa. The cause of the fire is under investigation.

11. WEATHER & UTILITIES: A stretch of Kiowa Street in Downtown Colorado Springs that was closed following an underground fire on Sept. 11 will remain closed for several weeks, according to Colorado Springs Utilities. The stretch of Kiowa Street between Tejon Street and Nevada Avenue has been closed since Sept. 11, after an early-morning fire resulting from electrical equipment failure sparked underground, knocking out power for much of downtown. Springs Utilities asked that drivers follow signs and avoid the work zone.
