DION: Even more season openers are coming up for hunters in the state. The first day of Minnesota's youth deer season and early antlerless-only deer season fall on October 19th - this Thursday. Both hunting seasons will go until October 22nd. Youth deer season will coincide with statewide teacher workshops, so many students will be out of school during that time. To participate, youth must be 10 to 17 years old and have a regular deer license. Kids ages 10 to 13 must be accompanied by an adult parent or guardian. For antlerless-only deer season, the state Department of Natural Resources offers this opportunity to hunters to enjoy the outdoors and manage local deer herds. The bag limit for the season is three antlerless deer.

Governor Tim Walz announced that more than 8-thousand eligible providers can start applying for Great Start Compensation Support Payments. The governor's office says the $316-million dollars going toward the program stems from the childcare package passed in this year's legislative session. Walz says childcare workers make some of the lowest wages among jobs that require at least a high school diploma. The goal is to provide monthly payments for providers.. and move the child care workforce to a more livable wage. The deadline to apply is next Wednesday the 25th... and the first payments are set to go out a week later.

Impactful Wx	12/18/2023 9:59:00 PM	10PM CBS NBC MONDAY	STACY: Minnesota agencies are reminding people to be extra careful on the ice this year as warm weather continues late into december. ON Sunday night, 35 people were stranded on a detached sheet of ice on Upper Red Lake. Responding agencies rescued all stranded individuals with no injuries, but the situation serves as a reminder that no ice is ever truly safe. Ice Safety experts typically advise at least 4 inches of ice before heading out at all, but even then things can go wrong. Ice can be thick enough to walk on, but not thick enough to avoid breaking off.

Ticks normally go dormant this time of year. But With no snow - and temperatures near 40 degrees - ticks can comfortably extend their fall feeding time. There have even been reports of ticks bites rising in the northeast US - a concern experts... say could happen in Minnesota. The good news is protecting yourself from the insect is a bit easier this time of year. Experts recommend wearing long sleeves and pants. And Tick repellent -- like permethrin -- is another form of protection to consider.
